ACCOUNT BOOKS

The Library has gathered together, by purchase, by gift and by transfer from time to time, a number of groups of accounts, in many instances comprising only a single volume. The more important items, in their chronological order, are as follows:

Jonathan Hobbs, miscellaneous account book, 1717-1763, purchased, 1914. Jabez True, memorandum and account books, 1717-1745 and 1732-1745, 2 volumes, 12mo, purchased, 1914. Gibbons account books, 1719-1734, 2 volumes, kept at St. Christopher's, W. I., and Philadelphia, purchased, 1906. John Digges (assignee of Charles Carroll), cash book, 1722-1737, purchased, 1900. Charles Carroll of Carrollton, account book, 1735-1759, and a volume labeled "Sheriff's Accounts, 1766 and Quit Rent Accounts, 1766", partly in the autograph of Carroll, purchased, 1901. Captain Edward Dixon, of Port Royal, Virginia—ledgers, journals, daybooks, cashbooks, etc., of his store and mercantile business. Dixon appears to have died sometime before 1785, and the series of accounts begins in 1743 and ends in 1796. There are a few loose miscellaneous and unbound accounts. Purchased, 1911.

A series of ledgers, journals, daybooks, inventories and cash-books, in a few of which are entered occasional letters of, apparently, a succession of mercantile firms, which represented John Glassford & Co., James Brown & Co., and other Glasgow merchant firms, from 1753 to 1834, in Maryland and Virginia. The business recorded in these 181 volumes of accounts shows the existence of a chain of stores or agencies at Port Tobacco, Piscataway, Bladensburg and other places; Robert Fergusson and George Gray were managers at Port Tobacco, and Simpson, Baird & Co. at Piscataway. Neil Jamieson also was connected with this business chain. The collection was obtained by purchased, in 1900.

John Yeates, account against James Hudson & Co., March 11, 1756, 3 pages, unbound, purchased, 1914. Robert Baine, Greenock [Scotland] waste book and ledger, 1758, one volume, folio, unbound; purchased, 1914. Elijah Morrill, memorandum book of blacksmith work, 1760-1761, one volume, 8vo, unbound; also Ezra Morrill's account book of Elijah Morrill's estate, 1768-1784, one volume, 8vo, unbound; and Ezra Morrill's memorandum account book of iron and iron-work, 1771-1783, one volume, 8vo, unbound; purchased, 1914. Samuel Holton, Jr., of Danvers, Massachusetts, 3 volumes, 1763-1774. Martin Cockburn, of Virginia, 2 volumes, 1767-1818, purchased, 1901, (in the second volume is a transcript of the Register of Pohick Church, of which George Washington was a vestryman). An index to the Cockburn volumes was found in the Toner collection. Robert Mundell, Charles County, Maryland, account book, 1770-1780; Force collection. Crenshaw & Co., of Petersburg, Virginia, ledger of accounts, 1770, July 5-August 31; purchased, 1914. John Pringle, Philadelphia, invoice and sales book, 1775-1785, and cashbook, 1780; Force collection. Virginia Salt Works, Journal of Accounts, 1775-1779, one volume; Force collection. Captain John Witman, Pennsylvania, receipt book, 1777-1811, transferred from the Pension Office, 1903. Mark Hardin, memorandum and account book, 1779-1799, from the Pension Office. Thomas, Lord Fairfax; an account book of the executors of the Fairfax estate with the estate, 1781-1798; a large number of entries are in the handwriting of Bryan Fairfax, one volume, folio, purchased, 1916. Smith, Huie, Alexander & Co.; ledger and daybook of their mercantile business at Dumfries, Virginia, 1784-1787, 2 volumes, folio; there is a typewritten index. Purchased, 1915. Jonathan Mason, account with the Massachusetts Bank, 1784-1798; Force collection. George Porter, storekeeper's account book, 1784, one volume, 8vo, unbound; purchased, 1915. An account book of a merchant at Acquia, Virginia, for the year 1785, May-December, one volume, folio; from the Toner collection. Eli Woods, of New York, day book, 1788-1818; from the Pension Office, 1903. Captain Thomas Beall, merchant, of Georgetown, D. C., 3 volumes, 1794-1811; purchased, 1912. Charles D. Cooper, political and professional account book, 1797-1805; purchased, 1902. The ledger of professional accounts of Doctors James Craik and William Washington, of Virginia, 1806- one volume, folio; from the Toner collection. Shenandoah Furnace, (G. W. & Co.) ledger and account book, 1809-1810, 2 volumes; from the Force collection. John Forsyth, account book of expenses while United States Minister to Spain, 1819-1823, in which is included the diary of his voyage home to the United States. Gift, 1915, of Harry M. Aubrey, San Antonio, Texas. John P. Helfenstein, Carlisle, Pennsylvania, receipt book, 1822-1824; Force collection. Cash book of a Dutchess County, New York, merchant, 1822-1825, one volume, folio; purchased, 1914. Joseph McMinn, account books for Concord Union Seminary, 1827, one volume; Force collection. Benjamin C. Yancey, plantation account book, 1842-1865, Coosa River Plantation, Alabama; deposited by Major Hamilton Yancey, Rome, Georgia, 1911. Stephen D. Doar, plantation accounts, 1851-1862, 2 volumes; purchased, 1911. William B. Smith & Co., Charleston, South Carolina, journal of accounts (cotton factor's book), 1851-1853; purchased, 1911. A Printer and Bookseller, of Philadelphia, waste book, bill book and accounts, 3 volumes, undated; from the Force collection.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS

Letters and papers of John Quincy Adams, which have come into the possession of the Library of Congress from various sources, forming one volume of his letters and speeches, beginning with the year 1802 and extending to 1846; twenty-eight letters to Alexander H. Everett, 1811 to 1837; also letters to James Madison, George Poindexter, Robert Walsh, Charles R. Vaughan, the Marquis de Marbois, and others.

ALDEN

There are two separately bound items: the President's message to Congress, December 6, 1825, with his corrections and interlineations; and an address delivered at Washington, July 4, 1821.

There is a folio volume of copies of Adams's accounts against the United States as Minister at St. Petersburg.

AFRICA

A small volume contains a vocabulary of the Kavirondo language, compiled by Rev. M. Wakefield, of the Methodist Mission, 1882. Purchased at auction, 1904. Kavirondo is the general name of two distinct groups of tribes dwelling in the valley of the Nzoia river, and along the northeast coast of Victoria Nyanza, in British East Africa.

A separate manuscript is an agreement between the agents of the Senegal Company and Captain William Thomas for the charter of his schooner, Polly and Sally, of New England, for a voyage to Hayre, 1787.

Several volumes of printed material of the African Company of England will be found in the Broadside collection.

ALABAMA

A few letters of Governor Thomas Bibb, about the year 1820, most of them addressed to George Poindexter; a proclamation of Governor Clement C. Clay; some resolves of the General Assembly; and a number of miscellaneous broadsides, constitute the Alabama material. The period covered is from 1819 to 1862; of the broadsides, seven pieces, between the years 1823 and 1830, were the gift, in 1914, of Mrs. W. M. Easby Smith, of Washington, D. C.

ALDEN FAMILY

The papers and letters relating to members of the Alden family of Bridgewater, Plymouth County, Massachusetts, from

ALMANACS

1712, but the greater part begins in 1738, and extends to 1831. It comprises three portfolios.

Most of the papers are those of Joseph Alden and Seth Alden. There are letters from members of the Carver and Edson families.

There are military returns, delinquent lists, notices and receipts for pay of a colonial militia company, Seth Alden, Captain, in Colonel Hatch's regiment, 1753-1756; and similar papers of an alarm company, formed at Bridgewater during the Revolution, and the 2nd Company of the 3rd Regiment. Few of the lists of the latter are dated, but one or two are of the year 1789. A list of a detached company, under command of Asa Jones, Thos. Alden, sergeant, is dated Bridgewater, 1 Oct. 1812.

Three cash books, consisting merely of leaves sewed together, and a number of loose accounts, contain economic material of the Colonial period. The settlement of the estate of Joseph Alden furnished many of the papers, and there are a number of wills, deeds, and similar legal papers.

An early account and memorandum book contains a number of genealogical entries, dating from 1739 to 1758. A number of reports on law lectures, evidently made by a member of the family; some notes regarding the township of Bridgewater; and a description of Randolph, Massachusetts, written about 1815. Purchased in 1912.

ALMANACS

(1) A bibliography of English Almanacs, from the earliest known (1497) to 1800, with names of publishers and other details; neatly written in seven copy-books. Purchased, 1909.

(2) Diary of Jacob Cushing, clergyman, of Waltham, Massachusetts, for the years 1749, 1752, 1753, 1756, 1762, 1767, 1770, 1772, 1779, 1781, 1782, 1784, 1785, 1786, 1788, 1791, 1792, 1793, 1794, 1796, 1797, 1799, 1800, 1801, 1802, 1803, 1804, 1807, 1808, 1809: the diary entries for the years between 1749 and 1770 inclusive, (with the exceptions of 1752 and 1767), are made in interleaved copies of "An Astronomical Diary or Almanack" of Nathanael Ames (1708-1764) and Nathaniel Ames (d. 1835), printed Boston, John Draper. Those of 1752 are entered in a copy of the "Poor Job Almanack," John Shepherd, printed Newport, James Franklin. Those for 1767 are in a copy of "The New England Almanack or Lady's & Gentleman's Diary, by Benjamin West, Boston, printed & sold by the Printers and Booksellers". For 1722, a copy of "The Massachusetts Calendar, or an Almanac for the Year of Our Lord 1772, by Philomathes, Boston, pr. by Isaiah Thomas", was used. For 1779, "An Almanack" by Daniel George, Newburyport, John Mycoll and Draper & Folsom, Boston, 1781, "Thomas's Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Connecticut Almanack", Worcester, pr. by Isaiah Thomas. For the years between 1784 and 1809 inclusive (with the exception of 1785, 1793 and 1794), "An Astronomical Diary or Almanack", Nathaniel Low, Boston, Thomas & John Fleet, Monroe & Francis. For 1785, "An Astronomical Almanack", by Isaac Bickerstaff, Hartford, Barlow & Babcock. 1793, "The Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont Almanack", by Isaac Bickerstaff; Boston, Nathaniel Coverly. 1794, "The Farmer's Almanack", by Robert B. Thomas, Boston, Belknap & Hall. The diary entries, which are very brief, relate entirely to his work as a clergyman. A few records of marriages are included. The diary for 1782 is on the interleaved pages of a copy of Abraham Weatherwise's Town and Country Almanac, and was the gift, 1916, of the American Antiquarian Society, Worcester, Massachusetts. The other volumes were probably from the collection of Peter Force. (3) "Poor Will's Pocket Almanack", pr. Joseph Cruikshank, Philadelphia, for the year 1783. With manuscript notes by Charles Lukens. Transferred, 1909, from the Pension Office. (4) "Gaines New York Pocket Almanack", by Thomas Moore, New York, pr. by H. Gaine; for the year 1787. Transferred, 1909, from the Pension Office. (5) "The Massachusetts Register and United States Calendar for the year of Our Lord 1801. Containing Civil, Ecclesiastical, Judicial, & Military Lists in Massachusetts

ALLEN

- - - - Boston, printed by Manning & Loring". Used by Timothy Williams as a memorandum book. (See Journals & Diaries, 1801). (6) A copy of the above, for the year 1807; Boston, pub. by John West, and Manning & Loring. (7) North Carolina Almanacs, 1804-1832, bound together in a single octavo volume, interleaved, with a few notes of J. H. Wheeler. Included are "Coupee's North Carolina Almanac, 1804, by P. Brooks, pr. Salisbury"; "Gales' North Carolina Almanack, by P. Brooks", for 1806 and 1807; Gales & Seaton's North Carolina Almanack, by P. Brooks, pr. Raleigh, for 1810, 1811, 1812 and 1813; Gales' North Carolina Almanac, by J. Gales, pr. Raleigh, 1814 and 1815; Lawrence & Lemay's Almanack, by William Collom, Phila., pr. Raleigh, Lawrence & Lemay, for 1828; Lawrence & Lemay's Almanac, by Dr. Hudson M. Cave, for 1829 and 1830, and by William Collom for 1831 and 1832.

WILLIAM ALLEN

The papers of William Allen, of Ohio, were obtained with the Duncan McArthur collection, in 1905, from Mrs. Effie Allen Scott, of Chillicothe, Ohio.

William Allen was a Representative in Congress, in 1833, and a Senator for two terms, 1837-48. He did not again hold office until 1873, when he was elected Governor of Ohio.

The collection consists of 26 portfolios—about 1,600 pieces in all—and extends from 1825 to 1877. Most of the papers, however, are confined to the periods of his service as Senator and Governor. There are manuscripts of some of his speeches, and drafts of a number of his letters; but more important are the letters from his various correspondents upon political matters in Ohio.

There are minutes of meetings, and muster-rolls of the Chillicothe Light Infantry Blues, 1821-34.

A number of papers bearing upon land surveys and settlement supplement those in the McArthur collection.

In addition to the papers, there are four small volumes of memoranda, bank books and pamphlets.

AMERICAN COLONIZATION SOCIETY

The complete records, manuscript and printed, of the American Colonization Society, were deposited in the Library of Congress, in May, 1913, by Dr. H. L. E. Johnson, for the officers of the Society. Besides the printed matter, there are 540 manuscript volumes, and several thousand loose papers.

The volumes, 1816-1908, consist of letter books, account books, minutes of proceedings, reports, invoices, and scrap books in which letters received have been pasted. The correspondence was with branch societies, church organizations, prospective colonists, and slaveholders who contemplated manumitting their slaves. The letters from Liberia furnish information about that country, and the west coast of Africa in general. There are lists of emigrants, and resolutions from other organizations pledging their support to the Society.

AMERICAN STAMP ACT

In a folio volume are mounted the following items: Copy of the Stamp Act, printed by Mark Baskett, Printer to the King, London, 1765, "An Act for Granting and Applying certain Stamp Duties, in the British Colonies and Plantations in America." An anonymous diary of Events in America, February 7, 1765, to June 30, 1770, manuscript, 20 pages. Proceedings of the New York Congress, October 6-23, 1765, 11 pages. Letter of James Otis to the Speaker of the New Hampshire Assembly, November 8, 1765, with a copy of the Declaration of Rights and Address to the King; contemporary copy, 6 pages. Journal of the House of Commons, February, 1766 (relating to the Stamp Act); two contemporary copies, 3 pages. Letter of James Otis to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of New Hampshire, November 26, 1765, regarding petitions to the King. Resolves of the Commons, House of Assembly, South Carolina, November 29, 1765; broadside. Letter of the Committee of the New Hampshire Assembly to the Colonial Agents in England, transmitting petitions to the King and Parliament, December 6, 1765. Broadside, "To the Freemen and Freeholders of the City of New York," regarding stamped paper; undated. Print, "The Repeal, or The Funeral Procession of Miss Americ-Stamp"; and a print, "The Repeal, or The Funeral of Miss Ame-Stamp" [title at top]. Letter of Secretary Conway to the American Governors, March 31, 1766; 2 pages. "An Act to Repeal the Act entitled An Act for Granting and Applying certain Stamp Duties in the British Colonies and Plantations in America"; printed London, Mark Baskett, 1766; 2 pages. These probably were acquired with the Force purchase.

JOHN ARCHDALE

The papers of John Archdale, the Quaker, Governor of North Carolina, 1694-6, were obtained by purchase, in 1915.

The collection consists of sixty-five original manuscripts, contemporary drafts and copies, pertaining entirely to Carolina affairs during Archdale's governorship and afterwards, dating from 1694 to 1706.

Archdale's commission as Governor, dated November 28, 1694, is among them, and there are instructions and powers from the Lords Proprietors of Carolina; Archdale's speeches to the legislature of the colony and their replies; and copies of sundry legislative acts, including the one exempting Quakers from service in the militia. There is also an undated and unfinished draft by Archdale of various measures taken by him, from the time of his arrival in Carolina, and a general account of his proceedings, from 1695 to 1704, in which various of his speeches, letters, etc., are quoted. There are a number of letters between Archdale and the Lords Proprietors, touching colonial management, the Indians, relations with the Spanish in Florida, lands, rents, etc.; and the letters from Job Howes, J. Boyd, John Barksdale and others record the importance of the religious and naturalization questions in the struggling colony. There are a few letters of an important correspondence in 1696, with the Spanish governor of St. Augustine, relative to responsibility for Indian depredations and maintenance of friendly relations. A group of documents is composed of correspondence relating to the settlement of German Palatine refugees from the Rhine in North Carolina. Preparations began, apparently, as early as 1705, and the matter was under the control of what was called the High German Company of Thuringia, which addressed its letters to Archdale rather than to the Lords Proprietors. Among these papers is a long list of two hundred and twenty-eight queries propounded by the German Company, respecting Carolina, its climate, soil, laws and the rights and privileges of colonists, and a letter from the Company to Archdale, begging his influence to obtain, through the Queen, passports through Luneburg and Hesse-Cassel for the Palatine refugees.

ARENDTS

Miscellaneous papers are: an undated plan for regulating the Indian trade; an attested copy of Jesse Sothell's will, 1689/90, Jan. 25; an anonymous account of Carolina; Councillor William Thomson's opinion on the Carolina patent; extracts from the proceedings of the Council, in 1695; an undated draft of Archdale's paper: "Some weighty considerations relating to America, humbly presented to Parliament"; and four manuscript maps of Charleston, the forts, the harbor, and the North Carolina coast.

ALBERT ARENDTS

Eleven letters and cards, 1880, in German. Purchased, with other material, in 1899.

ARGENTEAU

The papers are largely of a personal nature, relating to the social and business affairs of the Mercy-Argenteau family. The earliest paper found is of the year 1428, and there are others as recent as 1880. There are at least 10,000 documents in the collection—Latin, Spanish, German, Dutch, French and Italian—and a few in English. There are four or five hundred parchment diplomas and degrees, commissions, honors, marriage agreements and baptismal certificates, civil contracts, leaseholds, etc., with the seals. There are diplomatic commissions, patents of nobility, heraldic decrees, genealogical charts, wills, legal contracts, accounts of the management of estates, lists of personal effects, and innumerable letters to and from members of the family, which occasionally discuss political affairs.

The papers of a military nature, deal with the Silesian and Seven Years Wars; there are a few signed letters from Prince Eugene to Argenteau, in 1731; the order of battle of the Hungarian forces at Hohenfriedburg, June 4, 1745 (the second Silesian War); preliminary articles of the treaty of Aix la Chapelle, 1748, April 30; an account of the battle of Prague, in a letter of May 18, 1757, from Captain A. P. Caracirolo ve de Philip, dated from Iglau in Moravia (in French); a plan of the battle of Krinau, June 18, 1757; an unsigned account (in French) of the battle of Hastenbeck, June 26, 1757; a journal (in German) of events in September and October, 1757, during the third Silesian War; sundry tabular statements of troops, both French and German, military memoranda, explanations, etc.; and a journal (in German) from December 6, 1757, the day after the battle of Leuthen, to December 23.

Other papers are Maria Theresa's letter, of April 21, 1779, to the Comtesse de Limbourg-Styrum, approving her marriage to Argenteau; a few letters from King Leopold, in 1871; and sundry signed documents from various Popes in the nineteenth century; letters written by one of the members of the family from Santo Domingo and California, when they belonged to

ARMSTRONG

France and Spain respectively; and a small group of letters, relating to Mexico, dating in the 17th Century.

In the arrangement, the parchments (with the exception of the genealogical material), chronologically arranged, form one group; the genealogical charts, lists, emblazonments, etc., a second; and the remaining letters, documents, etc., in a chronological arrangement, are a third group.

The main collection was purchased in 1913 and a small remaining portion in 1915.

JOHN ARMSTRONG

A folio volume of letters to James Madison, 1804-1814; a part of the Madison collection, acquired from the Chicago Historical Society, in 1910.

It begins with Armstrong's acceptance of the office of Minister to France, July 2, 1804. A letter of July 15, 1804, pertains to Hamilton's duel with Burr. Beginning May 4, 1806, the letters are from Paris, and pertain to relations between the United States and France. Parts of some of the letters are in cipher, deciphered, but parts are not deciphered. From the autumn of 1810, the letters are dated at New York, Philadelphia and Washington. They deal with consular questions and David Baillie Warden's services and character, and politics. January 17, 1813, Armstrong acknowledges receipt of his commission as Secretary of War. The letters thereafter are written from the War Department, Sackett's Harbor and Albany, and pertain to military affairs. There are copies of letters of Andrew Jackson, June 8, 1814, accepting appointment as brigadier and brevet major general, and Armstrong's letters to General Jackson, relative to proceeding against the Spaniards in Florida; Armstrong's letter, Baltimore, September 4, 1814, resigning as Secretary of War, and copies of his statement, August 1, 1823, relative to Jackson's appointment as brigadier general in 1814; and from the records of the Adjutant General's Office of the War Department, of the same date on the same subject.

WILLIAM ARMSTRONG

A folio volume of Force transcripts of letters and papers, extending from 1762 to 1814, "Copied from originals in the possession of William M. Porter, Carlisle, Pa." The papers include an address to the Inhabitants along the Frontiers, 1763; a muster roll of Captain William Armstrong's Company, 1763; a report on the conditions on the frontiers; accounts of forage and provisions, 1797-1818; an abstract of muster rolls of Colonel Moses Hazen's Regiment, April 4, 1778; a return of the corps under command of Major General McDougall, 1778; Court Martial proceedings, and military orders. The correspondence is with various officers; much of it with General Gates and Ephraim Blaine. The collection virtually ends with the year 1783. There is but one letter of the year 1788, and one document of 1814.

BENEDICT ARNOLD

A portfolio of Force transcripts of unbound letters and papers, dated between the 1st and the 23rd of September, 1780. Included are letters to the quartermasters at West Point and Fishkill; to General Washington, General Greene, Baron Steuben, General Howe, Colonel Jameson, Colonel Livingston, Colonel Nichols, Colonel Wade, Colonel Scammell, Colonel Durkee, Colonel Lewis, Colonel Hay, Colonel Sheldon, Colonel Lamb, Lieutenant Colonel Wells, Major Betts, Major Bauman, Major Campbell and Sergeant Pike. They deal, for the most part with the routine affairs of the garrison.

Included, also, is a copy of a letter of General Greene to Samuel Huntington, Esq., September 25, 1780, enclosing a letter of Alexander Hamilton, announcing the treason; and a type-written copy of a letter of Richard Varick to Jane Varick, his sister, October 1, 1780, describing the events at the time of Arnold's flight.

ATLEE

CHESTER A. ARTHUR

A letter, dated September 26, 1862, to Brigadier General Thomas Hillhouse, regarding clothing and garrison equipage, and signed by C. A. Arthur, Quarter Master General, New York State. Purchased in 1902.

EDWARD ATKINSON

Sixteen letters and papers relating to his report on silver, addressed mainly to Thomas F. Bayard, Secretary of State. Letters and memoranda from Bayard, Baron Fava, F. W. Taussig and George F. Becker. 1885-1887. Gift of Worthington C. Ford, Washington, D. C., 1903.

SAMUEL JOHN AND WILLIAM AUGUSTUS ATLEE

Papers of Samuel John Atlee and William Augustus Atlee, acquired with the purchase of the Force Library in 1867. The former was a colonel in the Pennsylvania Musketry Battalion, from March 21, 1776, until August 27 of that year, when he was wounded and taken prisoner at Long Island. He was exchanged August 6, 1778, and served in the Continental Congress from the latter part of that year to 1782.

William Augustus Atlee read law with Judge Shippen, and was admitted to practice in 1758. In 1776 he was chosen chairman of the Committee of Public Safety of Lancaster County, and in 1777 and 1778 was Commissary of British Prisoners confined at Lancaster. He was appointed, in 1777, a judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, where he had, as his associates, Thomas McKean and John Evans. Upon his re-appointment, in 1784, he served until August, 1791, when he became President Judge of the First District Court, embracing the counties of Chester, Lancaster, York and Dauphin, which position he held until his death in 1793.

One portfolio comprises the entire collection. The period covered is from 1759 to 1816. There are few letters of Samuel

AUTHORS

John Atlee, the bulk of the collection being made up of letters and papers of William Augustus Atlee. There is correspondence with the Lancaster County Committee of Safety, in 1776; with Thomas McKean, Jacob Rush, Elias Boudinot, Thomas Hartley, Moses Hazen and others, relative to the care of British prisoners in the Revolution, and to the proceedings of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

"AULD LANG SYNE"

(See Robert Burns.)

AUTHORS

A collection of autograph letters and manuscripts of authors—mostly American, but some English—presented, in 1905, by Mrs. James T. Fields, of Boston, Mass.

Among the papers are: John Greenleaf Whittier, a poem, "Andrew Rykman's Prayer," and a letter; Oliver Wendell Holmes, a page of "Elsie Venner," and a letter; James Russell Lowell, a leaf from the "Biglow Papers"; Ralph Waldo Emerson, lines of manuscript and a letter; John Pierpont, a manuscript poem and a letter; Celia Thaxter, "Watching," a manuscript poem; Harriet Martineau, an article and a letter; also letters of Robert Browning, Charles Reade, Thomas Hughes, Henry W. Longfellow, Francis Parkman, Henry Ward Beecher, William Lloyd Garrison, Edwin Booth, Fanny Kemble, Alice Cary, C. M. Sedgwick, Richard H. Dana, and Wm. Dean Howells.

To the Fields collection have been added 186 letters of various correspondents of "The Nation," the gift, in 1903, of Wendell P. Garrison, of New York. Among them may be noted the following names: William F. Allen, Charles F. Adams, Arlo Bates, John S. Billings, James Bryce, John Burroughs, John Fiske, Alice French (Octave Thanet), W. M. Griswold, Arthur T. Hadley, William James, Rose Kingsley, Henry C. Lea, Manton Marble, John La Farge, Fitzhugh Lee and Goldwin Smith.

BAHAMA

AUTOGRAPHS

A small autograph album, containing fifty-five signatures of prominent Americans, cut from letters and documents; purchased, in 1900.

ORVILLE E. BABCOCK

Fifteen letters, addressed to General Adam Badeau, United States Consul General at London, 1872-1881. Purchased, in 1910.

ALEXANDER DALLAS BACHE

The scientific and educational papers of Alexander Dallas Bache were deposited, in June, 1914, by Miss Caroline Henry, of Washington, D. C., whose father, Joseph Henry, had them in his possession.

The collection consists of six volumes, octavo, of diaries, 1836-1838; and six volumes, quarto, of private correspondence (letters received) 1854-1861. The diaries contain notes on educational institutions which he visited, and observations, of a scientific nature, on foreign affairs. The correspondence relates almost entirely to scientific and educational questions, the business of the Coast Survey, and Bache's other scientific activities. The collection includes letters of Stephen Alexander, J. J. Crittenden, George W. Cullum, John A. Dahlgren, G. M. Dallas, James D. Dana, Jefferson Davis, James C. Dobbin, Sir Howard Douglas, Lyman C. Draper, Robley Dunglison, S. F. du Pont, Edward Everett, Cyrus W. Field, Millard Fillmore, Hamilton Fish, B. A. Gould, James Guthrie, I. I. Hayes, Joseph Henry, Washington Hunt, C. P. Patterson, Benjamin Peirce, Fairman Rogers, C. A. Schott, B. Silliman, I. I. Stevens, Thos. H. Stockton, William P. Trowbridge, George E. Waring, and Robert S. Williamson.

BALLADSSAMUEL JOHN BAIRD

The correspondence of Rev. Samuel John Baird, who, in 1865, retired from the Presbyterian ministry, removed to Virginia, and wrote much thereafter on Presbyterian ecclesiastical polity. This collection consists of correspondence with prominent clergymen and others relative to church affairs. In all, there are 652 pieces, dating from 1841 to 1875. Among the correspondents are the following: T. D. Witherspoon, H. A. Boardman, Thomas D. Baird, James W. Alexander, R. J. Breckinridge, John Breckinridge, William C. Cattell, Mark Hopkins, Edward P. Humphrey, P. D. Gurley, Robert S. Finley, John T. Duffield, Jeremiah Chamberlain, Richard McIlwaine, John Miller, John W. Nevins, T. S. Parvin, Wm. S. Plumer, S. G. Potts, Hugh T. Reid, Stuart Robinson, W. G. T. Shedd, Henry B. Smith, William B. Sprague and James Wood. Purchased, in 1910.

BURGES BALL

Twelve letters of General Washington, and one of Timothy Pickering, addressed to Colonel Burges Ball, deposited in the Library of Congress, in the name of George Washington Ball, by Pay Director R. T. Mason Ball, U.S.N. The letters from Washington cover a period of about ten years, the last one, written a few months before he died, is on the subject of the death of his brother [Charles].

Several of the letters have to do with the militia and the Whiskey Insurrection of 1794; farm management; the settlement of the estate left by Washington's mother; and the choice of a site for an arsenal on the Potomac. The Pickering letter is on the latter subject. There is also a letter, from Tobias Lear, announcing the death of General Washington.

BALLADS

A portion of the Broadside collection consisting of early English ballads. Of these there are 122 miscellaneous songs and rhymes—some of them duplicates—1791-1850, which were purchased, in 1907. In the following year, from the same source, were obtained 320 similar ballads, mounted in a folio volume. A second volume was added, in 1914, by gift from Mrs. F. E. Bryant, of Lawrence, Kansas. These are also ballads of the XVIII and early XIX centuries. Of later date are 13 pieces of English Chapbook ballads, by Ralph Hodgson, Walter de la Ware, Richard Honeywood, Oliver Davies and Lovat Fraser, printed by A. T. Stevens, London [1914], received with certain English Chapbooks, and transferred from the Catalogue Division, in 1914. See also POETRY.

GEORGE BANCROFT

Three letters addressed to Colonel Peter Force, 1846, from the Force library; also proof sheets (five galley proofs) of a sketch of James K. Polk, prepared for Appleton's Cyclopedia of American Biography, with manuscript corrections by Bancroft; purchased in 1903.

BARBADOS

(See West Indies.)

FRANÇOIS DE BARBÉ-MARBOIS

Six letters to Thomas Bee,—1783, July 22, August 22, September 15, September 21, October 24, November 12—; written from Philadelphia, and giving the European news, the prospects of the definitive treaty, comments on farming, etc. Purchased, 1906.

JOHN BARRY

FRANCIS BAYLIES

These papers were in the Library when the Manuscripts Division was established. There are nine packages which contain the folio sheets, in manuscript, of an unpublished book, "The Civil, Military, Legislative, Diplomatic and Miscellaneous

BEAUREGARD

History of the Administrations of John Adams, Second President of the United States of America."

Francis Baylies was born in Taunton, Mass., October 16, 1783, and died there October 28, 1852. He was the author of a "Historical Memoir of the Colony of New Plymouth."

HENRY BEATTY

Fourteen letters, addressed to Colonel Henry Beatty, of the Virginia Militia, relative to his command at Craney Island, while the British were in Hampton Roads, June-August, 1813. Purchased in 1907.

PIERRE G. T. BEAUREGARD

Letter books, order books, despatch books, etc., of Beauregard, from 1844 to 1883. Two folio volumes of letter books cover the Mexican War and date from 1844 to 1847, and there is also an autograph note book of the Mexican campaign, 1847, January 14 to September 12, which is in the nature of a diary, but contains also sundry memoranda, sketches, etc. There is then a gap in the volumes until 1861. For this year, and for 1862, the record is very full and complete, containing Beauregard's letter book—press copies, 1861, March to near the end of May; the regimental letter book of the Confederate Army of the Potomac, from June to December; general orders for the like period; records of transfers of officers; lists of resignations; official, personal and miscellaneous letter book, from 1861 to 1863, with a few unbound letters from 1861 to 1865; one volume of miscellaneous letters, 1861-1865; special orders, 1862, January-August; letter book of Assistant Adjutant General Thomas Jordan, 1862, January-September; indorsements and memoranda for the first half of 1862; telegrams (Army of the Mississippi), 1862, February-August, (3 volumes); letter book, 1862, April-August; briefs of letters received in 1862, alphabetically arranged; register of the first corps of the Army of the Potomac; Beauregard's private letter book, 1862-1863; letters, telegrams, orders and other papers relating to the Department of South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, 1862-1864 (4 volumes); the roster book of the Department, 1864; and one octavo volume of penciled telegrams while in the field, 1862-1864.

The record for the year 1863 is meagre, being covered only by the volumes as noted above. Beginning again with 1864, it is virtually complete. Letters and telegrams, 1864, January to November, are in one volume 8vo; the letter book of the Department of North Carolina and Southern Virginia, 1864, April-May, is in one volume, folio. There are telegrams, 1864, April-June; record of indorsements of the Department of North Carolina and Southern Virginia, 1864, April-September; the letter book of Assistant Adjutant General John M. Otey, 1864, May-July; letter book of Assistant Adjutant General, Thomas Jordan, 1864, July-October; the indorsement book of Headquarters, Military Division of the West, 1864, October-December; letter book and special orders of the same for corresponding dates, and special orders in the field for 1864, October, to 1865, March; record book of telegrams, 1864, December, to 1865, March; letter book of Major Henry Bryan, Assistant Inspector General of the Military Division of the West, 1864, November, to 1865, March; the organization of the Military Division of the West, 1864-5, and letters, telegrams and field orders for the same, February to April, 1865. A record book of telegrams, 1864, December, to 1865, March; record of indorsements, 1865, January to March; letter book, 1865, January-March; private letter books, 1865-1883 (6 volumes), with a few loose sheets, unbound memoranda, and three volumes of newspaper clippings complete the collection, which totals 51 bound volumes. It was purchased in 1915.

Five letters to J. F. H. Claiborne and Major General Earl Van Dorn, 1860-1862, were purchased in 1909. There are Beauregard papers also in the Alfred Roman papers, q. v.

In all, there are eleven volumes, as follows: "Voyage au Mexique par Luis Berlandier, pendant les années 1826 a 1834"; seven volumes, quarto, paper bound. Journal of Luis Berlandier, during 1846-7, including the time he was driven from Matamoras by the Americans; two volumes, quarto, boards. A volume of miscellaneous papers, including "Observaciones Barometricas de Mexico"; "Revolution de 1837-8"; Papers relating to Basse California; Texas Papers; Minutes of an Interview between Brigadier General W. T. Worth and General Romulo Vega, Rio Grande, 28 March, 1846; quarto, boards. "U. S. and Mexico: The War of 1846". One volume, folio, boards; "A collection of Manuscripts formed by Jean Louis Berlandier of the Mexican Frontier Commission"; consisting of Plans of Various Battles, the United States Army Camp; various letters addressed to Berlandier; a manuscript account of the Invasion by the United States Army; etc. Contains a description of Matamoras, and a plan and description of the Battle of Palo Alto.

FRANCIS BERNARD

A folio volume of Force transcripts, 160 pages, of letters and reports of Governor Francis Bernard to the Earl of Shelburne, the Earl of Hillsborough, Sir Edward Hawke, Governor Pownall and others, during the years 1768 and 1769. "Copied from the original letter books of Governor Francis Bernard now in my possession. Dated in London, Nov. 28th, 1834. O. Rich".

JOHN MACPHERSON BERRIEN

Eight letters addressed to Governor George W. Crawford, 1842-1846. Purchased, 1911.

EPHRAIM BLAINE

Ephraim Blaine was appointed commissary of the 8th Pennsylvania Regiment, in October, 1776. In April, 1777, he became the Commissary of Supplies of the Continental Army, and, in August of that year, Deputy Commissary General of Purchases. From January 1, 1780, to July 24, 1782, he served as Commissary General.

The papers consist of nine portfolios of papers extending from 1766 to 1805; two letter books, 1777 to 1783; two cash books, 1778 to 1780; a memorandum book, 1782 to 1784; and a book of accounts with the United States, covering the Whiskey Insurrection period, 1794 to 1796.

The papers contain Revolutionary accounts from the commissary's and quartermaster's departments, and the accounts of Flower's Regiment. The correspondence, 1774-1794, consists of letters to the Board of War; to Samuel Huntington, President of Congress; Governor Trumbull, Robert Morris, Superintendent of Finance, and various officers of the Revolutionary Army. Purchased from Peter Force, in 1867.

THEODORICK BLAND

Fifteen letters and miscellaneous papers, 1749-1783. Among them are letters of Christian Febiger, Thomas Smith and Colonel J. Bannister; also accounts, (notably the "School Expenses of Master Bland," 1756); memoranda of events; and land grants. Purchased, 1913.

HARMAN BLANNERHASSETT

The papers of Harman Blennerhassett acquired in 1900, from Mrs. Blennerhassett Adams, of St. Louis, Mo. Four portfolios of papers, and four small memorandum books make up the collection. The earliest paper is a schedule of title deeds of the house owned by Miss Avice Blennerhassett, sister of Harman Blennerhassett, dated 1755. The collection really begins in 1795, with letters of Blennerhassett to various English correspondents, and continues to October, 1866.

The papers include: the papers written by Blennerhassett over the signature of "Querist," supporting the views of Burr, which were published in the Ohio Gazette, 1806; a statement of disbursements made for Burr in that year; a memoir of the views and capacities of the United States, written by Blennerhassett in 1822; some musical compositions by him; a number of poems by his wife, Adeline Agnew Blennerhassett; and 138 pages of matter written by Harman Blennerhassett, Jr., containing items bearing on the "Expedition," and much information gathered from his father.

The papers after February 1, 1831, the date of Blennerhassett's death, are nearly all letters of his wife, though there are a few of Harman Blennerhassett, Jr., and a younger son, Joseph Lewis Blennerhassett.

Among the correspondents were Mordecai and Joseph Lewis, of Philadelphia; Dudley Woodbridge, Allan Griffen, Edmund Randolph, Luther Martin, Henry Clay, M. L. Davis, Vincent Nolte, Sir Robert Peel and Lord Bathurst.

The Journals consist of notes kept by Blennerhassett for his wife. They cover the period of his confinement and trial in Richmond. They begin July 20, 1807, and continue to November 20 of that year. Many details of Burr's trial are included in them.

ALEXANDER BLISS AND WILLIAM DAVIS

Eight parchment diplomas of university degrees and admissions to practice before the New York Supreme Court, 1846-1852, were the gift, in 1911, of Miss E. B. Bliss, of Washington, D. C.

MILLEDGE L. BONHAM

(See Francis W. Pickens.)

ELIAS BOUDINOT

A small volume of transcripts, probably from the Force collection, containing copies of letters and reports by Elias Boudinot during his term as commissary general of prisoners, 1776-1783. The letters are addressed to General Washington, Major General William Phillips, the Treasury Board, John

BOURNE

Stevens, Peter Wilson and others. Among the letters to Boudinot are several from Sir William Howe and Joshua Loring.

Boudinot's reports to the Board of War contain interesting items regarding the condition of American prisoners at New York and elsewhere, and the charges upon which they are held. The "Returns" show the number of prisoners held in confinement in New York at various times during the war. A number of petitions from prisoners are also included.

SYLVANUS BOURNE

The papers of Sylvanus Bourne, of Massachusetts, and of William Taylor, Jonathan Meredith and John White, of Baltimore. The affairs of these men were so interwoven that their papers form practically one collection.

Sylvanus Bourne's papers form the most important though not the largest group. They comprise 34 portfolios and some 500 or more folders of manuscripts. The period covered is from 1774 to 1854 inclusive.

Sylvanus Bourne was of Barnstable, Massachusetts. He was in business for some years, and then became United States Consul at Amsterdam, a post he retained for many years.

The early portion of the collection contains much of political interest. The later letters are from the various consular officers in European ports, giving news of the depredations committed on American commerce, and information on the various measures showing the policy of Great Britain and Napoleon toward America and American trade. The letters from America have current political news. There are also many drafts of letters and papers from Bourne's own hand, including memorials to the Dutch Government and despatches to the Department of State, letters to other consular offices and to merchants.

Among the letters to Bourne, the series from other consuls is, perhaps, the most notable. The following will give some idea of its extent: John Appleton, Calais (7); Lawson Alexander, Rotterdam (30); Richard Codman, Paris (31); George Rix

BOZMAN

Curtis, Rotterdam (45); H. H. Duncan, Amsterdam (21); John M. Forbes, Hamburg (51); Joseph Forman, Rotterdam (51); George John Gregory, Campveer (16); James Maury, Liverpool (7); Joseph Pitcairn, Hamburg (81); Jacob Ridgway, Antwerp (22); J. Robertson, Antwerp (19); H. Rohan, Flushing (15); and William Worsdell, Helder (350). There are 41 letters from J. C. Mountflorencia, 26 David Baillie Warden, 25 from Jonathan Russell; from Levett Harris, 10; James Swan, 10; Christopher Gore, 3; and from Albert Gallatin, T. A. Bayard, George W. Ewing, W. Eustis, Thomas H. Perkins, William B. Wood, Henry Wheaton, William H. Winder and Fulwar Skipwith. The 46 letters of William Vans Murray, Minister to Holland, in this collection, are supplemented by 30 additional letters of Murray to Bourne, purchased in 1904 and now forming part of the Murray collection. A number of letters relating to prizes in the War of 1812 and later; letters to Bourne from members of his family; and a small package of applications addressed to the Directors of the Baltimore Library Company, in 1843, complete the correspondence.

There are about 700 forms, accounts, advertisements and Dutch papers. Other items are a memorandum book, of the year 1794; a List of American Vessels Arrived at the Port of Amsterdam in 1809; and several miscellaneous broadsides relating to merchant vessels during the War of 1812. Purchased, 1903.

A scrap album contains some twenty letters addressed to Bourne, between 1790 and 1800. Among them are manuscripts of Edmund Randolph, Tobias Lear, John Quincy Adams and Thomas Jefferson. There are also a number of prints of General Washington. The album was also purchased in 1903.

JOHN LEEDS BOZMAN

This collection, consisting of three bound volumes, is comprised of papers of two families prominent in the history of the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

BOZMAN

John Leeds Bozman, (1757–1823), historian of Maryland, lived near Easton, in Talbot County. He left his papers to his nephew, John Leeds Kerr, who was a Representative in Congress, 1825–1829, and 1831–1833. From him they passed to his son, John Bozman Kerr, Member of Congress, 1848–1850. The papers of these three men make up the bulk of the collection, and it was from a descendant of the latter, Mrs. John H. K. Burgwin, of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, that the papers were acquired by the Library, in 1909.

This part of the collection begins in 1730 and continues to 1856. It consists almost entirely of correspondence. The earliest letters are those of John Leeds and John Bozman, 1730 to 1750. After them come the letters of John Leeds Bozman, John Leeds Kerr and John Bozman Kerr. Among the early writers were: Arnold Elzey, Nicholas Goldsborough, Benjamin Richardson, Jun., and John Lloyd. There are drafts of many of John Leeds Bozman's own letters, and letters to him from William Tudor, Jr., of Boston, and Edward J. Coale, the Baltimore printer. Among the correspondents of John Bozman Kerr were Isaac Edwards Morse, C. S. Storrow and Isaac Appleton Jewett.

A portion of the collection of a distinctly different character consists of the mercantile papers of Daniel Richardson and his wife, Ruth. From 1711 to 1722, the year of his death, Daniel Richardson was engaged in trade with merchants in Philadelphia and London. There are numerous letters and accounts of William Fishbourne and Ennion Williams of Philadelphia, and a number of invoices of goods imported from England. Ruth Richardson settled her husband's estate, and there are many letters and accounts in that connection as late as 1729.

Copies of early wills, inventories, and land records of the Leeds and Richardson families, 1688 to 1710; a list of the fees received at the port of Oxford, Maryland, 1765 and 1766, giving a list of ships and the dates of their arrival; manuscript copies of speeches delivered by Luther Martin and James McHenry, in 1787, in the Maryland legislature, about the proceedings of the Constitutional Convention of 1787.

BRECKINRIDGEJOSEPH BRANT

Letter addressed to Moses Cleveland, Director of the Connecticut Land Company, June 6, 1796, regarding Indian lands.

BRECKINRIDGE PAPERS

These papers, the gift, in 1905, of Miss Sophonisba Preston Breckinridge and Mr. Desha Breckinridge, children of the late Hon. William C. P. Breckinridge, of Lexington, Kentucky, form one of the largest collections now in the Manuscript Division. A conservative estimate would place their number between twenty-five and thirty thousand. They were collected by William C. P. Breckinridge from a variety of sources, and were arranged by him as his time permitted. His constant occupation in the public service prevented his completing this task.

The collection in the main consists of the papers of John Breckinridge (1760-1806); John Breckinridge, his son (1797-1841); Robert Jefferson Breckinridge, another son (1800-1871); and William Campbell Preston Breckinridge, son of Robert, (1837-1905); and in addition to these there are papers of many other members of the family and its connections.

John Breckinridge the elder was an early settler in Kentucky, the friend and correspondent of Jefferson, member of the State Legislature, the proposer, if not the framer, of the Kentucky resolutions of 1798, United States Senator from Kentucky, and Attorney General in Jefferson's Cabinet. Robert Jefferson Breckinridge was for some years in political life, but later became a clergyman and one of the leaders in the Presbyterian Church. His correspondence is extensive, and covers his pastorates at Baltimore, at Canonsburg, Pennsylvania, where he was President of Jefferson College, and at Lexington, Kentucky. William C. P. Breckinridge served in the Confederate

BROADSIDES

Army, and was long a Representative in Congress from the State of Kentucky.

The correspondence contains letters of Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, John Marshall, James Monroe, Colonel William Preston, Archibald Stuart, Humphrey Marshall, Samuel Paine, Robert Dunlap, T. G. Polk, John J. Crittenden and many others.

The collection is not yet open to investigators, owing to certain restrictions placed by the donors upon the use of the papers.

BRITISH TRANSCRIPTS

(See Library of Congress Transcripts.)

BROADSIDES

The collection comprises 150 portfolios and 57 bound volumes, exclusive of the Continental Congress imprints, theatrical play-bills, unbound songs, carrier's addresses, etc. Many of them were received with the Peter Force Library in 1867, and had apparently been collected by Ebenezer Hazard.

The broadsides in the portfolios are arranged chronologically by imprint.

The extent of this collection may be indicated by using one or two of the countries and states as examples. The broadsides of Great Britain comprise seven portfolios, covering from 1644 to 1863. Those of Mexico comprise six portfolios, from 1792 to 1840. The United States collection consists of fifteen portfolios, from 1788 to 1900. Of the individual states, the broadsides of Connecticut, 1622-1900, occupy four portfolios; Delaware, 1732-1904, one portfolio; Kentucky, 1790-1879, two portfolios; Maryland, 1732-1869, three portfolios; Massachusetts, 1676-1901, twenty-one portfolios; New Hampshire, 1725-1899, six portfolios; New York, 1693-1890, twelve portfolios; Oregon, 1847-1910, one portfolio; Pennsylvania, 1683-1870, eight portfolios; Rhode Island, 1663-1891, four portfolios; Tennessee, 1814-1891, two portfolios; Texas, 1834-1884, one portfolio; Virginia, 1739-1860, eight portfolios. Other states are proportionately represented.

BROMBERG

The earliest of the bound broadsides are four volumes containing proclamations, letters and acts of the reign of James II and the succeeding period, 1684-1698. A permanent-bound volume of Quaker records contains broadside Epistles to the Quarterly and Monthly Meetings of Friends in Great Britain and elsewhere, from the Yearly Meeting at London, 1700 to 1800, and an Epistle from the Yearly Meeting at Burlington, N. J., 1746. There are thirteen volumes (one broadside in each) of Acts, Statements, etc., of the African Company, of England, 1702-1752, with a list of the Adventurers in the Joint Stock Company. Nine thin bound volumes, containing a single broadside each, are lettered as follows: American Duties Act, 1764; Boston Port Bill, 1774; Restraint of Trade of the Northern Colonies, 1775; Restraint of Trade of the Southern Colonies, 1775; Prohibiting trade with the American Colonies, 1776; Repeal of Tea Duty, 1778; Repeal of Massachusetts Act, 1778; Bill declaring right of Parliament to tax the Colonies and bill to appoint Commissioners to quiet disorders in them, New York imprint, 1778.

Another volume contains a "Table of Students receiving Degrees at Yale College, 1701-1775," and "Titles of Theses upheld at various Commencements of Harvard, (1738, 1741, 1776) and Yale, (1756, 1758, 1761, 1762).

The long series of issues of the New England Loyal Publication Society lacks only forty-five numbers to make it complete. This series was the gift of Charles Eliot Norton, of Cambridge, Massachusetts, in 1903. Two volumes of American broadsides, with a few English color prints, 1802 to 1813, were obtained, in 1906, from the Samuel W. Pennypacker collection.

Other volumes are those containing early broadsides regarding Jamaica, Nevis and St. Christopher's, 1709 and 1710; the abolition of slavery in Cuba, in 1868; the posters and handbills of the New York City political campaign, of 1903; and the volume of posters of the New Orleans Poll Tax Association, 1907.

FREDERICK G. BROMBERG

Fifteen letters, addressed to Frederick G. Bromberg, from Wager Swayne, 1867-1869; and Raphael Semmes, 1873-1874 relating to political reconstruction measures in Alabama. Gift, 1911, of Frederick G. Bromberg, Mobile, Alabama.

BROWN

JACOB BROWN

Two official letter books, dating from 1814 to 1827; and a memorandum of occurrences in the campaign at Niagara, in 1814, setting forth the military services of Major General Jacob Brown, U. S. A.

The first letter book begins April 14, 1814, shortly before he took possession of Fort Erie, and contains information regarding the movements of troops, and descriptions of battles fought in the vicinity of Niagara; also, an estimate by Commodore Isaac Chauncey of the naval forces on Lake Ontario, in 1814. Much of the second letter book, 1816 to 1827, is taken up with correspondence with the Secretary of War, but there are many letters to other individuals upon army affairs in general. The earlier letters, 1816 to 1821, deal particularly with the northern division of the army. A long memorandum of the tribes of Indians in the Northwest, in 1819, gives the names of tribes, chiefs, number of warriors, number of souls, residence, and their mode of life and occupations.

The third volume, a memorandum of occurrences in the Niagara campaign, 1814, also contains copies of letters. Among the correspondents of General Brown are James Monroe, John Quincy Adams, John C. Calhoun, A. J. Dallas, De Witt Clinton, John Armstrong, William H. Crawford, W. A. Trimble, Daniel Parker, B. W. Crowninshield, George Graham, Commodore Isaac Chauncey, Major General George Izard, Major General E. P. Gaines, Major General P. B. Porter, Colonel D. S. Clinch and Lieutenant Colonel George E. Mitchell. Purchased in 1904.

JAMES BROWN

This collection of letters and papers of Senator James Brown, of Louisiana, was given to the Library, in 1906, by H. P. Scratchley, of Bloomfield, N. J. It consists of 352 pieces, being made up, for the most part, of papers of a legal and commercial nature. There are some family letters; a number from his brother, John Brown, Senator from Kentucky, and of correspondents in Louisiana and Virginia. Francis X. Martin was also a correspondent. The period covered by these letters and papers is from 1777 to 1810.

In 1907, Mr. Scratchley added to the collection a package of letters and papers relating to the court martial of Colonel Thomas Butler, of the 2nd Infantry, U. S. A., for refusing to cut his hair as directed by general orders (1804-5).

SILAS BROWN, JR.

Correspondence with Ephraim Brown, 1805-1817; in all, sixteen letters, including two from the latter. Deposited, 1915, by Mrs. Michael D. Harter, of Mansfield, Ohio. Silas Brown, Jr., was a pioneer from New Hampshire; the letters detail his travels from that State to Albany, Onondaga, Pittsburgh, Marietta and Natchez. The latter part of this trip he took as a member of Aaron Burr's expedition. At Marietta he became acquainted with Blennerhassett. There is much regarding the expedition, its defeat and dispersion, and the subsequent suspicion under which Brown labored because of his connection therewith.

GEORGE BRYAN

A copy of the "Gentleman and Citizen's Almanack," published by John Watson, Bookseller, Dublin, 1760, which was purchased in 1913, contains a memorandum of events kept during the year 1764 by George Bryan, then a member of the Pennsylvania State Assembly and, later, a judge of the State Supreme Court.

Other items of George Bryan will be found in the Atlee Papers, and in the Pennsylvania and Stamp Act Congress collections.

WALTER BRYANT

BURNS

JAMES BUCHANAN

About thirty manuscripts, letters and speeches, obtained from various sources. A group of fourteen letters addressed to James M. Buchanan, nearly all of them written by James Buchanan, 1844-1866, was purchased in 1914 and a series of speeches made in Congress was purchased in 1912. Subjects are as follows: Delaware Canal; Naturalization Acts, 1828; Cumberland Road; Punishment for Robbery of Vessels; Mission to Panama, 1826; and The Tariff; ten pieces in all. Letters are addressed to George W. Buchanan, Henry Simpson, Thomas Elder, John W. Forney and others.

ROBERT BURNS

An autobiograph copy of "Auld Lang Syne," 2 pp. Bound with it are an A. L. S. of the poet to John Richmond, from Edinburgh, February 7, 1788, and a letter from Henry Stevens in London, to Hon. John V. L. Pruyn, of Albany, N. Y., January 7, 1859, enclosing the poem, and giving the history of the manuscript.

Placed on deposit in the Library by Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hamlin, Washington, D. C., in 1913.

BURR

AARON BURR

The most important papers are in a volume entitled "Letters in Relation to Burr's Conspiracy," which was transferred in 1906 from the Department of State. It commences in October, 1806, with a letter from Presley Nevill, and Samuel Roberts to James Madison, warning him of Burr's intentions. The succeeding letters present a view of the conspiracy and trial at Richmond. Among the writers are Erick Bollman, Walter Burling, William C. C. Claiborne, William Eaton, John Graham, Caesar A. Rodney and Robert Smith.

The second portion of the volume extends to the year 1816, and comprises correspondence and papers relating to the Mexican Revolution. There are letters of Toledo, Ira Allen, Gutierrez, Richard Worsam Meade and others; a memorandum of an lating to political reconstruction measures in Alabama. Gift, interview between Monroe and Barnebeu (1811); a report to the Spanish Cortes in December, 1812; and a memoir of Bruno Vallerino on Spanish-American political relations.

A small group of items regarding the Conspiracy, purchased in 1908, contains a copy of the presentment of the grand jury of Mississippi against Burr; and extracts from the depositions of J. R. N. Lockett and W. A. Murray; letters of Governor Robert Williams to James Madison and of Harry Toulmin to Jefferson, in the year 1807. Other items are Burr's notes of conference, with references in the case of J. Fields vs. J. Wilkins, February 4, 1804; and a letter to Major [Isaac] Guion, from Fleming's Tavern [July 15, 1805] requesting an interview.

The Force Transcripts contain fifty or more letters to and from Burr during the early period of the Revolution, 1777-1779, to Washington, Major General Conway and Colonel Ogden; and from Generals Putnam, Varnum, Conway, Lee and McDougall; Lord Stirling, Baron De Kalb, Colonel Malcolm, Major Platt, Tench Tilghman and Theodore Sedgewick. Papers on the Burr trial in Kentucky will be found in Volume 18 of the Harry Innes collection.

BENJAMIN F. BUTLER

Twelve documents, relating to the Butler, Florance, Twiggs Case, 1863-1873. Purchased, 1900.

WILLIAM BYRD

A small memorandum book, partially in the hand of Colonel William Byrd, of Westover, Virginia, contains entries of goods imported from England, lists of slaves at the Byrd plantation on the Roanoke, and at Westover, some cash accounts, etc. All of the years 1757 and 1758. Purchased, 1913.

JOHN C. CALHOUN

A set of eighteen political letters, written to John R. Mathews between the years 1837 and 1849. Purchased, 1904.

Also, Calhoun's last set speech in the Senate, March 4, 1850, in the form in which it went to the printer. The greater part of it is in the handwriting of Joseph A. Scoville, Calhoun's private secretary, but there are many changes and interlineations in Calhoun's own hand. Purchased, 1911.

CALIFORNIA

Four paper-bound volumes, being the narrative of Thomas G. Cary, with chapters on the Alta California discovery of gold; San Francisco in 1849-1850, Mining Bubbles, Silver at Washoe, Troubles with Indians, Pacific Railway, The Vigilance Committee of 1851, Chinese in California, Clipper Ships and the

CARLETON

China Trade, and The San Francisco Vigilance Committee of 1856; presented to the Library by the author, in 1885.

A volume of 128 pages, in Spanish, consisting of memorials from Don Juan Ugarte and others, concerning missions and conquests, 1700 to 1724 purchased in 1899.

CECILIUS CALVERT

"History of the Portrait of Lord Baltimore," being a description and history of the picture of the embarkation of Lord Baltimore for Maryland, which was presented by Queen Anne to the City of Annapolis. The picture was long in the possession of Charles Willson Peale, and this narrative contains extracts of letters of Franklin Peale and others, and extracts from printed works regarding the picture. Ten pages, undated.

CANADA

SIR GUY CARLETON

A folio volume of fifty contemporary copies of letters from Lord Dartmouth and Lord George Germain to Sir Guy Carleton, during the years 1774 to 1777, dealing mainly with military matters. This volume was procured with the Force purchase, in 1867.

CARROLL

The Force transcripts contain a few Carleton letters also, among them letters to Governor William Livingston in the year 1782, and one from Governor William Franklin to Carleton, of the same year.

CARRIERS' ADDRESSES

A large collection of Newspaper carriers' addresses were added to by purchase in 1909, consisting of printed addresses, many of them in verse, distributed at New Year and Christmas time by the newspaper carriers in various cities. Most of these are dated about the year 1848, but a few are as early as 1824. Newspapers in nearly all of the important cities of the East and South are represented: The Baltimore Clipper, the National Intelligencer, the Republican Advocate, the Statesman and Gazette, and many others.

CHARLES CARROLL of CARROLLTON

A scrap book labeled "Carroll MSS," contains 113 manuscripts, including eight letters to members of his family, his advice to his son, letters to John White, of Baltimore, and a number of receipts, checks, notes and similar papers; 82 documents, originals, contemporary copies and attested copies, relating to family matters; an inventory of the estate, with other legal papers; and one or two portrait prints of members of the family; also two account books of the Carroll family, the first extending from 1735 to 1759, and the second—which is labeled "Sheriffs' accts., 1766" and "Quit Rent accts., 1766"—containing entries from 1765 to 1829, partly in the autograph of Carroll. Purchased in 1903.

A typewritten copy of a calendar of the papers of Charles Carroll of Carrollton in the Maryland Historical Society, made by Louis H. Dielman, of Baltimore, Maryland; presented by him, in 1915.

CASS

ROBERT CARTER

Sixteen volumes of plantation account and letter books of "Councillor Carter" of Nomini Hall, Westmoreland County, Virginia, 1759-1805. There are 5 volumes of account books, ledgers, daybooks, etc., dating from 1759 to 1792, which contain the usual plantation entries and show the agricultural and commercial activity of the estate. Five volumes of memorandum books, so called, 1774-1795, which contain a mass of miscellaneous accounts and a daily record of events that amounts almost to a diary; volume 3 of this series dating 1788-89 contains the rent roll book of yearly leases of various tracts in Westmoreland, Richmond and Northumberland counties, 1790-'91. There are six volumes of letters dating from 1791 to 1805 of which 3 volumes are record copies of letters sent most of which have been copied by "Councillor Carter" himself. The other 3 volumes are of the original letters received, 1791-1798. The letters deal largely with business affairs though there is matter of a political and social nature to be found among them. Among the correspondents are Francis Bailey, Spencer Ball, Daniel Carroll of Duddington, Benjamin Dawson, Daniel Dulany, Bryan Fairfax, Joseph Jones, Thomas Ludwell Lee, Luther Martin, J. H. Stone, Henry Tazewell and Robert Welch. Purchased, 1916.

The Carter papers were added to this same year by gift from Mr. George Cuthbert Carter, of Leesburg, Virginia, of a small group of family and business letters to "Councillor" Carter dated from 1768 to 1798 and 7 note book volumes of "Councillor" Carter's religious writings.

LEWIS CASS

Letters, 1813-1857, to Major David Chambers, William H. Crawford, General Henry Dearborn, H. S. Legaré and one other. (Six pieces.) Purchased, 1906. Cass letters are also to be found in the Clayton, Van Buren, Schoolcraft, and Webster collections.

GEORGE CHALMERS

A small group of miscellaneous manuscripts once belonging to George Chalmers, the Scottish antiquary and historian, has been kept together, under the head of "Chalmers." It consists of extracts of correspondence of Governor Francis Bernard with Lord Hillsborough and the Lords of Trade, 1767-1769; some notes on the Dutch settlements in America; notes on the import and export of rum and sugar, from 1726 to 1733; a report on the Nevis and St. Christopher's debentures, 1731; Considerations on the trade to Barbary; prices current for 1769; and a petition regarding woolen manufacturing.

W. P. CHANDLER

A letter book covering the years 1854 to 1856, of W. P. Chandler's correspondence with various consuls, and a diary, in four octavo volumes, kept during his consulate at Tunis, 1854-1856. Transferred from the Department of State, in 1910.

SALMON P. CHASE

The letter books and papers of Salmon Portland Chase, purchased in 1902. Twenty-two volumes of letter books, memoranda and notes, and about 10,000 letters. The letters are in 108 bound volumes.

The letter books consist, for the most part, of letter press copies, covering the period from 1833 to 1872. The other books in the collection comprise the following: a volume marked "Votes by Counties, [Ohio] German Voters, 1848-1851"; a volume lettered "Stocks, New York, 1861-1862"; one volume of "Notes on Supreme Court Cases"; a commonplace book; a dairy for the years 1861 to 1863; a "Farm Diary and Calling List," 1873; a volume of biography; and one of "Family Memorandums."

The correspondence begins nominally with the year 1755, but there are only three scattered papers prior to 1810, and the earliest letters to Chase are in 1824. The latest papers are of 1874.

The letters cover all the phases of Chase's career. Many of the earlier ones are addressed to him at Washington, during the time he conducted a classical school for boys and studied law with William Wirt in that city. The years he spent in Cincinnati as a practicing attorney, his services as Senator, as Governor of Ohio, as Secretary of the Treasury and as Chief Justice, are all fully represented in the collection.

CLAIBORNE

Among the correspondents are: R. D. Skinner, Charles Gayler, Philander Chase, J. Kimball, Osgood Herrick, M. M. McRobert, John Haliburton, Elwood Fisher, A. H. Lewis, Stanley Matthews, James Dunlap, Charles R. Skinner, John P. Jewett, Richard Mott, E. Littell, George Opdyke, George William Curtis, S. F. Barstow, James Birney, William Lawrence, John Goddard, Benjamin Rush, Jay Cooke, Hamilton Fish, Millard Fillmore, Rutherford B. Hayes, and James A. Garfield.

The collection was purchased in 1902. It has been catalogued, and selected letters were printed as the correspondence of Salmon P. Chase, in the 2nd volume of the annual report of the American Historical Association for 1902.

JOHN F. H. CLAIBORNE

The papers of Colonel John Francis Hamtramck Claiborne, Captain Willis H. Claiborne and Henry A. Garrett, 1818 to 1885 relate mainly to the Civil War and reconstruction in Mississippi. They fill three portfolios and the earlier papers, those from 1818 to 1860 relate almost entirely to business affairs, land matters and politics. The Civil War period contains a few documents relative to the siege and capture of Vicksburg. The principal correspondents are R. M. Johnson, William M. Gwin, R. J. Walker, F. S. Hunt, John A. Parker, A. G. Brown, A. W. Reynolds and James B. McRea. After the war the correspondence is mainly personal business and drafts of addresses delivered by

CLAY

Col. Claiborne. A Common-Place book, 1824, 1 vol. and a biography, 1829, complete the collection.

Captain Willis H. Claiborne's papers consist of a Common-Place book, 1854-7, 1 vol. and a diary, 1864-5, 1 vol. Henry A. Garrett's diary, 1861-7, 1 vol. and Common-Place book, 1867, 1 vol. These were obtained with the Claiborne papers, which were purchased in 1917.

HENRY CLAY

A single folio volume, containing approximately 150 pieces—and several small groups of unbound letters, 1804-1857, numbering in all about 105 pieces—purchased at various times. Seventeen letters of Clay to William Taylor, of Baltimore, beginning in 1799, regarding personal real estate matters; several letters to Charles Crooks, James Maher and Nathan Kelsey Hall; letters to Thomas H. Clay (34 pieces), between the years 1830 and 1851; and letters from Nicholas Biddle, Felix Grundy, William H. Seward, James Brown, Cornelius Comegys, Alexander H. Everett, Ralph Peacock, Samuel Southwick, Harrison Gray Otis, Millard Fillmore, James K. Polk, Daniel P. Cook, Jesse Burton Harrison, W. B. Lawrence, John Sergeant, Joseph Vance, P. B. Porter, James Strong, John Pendleton Kennedy, Ambrose Spencer, J. F. H. Claiborne, Langdon Cheves, Thos. Ewing, Willie P. Mangum, Hezekiah Niles, Leverett Saltonstall and F. Campbell Stewart; also, the letters and notes to Peter Force, regarding articles to be published in the "National Journal," and an autobiographical letter to Robert Walsh, April 25, 1836.

THOMAS H. CLAY

Fourteen letters, about Henry Clay's last illness, addressed to his wife, Mrs. Mary R. Clay, 1852-1861. Purchased, 1914.

CLEVELANDJOHN M. CLAYTON.

The papers of John Middleton Clayton, containing some 1,300 manuscripts, bound in twelve volumes and catalogued.

The collection begins in 1798, but the earliest Clayton item is in 1815. Papers prior to that date consist mainly of land records of the Clayton family, but there is a long letter, dated November 8, 1804, written by Peter Jaquett, formerly a captain in the Delaware regiment, to Caesar A. Rodney. There are a few of Clayton's writings, drafts of letters, dispatches, circulars and addresses.

Seven of the twelve volumes contain the correspondence and papers of the period (1849-1850) during which Clayton served as Secretary of State. There are 35 communications of Sir Henry Bulwer, and an equal number of Clayton's.

The private letters of Abbott Lawrence (27), William C. Rives (19), and E. George Squier (8) relate to business intrusted to them as agents of the government.

Political letters are from John J. Crittenden (49), Henry Clay (26), Elisha Whittlesey (15), James A. Bayard (10), Thomas H. Benton (9), Reverdy Johnson (9), Wm. H. Seward (8), James Watson Webb (8), Morton McMichael (8), Leslie Combs (7), Robert C. Winthrop (7), Thomas Ewing (5), Willie P. Magnum (6), Daniel Webster (6), John Davis (7), Zachary Taylor (4), and Millard Fillmore (3), J. K. Paulding, A. Dudley Mann, Geo. B. McClellan, Winfield Scott, and Jas. Gordon Bennett.

Many letters deal with local topics, the writers being William Hill Welles, J. G. Brinckle, Thomas Stockton, S. M. Harrington, William B. Cooper, Peter F. Causey and Martin W. Bates.

Other papers are those relating to the Pea Patch Island controversy; a Memoir of Clayton by Robert M. Bird; and a Memoir of Senator Elias Vandam. Purchased, 1904.

HEINRICH URBAN CLEVE

Captain Heinrich Urban Cleve was adjutant of the Brunswick battalion of the Hessian Army in America, and aide de camp to General Frederick Adolph Riedesel, the commander of those troops. This manuscript consists of 112 pages of closely written German script, in two portions, the first being transcripts of letters to his brother, Hartwig Cleve, and other relatives and friends, written from St. Anne's in Canada, from March 9, 1777, to April 20, 1777, giving descriptions of the country, and information regarding the movements of the English and Hessian troops, and the plans for the Burgoyne expedition. The second portion is a diary, written at Cambridge, where Cleve was taken as a prisoner. It covers the period from November 15, 1777, to April, 1778, and contains a description of the place, and comments on events which transpired. Evidently this manuscript at one time formed part of a complete narrative of Cleve's adventures in America, for it is labeled: Parts 20 and 21. It was probably secured by the Library of Congress with the Peter Force collection.

GROVER CLEVELAND

Political speech, delivered at the Manhattan Club reception, New York, October, 1882. A.D. 6 pp. fo. [This was the only speech delivered by Cleveland during the 1882 campaign.] The papers of Grover Cleveland have been deposited with the Library but are not open to investigators.

CLOSEN

DUNCAN LAMONT CLINCH

The military order book of General Clinch, 1834-36, 1 vol. and the letter books, 1834-36, 2 vols. kept at Fort King, Florida, a list of negro slaves and their value at Gen. Clinch's plantation, near St. Mary's, Georgia. Presented to the Library in 1917 by Mrs. James M. Lawton, of New York.

GEORGE AND JAMES CLINTON

A collection of thirty drafts of letters of George and James Clinton, seven being the letters of George Clinton. They comprise letters to Washington (one of them containing an account of the loss of Fort Montgomery), Lafayette, Schuyler and James Clinton, 1776 to 1781. Another document sets forth Clinton's opinion against evacuating New York, 1776. Type-written copies of ten letters addressed to George Clinton, 1777-1783, are also included. Five of them are from James Duane, others from Ezra L'Homedieu, Robert R. Livingston, John Morin Scott and Alexander Hamilton.

The James Clinton portion is made up of miscellaneous correspondence, being drafts of letters to Washington, Gates, Schuyler, George Clinton, Cortlandt, McDougall, Heath, Van Dyke, Van Schaick and others, 1777-1781. Purchased in 1910.

CLINTON-CORNWALLIS CONTROVERSY

Ten volumes and fifty-four pamphlets, with Sir Henry Clinton's manuscript annotations, transferred, in 1906, from the Department of State. The volumes are lettered as follows: "Clinton's Observations," "Clinton's Narrative," Cornwallis's Answer to Clinton," "Ramsay's American Revolution," "Letters of General Charles Lee," "Burgoyne's Expedition from Canada," one volume each, and "Clinton and Cornwallis," four volumes.

COCKBURN

ABNER CLOUGH

(See Journals and Diaries, 1746.)

SIR GEORGE COCKBURN

The manuscripts of Rear Admiral Sir George Cockburn, K. C. B.

There are eighty-two volumes, running from 1788 to 1847, being Log Books, Journals, Correspondence, Fleet Orders, and miscellany. The log books cover cruises to Spain, Africa, East India, North America and the West Indies, from 1788 to 1812. The Journals (four volumes) give, among other information, a list of official and private letters sent off, with a short notice of their contents. There are also notes on events of the day.

The correspondence consists of the following: Miscellaneous letters written by Cockburn, 10 volumes, Admiralty letters, 2 volumes, Private letters, 3 volumes; copies of letters to Cockburn, miscellaneous, 3 volumes, Admiralty letters, 1 volume.

The Fleet Orders comprise twelve volumes of orders received and issued by Cockburn. They embrace the years 1794 to 1836.

The miscellany consists of reports, accounts of naval engagements and extracts of letters.

The period of 1788 to 1793 is covered by log books of H. M. S. Ariel and others, on cruises to South America, Africa, the East Indies and the Mediterranean. From 1794 to 1808, there are letters, orders and log books, embracing a narrative of the proceedings of Lord Nelson's squadron in the cruise from Gibraltar and the Battle of the Nile, and a journey to North America and East India. There are thirteen letters of Lord Nelson.

Papers of the years 1810 to 1812 contain secret reports by Cockburn on an attempt to free King Ferdinand of Spain from the hands of Napoleon; also accounts of his trip to Cadiz and Mexico, and his negotiations with the Spanish government concerning the independence of the American colonies.

The period of the War of 1812 is covered by twenty-eight volumes of log books and journals, and by letters, reports and

COLDEN

Fleet orders. The letters deal with the capture of Washington, events in the Chesapeake, and on the coasts of Virginia and Georgia. Among the writers are Sir Alexander Cochrane, admiral; John Wilson Croker, Secretary of the Admiralty; Andreas de Jaschkoff, Ambassador of Russia; Sir Edward Griffith, admiral; Sir Charles Napier, admiral; and Sir Henry Wellesley, English Ambassador. A volume of the year 1815 deals with the measures taken after the conclusion of peace, regarding the exchange of prisoners and other details.

The volumes of the years 1815 and 1816 contain correspondence and reports concerning the conveyance of Napoleon to St. Helena, the difficulties of his maintenance and the plans aiming at his escape.

During the years 1829 and 1830, Cockburn was in the Admiralty Office, and the correspondence concerns the administration of the English fleet. From 1842 to 1846, he was in command of the North American and West Indian Station, and there are reports and letters from Halifax, Bermuda, Jamaica, Trinidad and elsewhere, relating to the Newfoundland fisheries, the slave trade, the political situation in Cuba and Venezuela, and disturbances in South America.

The papers for 1846 and 1847 consist of letters and memoranda on political matters and the affairs of the Admiralty Office. Purchased in 1909 and 1912.

CADWALLADER COLDEN

A group of nineteen manuscripts, consisting mainly of papers of Cadwallader Colden, the Royalist Lieutenant Governor of New York; deposited, in 1913, by Mrs. George D. Ruggles, of Washington, D. C. They comprise Colden's commissions, and single letters, written to him by George Clinton, Thomas Gage, Lord Amherst, Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton; an account of the Battle of Lexington, by Lieutenant Colonel James Abercrombie, of the British Army, dated Boston, May 2, 1775; a record of the conference between his Excellency George Clinton and several of the sachems of the Six Nations of Indians, held at Albany, June 16, 1744; and a letter of Lafayette to David Ruggles, January 18, 1830, regarding Florida lands.

STEPHEN COLLINS & SON

The mercantile papers of the Philadelphia firm of Stephen Collins & Son, which were in the office of the depot quartermaster, U. S. Army, of that city, were transferred to the Library of Congress, February, 1913. They consist of:

66 Portfolios of letters, covering a period from 1758 to 1847.

36 Portfolios of accounts, receipts, invoices, etc., from 1749 to 1857. Prices current from 1762 to 1801.

61 volumes of Ledgers, Journals, Waste Books, memorandum and Letter Books belonging to the firm. They begin in 1758 and continue to 1796. The letter books contain the orders placed with London firms and the invoices of shipments from abroad.

21 volumes of Ledgers, Journals, invoices, memoranda, etc., of William Barrell, merchant, of Portsmouth, N. H., and Philadelphia, Pa. dating from 1766 to 1776.

Ledger "B" by [Joseph Pidgeon?] 1701-1703.

Ledgers, Journals, memoranda, etc., of Solomon Fussell, merchant, of Philadelphia, 1738-1762; James Mullan, of Bucks County, Pa., 1768-1780; White & Patton, 1772-1786; Samuel Elam; 1773-1783; John Glover, of Philadelphia and New York, 1774-1777; John Pemberton, of Alexandria, Va., 1785; Wm. A. Eliason, West Point, 1817.

A Naval Journal of the Office of Intendent of Military Stores, 1794-1800.

Stephen Collins commenced business in Philadelphia, in 1758, in partnership with Hudson Emlin. The latter withdrew in 1760, and the business was carried on by the remaining partner until 1784, when his son, Zaccheus Collins, entered the firm. Stephen Collins died in 1794, making his son his executor, with entire control of the business.

William Barrell, whose books and papers form a large portion of the collection, was a New England merchant, with in-

CONFED. STATES

York City, through her son, Nathan Comstock, Washington, D. C., of Dr. Elizabeth Comstock, New York City, and of Mrs. Frederick Burlingame, Woonsocket, Rhode Island.

The papers cover the years from 1855 to 1909, and fill three portfolios. In addition, there is a notebook, giving sketches of various engineering operations during the time Comstock was aide to General Grant; also a private diary, from October 16, 1863, to December 7, 1867; and a package of General Orders, January 6, 1862, to December 20, 1862.

The papers relate especially to the operations around Vicksburg, with lists of the number and kinds of guns in position before the city at certain dates, and a full report of the siege. There are numerous reports of other operations, practically covering the entire war period; and a Memoir of the Capture of Fort Fisher, prepared by General Comstock; also, the draft of General Grant's letter to President Johnson, concerning his resignation as Secretary of War; a letter from Jesse Root Grant, relating to his ancestry; and a Memoir of William Petit Trowbridge, prepared by General Comstock. The later papers deal with the work on the improvements on the Mississippi River.

Letters are from Meade, Gregg, Butterfield, Sherman, Sheridan, Sickles and Grant.

In the same year, additional Comstock papers were acquired by gift from the same donors. These embrace General Orders of the Army of the Potomac, 1862-3; letters to General Comstock, general orders, etc., 1863-1891, one volume (scrapbook); and various letters to General Comstock from the Chief of Engineers, 1880-1881.

CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA

EXECUTIVE, 1861-1862

Letter book record of miscellaneous correspondence from the President, and from the War and other Departments. (Frag-ment, 60 pp.) Purchased in 1913.

CONFED. STATES

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, 1861-1865

The larger portion of the official records of the Confederate Department of State were sold to the United States Government, in 1872, by Colonel John T. Pickett, a former diplomatic agent of the Confederacy, acting for William J. Bromwell, at one time chief clerk of the Confederate State Department, and are generally referred to as the "Pickett Papers." When purchased they were deposited in the Treasury Department, and by transfers, in 1906 and 1910, were sent to the Library of Congress. By purchase in 1903 were added 12 despatches from Benjamin to Mann, on relations with the Papacy.

They consist of:

Instructions, letters, telegrams, reports, etc., from and to the Confederate Peace Commissioners in Washington, February-April, 1861.

Copies of correspondence between Generals Beauregard and Anderson, previous to the bombardment of Sumter, April, 1861.

Ordinances of secession, or ratifications of the Confederate Constitution, of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia, 1860-1861.

Applications for office, 1861-1864.

Appointments of various acting cabinet and other civil officers, 1861-1865.

Oaths of office of cabinet officers and clerks, 1861-1864.

Miscellaneous administrative correspondence of the office of the President of the Confederacy, 1861-1864.

Diplomatic correspondence, consisting of the letter book record of instructions, correspondence, and orders to agents and consuls, and copies of letters from the various foreign consuls in the South, together with other foreign letters and papers and despatches from the Confederate Commissioners or agents, Holcombe, Hotze, Lamar, Mann, Mason, Pickett, Rost, Slidell, Thompson, Yancey and others, acting in Belgium, Canada, Central America, France, Great Britain, Mexico, Russia, Spain and other countries, 1861-1864.

CONFED. STATES

Proclamation record and sundry proclamations, 1861-1865.

Miscellaneous expense accounts, ledgers, cash books, checks, drafts, records of appropriations, requisitions, etc.

Letters of Marque record, 1861-1864.

Entrances and clearances in southern ports, and blockade correspondence, 1861-1862.

Pardon record.

Copyright correspondence, 1861-1864.

A few papers relative to loss of slaves, and destruction of property by the Federal troops, 1862-1864.

Copies of Captain Raphael Semmes's letters while in command of the Sumter, 1861.

Diary of events, in manuscript of Judah P. Benjamin, 1862-1864.

Passports, 1862-1864.

Blank forms, newspaper clippings, and sundry volumes of printed material, such as President Davis's messages, naval registers, army regulations, acts of Congress, etc., etc. (In all, the "Pickett Papers" total 33 volumes, exclusive of printed material, and 133 packages of loose manuscripts.)

CONFEDERATE CONGRESS, 1861-1864

The original manuscript laws, acts and resolves of the Confederate Congress, signed as passed by the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate, and approved by President Davis. Seven volumes. Separated from the legislative papers of the Confederacy which were stored in the War Department, these laws were sent, for some reason, to the Capitol building, and afterward deposited in the Library. In 1901, the Library purchased two of these, which had strayed, at some former time, from the possession of the Government.

CONFEDERATE ARMY, 1861-1865

Major A. M. Barbour's cash-book of quartermaster accounts, 1861-2, muster rolls and returns, quartermaster and pay vouchers, discharges, forms, blanks, requisitions, etc. Four portfolios. (A considerable number of these are returns of the Army of the Tennessee, 1861-1864.)

Military circulars and printed orders from the various armies and departments. One volume, and miscellaneous loose manuscripts.

Miscellaneous correspondence, relating almost entirely to military matters previous to and in the first year of the war (1860-1861), being in the main the correspondence of the South Carolina Ordnance Department, under the management of Colonel Edward Manigault, and letters to Governors Isham G. Harris and John Letcher.

Acquired by gifts, in 1903 and 1911, from Robert M. Hughes, of Norfolk, Virginia, and William Beer, of New Orleans; and by purchases in 1903, 1904, 1910, 1911, 1914 and 1915.

CONFEDERATE NAVY, 1861-1865

Shipping articles, muster rolls, vouchers, etc., relating mainly to the Confederate ships Missouri and Tennessee, 1861-1864. One package.

A record, kept by the United States consul at Bermuda, of arrivals and departures of Confederate vessels at Bermuda and Nassau, 1861-1865. One volume.

CONFEDERATE POST OFFICE, 1861-1865

Records, books, journals, orders, letter books, reports, list books, registers, etc., together with loose manuscripts of contracts, bonds, fines and miscellany. Ten volumes and sixteen portfolios.

Transferred from the Post Office Department, in 1906.

CONFEDERATE COURTS, 1861-1865

Trial dockets, minute books and court costs books of judicial districts in Alabama and Mississippi, 1861-1865. Three volumes.

Transferred by the clerks of the district courts for the northern districts of Alabama and Mississippi, in 1913.

CONFED. STATESCONFEDERATE FINANCE, 1861-1864

Albums of Confederate currency, notes and bonds, arranged by series and issues. Three volumes; together with a larger number of unarranged and unclassified notes and bonds.

Acquired by gifts in 1904, 1905, 1908, 1909 and 1911, from the First National Bank of Richmond, Va., Worthington C. Ford, of Boston, Dunbar Rowland, of Jackson, Miss., Mrs. Mary E. Hawn, of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Andrew B. Cross, of Baltimore, Md., and Miss Victoria L. Nourse, of Washington, D. C.; by purchase, in 1907 and 1910; by transfer from the Treasury Department, in 1910 and 1912; and by exchange, in 1907.

BEE LETTER BOOK, 1863

Letter book record of Brigadier General Hamilton P. Bee's correspondence during February-May, 1863, with Governor Albino Lopez, of Tamaulipas, Mexico, dealing with the extradition treaty between Mexico and the Confederacy, passage of troops across the border, and kindred matters. One volume. Purchased, in 1910.

MICAJAH H. CLARK PAPERS, 1865

Receipts for the disbursement of the last specie funds of the Confederacy, May 3-4, 1865. Twenty-two documents. Acquired by gift, from Colonel Micajah H. Clark, Clarksville, Tennessee, in 1911.

JEFFERSON DAVIS PAPERS, 1840-1878

Official, personal and private correspondence, mainly letters to Davis; few of the Mexican war period and few between the years 1861 and 1865. Before 1861 the papers relate largely to Davis's routine activities as chairman of the public buildings committee of the Senate, with some few speech memoranda, and, later, the current work and politics of the office of Secretary of War. Papers bearing on the slavery agitation and secession are few.

CONFED. STATES

Of manuscripts by Davis there are only about a dozen, most of them after 1865, and, with the exception of one or two relating to his flight and capture, they all relate to his personal and business affairs. There are half a dozen letters of Mrs. Davis in the collection, some of which relate to Davis's imprisonment at Fortress Monroe.

Other Davis manuscripts, relating mainly to his capture and trial, are in the Burton Harrison collection, q. v.

Acquired from various sources: by transfer from the State Department in 1906; by purchases in 1908 and 1910; and by gifts of C. W. Higgins, of Chicago, in 1910, and Colonel James Morris Morgan, of Washington, in 1912.

PICKETT PAPERS, 1849-1884

Official and personal papers of Colonel John T. Pickett, bearing upon his activities as Confederate agent in Mexico, 1860-1862, and his private and business affairs after the war, while acting as agent or attorney in various claims against the United States. Three volumes of letter press copy books, 1861-1878 (the larger part of the first of these three volumes contains Pickett's letters from Vera Cruz, in 1862, and there are gaps in the record between 1864-1865, and from 1867 to 1872); there are also four packages of loose manuscripts, dating from 1849-1884. Purchased, 1911.

REYNOLDS LETTER BOOKS, 1862-1865

The letter book record, official and private, (seven volumes) of Thomas C. Reynolds, Governor of Missouri; and a volume of his diary during part of the year 1864. The letters are written, in the main, from Marshall, Texas, though many are dated from Shreveport, La., Little Rock, Ark., and Richmond, Va. They deal with the political and military affairs of the Confederacy in the southwestern, trans-Mississippi region. Purchased, 1910.

CONNECTICUT

VAN DORN PAPERS, 1862-1863

Telegrams to Major General Earl Van Dorn, relative to military operations in the field, 1862-1863. 75 pieces.

Acquired by gift from Mrs. E. V. D. Miller, of Washington, D. C., in 1906.

[1845]; Letters from Benjamin Thompson, (Count Rumford), to Rev. Timothy Walker, 1774-1775, ("The original manuscripts are in the hands of Joseph B. Walker, Esq., of Concord, N. H., Henry Stevens, Jr., 1845"); letters to Ralph Pomeroy, Deputy Quartermaster; also, letters of Joseph Trumbull, Richard Salter, Ezra Stiles, Peletiah Webster, Samuel Purviance, Joseph Ward, Benjamin Colt, Richard Law, William Williams and Roger Sherman. All of the above are transcripts made for Peter Force and came to the Library with the Force purchase.

Two portfolios, containing miscellaneous letters and papers, 1662 to 1798; among them a number of Revolutionary War papers, including a pay-roll of Gurdon Saltonstall's militia company, September 7 to November 27, 1776; "Captain Packwood's Account of a Voyage to the West Indies for Powder and Arms, 1775"; and a "List of Men who marched from Mansfield, Connecticut, on the Lexington Alarm, April, 1775." The latter was presented, in 1907, by Mrs. H. L. Britton, New Dorp, New York. There are also letters of Gurdon Saltonstall, Jonathan Trumbull, Roger Wolcott and Ezra Stiles.

Seventeen volumes of receipts of the Continental Loan Office, 1781-1804; a "Journal of the Commissioners Appointed by the States of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, for the Purpose of Regulating the Prices of Labor, Etc.," 22 November, 1777, one volume; and a recent copy of "Some Historical Remarks Concerning the Collegiate School of Connecticut in New Haven, Now Yale Colledge, Written in part, November 26, 1717, pr S. Johnson"; formed part of the Force purchase, in 1867.

DAVID CONNER

Three volumes, (about four hundred pieces), being a portion of the papers of Commodore David Conner, U. S. N., between 1817 and 1847. Few papers bear date prior to 1844, when he was Commander of the Home Squadron. The communications from the Navy Department and various naval officers are numerous.

Much of the correspondence in 1845 relates to the Revolution in Hayti, in the early part of that year. Communications from Bobadilla to John S. Chauncey, commanding the U. S. S. Vandalia, and from Chauncey to Conner, set forth the events in full. On the same subject are letters of Richard Young, U. S. Commercial Agent at Aux Cayes, Hayti, and of Jacques Sylvain Hyppolite. A monthly return of the U. S. Brig Porpoise, William E. Hunt, Lieutenant Commander, is dated October 31, 1845. Correspondence of John Gwinn and E. A. F. Lavallette, regarding the affairs of the U. S. Navy Yard at Pensacola, is also dated in this year. Important papers of 1846 are the reports to the Secretary of the Navy regarding Santo Domingo, June, 1846; Extracts from the log of the U. S. Brig Porpoise, Sept. 30, 1846-January 28, 1847; "Notes taken on crossing Tampico Bar, November 9, 1846, Robert Townsend, Acting Master, Porpoise"; Invoice of Stores sent from Pensacola Navy Yard for the Home Squadron in the Gulf of Mexico, November 14, 1846; and a letter of Zachary Taylor to Conner, dated at Camp near Monterey, December 7, 1846.

In March, 1847, Commodore Conner directed the landing of General Scott's army at Vera Cruz, and several letters written by Scott at this time are included in the collection. Two letters of William H. Chase outline plans to take San Juan de Ulloa by escalade from the ships, (with a pencil sketch of the fortress,), and for an attack upon Vera Cruz.

CONT. CONG.

Additional letters are from George Bancroft, J. S. Chauncey, F. H. Gregory, W. K. Latimer, H. T. Matson, Charles Morris, J. H. Aulick, Charles Stewart and William E. Hunt; also from various officers on board the U. S. Ships Falmouth, Porpoise, Potomac, St. Mary's and Vandalia. There are no letters written by Commodore Conner in the collection. Purchased, 1914. See also the last paragraph of description of the Physick Family Account Books.

The reports and letters have been mounted and rebound, the larger volumes being bound in several sections, thus increasing the actual number of volumes, without changing the original numbers. As now bound, the journals and papers comprise 385 volumes.

Properly belonging to the Papers of the Continental Congress is one volume of the Marine Committee Letter Book, August 22, 1776, to September 19, 1780, which came to the Library of Congress with the Force purchase. It contains the letters sent out by the Marine Committee (later the Board of Admiralty) of the Continental Congress to the various naval commanders, the Continental marine agents and ministers abroad, and the Continental Navy Board. It has been published by the Naval History Society, in two volumes, 8vo, with an index as "Out-Letters of the Continental Marine Committee and Board of Admiralty," edited by Charles Oscar Paullin, New York, 1914.

Also, an agreement not to divulge the proceedings of the Congress. This paper is signed by 87 delegates, among them being 50 of the 56 Signers of the Declaration of Independence. It is the only known document, aside from the Declaration itself, containing the signatures of Thomas Lynch, Thomas Lynch, Jr., and Button Gwinnett. The agreement is dated November 9th, 17[75], and many of the signatures are of that year, but new delegates signed from time to time, the latest signature being that of George Frost, 1777. The paper is a part of the Continental Congress collection, but is framed and mounted for exhibition purposes, in the Manuscript Division.

For a more extensive description of the Journals and papers, see "Catalogue of the Papers of the Continental Congress, Bulletin of the Bureau of Rolls and Library of the Department of State, No. 1," September, 1893.

JOHN ESTEN COOKE

Miscellaneous letters on literary subjects of Cooke to his father and other relatives, 1846-1877; twelve letters of Evert A. Duyckinck to Cooke, 1853-1866; seven of Thomas Dunn English, 1859-1875; and five of Paul H. Hayne, 1857-1859; also letters from W. H. F. Lee, Fitzhugh Lee and George Cary Eggleston. In all, fifty-nine letters. Purchased, 1907 and 1908.

COOKERY RECEIPT BOOKS

An octavo volume, of 88 pages, dated 1743, and bearing the autograph of Catherine Dawson, contains cookery receipts.

A similar volume, of the year 1760, contains in the reverse a number of prescriptions for household remedies. Purchased, 1899.

JAMES FENIMORE COOPER

A letter addressed to Amos Kendall, Esq., Postmaster General, December 28, 1836, regarding the sending of proof sheets by mail.

Transferred, 1909, from the Post Office Department.

PETER COOPER

A certificate, dated April 6, 1870, regarding the authority of Wilson G. Hunt, in agreement of cable telegraphic rates with the U. S. State Department. D. S. Signed also by Cyrus W. Field, Marshall O. Roberts, Moses Taylor, Wilson G. Hunt, Directors; and Edward Kavanaugh, Secretary. Purchased, 1903.

THOMAS CORWIN

Twelve volumes of the correspondence of Thomas Corwin, during the years 1850-1853, when he was Secretary of the Treasury. There are approximately three thousand pieces in this collection, all private letters. Appointments to office, political and financial affairs, and commercial policies, are the subjects with which they deal. The correspondence is with Silas E. Burrows, Henry C. Carey, Salmon P. Chase, John M. Clayton, Leslie Combs, Moses B. Corwin, Simeon Draper, Thomas Ewing, William Grandin, Francis Granger, Horace Greeley, Moses H. Grinnell, James Hamilton, of South Carolina, Washington Hunt, Reverdy Johnson, Abbott Lawrence, Richard Henry Lee, Charles P. McIlvaine, John McLean, J. H. Clay Mudd, Arnold Naudain, James A. Pearce, Thomas G. Pratt, William B. Reese, Truman Smith, S. Stokely, Bellamy Storer, John Taliaferro, Nathaniel P. Tallmadge, Daniel Webster, Thurlow Weed and William H. Winder. The entire collection has been catalogued. Purchased, 1906.

RICHARD K. CRALLÉ

Given to the Library, in 1910, by Judge J. Lawrence Campbell, of Bedford City, Virginia, in behalf of himself and his brothers, Richard K. Campbell, Esquire, of Washington, and Henry T. Campbell, Esquire, of Norfolk, Virginia, grandsons of Richard K. Crallé.

The collection extends from 1814 to 1861, and is contained in one bound volume. The papers pertain to the history of the

CRAWFORD

War of 1812, the Mexican War, and to the efforts to nominate John C. Calhoun for the Presidency. Crallé gathered material for a biography of Calhoun, and there is a fragment among these papers. Among the correspondents are Duff Green, James Buchanan, Abel P. Upshur, Robert Mayo, J. Y. Mason, George Rives, D. P. King and Henry A. Wise.

SAMUEL WYLIE CRAWFORD

About forty pieces, originals and transcripts, contemporary war letters and post-bellum statements, 1860-1865;—but a portion of those on which General Crawford based his book, “The Genesis of the Civil War: the Story of Sumter, 1860-61.”

This small collection includes a copy of Crawford's diary, kept at Fort Sumter, from December 19, 1860, to the day of the surrender, April 14, 1861, and copies of his letters from the fort to his brother during the same period; eighty pages from the official record letter-book of Governor Francis W. Pickens, Jan. 23, 1861-May 18, 1862, of letters to President Davis, Secretary Memminger, General Lee and others, many of them long, confidential communications, relative to preparations against Sumter, defence of Charleston and military measures, presenting an interesting picture of the political dissension within the state as the war progressed.

In addition to these are letters written to Crawford, after the war, furnishing facts regarding Fort Sumter and the commencement of the war, from Milledge L. Bonham, G. V. Fox, William H. Gist, J. F. Hartranft, Joseph Holt, Montgomery C. Meigs, R. S. Ripley, Jacob Thompson and William Henry Trescott.

There is also Admiral David D. Porter's statement respecting his relief of Fort Sumter on the U. S. S. Powhatan, and William W. Cowling's account of the withholding of Secretary Thompson's dispatch to Longstreet, notifying him that the Star of the West was to be sent to relieve Sumter.

There are letters or copies of letters contemporaneous with the beginning of the war, from Clement C. Clay, Augustus B.

CREAMER

Longstreet, A. G. Magrath and James Simons; and a manuscript by an unknown writer, on the causes of the secession of South Carolina. Purchased, 1915.

In 1916, a small group of twenty-five miscellaneous papers was added by transfer from the War College Library, to which they had been given by Mrs. James M. Lawton, of New York City. This group consists chiefly of papers dated from Fort Sumter, referring to the bombardment, and two sketches of the fort. There are also two telegrams from Governor Joseph E. Brown, of Georgia, in 1861, relating to the seizure of Pensacola and Fort Pulaski, several letters from Governor F. W. Pickens of South Carolina, copies of letters of Crawford in 1863, and a few broadsides. The papers dated after the war relate to army routine.

WILLIAM H. CRAWFORD

A letter book of the Hon. William Harris Crawford, covering the years 1813-1815, when he was Minister to France, presented, in 1913, by his granddaughter, Miss Fanny Crawford, of Columbus, Mississippi. The volume contains eighty-one communications to the French government, dating from July 27, 1813, to March 14, 1815. Indemnity for the confiscation of American vessels by French cruisers, neutral rights, prizes and privateers, and the decree repealing the Berlin and Milan decrees, are the subjects of the notes.

Miss Crawford also permitted the Library to make photostat copies of thirty-three letters received by Crawford while he was in Paris, from the American Commissioners at Ghent and others, including James A. Bayard, Henry Clay, Jonathan Russell, John Quincy Adams, Albert Gallatin, Christopher Hughes, jr., the commission's secretary, George W. Erving, Minister to Spain, Thomas Erving and the Duke of Wellington.

JOHN J. CRITTENDEN

The John Jordan Crittenden Papers were acquired in 1905, from Mrs. Robert H. Crittenden, of Frankfort, Ky. They consist of letters written to Crittenden, some law papers, principally relating to land title suits, of value for early Kentucky history, and a few copies of his own letters and speeches, preserved by him and retained by his descendants.

The correspondence from public characters is particularly extensive during the vital period immediately before the Civil War,—the period of his attempted compromise. Included are letters of George M. Bibb, Henry Clay, Joseph H. Hawkins, Francis P. Blair and Anthony Butler, of the earlier period; later, there are letters of James Barbour, William S. Archer, Samuel Smith Nicholas, Humphrey Marshall, Orlando Brown, Robert Perkins Letcher, Alexander Porter, Benjamin Watkins Leigh, Zachary Taylor, Reverdy Johnson, Leslie Combs, Winfield Scott, John M. Clayton, Abbott Lawrence, Robert Toombs, Thomas Ewing, Thomas Corwin, Alexander H. Stephens, Robert Charles Winthrop, Amos Adams Lawrence and James Rogers Underwood.

The collection has been mounted and bound in 28 folio volumes, with the exception of a portfolio of printed matter, and six small miscellaneous volumes, which were left in their original bindings. A calendar of the entire collection was published by the Library, in 1913.

JAMES DELANCEY

Five letters, 1754-1757, to Governor James Hamilton and Governor William Denny on Indian and military affairs. These letters probably formed part of the Force collection.

DELAWARE

The main collection consists of four volumes of miscellaneous State papers. They comprise Colonial and Revolutionary documents; original messages of Presidents (of Delaware), from 1770 to 1800; communications from Congress to the State; documents relating to the Delaware regiments and the navy; lists of soldiers of different companies; instructions from the State to its congressmen; Minutes of the Privy Council; commissions to various State officials; votes and proceedings of the House of Representatives; minutes of the meetings of the State Constitutional Convention of 1791; deeds of land from the Dutch Governors in 1650; numerous old deeds signed by Francis Lovelace, Jacob Aldrich and others; State letters and documents signed by James A. Bayard, Gunning Bedford, James Booth, Jacob Broom, Joshua Clayton, Thomas Collins, John Dickinson, David Finney, Stephen Hopkins, Thomas Jefferson, George Latimer, Thomas McKean, Robert Morris, John Penn, Timothy Pickering, George Read, Nicholas Ridgely, Caesar Rodney, James Sykes, Charles Thomson, Nicholas Van Dyke, John Vining and Bishop White, the number of official documents of John Dickinson being especially large. There is also a letter of Samuel Land to William Penn, May 30, 1684, concerning Colonel George Tallbot's demand that he and others should swear allegiance to Lord Baltimore. These papers have been roughly catalogued. Purchased, 1881.

A portfolio contains twenty-seven Delaware land grants and miscellaneous deeds, 1684-1800, thirteen of which are on parchment. Purchased, 1908.

A second portfolio contains miscellaneous papers beginning with the Charge Delivered by the Governor, Sir William Keith at Lewes, August, 1717. There are letters, petitions, and remonstrances. There is also a list of taxables in Pencader, Mill Creek, New Castle and Christiana Hundreds, November 26, 1776, and a list of signers of the Oaths of Allegiance, June 8, 1778. Purchased, 1901.

GEORGE S. DENISON

One hundred and fifty family letters, written by George Stanton Denison, during his life in Texas and Louisiana; copies of three letters written in 1862, which were published in the Burlington, Vermont, Daily Free Press; and a scrap book containing clippings from New Orleans newspapers, on customs regulations and financial institutions; presented by James Denison, Esquire, of Kendall Green, Washington, in 1904.

F. A. DICK

Letter dated Stonington, Connecticut, July 6, 1865, to Benson J. Lossing; and a "Memorandum of Matters in Missouri in 1861," ten pages. Also, references to Captain Nathaniel Lyons. Gift, 1914, of George A. Lyons, Estherville, Iowa.

ASBURY DICKINS

A fragmentary portion of the collection of papers of Asbury Dickins, preserved by Asbury Dickins's son, Francis A. Dickins, largely for their autographic interest. To them he has added many manuscripts from his own papers; a series of copies of pay-rolls of companies in George Rogers Clark's Illinois regiment in the Virginia State service, 1779 to 1782, and the regiment commanded by Major George Walls in 1783, being particularly notable. These copies were made from original rolls then in the possession of General Clark's administrator. Copies of returns in the Virginia Auditor's office are also included.

The collection was presented to the Library, in 1905, by a granddaughter of Asbury Dickins, Mrs. Harriott (Dickins) Wight, of Washington, D. C.

DICKINSON

The collection comprises three scrap books, one composed entirely of manuscript statistics, census returns, 1820, and tabular statements of the annual receipts and expenditures of the Government, 1820-1824; a second contains paper money of the Revolution, a number of certificates issued by the Commissioner of the Land Office to purchasers of public lands in Illinois, some mounted botanical specimens collected in 1826, and other miscellaneous items, among them a map and an account of the battles fought by the British troops under the Duke of York, and the combined army under the immediate command of the Emperor of Germany, against the French in 1793, published May 6, 1794.

The remaining volume comprises some two hundred letters of prominent individuals, from the Revolution to 1860, and a number of signatures of Members of Congress and others. There are letters of George Clinton, Aaron Ogden, John Marshall, William Thornton, Jared Sparks, Robert J. Walker, M. J. Clayton, W. L. Marcy, Felix Grundy, N. P. Trist, C. A. Wickliffe, John Taliaferro, Benjamin Harrison, J. C. Frémont, Jefferson Davis, Hamilton Fish, Henry Clay, Daniel Webster and numerous others. Of most of these there are single specimens only.

JOHN DICKINSON

Transcript of an article written by John Dickinson in his own defense, addressed "To My Opponents in the Late Elections of Councillor for the County of Philadelphia, and President of the Supreme Executive Council of Pennsylvania." Published in Freeman's Journal, 1783.

A letter of Dickinson to the Speaker of the Delaware Legislature, January 19, 1787, introducing John Fitch, "who is endeavoring to introduce the use of the steam engine."

The article was received with the Force collection, in 1867; the John Fitch letter was purchased, in 1909.

Eight letters of Dickinson to Thomas Jefferson on political subjects, 1801-1803, purchased, 1915, and a letter to George Logan, April 20, 1802, inclosing a list of books, with an indorsement by Jefferson, "Lib. Comm. on the Lib.," presented, 1913, by W. K. Bixby, of St. Louis, Mo., have been added to the Jefferson collection.

ROBERT DINWIDDIE

Six letters, addressed to William Alexander and the Earl of Halifax, 1755-1757. Probably from the Force collection.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The collection of material relating to the District of Columbia and the City of Washington consists of twenty-five volumes and some twelve bundles of papers. A number of the items were collected by Hugh T. Taggart. Among the volumes are the Code of Laws for the District of Columbia, prepared under authority of the Act of Congress of 29 April, 1816; a volume relating to the Washington Manual Labor School and Male Orphan Asylum, 1835; Minutes of the Board of Trustees appointed to provide for the education of children residing in the city, 1805; a scrap book relating to the founding of Garfield Memorial Hospital. Also, surveyor's note books of sundry surveys in the western part of the District, 1791-1828, consisting of two books of Lewis Carberry, one book of courses of Rock Creek, one book of survey notes in Prince George County, Rock Creek and Georgetown—in all, four volumes—, purchased, 1915. A similar volume consists of engraved Plats of Squares, with an engraving of Ellicott's plan inserted in the front, together with a quantity of statistics, in the manuscript of John Sessford; purchased, 1915.

There are also a folio volume, labeled "Register for Georgetown," containing the minutes of proceedings of the Commissioners of Georgetown, from September 18, 1751, to January 20, 1789, including a plat of the town; a folio volume, labeled "Beatty and Hawkins, addition to Georgetown," the first part of which is made up of accounts, invoices, and a mercantile correspondence of Charles Beatty with William Molleson, merchant, of London, about 1771. In the second part is "The Addition to Georgetown Laid Off in the Year 1769 for Charles Beatty and George F. Hawkins," with the courses of the lots, assessment valuations, etc. An octavo, paper bound, letter book of Daniel Carroll of Duddington, containing drafts of letters to mercantile houses in London, regarding shipments of pig iron from Georgetown, and goods to be shipped in return, 1787-1799; after 1791, there are several letters to the President of the United States (two regarding the destruction of his building by Major L'Enfant, November and December, 1791), to the Commissioners, Washington City, to James Greenleaf, William Cranch, John Nicholson, William M. Duncanson and Robert Morris. A folio volume of original records, labeled "Record of Bye Laws and Ordinances, 1791-95, 1805-7, 1806-7, 1810-12, 1812-16, Georgetown." A folio volume of deeds, plats and accounts, in connection with the division of the two tracts, "Mexico" and "Mount Pleasant," belonging to Richard Peter and lying within the limits of the City of Washington, 1791. An octavo volume which belonged to Robert King, a surveyor, 1793-4, contains descriptions, widths and other memoranda regarding the streets of Washington. A poor facsimile of a petition to Congress from the Mayor, Council and Citizens of Georgetown, in relation to the deepening of the channel of the Potomac, January 4, 1811. "Day Book A, For the Falls Bridge Turnpike Company and the Georgetown-Leesburg Turnpike Company" contains a list of subscribers to stock, July 30, 1817-March 8, 1836; a second volume contains the accounts of the Falls Bridge Company only, 1836-1838. A folio letter book of R. Cruikshank, book-dealer in Georgetown, D. C., June 13, 1827, to December 12, 1829, contains letters and orders to dealers in Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Hartford, and Boston; also Cruikshank's day book, May 2, 1827 to September 23, 1831, one volume, folio, paper bound, and a catalogue of a bookstore, probably Cruikshank's, 1828, one volume, folio. Levy Court Record, 1835-1847, one volume, folio. A folio volume lettered "Canal Condemnations," contains assessments of personal property in the Corporation of Georgetown, 1865, and Chesapeake & Ohio Canal Condemnations. A folio volume labeled "English Briefs" contains copies of the court record of several civil actions in English courts, 1865. An arithmetical practice book, with anagrams, rebuses and colored drawings; one volume folio, undated. A quarto volume of newspaper clippings (a History of Maryland, published in the Maryland Republican), undated. A quarto scrap-book contains items regarding the Washington Canal and the sewerage system of the city.

Of unbound papers, there are several hundred. They include a number of letters to and from Daniel Carroll of Duddington, among them several from Thomas Law (about the location of buildings in the city), Daniel Dulany, Charles Carroll of Carrollton, and the Commissioners of the District; papers of Carroll in connection with transactions concerning the paper mill and the Sligo Estate, dating approximately from 1813 to 1821; papers relating to Richard Peter's land, "Mount Pleasant," 1797; plans for improving the navigation of the Potomac, 1810; deeds for land in the District; legal opinions on land titles; and other papers in connection with the lawsuits of Daniel Carroll, John P. Van Ness and others. A copy of the "Plan of the City of Washington, Ceded by the States of Virginia and Maryland to the United States of America and by them established as the Seat of Government, after the year MDCCC. Engraved by Samuel Hill, Boston." is included.

A group of about fifty pieces, relating to the career of Major Pierre L'Enfant, is composed of extracts from printed works, personal descriptions, etc. It includes several letters of W. W. Corcoran, 1887-8, regarding the efforts to collect information, and the proposal for the erection of a memorial to L'Enfant.

There are two packets of papers relating to the one and one-half million dollar loan from Holland, 1828-1830, (Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Co.); miscellaneous papers of the Alexandria Canal Co., 1845-6; Alexandria Bank business correspondence, 1861.

Other matters in this collection are the Journals of the Washington Library Company, 1811-1877, three volumes; the minutes and papers of the Columbian Institute, which was incorporated in 1818, but originally formed in 1816, under the title of the Metropolitan Society; six volumes and a large number of miscellaneous papers of the National Institute for the Promotion of Science, established in 1840.

A volume of the Proceedings of the Washington Botanic Society, 1817-1826. Gift, 1916, of W. E. Safford, Washington, D. C.

"The National Capital, its Location and Government," by William Castle Dodge. A volume of unbound manuscript sheets, 8°. Gift, 1914, of the heirs of W. C. Dodge, Washington, D. C.

Minutes of the Washington City Young Men's Christian Association, one volume, folio; and two packages of miscellaneous scraps, clippings, etc., relating to the history of the Washington Y. M. C. A. Gift, 1905, of William J. Rhees, of Washington, D. C.

A number of typewritten sheets, with sketches of persons and events connected with the history of the District, complete the collection.

tions are on the part of Anthony Mullins, merchant, and Thomas H., John, Charles and Josiah Ellis. One of their correspondents abroad was James Maury, at Liverpool. Among their customers were Archibald Cary, Carter Page, William Bolling, Armistead Gordon and St. George Tucker. John Allan, one of the firm, was the foster father of Edgar Allan Poe, and there are a few accounts of Poe's school expenses. The collection covers the whole range of economic activity. Purchased, 1901.

FRANKLIN HARPER ELMORE

These papers are the recent gift (January, 1914) of Mrs. Thomas Taylor (Sally Elmore), of Columbia, S. C. They consist of nineteen portfolios of the papers of her father, Franklin Harper Elmore, from 1839 to 1850 president of the Bank of South Carolina, and, later, a Senator from that State. In addition to the portfolio is a letter book, containing, according to the title page, "Statements and Correspondence Concerning the Act for Rebuilding the City of Charleston, and the Payments of the Fire Loan before Due by Pres. F. H. Elmore"; also, a scrap book containing clippings of newspaper attacks upon the Bank, from July, 1848, to January, 1850.

The correspondence is confined almost entirely to the business of the Bank, though there are a few letters bearing upon public and political affairs, and a few others concerning Elmore's endeavors to establish manufacturing plants in South Carolina.

Some correspondents are: C. G. Memminger, W. G. De Saussure, C. M. Furman, John C. Calhoun, M. M. Noah, and R. Barnwell Rhett.

ENGLAND, PRICES

This collection of "Bills, Accounts and Inventories Illustrating the History of Prices (in England) between the Years 1650 and 1750," was brought together by Mr. James Orchard Halliwell-Phillipps, with the view of assisting in the compilation of a projected work on the History of Prices. That design having been abandoned, he presented the collection to the Smithsonian Institution in 1852, and it was received by the Library of Congress, in 1866, as part of the original Smithsonian deposit.

The collection includes about seven thousand separate documents, bound in fifty-four volumes (mainly folios), in the following order:

WILLIAM EUSTIS

Five hundred papers of William Eustis, of Massachusetts, mounted and bound in four volumes, given to the Library, in 1910, by Mrs. William Gorham Rice, of Albany, N. Y., and Mrs.

EUSTIS

Charles S. Hamlin, of Boston, Mass. The papers were collected during the lifetime of their mother, Mrs. Anna Parker Pruyn, of Albany, the widow of the Hon. John Van Schaik Lansing Pruyn, LL.D. William Eustis was a great uncle of Mrs. Pruyn.

The collection begins in 1761, with a copy of the will of Benjamin Eustis, and extends to 1855. The bulk of the papers are within the years 1815-1817, and deal with Eustis's mission at The Hague.

The earliest pieces are land papers of the Eustis family. The papers of Eustis himself begin in 1775, soon after he entered the Revolutionary Army, and extend to 1823. Among these papers are a letter to his medical preceptor, Dr. Joseph Warren, in 1775; his rules of business while Secretary of War; official despatches to the Secretary of State while Minister at The Hague; private and political letters up to the time he became Governor of Massachusetts, in 1823. Many of the later letters are addressed to his wife, Mrs. Caroline Langdon Eustis.

The letters to him are from General Benjamin Lincoln, 1782-1803, relative to the Medical Department of the army in the Revolution, and political affairs; from William North, 1802-1816, on personal and political affairs; seven from Albert Gallatin, 1802-1817, on personal and diplomatic subjects; from General Henry Dearborn, 1802-1815, on political and military subjects; from Levi Lincoln, 1803-1820, on national and local political conditions; from Robert Smith, 1803-1808, on official subjects; from Samuel Latham Mitchell, 1805-1817, on political subjects; from General Joseph Bradley Varnum, 1808-1815, on political affairs; from John Quincy Adams, before and while he was Secretary of State; from General Alexander Smyth, 1811-1812, on military affairs; thirty-one from Sylvanus Bourne, 1813-1817, relative to American diplomatic and consular affairs in the Netherlands; several from Richard Cutts, 1814, relative to political affairs; from Samuel Dana, 1814, on political and financial subjects; from George Joy, 1815-1818, dealing with personal and diplomatic questions; from James Monroe, 1815-1816, official instructions; from Baron de Nagell, 1815-1818, on personal and diplomatic questions; from Mrs. Madison, 1815, on personal subjects; and a number from Alexander Hill Everett, 1816-1819, about politics in Europe.

EWING

The collection is contained in four bound volumes.

EDWARD EVERETT

(1) Report of Edward Everett and others, on Prof. Jewett's plan for stereotyping Library Catalogues, October 26, 1850. Gift, 1903, of Mrs. C. W. Allen, Boston, Mass. (2) Eulogy on Edward Everett, read before the Athenaeum Society, Boston [January, 1865]. Gift, 1912, of Mrs. Julian James, of Washington, D. C. (3) Twenty-three letters of Edward Everett, 1830-1865, to J. Wingate Thornton, J. Elliott, G. Lunt, J. H. Eaton, Thomas Moore, R. R. Gurley and Peter Force. Other letters of Everett will be found in the Marcy, Van Buren, Crittenden, Clayton, Pierce and Webster papers.

THOMAS EWING

The correspondence and papers of Thomas Ewing, Sr., presented, in 1914, by his grandsons, the Hon. Thomas Ewing, Commissioner of Patents, and William Ewing, Esquire.

They consist of six letter-books, dating from 1826 to 1868, and about 2000 unbound letters and papers, extending from 1815 to 1871.

Law briefs,—many of them printed; court dockets; banking matters; biographical notes, comprising two paper-bound volumes of "Recollections," of 55 and 38 folio pages, written about 1871, and a 65 page journal, covering the Cabinet period; documents relating to the Missouri Compromise repeal, 1854, the Southern States in 1861, and the Message of the President, 1868; An Act to Incorporate the Subscribers to the Fiscal Bank of the United States; letters to newspapers; and the notes and drafts of several speeches and platform lectures, make up the papers.

The correspondence is almost entirely with politicians and statesmen, or with his sons and other members of his family. The earliest letter book, 1826-1848, contains copies of letters, written from Lancaster, Ohio, mainly on legal and banking matters, and addressed to Luke Walpole, Jonathan Babb, Richard Peters, C. B. Goddard, John Thompson, Jr., Samuel Vinton, General John McClanahan, W. Bibb, Columbus Delano, James S. Worthington, John McLean, John Bell, John Sherman and J. J. Crittenden. The correspondence with the last named continues throughout the collection.

For 1849 there are two volumes of letters to Ewing from: W. J. Alston, John H. Bryant, Thomas Corwin, A. D. Challoner, G. W. Crawford, J. J. Crittenden, Henry Clay, William Dennison, H. W. Ellsworth, Theodore Frelinghuysen, Francis Granger, Joseph Hoxie, Reverdy Johnson, Abbott Lawrence, Charles B. Penrose, William B. Preston, W. F. Peterson, Cyrus Prentiss, William Pennington, Truman Smith, William H. Seward, William B. Sprague, John Taliaferro, F. A. Tallmadge, R. C. Winthrop and Elisha Whittlesey. There is one letter of Lincoln, dated July 5, 1849, regarding an appointment for a friend, William Porter.

The letter book for 1861-2 contains much military as well as political material. There are numerous long letters from Ewing's son, Brigadier General Hugh Ewing, and several of exceptional interest from his son-in-law, William T. Sherman. Other writers are Courtlandt Palmer, Courtney Schenck, H. H. Hunter, N. H. Swayne, Robert Shield, John R. Ford, Daniel Read, William F. Roelofson, A. G. Thurman, R. G. Corwin, Edgar Cowan, Henry Stanbery, H. G. Fant, H. Stoddard, Britton A. Hill, N. A. Chapman, Thomas Ewing, Jr., Charles Ewing, and many others.

The letter book 1864-8 is a letter press book, containing copies of letters to O. H. Browning, E. G. Booth, George W. Biddle, Edgar Cowan, A. F. Callahan, M. M. Greene, William T. Sherman, Job Sherman, E. M. Stanton, Gideon Welles, one to Horace Greeley, and a number addressed "To the President."

FESSENDEN

Among the unbound papers are many letters of Thomas Ewing, Jr., O. H. Browning, and numerous others. Included, also, are typewritten copies of original letters in the possession of Hon. George Ewing, of Lancaster, Ohio.

By a prior gift (1908) from the same donors, came Thomas Ewing's Diary, 1841, 45 pages; his commission as Secretary of the Treasury, 1841, signed by President Harrison; and a contemporary copy of his letter of resignation, dated September 11, 1841, 45 pages, note sheets.

From various other sources have come seven letters of Ewing to Richard Smith, Peter Benson, David Chambers, G. W. Crawford, J. S. Perley and others, 1831-1864.

GEORGE P. FISHER

The papers of George P. Fisher, of Delaware, given to the Library, in 1907, by his daughter, Mrs. Anne Fisher Cahoon, of Washington, D. C. As Judge of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, Fisher presided at the trial of John H. Surratt.

The papers fill five portfolios: one of legal opinions and briefs, mainly during the period when he was on the District of Columbia Bench; another of depositions; a third, of commissions; the other two, of correspondence and miscellaneous papers. The latter consist of addresses, biographical sketches and historical articles, prepared by Judge Fisher. Among them are: "The Trial of John H. Surratt for the Murder of President Lincoln. By the Judge who Presided at the Trial." Appended to this are the confessions of Samuel B. Arnold and George A. Atzerodt, dated 18 April, 1865. "The Monroe Doctrine and the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty." "A Biographical Memoir of John M. Clayton."

Items pertaining particularly to Delaware are: "Notes on John Vining," with a copy of the Eulogium delivered by Vining in the State House at Dover, February 22, 1800, in commemoration of the death of General Washington; an article on "The Moors of Delaware"; and "The Senatorial Imbroglio in Delaware, January 29, 1897."

In the correspondence, a few letters are dated as early as 1799. Letters of this period are from Benjamin Chew, Nicholas Ridgely, Henry M. Ridgely, Joshua Clayton, and Meirs Fisher. The bulk of the letters are between 1840 and 1850. There are letters of John M. Clayton, John A. Dix, James Buchanan, John J. Crittenden, Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, David Paul Brown, Thurlow Weed, Hannibal Hamlin and William T. Sherman.

Fitch's dairy, consisting of three volumes, octavo, dates from August 12, 1783, to February 1, 1791. In it he entered such matters as agreements regarding land, receipts and expenditures, surveyor's notes, taken in the Ohio Country, conditions of the Ohio and Alleghany valleys, notes on the climate etc.

A photograph of the last will and testament of John Fitch, dated June 20, 1798, was added to the collection, in 1914, by gift from Mrs. Ben Johnson, of Bardstown, Kentucky.

FLORIDA

FLANDERS

Eleven parchment documents of the XVth, XVIth and XVIIth centuries, relating to Antwerp, Ghent and other cities. Presented by Professor Thomas Wilson, of the United States National Museum, in 1898.

Thirty-two parchment manuscripts, of a miscellaneous nature, sixteen miscellaneous broadsides, and forty-eight miscellaneous manuscripts, in Latin, French and German. The gift of Dr. Sidney Smith, through Charles J. Cohen, of Philadelphia, in 1903.

FLORIDA

The Archives of East Florida were transferred to the Library by the Interior Department, April, 1905, from the office of the Surveyor General at Tallahassee, Fla.

They comprise over a thousand portfolios (about 65,000 documents) and extend from 1777 to 1821. These are the Spanish Archives which came with the cession of the territory, but they do not contain any land documents, all papers relating to land titles, surveys, etc., having been returned to the General Land Office.

The papers are arranged according to their original subjective classification. The earliest are of the years 1777-1792, and consist of three volumes of Juntas, Royal Orders, and reports of artillery companies. There are seven bundles of Accounts of the Royal Treasury, the Third Battalion of Cuba, and Due Bills; two bundles of Captures, Shipwrecks, Protests, etc.; twenty-one of Civil Causes; twelve of Criminal Causes, including two of the Revolution of 1795; seventeen of Clearances; thirty-eight relating to the Districts of Amelia Island, St. Johns, St. Marys, etc., 1784-1797; one of documents relating to the delivery of East Florida to the United States; two Embargo and Incidents to the Criminal Proceedings of the Revolution of 1795; one Enumeration of the Inhabitants of East Florida; three Exchequer Proceedings; one Matrimonial Licenses; seventeen

Memorials; one Papers of the Revolution in East Florida, 1812-1813.

Of correspondence, there is the following: four bundles of letters to and from the Exchequer Department; one bundle correspondence with British authorities; sixteen bundles letters to the Captain General of Havana, and twenty-one bundles of letters from him; one bundle letters from the Viceroy of Mexico; twelve bundles of letters on parchment; two bundles letters to and from the Council of the Indies; seven bundles letters to and from Ministers and Consuls, 1798-1821; six bundles letters from Military Commanders and Officers of Garrison; four bundles of letters to and from the United States; one bundle secret correspondence to the Count de Galvez.

Papers are also included upon these additional subjects: Memorials and Concessions; Oaths of Allegiance; Plans of fortifications and public buildings; Proclamations and Edicts; Indian presents; Louisiana; Pensacola; Apalache; titles to slaves; and runaway slaves.

The archives of West Florida, 1763-1781, were transferred from the General Land Office, Interior Department, in 1915.

They are in seven volumes, and are a portion of the official records of the colony while under British control. They consist of contemporary attested copies of various of Governor George Johnstone's commissions and instructions, together with a very full record of royal sign-manuals, patents, commissions and other papers passed under the broad seal of the province, from 1764 to 1781. There are also two volumes of journals of the Assembly, 1766-1769; and two volumes of Executive Council Minutes, 1769-1772.

A collection of transcripts and translations of documents in the Biblioteca Colombiana at Seville, relating to the Spanish occupation of Florida, was purchased, in 1901, from the transcriber, Miss A. M. Brooks, of St. Augustine, Florida. They number 327 pieces—1446 pages—separately jacketed. A manuscript description of Castil San Marco, March 20, 1686, two pages, was also acquired from Miss Brooks.

FLORIDA

A quarto volume of typewritten sheets comprises a translation of "La Florida del Inca," History of the Adelantado Hernando de Soto, Governor and Captain General of the Royal Province of Florida, and of other heroic Cavaliers, Spanish and Indian. Written by the Inca, Garcilaso de la Vega, 1723. Translated by Hoffman Atkinson, in 1896, and presented to the Library by Mrs. Hoffman Atkinson, of New York, 1903.

Proclamation of Governor Patrick Tonyn, August 21, 1775. (Force ? copy). Robert Farman's Journal of the Siege of Pensacola, 1781, March 9 to May 10, 23 pages; Force copy. "Copy of a letter coming from Florida, sent to Rouen, and afterwards to Seigneur D'Encron. Together with the plan and drawing of the Fort which the French have made there" [1565] (Stevens transcript). Printed copies (broadside sheets) of the Journal of the House of Representatives of the Second General Assembly of Florida, 1846-1847; received, 1903, from the Periodical Division.

The letter-book of the Governor of West Florida, of correspondence with the British Secretary of State for the Colonies, 1770-1774. 1 volume, folio. Purchased, 1916.

THOMAS FLOURNOY.

The papers of Brigadier General Flournoy consist of the orderly book (one volume folio) of General James Wilkinson and Flournoy, commencing July 15, 1812, at Washington, D. C., with Wilkinson's orders, and ending May 25, 1813, at New Orleans. Flournoy's orders commence at New Orleans, November 22, 1813, and end with July 5, 1814, at Washington, D. C. A second volume, entirely of Flournoy's orders, dates from May 26, 1813, at New Orleans, and ends November 5, 1813, at Mount Vernon, Alabama. There is also a packet of loose papers, dating from 1812 to 1846, fully half of which are drafts of Flournoy's letters. Three-fourths of these are dated in the years 1812-13, and deal with Flournoy's command in the Southern Department during the war. Among the writers are General John Floyd, Benjamin Hawkins, W. H. Crawford, Andrew Barbour, James Hamilton, Jr., Littleton W. Tazewell and Abel P. Upshur. Letters to Floyd are from John Tyler, Duff Green, L. W. Tazewell, John Williams, Samuel Martin and Letitia Floyd (wife of the Governor). Purchased, 1910.

JOHN B. FLOYD

Three letters, one political, one military, and one personal, 1853-1861, addressed to George Fred. Holmes, C. J. Faulkner and another. Purchased, 1907.

LOUIS FONTANES

Funeral Elegy on George Washington, at New Orleans, February, 1800. Carbon copy of a typewritten transcript. 3 pp. Gift, 1915, of the Howard Memorial Library, New Orleans, Louisiana.

ANDREW HULL FOOTE

The manuscripts of Rear Admiral Andrew Hull Foote, U. S. Navy. Twenty octavo volumes of letter books and journals, 1822-1863, and a small package of loose papers, 1856-1863, presented to the Library, in 1911, by Mrs. Kate N. Foote, of Washington, D. C.

The journals, letter books, etc., begin in 1822, the year in which Foote was entered as a midshipman. The first book is a ledger of accounts for the years 1822-1824. Next is a Bill and Station book of the U. S. S. Delaware, 1835. This book gives a complete list of the crew, and the station of each, rules and regulations aboard ship, and the ship's dimensions.

FOOTE

The Journal and Letter Book of 1839-1842 contains an account of incidents at Honolulu and the Sandwich Islands, and letters from and to George C. Read, Lieut. Revere, Commander Daniel J. Patterson, Commander C. K. Stribling, Hiram Bingham the missionary and others. Throughout the period covered by this book, Commander Foote strictly kept a day devoted to fasting and prayer during each month. On these days he made long entries in his journal, setting down freely his thoughts and feelings, and ending with a long prayer.

The letter book of 1842-1846 contains correspondence regarding the U. S. Naval Asylum, of which Foote was in charge during 1842-1843, and the Frigate Cumberland, to which he was assigned in the latter year. There are copies of letters of James Barron, Lewis Warrington, George C. Read, Abel P. Upshur, George Bancroft and others; a letter of Foote's to Commander Charles Morris, Chief of the Bureau of Construction, Equipment and Repairs, in October, 1846, regarding proposed experimentation with propellers.

The Watch Bill of the U. S. S. Cumberland, 1843-1845, contains Orders, Regulations and Gun exercises. The Private Journal, 1845-1848, kept by Passed Midshipman Madison Rush, gives an account of a cruise in the Columbus from New York to China and return, and contains descriptions of various ports of China, the Sandwich Islands, Valparaiso, Callao and Monterey.

For 1849-1851, there are two journals, of two volumes each, kept by Foote during the cruise of the U. S. Brig Perry to the African coast, in pursuit of slave ships. The private journal has accounts of sea chases, and there are notes on Liberia and St. Helena. The letter book for 1849-1852 contains correspondence with F. H. Gregory, William A. Graham, William B. Preston, Levin M. Powell, John D. Sloat, John Tudor and Lewis Warrington.

The Watch Bill of the U. S. S. Portsmouth, 1856, and the Letter Book, 1856-1858, show that the Portsmouth arrived at Canton on the eve of the hostilities between the Chinese and English, in 1856. While engaged in protecting American property, she was fired upon by the Barrier forts. Foote obtained permission from his Commodore, James Armstrong, to demand an apology, and, when it was refused, he attacked and carried the forts by storm. His loss was forty, while that of the enemy was four hundred. His report of this engagement and the resultant correspondence is to be found in the letter book. Other letters are to and from James C. Dobbin, Duncan N. Ingraham, Isaac Toucey and Thomas Biddle.

The "Table of Observations, Cruise of the U. S. S. Vandalia" covers the years 1857 to 1860.

In the portfolio of miscellaneous correspondence, 1856-1863, are letters of S. F. Du Pont, Ira Harris, R. H. Anthon, Oliver H. Perry, Andrew A. Harwood and many others.

PETER FORCE

A part of the personal correspondence and papers of Peter Force were included in the purchase of the Force library in 1867; additions were made in 1908 and 1915. The collection consists of: 18 portfolios of personal correspondence (1812-1868) chronologically arranged; 1 portfolio of accounts, business and personal; several account books, government printing, newspaper and personal affairs; 1 package of original poems; 6 packages, chiefly articles submitted to Force as editor of the National Journal, papers relating to Washington city affairs, charities, the American Colonization Society, etc.; 1 portfolio of correspondence of William Q. Force, editor of the Army and Navy Chronicle, 1843-45; 1 package of letters from various writers to Jonathan Elliott, editor of the Washington Gazette.

The personal correspondence of Peter Force deals with affairs of the National Journal (1823-30), politics, national and local (Force was alderman and mayor), the militia, and the various publications in which he was concerned, but chiefly with the collecting of historical documents, books and transcripts for use in compiling the "American Archives."

Among the correspondents are: George Bancroft, J. S. Barbour, Caleb Cushing, J. G. Bruff, William Gunton, T. Romeyn

FORSYTH

Beck, Matthew St. Clair Clarke, R. C. Weightman, Lewis Cass, P. R. Fendall, Archibald Campbell, John T. Coyle, N. C. Brooks, Cyrus Chase, C. F. Mercer, J. B. Colvin, W. W. Andrews, James M. Brown and many others. There are several letters from Gen. Manning F. Force written during the Civil War.

FORCE TRANSCRIPTS

Many of the transcripts which were made for Peter Force, for use in the "American Archives", and which were obtained with the purchase of his library, in 1867, have been bound and placed with the collections to which they are properly co-ordinated, and are noted in connection with them. There is still a large mass of material—several thousand folios—as yet unbound and unarranged, of transcripts of correspondence, official papers, press extracts, indexes and lists. In addition, there are transcripts of Washington's papers, numbering more than 100 packages; and another large group of transcripts of the papers of the Continental Congress, many of which have been utilized in the edition of the "Journals of the Continental Congress", being issued by the Library. Other miscellaneous papers deserving mention are: Horatio Gates, January–December, 1777, 3 packages; William Heath, 1777–1783, 3 packages; letter books of Peter Horry, 1779–1782, 1 package; Robert Kirkwood's Journal (Delaware Regiment) 1777–1780, 1 package; "Letters of Kings, Princes and Potentates" to the Continental Congress, 1778–1789, 1 package; and miscellaneous Sprague Papers, 1 package.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

This is the collection of papers which were bequeathed to William Temple Franklin by Dr. Franklin, and were used by him in the preparation of his edition of "Memoirs of the life and writings of Benjamin Franklin, 3 volumes, 8vo., London [1818]. . . . After the death of William Temple Franklin [in 1823] the papers were for some years in the possession of his landlord, a tailor, in London, who disposed of them, some thirty years back, to Mr. Henry Stevens, where they have since remained." [From a letter of Edward C. Bigmore to T. F. Dwight, 16 December, 1880.]

In 1880 an announcement of the intended sale of these papers at auction in London was made by the executors of Charles Whittingham, to whom they had been pledged as security by Henry Stevens. The public sale was postponed, and the entire collection was purchased at private sale by the United States Government, in 1882. From that date until their transfer to the Library of Congress, by Executive Order, in 1903, they were deposited in the Bureau of Rolls and Library of the Department of State, where the diplomatic records from the collection are still retained.

The portion of the collection which came to the Library is known as the "second series." It is mounted in fourteen folio volumes, each document being numbered, 1-3500. In addition, there are several separately bound items, such as the letter to Strahan, July 5, 1775, and Franklin's "51st Chapter of Genesis."

Eight 4° boxes of typewritten transcripts of the Franklin papers in the Department of State, made by Henry Stevens, are also included in the collection; and a large portfolio of unbound, miscellaneous paper, 1754-1790, acquired from a variety of sources.

From other sources, also, came the autograph draft of the Éloge de [Benjamin] Franklin, by Marquis de Condorcet, 1 volume, 4°, 14 pp., [November 13, 1790]; and a secretary's draft, with Condorcet's manuscript annotations, 1 volume, 4°, 77 pp. In French. Purchased in 1908. Also, "Memoires de Benjamin Franklin sur sa vie, traduits d'une copie du manuscrit original," by Louis Guillaume Le Veillard, 1 volume, folio, 206 pp.; with a photograph copy of an undated letter from Veillard to Franklin. Purchased, 1908.

FREEMAN

By gift from Luther S. Livingston, of New York City, 1914, came facsimiles of impressions of the printing type made for the Passy press by Fournier, 1781; a facsimile of verses, 1783, accompanying the crabtree walking stick bequeathed by Franklin to Washington.

A list of the entire Stevens collection of Franklin material, with much information regarding its history, was published as Senate Miscellaneous Document No. 21, 47th Congress, 1st Session.

The Library of Congress, in 1905, published a "List of the Benjamin Franklin Papers in the Library of Congress," which embraces in calendar form not only the whole of the "second series" of the Stevens collection, but such Franklin manuscripts as were found in other collections in the Library.

A full account of the various Franklin collections,—in the Library of Congress, in the Department of State, in the American Philosophical Society, the Pennsylvania Historical Society, and the University of Pennsylvania—will be found in Smyth's "Writings of Franklin," 1905.

ALBERT GALLATIN

One large volume of correspondence of Albert Gallatin, while Secretary of the Treasury. The collection extends from 1801 to 1811, and consists—with the exception of a few letters of Gallatin to the President, the Secretary of State, Henry Dearborn, D. M. Erskine, Anthony Merry and revenue collectors at various points—of letters from the following writers: Benjamin Lincoln, Richard Harrison, Thomas Willing, John Marston, William Miller, Samuel Osgood, Samuel Roop, William Davies, Daniel William Coxe, William Short, Joseph Nourse, David Gilson and Edward Jones. On official subjects: Registry of seamen, prizes, accounts, claims, ships. The volume was transferred, in 1906, from the Department of State.

Also, a letter to M. Du Simitière, 1783, gift, 1907, of Mrs. George W. Morgan, Mt. Vernon, Ohio; and one to Thomas L. McKenney, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, 1826, transferred from the Interior Department, 1909.

SAMUEL AND JOHN GALLOWAY

With the books and papers of Samuel Galloway and John Galloway, merchants of Maryland, came the papers of Francis Markoe and Virgil Maxey, forming a continuous series.

GALLOWAY

The Galloway papers consist of 37 portfolios of correspondence and other papers, 1738-1820, and some 75 volumes of accounts and miscellany, 1718-1812.

In 1738 Samuel Galloway was established as a merchant at West River, Anne Arundel County, Maryland. He exported tobacco and imported merchandise, and carried on an extensive correspondence with London merchants. At one period he crossed over to London and remained several years, returning in 1756. During his absence, his business affairs in Maryland were looked after by his brother, Joseph Galloway, who later became prominent in Pennsylvania as Speaker of the Assembly and Tory member of the Continental Congress. Upon his return, Samuel Galloway lived on the estate of Tulip Hill, which Francis Markoe afterwards occupied, and later at Annapolis.

John Galloway, a son of Samuel, removed, about 1775, to the Eastern Shore of Maryland, taking over and conducting the business of Thomas Ringgold, of Chestertown, Kent County, Maryland, upon the death of the latter. The books and papers in connection with this business form the greater portion of the collection.

Another member of the Galloway family, many of whose papers appear, was Benjamin Galloway.

The early correspondence of Samuel Galloway with Humphrey Adams, Sylvanus Grove and other London merchants is voluminous. John Galloway and Thomas Ringgold continually kept each other informed as to prices and trade conditions on both sides of the bay, and later, when John Galloway removed to the Eastern Shore, he carried on a similar correspondence with his father. The letters of Benjamin Tasker, jr., furnish information about trade in the Patuxent River section. Letters of the Baltimore firm of Chew and Cheston are also numerous. Letters are from members of the Chew, Ringgold, Tilghman, Dulaney, Howard, Cheston, and other prominent families. The letters from Philadelphia in particular are full of comments upon political events.

Among the writers may be mentioned Chief Justice Benjamin Chew, of Pennsylvania, Colonel Samuel Chew, of Herring Bay,

GALLOWAY

Maryland, John Chew, of Dover, in Delaware, Joseph Earle, James Holliday, Jesse Hollingsworth, Mrs. Margaret Howard, wife of Colonel John Eager Howard, Edward Tilghman, Richard Tilghman, jr., William Lux, Thomas Van Dyke, Kinsey Johns, Henry Ridgely, John Ridout, Daniel Crawford and Christopher Hughes.

The books in the collection begin with a folio letter book of a London mercantile firm, Gilbert Higginson and Robert Bird, 1718 and 1719. The letters are addressed to their correspondents in Maryland and Virginia. There are only two other letter books, one of John Galloway, of West River, 1737-1738, and the other of Samuel Galloway, 1766-1771.

The account books comprise a series of twenty-four paper-bound volumes of accounts, invoices, day books, etc., of Samuel and John Galloway, at West River; a series of fifteen or more ledgers, journals, waste books and balance and invoice books of John Galloway, at Chestertown, 1772-1812; and a series of books dealing with the settlement of the estates of Thomas Ringgold, in 1775, Samuel Galloway, in 1785-1786, and Joseph Galloway, in 1803-1804.

Several miscellaneous volumes are included in the collection. Among them are two books of levies against members of St. Anne's Parish, Anne Arundel County, Maryland, 1764-1766, in which the names of Samuel Chase and Charles Carroll, of Carrollton appear; an account book of "Conococheague Manor and the adjacent Preserved Land", 1772; a pedigree book of the "Belvoir Stock Farm," 1775-1787.

The only letters or papers of Joseph Galloway, the Tory, are one or two of his letters addressed to his brother Samuel, during the latter's sojourn in London, about 1750, and the small book of accounts kept by his nephew John during the settlement of his estate, in 1803-1804. Purchased, 1906. (See also Maxcy; also Markoe).

ALEXANDER HAMILTON

The General Act for the Civil and Diplomatic Expenses of the Government, passed by Congress, August 12, 1848, (9 Stat: 4, 284) included a provision for an expenditure of $20,000 for the purchase of the papers and manuscripts of Alexander Hamilton, and $6,000 additional for printing and publishing the whole or any part thereof, as the Joint Committee on the Library might direct.

By an Executive Order, the Hamilton Collection was transferred to the Manuscript Division of the Library of Congress in June, 1904. It was card-indexed by Mr. Worthington C. Ford. The papers are mounted and bound in 84 folio volumes.

All, or nearly all, of Hamilton's important public documents,—the reports and pamphlets—are contained in it, as well as his articles for the press.

The bulk of the material is correspondence received.

In 1799 Hamilton accepted the commission of Inspector General of the Army. More than half of the collection is made up of papers written during this period.

In point of number, the letters of James McHenry rank first. There are more than one hundred letters of George Washington. Fisher Ames, George Cabot, Edward Carrington, Robert Goodloe Harper, John Jay, Thomas Jefferson, Rufus King, Lafayette, Henry Lee, Richard Kidder Meade, William Vans Murray, Timothy Pickering, Charles Cotesworth Pinckney, Edmund Randolph, Theodore Sedgwick, Baron Steuben, Major L'Enfant, Benjamin Stoddert and Oliver Wolcott are all represented by a number of manuscripts.

For use in his Report on Manufactures, when Secretary of the Treasury, Hamilton gathered material pertaining to the numerous industries which were being established. In connection with his reports on the Mint, the Establishment of a Bank, and the Tariff, there are notes on coinage, on the weight of specie in various countries, on architectural arrangements for a Mint, and a series of trade reports. In a twelve-page letter, Thomas Randall reports upon trade conditions in China and the East Indies for example.

HAMILTON

The correspondence from the commanders of the various military posts on the western frontier to the Inspector General consists of frequent letters and reports from Visscher at Oswego, Rivardi at Niagara, Hamtramck at Pittsburgh and General James Wilkinson at Natchez and other points on the Mississippi. Those of the latter are full in details regarding the Mississippi country.

The military papers of the Provisional Army period contain a number of military treatises, which were prepared under Hamilton's direction. There are complete lists of officers, both for the "Provisional" regiments and the four regiments of the regular army; and the correspondence contains much personal information regarding the applicants for commissions.

The collection comprises in all about 8000 documents, dating from 1760 to 1830. Of these, about 2500 are letters and papers by Hamilton; the remainder, with the exception of about 175 army rolls, etc., represent the correspondence and papers addressed to him.

The collection was added to in 1916 by a gift from Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, of Great Barrington, Mass., of the purely personal papers of Alexander Hamilton, 475 pieces. These include 250 letters to Hamilton, among the writers being Gen. Philip Schuyler, Elisha Boudinot, Jeremiah Wadsworth and members of the Livingston family. There are 50 letters (including drafts of letters) from Hamilton, of which 22 are to his wife, including the last two he wrote her before the duel. Fifty other letters neither to nor from Hamilton relate chiefly to legal cases in which he was concerned. The remainder of the personal papers are accounts, receipts, school exercises, papers relating to the settlement of his estate, and a few miscellaneous documents. There are two folio account books covering Hamilton's law practice up to his death. The personal papers are in four portfolios and have a card index.

The library acquired at the same time by purchase the legal papers of Alexander Hamilton, comprising about 1000 pieces. These have to do with admiralty, trespass, commercial and other cases, and besides briefs and other law papers include deeds, copies of wills, etc. Among the cases are the Croswell libel case. Several of the admiralty cases deal with seizures on the high seas by British, French and Spanish privateers. The legal papers are contained in sixteen cases, and have a card index.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON, Maryland Attorney

JAMES HENRY HAMMOND

The papers of James Henry Hammond, of South Carolina, twenty-seven portfolios and sixteen bound volumes, letter books, diaries, journals and printed speeches. The earliest journal (lettered "Commonplace Book") is of the years 1831 to 1837. Three small volumes of diary notes and memoranda cover the period of his travels in America and abroad, 1836-1838. Later diaries contain entries from 1841 to 1850. Plantation books and "Stock and crop books" begin with the year 1831 and extend to 1858. They contain memoranda of crops to be planted, lists of negroes, and notes on the management of slaves. A letter book of the years 1774 to 1780 consists of mercantile letters of Andrew McLean to Clark & Milligan, merchants in London.

The loose letters and papers which have been mounted and bound in 33 volumes begin with the year 1823 and extend to 1875. Hammond's views on all national issues are set forth.

Among the correspondents are J. W. Hayne, L. M. Keith, J. D. Ashmore, J. W. Miles, William Gilmore Simms, H. L. Pratt, William Henry Trescot, Francis Lieber, Alexander H. Stephens, W. D. Porter, R. F. Simpson, A. P. Aldrich, A. B. Allen, S. R. Mallory, James Chestnut, W. D. Tillman and John B. O'Neill. Purchased, 1910.

A folio volume of letters written by Brigadier General Hand to Officers and others while at Fort Pitt, 1777-1778. Among them are letters to Matthew Arbuckle, Zachariah Morgan, Daniel Brodhead and Colonel William Fleming.

A folio volume of letters of Edward Hand to Jasper Yeates, written from camp, 1775-1782.

JOHN HANSON

Account of his public services, by J. Thomas Scharf. Type-written; 20 pp. Gift, 1914, of Douglas H. Thomas, Baltimore, Maryland.

JAMES A. HARDIE

The miscellaneous papers of Brig. Gen. Hardie, 1844-1886, (numbering about 345 pieces) which were collected by Joseph Cuyler Hardie. The earlier letters, 1847-48, deal mainly with the quartermaster business on the California coast. There are a few letters from Wm. T. Sherman regarding supplies and an insurrection in Lower California. About one-third of the papers date between 1861-65. Gen. Hardie carried the order relieving Gen. Hooker from command of the Army of the Potomac and appointing Gen. Meade in his place three days before the battle of Gettysburg; the official envelopes in which these orders and instructions were enclosed are in the collection, endorsed as to the facts, by Gen. H. W. Halleck. Later, in 1865, there are sundry documents respecting Hardie's connection with the execution of Mrs. Surratt. Among the correspondents are Sherman, Sheridan, Stanton, Archbishop Spalding, Halleck, Burnside, and McClellan. Purchased, 1916.

HARRISONSIR CHARLES HARDY

Authorization to the Secretary of State to cause the Seal of the United States to be affixed to the envelope containing letter of condolence addressed to His Majesty Francis Joseph, Emperor of Austria, etc., on the death of Archduke Rudolph, the Crown Prince, March 11, 1889. Printed form filled out, and signed.

The Benjamin Harrison papers have been deposited in the Library, but are not open to investigators.

BURTON HARRISON

In 1909, Hon. Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, presented a collection of letters of his father, Burton N. Harrison, his grandfather, Jesse Burton Harrison, and his great grandfather, Samuel Jordan Harrison. Additions were made by him in 1910.

Letters, 1812 and 1817, are from Thomas Jefferson to Samuel Jordan Harrison. Letters to Jesse Burton Harrison are from Henry Clay, R. R. Gurley, N. P. Trist and others, on general and political subjects; from J. H. B. Latrobe and Alexander Porter, on the affairs of the American Colonization Society. There are notes of conversations of Jesse Burton Harrison with Madison (1827). Of a later period are the papers of Burton N. Harrison, including letters from Jefferson Davis, and others relating to his capture, the loss of the Davis correspondence and documents, and the disposition made of specie at the close of the war; fourteen letters of W. B. Reed, and a letter of Burton N. Harrison to Philip Phillips, of La Grange, Ga., regarding the delay of the Government in prosecuting Jefferson Davis. The papers of this portion of the collection number about fifty pieces, and extend from 1857 to 1877.

WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON

Ten letters, 1803-1834, procured mainly by purchase from a number of sources. Among them are three letters to Brigadier General Green Clay, commanding at Fort Meigs; others are to John Randolph, David Chambers, James Barbour, Peter Force and George Poindexter. They relate to military and political subjects.

HAWKS

In the Broadside collection are thirteen pieces, being extracts from the Bible, in the Hawaiian language.

JOHN HAWKS

(See Journals and Diaries, 1757.)

J. MILTON AND ESTHER H. HAWKS

Letters of Dr. J. Milton Hawks and his wife, Esther H. Hawks, covering the years 1861 to 1867. Dr. Hawks and his wife, who was also a physician, of Manchester, N. H., devoted themselves to ministering to sick and wounded soldiers in the various military hospitals during the Civil War. They were also actively engaged in the work of the National Freedman's Relief Association, establishing schools and distributing supplies throughout the South.

All of the correspondence is addressed to Mrs. Esther Hawks. There are numerous letters from her husband; a few from Brigadier General Rufus Saxton, the military Governor of the Department of the South; and from Alden M. Lander, Superintendent of Women Nurses. The main portion of the correspondence, however, is made up of letters written by wounded soldiers to Mrs. Hawks. Purchased, 1910.

HAZARD

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE

Letter to Miss Elizabeth Palmer Peabody, dated February 19, 1842, regarding the publication of "Grandfather's Chair." Written in the third person. Explanatory note in lead pencil, signed "E. P. P."

A Salem warrant, 1688, issued by John Hathorne, justice of the peace, a great great grandfather of Nathaniel Hawthorne. It contains the name of Thomas Maul, referred to in "The House of the Seven Gables." Deposited, in 1909, by Mr. William C. Wakefield, Washington, D. C.

EBENEZER HAZARD

Purchased in 1867, from the library of Peter Force. Two portfolios. The first contains miscellaneous notes and transcripts, gathered together by Ebenezer Hazard for historical use. The second contains the manuscript of "Records of the United Colonies, 1643-1651." A second portion (without a title page, but plainly an additional chapter of the same manuscript) begins 19th 2nd month 1653, and runs to September 9th, 1672. There are about 632 pages in the manuscript.

Among the "Notes" in the first portfolio is a "Chronological Table of Events in American History," in two small volumes; a broadside, "Proposals for Printing by Subscription a Collection of State Papers, Intended as Material for an History of the United States of America, by Ebenezer Hazard, A. M.," Pr. Phila. Feb. 24, 1791.

A portfolio of transcripts from laws of the British Colonies in America, 1682-1770, formerly a part of this collection, has been included in the group known as "America, British Colonies in." Another portfolio of transcripts from the Laws of the British Colonies in the West Indies has been included in the "West Indies" group.

Also a small volume of Notes on American History, 1770-1778; with a memorandum of American maps, books and pamphlets. Sundry Hazard copies of colonial documents are among the miscellaneous papers of the several State groups.

burgh Castle. One volume twelvemo, 176 pages, printed Edinburgh, 1724. On the fly-leaf is a prophecy, dated 1732, regarding the United States, said to be in the handwriting of Hope, with an attestation by his son, James Hope; also newspaper clippings regarding it. Acquired 1879.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES COLLECTION

179 portfolios and 17 holders of a large size contain the selection of miscellaneous papers from the files of the House of Representatives, transferred to the Library in 1910 and 1911, under House Resolution 403, 61st Cong. 2d Sess., March 5, 1910.

The papers are in chronological order, and range in date from 1775 to 1871. They fall into four main divisions: (1) Petitions. Petitions on slavery, including African colonization of free Negroes; against duelling; on the tariff; from Indians; and on Immigration, and Naturalization, etc. (2) Private Claims. Claims for pensions; bounties; land titles, patents; unpaid salaries; etc. (3) Reports and papers from the Executive branch of the Government. (4) Imprints. Many Government imprints, also pamphlets, etc., which accompany claims and petitions.

The papers presented with one claim, that of William Carmichael, secretary to the American mission at Paris in 1776-1778, and at Madrid in 1780, will serve as an illustration. Among them are letters from Lafayette, de Kalb, Silas Deane, Ralph Izard, Robert Morris, Gouverneur Morris, John Paul Jones, and Thomas Jefferson. The letter of Mrs. Washington, Dec. 31, 1799, in reply to a resolution of condolence on the death of Gen. Washington, passed by Congress is in the collection.

The 17 folio holders contain the following matters, which will serve as examples of the sort of material composing the entire collection: Papers of Benjamin Wells, U. S. Revenue collector, Western Pa., 1786-1830; U. S. Army Returns, 1804-5; Treasury Department papers relating to Importations 1808-9; Petitions from Pa. relating to the Embargo and the War with Great Britain, 1812-1813; Abstract of Disbursements of Samuel Lane,

HUGHES

Commissioner of Public Buildings, 1817; Report on Public quarters, apparatus, etc., at the U. S. Military Academy 1818; Petition of the heirs of John Sevier in connection with the settlement of land claims in Tennessee, 1825; Petitions of Citizens of New York City against Sunday mails, 1829; Statistics of Connecticut manufactures, 1832; Pardons by the President of the United States, 1865; Message of President Johnson, transmitting a report and documents on the transfer of Alaska to the United States, Jan. 27, 1868.

A typewritten list of the papers is with the collection.

For a full description see "House Miscellaneous Papers in the Library of Congress," by Asa Currier Tilton, Ph. D., Proceedings of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin for 1912, pages 227-245.

Large additions were made to these papers in 1916 from the files of the Clerk of the House from the papers of the 1st to the 33d Congress and these additions were generally of the same nature and character of the first transfers though bearing more especially on the affairs of Wisconsin and the territories of the Northwest.

SAMUEL HOUSTON

Four letters, one addressed to the Secretary of War (Lewis Cass) November 19, 1831, on Indian Affairs, transferred from the Interior Department, 1909; one to Mrs. Katherine D. Morgan concerning her sons, 1837, gift, 1907, of Mrs. George W. Morgan, Mt. Vernon, Ohio. The remaining two are addressed to General James Hamilton on political questions and Peter Force asking for a pamphlet.

HUGH HUGHES

A portfolio of letters and papers of Hugh Hughes, who, during the Revolutionary War, was stationed as Deputy Quartermaster General at Peekskill, New York. One or two scattered pieces are of a date earlier than the Revolutionary period, the earliest being 1768. Letters regarding the work of gathering supplies, and extracts from general orders and resolves of the Continental Congress form a large part of the collection. Correspondents during this and the succeeding period are: Timothy Pickering, Moses Hazen, William Denning, John Tyson, John Campbell, John Keese, James M. Hughes, George Logan and Lindsay Coates. From December 5, 1793, to September 8, 1794, there are daily notes on current events, with comments upon politics and the French Revolution, in the handwriting of Hughes.

Later letters 1818-1835, are addressed to Mahlon Dickerson. Among them are letters from William S. Pennington, John A. Boyd, Gov. [Isaac Halsted] Williamson, Peter Colt, Jonathan Dayton, Joshua Barney, and Martin Van Buren.

The collection was purchased in 1913.

INDIANS

Twenty volumes, and twelve small portfolios, gathered from various sources, some having formed a part of the collection of Peter Force.

There are three volumes of the records and history of the Indian Pueblo at Zuni, written in Spanish. They begin in 1732, and continue to 1853, and contain lists of births, marriages and deaths in the Zuni mission from 1775. They were obtained from the collection of the late Mr. Frank H. Cushing.

There are three Indian vocabularies. One, of sixteen pages, by Jessie Crosby, contains a synopsis of the language of the Tsimshian Indians, of British Columbia; a short vocabulary of the Stony Mountain Indians, a branch of the Sioux, is typewritten, and bears the date, July 1, 1886; the third, consisting of short vocabularies of some of the western tribes, was compiled by J. K. Townsend, in 1835.

One of the earliest items is the manuscript of Samuel Penhallow's "History of the Wars of New England with the Eastern Indians from August 10, 1703, to the Peace Renewed, July 11, 1713." This volume is from the Force purchase. In their chronological order, other items are as follows: The letter of the Indian Sachems to the Archbishop of Canterbury, praying for a missionary, and the answer thereto, 1710. The journal of Theodore Atkinson, of a journey into Canada, in 1724/5, and of a voyage to Casco Bay, in 1727, to attend conference with the Indians. A five-page record of land grants in New York, Pennsylvania and Georgia, by the Creeks, Choctaws, Delawares and other tribes, to the various colonial governments, 1726-1771. A copy of Conrad Weiser's "Memorial of the Six Nations as they Existed in 1744." The diary kept by Fred^k Post on his journey to the Indians at the Ohio, by appointment of the Pennsylvania Government, in 1758. An account of the visit of Papoonhoat and several of the chiefs of the Minisink tribe to the people called Quakers in Philadelphia, 1760. "Notes on the Cherokees," 1760. Minutes of a conference held at Fort Pitt between George Croghan, Deputy Agent for Indian Affairs with the Chiefs of the Ohio and Western Indians, 1768. Minutes of a conference of the St. John's and Micmac Indians at Watertown, Colony of Massachusetts Bay, July 10, 1776. Return Jonathan Meigs' memorandum book of occurrences in the Cherokee and Choctaw country, 1796-1807. Sketch of the Creek Country, 1798-1799, by Colonel Benjamin Hawkins, and his "Viatory or Journal of Distances and Observations," 1797-1802. Ferdinand Leigh Claiborne's talk with Pushmataha, November 9, 1813. The diary of Rev. George N. Smith, an Indian missionary in Michigan, 1835-1879, two bundles. A volume of Indian historical material, collected by William Lincoln, of Worcester, Mass. A memorial of the Cherokee Nation to the President of the United States, April 16, 1842, and the report of George C. Washington and John T. Mason, on proceedings under the Cherokee treaty of 1835. A Micmac prayer book, in Kandeé hieroglyphs, [18-?]. The "Winter Count" of Baptiste, commonly called Battiste Good, a Brulé Dakota chief, whose Dakotan name is given as Wa-po-cta, translated

Brown Hat. This pictograph is in water colors on a wide paper roll several feet long and was presented to the Library by the Rev. Aaron Baker Clark, Rosebud, South Dakota, 1909. (A description and key to the "Winter Count" of Battiste Good, up to the year 1880, is given in the 10th annual report of the Bureau of Ethnology, 1888-89, page 287 et seq.)

MRS. H. C. INGERSOLL

Ninety-three letters written to Mrs. H. C. Ingersoll, of Washington, D. C., 1838-1886, on personal and political subjects from: Mary C. Ames, 1; Schuyler Colfax, 3; Roscoe Conkling, 9; Thomas Corwin, 3; George William Curtis, 6; Ralph Waldo Emerson, 2; Horace Greeley, 13; Thomas Starr King, 5; Wendell Phillips, 3; Henry James, Sr., 2; Lucy Stone, 8; Charles Sumner, 2; William Lloyd Garrison, 1; Sarah G. Weld and others. Purchased, 1909.

JARED INGERSOLL

A folio volume of Force transcripts of letters, made by Henry Stevens, Jr., from original manuscripts in the hands of Ralph I. Ingersoll, Esq., New Haven, Connecticut, 1845. The period covered is 1745 to 1779. Early letters relate to the supply of ordnance for the British Navy. There are few letters between 1770 and 1775. Beginning in the latter year, there are numerous letters written by Jared Ingersoll, at Philadelphia, to his brother Jonathan, 1775-1779. Other writers are George Munson, Nathan Whiting, George Saltonstall, Joseph Chew, Thomas Fitch, Benning Wentworth, Matthew Talcott, Daniel Brill, James Hamilton, Eliphalet Dyer, William Samuel Johnson, Benjamin Gale, and Roger Sherman.

Also "An Historical Account of Some Affairs Relating to the Church, Especially in Connecticut, together with a notation of some other things of a different nature. Yale College, October 20, 1740, to May 31, 1743." One small volume. Acquired with the Force Library in 1867.

HARRY INNES

Sixteen volumes, containing some 3000 manuscripts of Judge Harry Innes, of Kentucky, presented in 1908 by Mr. George D. Todd, of Louisville, Ky.

The papers are mounted in folio scrap-books with a subjective arrangement. These books are numbered 16 to 32 inclusive, no. 17 being omitted, several of them contain indexes. The papers begin with 1772 and extend to 1850. The first documents of importance are those of the last years of the Revolution, when Innes served as one of the agents of Virginia to receive the contributions levied in cattle, grain and other produce, the "specific supplies." The first volume, no. 16, is completely filled with returns, accounts and receipts, of these "specifics," collected from various Virginia counties. There is also some correspondence with commissaries, William Davies of the War Office and others on this subject. Volume 18 contains letters and papers in connection with the trial of Aaron Burr in Kentucky, consisting of letters to and from Jos. H. Daveiss, attorney for the United States, Thomas Todd, Associate judge of the Kentucky District, and others, addresses to the Grand Jury, the account of Joseph Crockett, marshal of the district, for executing a warrant on Blennerhassett, and a warrant for the removal of the latter to Richmond, also depositions and affidavits in the suit of Innes vs. Street for libel, and the correspondence, broadside addresses and other papers arising from it; also the reports of the Select committees of the House of Representatives regarding the charges brought against Judge Benjamin Sebastian of having received a pension from the Spanish Government, and the charges brought against Humphrey Marshall. Genealogical notes on the Todd family are also included.

Volume 19 contains long and intimate letters of John Brown to Innes written while in Congress, 1789-1798, regarding public papers of the Kentucky Democratic Society, with an address to the inhabitants west of the Alleghanies, Dec. 13, 1793, signed by John Breckinridge, regarding the navigation of the Mississippi, and the reply of the Washington, Pa., Democratic Society, the proposition of Auguste Lachaise to the Society; and the letter of George Nicholas and Harry Innes in answer to Thomas Power regarding the attempts to separate the Western country from the United States. At the end of the volume there are a number of military papers, 1787-1791 relating to the protection of the Western frontier, including letters to and from Maj. Gen. Knox, Brig. Gen. Scott, Levi Todd, Wm. Blount, and Timothy Pickering.

Volume 20 is made up of legal and land papers 1772-92, including a parchment grant in the handwriting and with the signature of Patrick Henry, 1786.

Volume 21 contains miscellaneous correspondence and papers, 1791-1813, including a pamphlet on the culture of wine grapes in the United States, printed Georgetown, by Hanson & Briggs, and ms. observations on the culture of grapes in Switzerland. Also depositions of a number of persons regarding the navigation of the Mississippi and the activities of the Democratic Society, among them Gen. John Payne, Col. Wm. Irvine, Col. Isaac Shelby, Col. Robert Johnson, Hon. Caleb Wallace and Job Bradford.

Volume 22 consists of correspondence, depositions, etc., relative to the suit of Harry Innes vs. Humphrey Marshall, 1809.

Volume 23 comprises letters and papers of Gen. James Wilkinson, 1784-1798. Legal and land papers; accounts, many of them for merchandise; and correspondence with Innes, Henry Knox, Benjamin Sebastian, Hugh McIlvaine, Peyton Short, Michael Lacassagne, Andrew Yorke, John Shelby, Jr., and Charles Vancouver (additional Wilkinson papers are scattered throughout the volumes).

Volume 24 contains letters of John Aylett, 1774-[], and numerous others; papers relating to Innes's Frankfort estate; a copy of his will, with several obituary sketches, 1816; and some items regarding the Kentucky Manufacturing Co., at Danville, 1789.

INNES

Volume 25, papers relating to the estate of Geo. Nicholas, of Peachey Wills and correspondence with the executors of Geo. W. Fairfax, 1799-1803.

Volume 26, correspondence regarding West Kentucky lands; invoices 1812-1814; and recent copies of letters of Harry and James Innes to Gen. Washington.

Volumes 27 and 28 contain U. S. Court Decisions, 1795-1814; and typewritten copies of several letters of Innes to John Brown, 1778-1800.

Volume 29. Receipts, many of them from Mrs. Ann Innes, 1825-1850, for household supplies, expenditures on the estate, etc.

Volume 30. Papers regarding the settlement of the estates of Enoch Tucker, 1786, of B. Dandridge and Augustine Easton.

Volume 31. Papers of Henry Owen, Robert Innes, Hugh Innes, John Paul, and Benj. Field. Also miscellaneous land papers to 1840.

Volume 32. Letters and papers of John H. Todd, Frankfort, Ky., 1815-1823, including a number of broadsides. Papers of Thomas Perkins, 1775-1786; and of Capt. Gilbert Imlay, 1784.

In the correspondence are letters from Thomas Jefferson, Jas. Madison, Wm. Henry Harrison, Henry Lee, John Taylor, of Caroline, George Nicholas, Wilson Cary Nicholas, Edmund Pendleton, Thomas Law, Edmund Randolph, Beverley Randolph, Henry Clay, Oliver Wolcott, Samuel G. Adams, James Morrison, Andrew Bayard, Thomas Power, Samuel Hopkins, Dennis Fitzhugh, H. The Division also possesses a number of Italian broadsides, ranging in dates from 1599 to 1823.

ANDREW JACKSON

In accordance with Jackson's wishes, Andrew Jackson, Jr., his adopted son, gave the official and public papers left by General Jackson to Francis P. Blair, from whom they went to his son, Montgomery Blair. In 1903, Montgomery Blair's children—Woodbury Blair, Minna Blair Richey, Gist Blair and Montgomery Blair—presented them to the Library of Congress. To this collection was added, in 1911, by purchase, the personal papers which had been retained by Andrew Jackson, Jr., and which, at his death, passed to his son, Andrew Jackson. The two groups have been combined and are mounted and bound, in 131 volumes.

They begin with the year 1775, and extend, through 114 volumes, to 1860; and four additional volumes contain undated material. They cover every phase of General Jackson's career, from his birth to his death. There are drafts of his Presidential messages, private family letters, military papers, farming operations and household expenses. The military papers, 1781-1832, comprising muster rolls, military returns of various sorts, receipts, and general and brigade orders, are separately bound in thirteen folio volumes.

Among the correspondents are: James Monroe, James K. Polk, Franklin Pierce, John Sevier, William C. C. Claiborne, John C. Calhoun, Robert Hays, Stockley D. Hays, John Coffee, Richard K. Call, Benjamin Hawkins, James Winchester, A. J. Dallas, Robert Butler, E. P. Gaines, George M. Deaderick, Robert Y. Hayne, Felix Grundy, John H. Eaton, John Randolph of Roanoke, Henry Lee, James A. Hamilton, John Branch, John Forsyth, James Gadsden, Joel R. Poinsett, Levi E. Vanderlyn, James K. Paulding, John Catron, Roger B. Taney, Levi Woodbury, Amos

NEIL JAMIESON

Neil Jamieson was the Virginia resident partner of the firm of Glassford, Gordon, Monteath & Co., merchants of Glasgow, Scotland, successors to Glassford, Munro & Co., also of Glasgow; resided in Norfolk from 1757 (perhaps earlier) until 1776, when, because of his Tory sentiments, he was forced to take refuge with Lord Dunmore's fleet. He was conveyed to New York in the fall of that year, and engaged in tobacco shipping and general merchandizing. In 1786, he went to Halifax, to appear before the Commissioners of the Crown, with a claim for his own losses and for those of himself and partners in the business at Norfolk. From this date, his New York business was conducted by an agent. Later Jamieson went to London.

The papers, bound in twenty-three volumes, begin in 1757 and extend to 1789. They consist of invoices, orders, accounts and correspondence. The earlier papers deal with goods imported and sold at Norfolk and Portsmouth, where Glassford, Gordon, Monteath & Co. owned a half interest in the wharf. Their business here, and at Great Bridge, Virginia, where they also had interests, they conducted under the firm name of Neil Jamieson & Co. At Norfolk they owned a distillery, under the name of Jamieson, Campbell, Calvert & Co. In the papers for the year 1776 are many orders for money "on account of His Majesty's Service." Later papers are the letters and accounts of the New York firms of John McAdam & Co., and Taylor and Bayard.

The correspondence consists mainly of letters to Jamieson. Prior to the Revolution there are letters to and from the Glasgow firms of Glassford, Munro & Co., Glassford, Shortridge & Gordon Co., Alexander Houstoun & Co., and James Gordon. Later the letters are mainly from Virginia merchants, many of them asking aid in the recovery of runaway slaves.

Among the correspondents are: Messrs. H. & A. Wallace; Boyd & White, Richmond; Ross & Vaughan, Philadelphia; Thorowgood Smith, Baltimore; Robert Donald, Petersburg; Daniel Barraud, Smithfield; Daniel Triplett, Culpeper; James Buchanan, Richmond; Miles King; John Calvert; James Lyle; M. Byrd; Samuel Beall; James Dunlap and others. Purchased, 1899.

A journal of Captain Neil Jamieson's, from 1775 to 1778, is in the "Maryland and Virginia Mercantile Accounts" collection.

- (4) Myo-ho ren-ge kyo (Chinese versions of the Saddharma Pundrika).
- (5) Myo-ho ren-ge kyo (Vol. 6 of No. 2).
- (6) Myo-ho ren-ge kyo (Vol. 8 of No. 2).
- (7) Ma-ka han-nya haramita shin gyo (Chinese version of the mahā prañāpāramitā-hridaya-sūtra).

In addition to the above, there are ten unbound volumes and some loose sheets of alphabet symbols, vocabularies, grammar, etc.

A manuscript work on the cultivation of oranges, by M. Shirai, 1914. In Japanese. One volume, quarto. Rice paper. Gift, 1915, of Professor M. Shirai, Imperial University, Agricultural Department, Komaba, Tokyo Fu, Japan.

JAMES JARVIS

Two hundred and eighteen pages of closely written manuscript reminiscences (written in 1853) describing events in Norfolk County, Virginia, from the Revolutionary period. The battle of Great Bridge, December 9, 1775, and the operations at Craney Island, June, 1813, are treated at length. Letters of Colonel William Woodford to Edmund Pendleton, 1775, are included, and portions of a "narrative," written by Sergeant William P. Young in 1813, have been inserted. There are copies of several letters from Jarvis to Benson J. Lossing, 1853, and a pen and ink sketch, on linen, of the attack upon Craney Island. Purchased, 1914.

THOMAS JEFFERSON

These are the papers which the government bought from Jefferson's estate in 1848. They were transferred to the Library from the State Department, by the Executive Order of March 9,

JENNISON

1903. They are the great body of papers which Jefferson left, and to them has been added a group which the Library already had, and several lesser collections acquired from various sources in the past few years.

They extend from 1757 to 1826. They include Jefferson's personal, professional and official papers. The chief correspondence is with John Adams (1777 to 1826), William Carmichael, the Continental Congress, Henry Dearborn, Albert Gallatin (1793 to 1823), the United States Congress, John Jay (1783 to 1794), La Fayette, Robert R. Livingston, James Madison (1786 to 1826, the largest group of all), James Monroe (1793 to 1826), William Short, and George Washington (1779 to 1796). There are a great many notes of opinions, memoranda, journals and reminiscences.

The papers cover almost every phase of Jefferson's career. There are many pertaining to his law practice, to the management of his farms, his scientific interests, his domestic life, and to his connection with the University of Virginia. His draft of the Declaration of Independence is in the State Department; but his correspondence, while he was in the Congress of 1776, is here. There are a great many letters, written while he was in Europe, and a great many of his official letters when he was President.

The State Department, Bureau of Rolls and Library, published a calendar of the main collection in three volume, 1894-1903. It covers about seven-eighths of the whole collection.

SIR WILLIAM JOHNSON

One bound volume of papers of Sir William Johnson, a part of the purchase from the library of Peter Force, in 1867. It covers a period from 1755 to 1774, and consists almost entirely of correspondence, which, for the most part, is confined to the subject of the education of the Indians.

Some of the earlier letters give reports of the military movements around Lake George. The work of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts is frequently discussed. Many of the letters to and from the Rev. Thomas Barton, of Lancaster, Pa., are upon the subject of the education of Sir William Johnson's son.

Other correspondents were: Hon. Charles Lawrence, the Earl of Loudoun, Eleazer Wheelock, Cadwallader Colden, John Ogilvie, Richard Peters, Samuel Auchmuty and Myles Cooper.

The collection has been catalogued.

WILLIAM SAMUEL JOHNSON

Two portfolios of letters and papers of William Samuel Johnson, acquired in 1911 and 1913 by gift from his descendants, Mrs. Susan E. Johnson Hudson, Stratford, Connecticut, Mrs. William Henry Carmalt, New Haven, and William Samuel Johnson, Mamaroneck, N. Y., through the agency of Professor Max Farrand, of Yale. The papers begin in 1765, with Johnson's drafts and notes of the first and second Connecticut addresses to the King; his draft of the petition of the colonies to the House of Commons and of the resolutions of the Stamp Act Congress; also notes for the Stamp Act Congress; drafts of addresses and committee reports; and a list of the names of delegates; "Some General Hints for the Commissioners," etc., indorsed Gov. Fitch's Memo. [1765?]; and "Thoughts on the Disputes between Great Britain and the Colonies," by John Hamilton. Later papers are: "State of Exports to North America, 1767-1769;" "A Plan of Union by admitting Representatives from the American Colonies and from Ireland into the British Parliament." Signed "Amor Patriae," December 10, 1770; Petition of the merchants of the City of New York to Parliament, undated; "Some Facts and Remarks respecting half pay for the Officers of the Regiment of Artificers, [1783?]" ; "Sentence of Chevalier Charles Julian de Longchamps, indicted for an infraction of the Law of Nations and for an assault and battery upon Francis Barbé de Marbois, delivered by Chief Justice McKean, October 17, 1784;" "Remarks on the State of the Continental Lands Northwest of the River Ohio," with the plan of General Parsons, November 24, 1786, for a Military and Civil establishment in the hands of Congress; "Committee report on the Sale of Western lands, July 27, 1787, and proceedings on a letter of Cutler & Sargent, July 26, 1787"; "Estimate of the Revenue which may be Raised by the United States after 1790, by Import and Excise Independent of Direct Taxes"; and "Notes of Argument respecting Navigation of the Mississippi."

Papers in connection with his work as chairman of the committee appointed in the Federal Convention of 1787, "for the Revision of the Style and Arrangement of the Constitution," are as follows: A printed draft of the Constitution [Aug. 6, 1787] with manuscript notes in the hand of William Jackson, the secretary through September 3; with a notation by George Bancroft. A printed draft of the Constitution, September 12, 1787, being the report of the Committee on Style, with annotations in the autograph of William Samuel Johnson. The Virginia Plan or Randolph Resolutions, with a few annotations; all in the autograph of William Samuel Johnson, [May 29, 1787].

JONES

The correspondence comprises a letter indorsed "Mr. Franklin's letter about the Expedition to Cape Britton" [1748?]; three letters of Montfort Browne, Governor of the Bahama Islands, brought from thence a prisoner by Commodore Whipple, 1776; a letter of Oliver Ellsworth and Oliver Wolcott, Jr., to the General Assembly of Connecticut, May, 1785, regarding Continental accounts; a letter of John Fitch, April 2, 1789, and Johnson's reply, May 29, 1789; letters from Donald Campbell, S. H. Parsons, John Pierce, Christopher Leffingwell and Roger Alden; and letters of Johnson to Samuel Huntington and John J. Astor.

GEORGE JOHNSTON

(See Journals and Diaries, 1819.)

JOHN PAUL JONES

Eleven folio volumes containing the manuscripts of John Paul Jones formed a part of the Peter Force Collection, purchased by the Library in 1867. By his will, Jones left his papers to his sisters and their children. Shortly after his death, his sister, Mrs. Jane Taylor, sent such of his papers as best illustrated his services in the War of the American Revolution to Robert Hyslop, a solicitor in New York, who retained them until his death, when they passed into the hands of a tradesman in that city, from whom they were acquired by Mr. George A. Ward, and, in 1825, Col. John Henry Sherburne, Registrar of the Navy, printed many of them in his Life of Jones. The papers afterward came into the possession of Peter Force.

They date from 1775 to 1788, the larger number covering the years 1778-1780 inclusive. Letters passing between Jones, Franklin and the French Court, in 1778 and 1779, give the operations of Jones in European waters. Many of them are autograph drafts.

A Calendar of the John Paul Jones Manuscripts, containing 883 entries, was published by the Library in 1903.

Other John Paul Jones papers, not included in the calendar, are to be found in the Papers of the Continental Congress chiefly in Nos. 168 and 193.

JONES

A folio volume of letters to James Madison, 1780-1804; part of the Madison Collection acquired from the Chicago Historical Society in 1910.

The letters date from September 19, 1780, to June 26, 1804, and were grouped by Madison himself. There is a chronological index of them in his writing. All of them pertain to public affairs—the proceedings of Congress, political events in Virginia, military affairs. Those written in 1789 pertain to the Constitutional Convention.

ROGER JONES

(See Journals and Diaries, 1819.)

JONES FAMILY PAPERS

A large collection of letters and papers of the Jones family of Virginia, descendants of Captain Roger Jones, who came from England with Lord Culpeper, in 1680. Presented, in 1912, by the heirs of Thomas Jones, of Clark County, Kentucky, through Lewis H. Jones, of Louisville, Kentucky.

The papers, though there are a few bearing dates in the 17th Century—one as early as 1662—, practically begin about the year 1702, with the correspondence of Colonel Thomas Jones, a planter, merchant, and extensive landholder, of Williamsburgh. Letters from the Randolphs, William Byrd, Henry Chiles, Henry Hacker, William Nelson, Mark King, Henry Armistead, and members of the Gooch, Holloway, Stith, Coke and Fauntleroy families are included. In England, Mark Catesby, author of "The Natural History of Carolina, Florida and the Bahama Islands"; Walter King, of London and Bristol; and John Pratt, of London, were correspondents and family connections.

There is a series of letters of Colonel Thomas Jones, in 1724-1725, to the lady who afterward became his wife; also letters from his brother, Colonel Frederick Jones, of New Hanover County, N. C., whose will, dated 1722, is with the papers relating to the settlement of his estate, in 1723, list of slaves, accounts, etc. Among the mercantile papers, are accounts current with Edward Randolph & Co., and correspondence with Thomas Nelson, a merchant at Yorktown.

The bulk of the economic material, however, is between 1750 and 1800, the papers of a second Thomas Jones, who, for many years, was clerk of Northumberland County. They embrace plantation and mercantile papers, including among the latter, accounts and invoices of goldsmiths, pewterers, shoemakers, etc., and a correspondence covering a number of years, with William Molleson and James Russell, merchants, of London, and Charles Goore, of Liverpool. There are also letters on other subjects, from William Peachey, Rawleigh Colston, Richard Lee, Dr. Walter Jones,—afterward Member of Congress, but then, 1769–1770, in London and Edinburgh as a student of medicine—, and Frederick Jones, of Cape Fear, N. C.

About 1800 mercantile papers terminate, and the correspondence is, for the most part, addressed to Thomas ap Thomas Jones, at Bathurst, Essex County, Va. The letters are nearly all from family connections; Dr. Walter Jones; Lieutenant Roger Jones, on board the U. S. S. John Adams, afterwards Brigadier General U. S. A.; and his brother, Thomas ap Catesby Jones, a naval officer; Shelton Jones, Meriwether Jones, Jones Burwell, Lawrence Muse and John Monroe.

Of a later date are two letters of appreciation from S. R. Mallory, Secretary of the Navy, C. S. A., to Lieutenant Catesby ap R. Jones, who commanded the C. S. S. Merrimac in her engagement with the Monitor, and was afterwards Chief of Ordnance in the Confederate Navy. There is also a statement from the office of the Minister of Exterior Relations of Peru, regarding his services for that country, 1867. The numerous letters between 1880 and 1890 are addressed to Judge Lewis H. Jones, of Winchester, Ky., regarding the family genealogy.

Ten small memorandum and account books are also in the collection, regarding farm matters, 1791–1797; a day-book of Robert Lucas, 1767–1769; a memorandum and diary of Thomas

Jones, Harrod's Station, Ky., 1812-1816, with a short description of travels in Kentucky. One of these memoranda is a copy of "The Virginia Almanac for the Year of Our Lord, 1796, by Robert Andrews, Phila. Richmond, Pr. by Samuel Pleasants, Jun." Another is a copy of "The Traveller's Pocket Farrier," 1805.

JOURNALS AND DIARIES

Chronologically arranged. (Where the Library has the papers of an individual, journals and diaries will be found included in the description of such personal collections.) (1) "Relation du Voyage fait a la Chine sur le Vaisseau L'Amphitrite, en l'année 1698," by Giovanni Gherardini, February 20, 1699. The manuscript is in French prose and Italian verse. It describes the passage around the Cape of Good Hope, the East Indian Islands, the Straits of Malacca, the City of Achem [Acheen?], and, finally, the position occupied at Pekin by the Jesuits, their relations with the Emperor, etc. One volume, quarto. Purchased, 1900. (2) "Diary or Daly Journal began the 17th Day of Aprill 1735," being the diary of Robert Hunter Morris, kept in London, where he accompanied his father, Lewis Morris, to protest against the proceedings of Governor William Cosby. The diary extends to January 4, 1735/6, with three pages kept on a second visit to London, December 16-19, 1749. One volume, quarto. Probably from the Force purchase. (3) Roger Wolcott's Journal of the Expedition against Louisbourg, May 31 to July 30, 1745, together with his autobiography. (Force transcript.) One volume folio, 69 pages. "The original manuscript belongs [1845] to Thomas Robbins, D. D., of Hartford, Ct." (4) "Extracts from a Collection of Voyages and Travels, compiled from the Curious and Valuable Library of the Earl of Oxford, in two large folio volumes, London, printed for and sold by Thos. Osborne of Gray's Inn, 1745." Two volumes quarto. Purchased, 1900. (5) An anonymous journal, labeled "Journal of a Captive," being the "Remarkable Occurrences from the year 1745 to 1748, During the far greater time of which I was a prisoner in the hands of the French and Spaniards. Transcribed from my Private Notes, in Rhode Island, Anno 1748." The author was, apparently, mate of the British merchantman Adventure, of London, John Oldham, Captain, which was captured by two French men of war, April 4, 1745. The prisoners were landed at Jebuctore [Halifax] and marched to Quebec, where they were held, with many others, (among them Captain William Pote, Jr., Nehemiah How, and Rev. John Norton, the "Redeemed Captive," whose journals have been published), until July 27, 1747, when they were sent to Boston and exchanged. From Boston, the author went to Rhode Island, where he took ship for the West Indies. He was again captured, February 6, 1748, this time by Spanish privateers, and was carried to Porto Rico. Finally, April 20, 1748, he again reached Newport, R. I. The journal contains excellent descriptions of places visited, and interesting comments. One volume, twelve mo. Probably from the Force purchase. (6) "Journal of Captain Ladd's March and his Men [kept by Abner Clough, Clerk of the Company], July 14, 1746, to September 28, 1746." Exeter, N. H., to Rumford, against the Indians. (Force transcript.) One volume folio, 13 pages. (7) "Journal of the Travels of the Regiment of Soldiers of New Hampshire enlisted for the Immediate Reduction of Canada that Marched to the Pond Winnipiseogee which Journal begins with their March from Cochecho and continues until their return thither... kept by Walter Bryant, Jan. 7, 1746/7." (Force transcript.) One volume folio, 12 pages. (8) Fragment, pages 49 to 95, of a diary kept by a Massachusetts clergyman, July 15, 1749–July 14, 1750. One volume quarto, unbound. Purchased, 1901. (9) Journal of Captain Phineas Stevens, September 13–December 11, 1749, being his report to Hon. Spencer Phips, Commander in Chief, Province of Massachusetts Bay, on a trip to Montreal by way of Albany, with a letter from Governor Shirley to the Governor of Canada. (Force transcript.) One volume folio, 7 pages. (10) Jacob Cushing's diary, 1749–1809. See Almanacs.

Paris, September 27, 1797, to April 11, 1798. Photostat copies of a contemporary manuscript copy in the Massachusetts Historical Society. By exchange from that Society, 1914. (66) Journal of Anna Maria Brodeau, wife of Dr. William Thornton, of Washington, D. C. Acquired with the Thornton Papers, in 1904, bequest of J. Henley Smith, of Washington, D. C. This journal dates from 1793 to 1863, with sundry omissions, the greatest of which is the gap between 1816 and 1827. The first diary is quite full in events, and gives an excellent picture of social conditions in Washington at that time; but the later entries are briefer and more personal, and are finally restricted to mere living expenses. (67) Diary of Thomas Worthington (afterward Governor of Ohio) January 2, 1801, to December 31, 1812. During this period Worthington was a delegate to the State Constitutional Convention, and United States Senator. Inclosed is a sketch of his life by Alice Worthington Winthrop, and a letter of Jesse Spencer to Worthington in 1819. The diary is in nine volumes, 12mo, unbound. Gift, 1907, of Charles Moore, Brookline, Mass. (68) Memorandum of nautical affairs—arrivals and departures of vessels, amounts and prices of goods shipped, etc.—at [Boston]. Entered by Timothy Williams in a copy of "The Massachusetts Register and United States Calendar, Pr. Boston, by Manning & Loring," for the year 1801. Also, a similar memorandum for the year 1807. 2 volumes, 12mo. Probably from the Force purchase. (69) Anonymous "Tour from Poughkeepsie to Sacon-dago River, October 17 to 28, 1803. 1 volume, 12mo., 22 pages, unbound. Pages 7 to 14 inclusive missing. Purchased, 1914. (70) Diary of Michael Shiner, kept at Washington, D. C. Gives events and happenings in that city, 1813-1865. 1 volume, folio, 186 pages, indexed. Purchased, 1906. (71) Memorandum book of T. G. Williams, Lieutenant and Quartermaster, [Royal?] Artillery; "Memos. since I entered Chesapeake Bay in America." Also a "Return of Ordnance and ammunition * * * taken from the enemy, with the army under the command of Major General Robert Ross, between 19th and 25th August, 1814."

1 volume 12mo. 16 pages. Said to have been found among General Jackson's papers. Purchased, 1914. (72) "Memoirs of an Old Officer," [Major Richard Augustus Wyvill, of the British Army, 1814] Sketch of his career from his entrance in the military school at Strasburg in 1778. He received a commission as Ensign in the 38th Regiment of Foot in 1780, embarked the following year for America, and landed at Charleston, S. C. Afterward, he was at New York, Flushing, Kings Bridge, and on duty on one of the guard ships in New York harbor. His later career as captain in the 79th Foot, and Major in the 7th West India Regiment, and the 3rd Royal Veterans, took him into Ireland, Scotland, Holland, Spain, Egypt, Minorca, the West Indies, and the islands of Guernsey and Jersey. His descriptions and comments on places and events are minute and interesting. His most notable services were in the campaign in Egypt and while in the West Indies. The notes on these periods are of exceptional interest. 1 volume, quarto, 420 pages. Probably from the Force purchase. (73) Journal of a voyage from Philadelphia to Canton, by F. C. Markoe, in the ship Pacific, May 26 to July 4, 1815. Nautical observations only. 1 volume, 20 pages, unbound. (74) Anonymous diary, stated to have been kept at Mount Vernon, January 11, 1819, to June 9, 1829; 1 volume, 8vo. (75) Journals of Titian Ramsay Peale, as follows: (a) Manuscript journal, kept while assistant naturalist on the expedition of Major Stephen H. Long. Covers the journey by steamboat from Pittsburg down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers and up the Missouri, May 3 to August 1, 1819, 1 volume quarto, oblong. (b) Four volumes, octavo, of notes taken on the expedition to the South Seas, under Lieutenant Charles Wilkes. The first volume, labeled "Notes, No. 2," dates from April 12 to October 10, 1839, and covers the portion of the cruise from South America to Tahiti. The second volume is "Notes No. 3," September 24, 1839, to June 13, 1840; Tahiti and other islands, Australia and New Zealand. The third volume, labeled "Notes," extends from January 1 to July 18, 1841. It ends abruptly, when the ship "Peacock," bearing Peale's portion of the expedition, was

KENT

William Howard, William J. Graves, George H. Pendleton and John Tyler. A letter of Kennedy to George E. Badger, and a sketch of Kennedy's titled "Gilmore's Pranks", 1857. Purchased, 1913.

JAMES KENT

The papers of Chancellor James Kent, of New York, presented to the Library, in 1904, by his grandson, William Kent, of Tuxedo Park, New York, and increased, in 1906, by the presentation, by the same donor, of sixteen commissions and diplomas, dated from 1781 to 1823, and in 1914, by the diary, covering the years 1835 to 1838, from Mrs. William Stone, for the heirs of William Stone, of Boston.

The papers have been mounted and bound in eleven volumes. They begin with the year 1779, and continue to 1847. Supplemental to these are the fifteen volumes of journals, or diaries, giving the records of some thirty-one journeys taken between the years 1792 and 1846. These include two journeys to Washington; one in 1793, when he was accompanied by James Greenleaf, and a second in 1820. Of the letters in the collection, numbering almost a thousand, approximately a third were written before the year 1800. The larger portion of the collection is composed of family letters, those of the Chancellor's brother, Moss Kent, and his son William, predominating. Other correspondents were John Quincy Adams, Simeon Baldwin, Nicholas Biddle, Henry Clay, Francis Lieber, George McDuffie, Charles O'Connor, Jonas Platt, William H. Seward, Lemuel Shaw, John Cotton Smith, Charles Sumner, W. W. Van Ness, Daniel Webster, Noah Webster, William Wirt, R. B. Taney, Rufus Choate, Henry Wheaton, Horace Binney, Luther Martin, and John Marshall.

There are original reminiscences of Alexander Hamilton, prepared by Mr. Kent for Mrs. Hamilton, and a similar paper, containing reminiscences of Kent by Simeon Baldwin.

KINGJAMES KENT

KENTUCKY

A portfolio of Tax lists, 1792-1798, fifty-five documents. Purchased, 1911.

FRANCIS SCOTT KEY

Two letters to his wife, April 22, 1841, and December 2, 1842. Purchased, 1901. Also, a photograph of the manuscript of the Star Spangled Banner, in Key's autograph. Gift, 1913 of H. Walters, of New York.

BENJAMIN KING

A portfolio of letters addressed to Dr. Benjamin King, surgeon U. S. Army, 1825-1863. Many of these letters are from other members of the Medical Corps, and contain information regarding the Indian campaigns in the South, and the invasion of Mexico. Political affairs are frequently touched upon. Correspondents are: T. P. Andrews, John B. Blake, Thomas S. Jesup, Johnson Rogers, John C. Graham, Alexander Macomb, H. L. Heiskell, J. B. Porter, Charles S. Tripler, Samuel A. Roberts, D. E. Twiggs, L. A. Birdsall, J. B. Wells, John Garland, Robert Newton, G. E. Cooper, G. H. Crosman and Sterling Price. Purchased, 1913.

HORATIO KING

Seven bound volumes of letters, given to the Library by Mrs. Horatio King, of Washington, D. C., in 1911. The earliest volume is labeled 1840-1858, but this is incorrect, as the collection actually begins in 1835, with two letters of Grant Thorburn (Lawrie Todd). The last volume is labeled "1889-1891."

The letters cover the period of King's work as an editor in Portland, Maine, and his years in Washington as assistant Postmaster General, Postmaster General, and as an attorney.

KINGSBURY

Among his correspondents were: Caleb Cushing, John Appleton, Elisha Whittlesey, Virgil D. Parris, Nahum Capen, Edward Littell, William K. Kimball, Robert Morse, William W. Belknap, C. A. Colt, Hannibal Hamlin, William P. Preble, Lewis Cass, J. W. Merriam, Franklin Pierce, Moses Coit Tyler, A. G. Mackey, Schuyler Colfax, John A. Dix, Edwin M. Stanton.

RUFUS KING

Letter, dated February 10, 1787, regarding Shay's Rebellion. Purchased, 1908. There are other King letters in the Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Hamilton, Van Buren and C. B. Smith collections.

JACOB KINGSBURY

Jacob Kingsbury entered the Continental Army as a private, in 1775, was appointed lieutenant of infantry in 1789 and served through Wayne's Indian campaign. He rose to the rank of Inspector General, and was for many years on duty at Detroit and Mackinaw, and afterwards at Belle Fontaine, Fort Adams, and New Orleans. He commanded Fort Walcott, in Newport harbor, in 1812.

The collection numbers 358 pieces—letters for the most part—dating from 1727 to 1815.

The earliest papers are deeds and other land records of members of the Hartshorn family, of Norwich, Connecticut. The first paper of Jacob Kingsbury himself is in the year 1800. There are a number of military papers,—enlistments, garrison orders, court martial proceedings, guard mounts at Fort Walcott for the year 1812, a countersign book of 1813, and inspection returns for 1814. There are letters of John Pratt, Uriah Tracy, James Wilkinson, Thomas H. Cushing, H. B. Brevoort and Horatio Stark. There are numerous letters from Jacob Kingsbury's sons, James W. and Thomas H. C. Kingsbury. The latter was in the far west about 1825, and his letters contain accounts of his travels and adventures.

The collection is bound in three volumes and was purchased in 1906.

A collection of forty original manuscripts, relating to the genealogy of the Marquis de Lafayette, together with portrait prints; mounted in a special portfolio. Presented in 1907 by Emile Edouard Cellérier, President of the International College of Heraldry, Paris, France, in behalf of himself and his daughter, Mademoiselle Louise France Cellérier, in memory of his deceased wife, Madame Gabrielle France Cellérier, née Cunningham, of New York. The manuscripts, which date from the time of the crusades (the earliest bearing the date of 1025) down to the period of the French Revolution, were collected from the cabinet of the genealogist, Hozier, from which they were obtained by Mr. Cellérier. They are prepared in heraldic form, beautifully executed by hand.

Among the single items obtained at various times from a number of sources are the following: (1) Letter to Thomas Bee, 178-, Sept. 3. (2) Copy of the letter to the Princess d'Henin, written in prison in 1793, with a toothpick, in ink made from soot; with an explanatory letter from George L. Burr, of the Cornell University Library, to Theodore F. Dwight, 5 November, 1879. (3) Copy of a letter regarding the services of Colonel Robert Hanson Harrison, January 9, 1825. A folio volume of Force Transcripts, 1777-1789. "Originals in the New York Historical Society's Library." Early letters are on military subjects, and are from Henry Knox, Samuel H. Parsons, Benedict Arnold, Alexander McDougall and Pierre Eugene du Simitière. A hiatus occurs from December, 1782, to June, 1788. After that date there are letters from Patrick Henry, Rawlins Lowndes, Richard Henry Lee, Samuel Chase, William Grayson, Joshua Atherton, George Clinton and others, regarding the ratification of the Federal Constitution, addressed to John Lamb, Esq., Chairman of the Federal Republican Committee.

WILLIAM LAMBERT

JEAN MARGARET DAVENPORT LANDER

First, the letters and papers of Brigadier General Frederick West Lander; and, second, letters, and papers consisting of press notices and play bills, of his wife, who, before her marriage in 1860, was Jean Margaret Davenport, the English actress.

LANDER

In point of size, and in importance, the first group quite outweighs the second. It comprises four bound volumes of letter, note and scrap books, and about five hundred documents—letters, reports and miscellaneous papers—all relating to his explorations and surveys in the West, made for the Government, to determine the practicability of a railroad route to the Pacific; to his work as engineer in charge of the great overland wagon road; or to his active military career in the Civil War.

The letter book, an octavo volume, contains letters and full reports made by General Lander in 1857-8 to W. M. F. Magraw, Superintendent Central Division Northern Pacific Wagon Road; and letters to H. K. Nichols, B. F. Ficklen, John F. Mallowney. A quarto volume bears the title: "Ft. Kearney, South Pass & Honey Lake Wagon Road, East Div. Notes of Travel, Courses and Distances between Ft. Laramie and Ft. Thompson Road, 1857"; signed by John F. Mallowney, Asst. Eng. and R. L. Poor. Two quarto scrap books contain newspaper clippings, 1857-1862, regarding Lander's expeditions, road building, the Pacific Railway project, his Civil War activities; the statue of Virginia Dare, executed by his sister Louisa; and the Potter-Pryor affair in 1860. The second volume consists almost entirely of obituary notices of General Lander. There are also many other newspaper clippings, unmounted.

Among the papers of the Western enterprises are a sketch map of the Northern Pacific Railroad Expedition from St. Paul to Fort Union, 1853; a map of the "Wagon Road from Platte River via Omaha Reserve and Dakota City to Running Water River," George L. Sites, Superintendant, 1858; a printed memorial of the Pacific Railway Convention to the President and Congress, San Francisco, 1859; a printed letter of Theodore D. Judah, Sacramento, November 10, 1860, regarding the railroad through California; and the manuscript and several printed copies of the "Emigrant Guide," prepared by Lander, for the use of overland travelers.

The Civil War papers comprise letters, orders, reports, telegrams, etc., 1861-2, a manuscript map of "The Seat of War of the Upper Potomac, under command of Brig. Gen. Lander, Jan. 24, 1862," drawn by Colonel G. E. Porter, also letters from General Lander to his wife and to Simon Cameron, Jacob Thompson, Joseph Lane, Moses Kelly, Lansing Stout, James A. McDougall, C. E. Mix and George B. McClellan. Also letters from Isaac Roop, Josiah Pierce, Jr, Courtney Schenck, H. W. Benham, William D. Northend, E. D. Keyes, Francis Winthrop Palfrey, John R. Kenley, John Fred. May, M. D., H. G. Armstrong, R. J. Joachimson, Caleb Blood Smith and others.

The second group of papers—those of Mrs. Lander—consists of five scrap-books of press notices, programs and announcements, which date from 1836 to 1869, covering Mrs. Lander's dramatic career abroad as well as in America; and a small group of personal letters from Mary Anderson, Edwin Booth, Dion Boucicault, Louis Blanc, introducing Mrs. Lander to George Sand, Alice Cary, Phoebe Cary, James Freeman Clarke, Anna Dickinson, Millard Fillmore, Helen Faucit, John Gilbert, John Hay, T. W. Higginson, Gail Hamilton (Mary A. Dodge), Joseph Jefferson, L. Keene, Harriet P. Lane, Julia Marlowe, Whitelaw Reid, A. C. Ritchie, Stuart Robson, Charles Reade and T. Buchanan Read.

LYMAN BARKER LANGWORTHY

CHARLES LANMAN

Two folio volumes of letters, mainly to Lanman, with a few extraneous ones of autographic interest from 1820 to 1880 relating to literary, political and personal matters. Among the writers are Horace Greeley, Phillips Brooks, Lewis Cass, Alexander H. Stephens, Reverdy Johnson, Edward Bates, John W. Foster, William Woodbridge, William M. Evarts, George W. Crawford, S. S. Cox, William Seaton, and Joseph Gales. Purchased, 1914.

LAURENS

BENJAMIN HENRY LATROBE

Two large volumes (670 pages and index) of copies of the correspondence of B. H. Latrobe, September, 1805, to November, 1817, in reference to the Capitol building at Washington. The letters discuss the plans for the building, arrangements for heating and lighting, interior fittings, and the final work of preparing it for occupancy by Congress. Latrobe's controversy with Thornton and his resignation are touched upon. A majority of the letters are addressed to John Lenthall, the clerk of the works at the Capitol. Others are to Thomas Jefferson, John Marshall, Aaron Burr, Samuel Otis, Philip Mazzei, Samuel Mifflin, George Blagden, George Logan, Thomas Munroe, John Rea, Joseph Lane, John Law and others. The original letters, of which these volumes are copies, are in the possession of Mr. W. S. Abert, of Washington, D. C., a grandson of John Lenthall.

Also an original letter to Charles Willson Peale, April 18, 1806, regarding decorations for the front of the Capitol building. Gift, 1904, of Osmun Latrobe, of New York.

federate Sword Factory, 1862-1865; and various papers relating to civil suits, 1864-1865.

Photograph prints of the official civil dispatches from the Governor of Louisiana to the Captain-general of Cuba, 1766-91, from originals in the Archives of the Indies at Seville, Spain, selected from the series known as "Papeles procedentes de la Isla de Cuba." 2089 prints with a type-written calendar. Purchased, 1916.

WOODBURY LOWERY

Eighteen volumes of transcripts and notes from Spanish sources, relating to the Spanish settlements in the United States, received, in 1907, under terms of the will of Woodbury Lowery, of Washington, D. C. These volumes contain the material gathered by Mr. Lowery for use in the preparation of his unfinished history of the "Spanish Settlements Within the Present Limits of the United States" and are copies in full or briefs of documents. Ten volumes, dating from 1551 to 1800, pertain to Florida. Five volumes, 1538-1800, relate to New Mexico. Two volumes contain records of California, 1588-1800; Texas, 1673-1803; and Louisiana, 1766-1803. A volume of miscellaneous records begins with 1522. The maps in the collection have been card catalogued and are deposited in the Maps Division.

LOYALISTS.

Proceedings of the Loyalist Commissioners, 1785-1786. In thirty-five volumes, being notes of proceedings and evidence taken before the British commissioners in Canada in settling claims of loyalists for losses sustained in the American Revolution. The manuscript was sent to the Smithsonian Institution by General Sir Henry Lefroy, in 1864, and was transferred to the Library with the Smithsonian collection, in 1866, under the act for that purpose. It was printed, in two volumes, with an index, as the Second Report of the Bureau of Archives for the Province of Ontario, by Alexander Fraser, Provincial Archivist, 1904, (Toronto, 1905).

McARTHUR

Three bound volumes, probably from the Force purchase: "Loyalist Rhapsodies," an 8° vol. of songs composed for and sung on various occasions by British sympathizers, 1775-1783; "Collections with Regard to the Case of the American Loyalists," a broadside, 7 pp., [pr. London, 1783?], 1 vol. fol.; "British Army Embarkation, 1783," contains "Orders, 15 April 1783," and "Minutes of the Board of Commissioners for Superintending Embarkations, &c., held 30 May, 1783." Memorial of Samuel Marshall [Loyalist of Bladen Co., N. C.] to the Commissioners appointed to inquire into the losses and services of the American Loyalists; 2 pp. fol., 1784. Purchased, 1913. A package of photostat copies of muster rolls of Loyalist regiments and companies during the Revolution, and miscellany, presented by Dr. Carlos E. Godfrey, of Washington, D. C., 1912.

CHARLES LUKENS

See Almanacs, 1783.

DUNCAN McARTHUR

The papers of Duncan McArthur comprise approximately 10,000 pieces, and extend from 1784 to 1839 inclusive. They are arranged chronologically, in 72 portfolios:

1. The land papers, consist of hundreds of notes of surveys, plats of land and of districts, tax sales and returns, and other land documents.

2. The military papers, 1812-1815, consist of a large number of army returns, reports of officers at various posts on the Northwest frontier, general orders from the War Department, McArthur's own orders, and a voluminous correspondence with superior and subordinate officers. The letters relate not only to campaign events, but daily camp routine and personal matters. Letters from Croghan, Cass, Shelby, Harrison are included in this group.

McCLELLAN

3. The political papers consist almost entirely of correspondence. Many of McArthur's own letters are included. They picture the social and political life in Washington, and those written to his wife freely express his views of current topics and his opinions of public men.

There are two paper-bound folio volumes of general orders, provisions returns, and correspondence of 1812-1814; a large folio book of Enlistments, 1812-1814, marked "Lieut. Colo. George Tod, 17th Inftry, Storekeepers' Account books, 1809-1815; and an Ohio Gazetteer for 1826. Purchased, 1905.

GEORGE B. McCLELLAN

The papers of General George Brinton McClellan, presented to the Library, in 1911 and added to in 1916, by his son, Hon. George B. McClellan, of New York City.

This collection embraces the entire body of papers, letters, letter books, despatch books, note books, and memoranda, which accumulated during the years of General McClellan's active life. The correspondence and other unbound manuscripts have been mounted and bound into 109 volumes. There are in addition some 95 volumes, of all sorts and sizes, in their original bindings.

Practically the collection begins with the year 1842, though there are one or two manuscripts of an earlier date, notably a letter of Madison, written in 1783. The first letters of McClellan are written from West Point, during the years 1842 to 1846, and are addressed to his mother, and to his sister, Mrs. T. C. English. His valedictory speech as President of the Dialectic Society, at West Point, is also among the papers of this period.

The letters to his mother and sister continue throughout his stay in Mexico, and there are additional letters of a similar character to his father and other members of the family. Letters from Col. J. G. Totten, from the Adjutant General's office, and numerous Executive Orders and circulars relate to military operations between Vera Cruz and Mexico City. There is a letter of Captain Robert E. Lee, in 1848, conveying an order of General Butler, directing McClellan to repair with his company to West Point. A private journal, 1846-1853, contains many notes and sketches of fortifications, etc., taken in Mexico. There is also a notebook of the year 1846, and a cash book, 1847-1848.

In 1852, McClellan was on an exploration on the Red River, and later was Engineer in Charge of an expedition in Texas. In the year following, he was on engineering duty in Oregon and Washington, part of the time as constructing engineer on the western division of the Northern Pacific Railroad. Letters of this period are from R. B. Marcy, Persifor F. Smith, J. D. Foster, Isaac D. Stevens, B. Alvord, Charles E. Mix, George Gibbs, J. R. Giddings and Columbia Lancaster. There are a letter book covering this period, and several notebooks, among them one, containing notes on fortifications, etc., and a Comanche alphabet, kept by J. F. Mintner, at Fort Vancouver, July-Oct., 1853.

As a member of a military commission, appointed to study the operations of both armies in the Crimean War, McClellan was sent to Europe in 1855. He gathered material for a report which was afterward published by Congress. The notes on cavalry instructions and tactics are particularly full.

The interim between 1857 and the outbreak of the Civil War is illustrated by routine business letters written as President of the St. Louis, Missouri and Cincinnati R. R., some local Ohio items, and by letters from Winfield Scott, E. D. Townsend and William Dennison.

The early years of the Civil War furnish the largest proportion of papers to this collection. There are letters of Lincoln, Stanton, Cameron, McDowell, Banks, Buell, Burnside, Halleck, Marcy, Barnard, Ingalls, Sumner, Weeks, Meade, Tucker, Van Vliet, Heintzelman, Wool, despatches, casualty lists, reports on fortifications.

McCLELLAN

In 1864 and 1865, there are letters from Leslie Combs, Mantou Marble, J. J. Astor, Jr., Millard Fillmore, John A. Dix, Joel Parker, James C. Welling, C. L. Vollandigham, Benjamin Rush, Amos Kendall, D. W. Voorhees, Charles M. Swann, H. B. Whipple, Hiram Ketchum and George Ticknor Curtis. These pertain, for the most part, to political affairs.

For the years succeeding the Civil War, there are copies of letters written by McClellan while abroad, letters to and from Marcy and Grant; a letter from the Trustees, offering McClellan the Presidency of the University of California, and a similar one from the Trustees of Union College; a long letter from McClellan to Burnside on the project for the organization of the army; manuscripts regarding the Department of Docks of New York City; the Stevens Battery; the affairs of the office of the Governor of New Jersey; and of the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Soldiers. Many of the letters are from his friends, G. W. Smith, Fitz John Porter, W. B. Franklin, W. C. Prime and R. B. Marcy. Among other writers were Nathaniel B. Shurtleff, Augustus Woodbury, S. P. Heintzelman, Allan Pinkerton, F. S. Blount, Thomas B. Peddie and Stephen W. Tichenor. There are a number of extracts of letters of Montgomery; and numerous letters from old soldiers.

McClellan's notebooks and private journals are intact to the year of his death. The letter books cease with the end of his active military service. The collection contains a number of miscellaneous small volumes and packets of papers, some of which are as follows: "Notes on the Coast of the U. S.," by A. D. Bache, Superintendent U. S. Survey, June and October, 1861, 2 packets; a packet of Receipts, Army Returns, etc.; 2 books of mounted botanical specimens, collected in Europe, 1865-1866; manuscript of McClellan's Memoirs, 3 large packets; 2 scrapbooks of newspaper items about McClellan; and a book of telegrams of sympathy received by his family at the time of his death.

ROBERT McCREADY

HUGH McCULLOCH

Three portfolios of correspondence, deposited, in 1913, by his daughter, Mrs. Louise McCulloch Yale, of Sparkill, N. Y. Though the earliest letter is dated 1855, the collection in reality begins in 1863, at the time he entered upon his duties as Comptroller of the Treasury; and the succeeding years of his connection with the Treasury Department in that office, and later as Secretary are recorded in these letters. After 1869, there are but few papers, though scattered letters as late as 1894 are included.

The letters to McCulloch far outnumber those written by him, though there are a number of the latter, addressed to S. P. Chase, Morris Ketchum, J. M. Forbes, Charles Sumner, Robert C. Winthrop, John Sherman, C. B. Farwell and others.

The subjects of finance, currency, the reduction of the national debt, and the tariff, form the contents of most of the letters; other matters, however, such as Reconstruction issues, and the enfranchisement of negroes, are discussed. There are several letters regarding the assassination of President Lincoln, and a letter from Mrs. James G. Blaine, written after a visit to the bedside of President Garfield, shortly before his death. Many congratulatory letters are included in the papers of 1865, the year of McCulloch's appointment to the Cabinet, and numerous communications from the President, in the hand of his secretary, are among the papers of the succeeding years.

GEORGE McCULLY

JAMES McHENRY

Letter to William Vans Murray, Jan. 4, 1795, from the Toner Collection; and one to Robert Oliver, Feb. 16, 1816, on the subject of a history of the Democratic Administrations. Purchased, 1913. Other McHenry letters are in the Continental Congress, Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson and Madison Papers.

WILLIAM McKINLEY

A Memorial of William McKinley by George H. Arbeely. Written in minute Arabic characters. Framed under glass. With accompanying explanatory letter. Gift, 1902, of George H. Arbeely, Washington, D. C. Facsimiles of a letter to Alexander H. Revell, Chicago, Sept. 17, 1898; and a letter Feb. 27, 1900, respecting the Longfellow memorial.

LOUIS McLANE

Five letters to and from Henry N. Cruger, 1829-1830, regarding South Carolina documents in the British State Paper Office. With copies of letters of Lord Aberdeen upon the same subject.

McPHERSONJOHN McLEAN

The papers of Justice John McLean, given to the Library, in 1907, by Mrs. N. C. McLean and her son, Marshall McLean, of New York, comprise public and political correspondence, from the administration of Monroe to the outbreak of the Civil War.

The collection contains about 2500 letters, extending from 1822 to 1861, and is bound in nineteen volumes. There are few letters of McLean; letters to him compose practically the entire collection. Among the writers are James Monroe, James Madison, John C. Calhoun, Isaac Hill, Richard M. Johnson, Ninian Edwards, S. D. Ingham, Edward Everett, James Buchanan, Duff Green, John H. Eaton, Thomas Corwin, A. H. Tracy, William C. Rives, William H. Seward, Richard Peters, Joseph Story, Salmon P. Chase, Charles Sumner and Thomas Ewing.

WILLIAM MACLAY

(See Journals and Diaries, 1789.)

JOHN McNEIL

A portfolio of papers, of Brigadier General John McNeill, mainly relating to the War of 1812. There is a muster roll of Captain Thomas Currier's Company of Colonel Aquila Davis's Regiment, March 31, 1813. The collection covers the years 1802-1845. The correspondence does not begin until about 1820. In it are letters of Franklin Pierce, Henry Leavenworth, Samuel Bell, W. B. Lewis, A. J. Dallas, Abbott Lawrence, Thomas Sydney Jesup, Chandler E. Patten, N. P. Banks, Horatio King and others. Purchased, 1907.

EDWARD McPHERSON

The collection comprises the papers of Edward McPherson, of Pennsylvania.

They begin with 1822, and extend to 1895. There are about a hundred speeches and essays of McPherson.

MADISON.

The bulk of the collection lies within the period of McPherson's clerkship. Among the papers are a great many recommendations for office. McPherson intended to write the biography of Thaddeus Stevens, the small collection of whose papers, now in the Library, was received with the McPherson purchase.

DOROTHY PAYNE MADISON

The papers of Dolly Madison were deposited in the Smithsonian Institution, whence they were transferred to the Library of Congress in 1866. In 1909 they were augmented by the purchase of some 900 miscellaneous pieces.

The collection covers a period from 1800 to 1851. The papers deal in the main with family matters pertaining to Mrs. Madison's financial transactions, and those of her son, John Payne Todd. There are a few papers relating to the settlement of the estate of Col. William Madison; an inventory of the pictures, statuary and other household furnishings at Montpelier; also three small pass books, running from December 4, 1843, to April 13, 1846, containing Mrs. Madison's accounts with E. Simms, Grocer. The greater part of the collection is made up of correspondence. It comprises many drafts, written by Anna Payne, Mrs. Madison's niece, for Mrs. Madison, and by Mrs. Madison herself; and a still larger number of various communications to Mrs. Madison. There are numerous letters to and from her son, John Payne Todd, and her nephews and nieces. The earliest letters are from Anthony Morris, of Philadelphia, and his daughter, Miss Phoebe P. Morris. Other correspondents were: Stephen Decatur, John S. Barbour, William B. King, William Maury, N. P. Trist, Rev. James Laurie, Eliza Lee, Elizabeth D. Tillman, Ann Maury, Eliza Gilpin and Mrs. Sarah C. Polk.

JAMES MADISON

These are the papers which James Madison left. The first group was acquired from his estate, in 1836; the second from the same source in 1848; the third from the Chicago Historical Society, in 1910. To these were added a few papers already in the Library. The two groups first named were transferred to the Library by the State Department, in 1905; but the Department retained Madison's original notes of debates in the Federal Convention of 1787, and a few other papers of that period.

MADISON

The whole collection is in 105 bound volumes. Two volumes are the transcripts of the notes of debates in the Constitutional Convention of 1787, and several Revolutionary documents, and the notes of debates in the Continental Congress, 1782-1783, and 1787; made under Madison's direction, a few years before his death. There is a bound volume of the National Gazette, with Madison's Essays in it. Five volumes are of printed matter, being pamphlets, circulars and broadsides which Madison collected. The papers to and from Madison are separated. Twelve volumes are of writings of Madison, and sixty-three volumes of the writings to Madison. The letters of Madison run from 1796 to 1836; those to him from 1723 to 1845. They cover every phase of his career.

The letters of Madison are in the form of original letters, drafts and notes on slips of paper. Chief among those to whom they were addressed were: Joseph C. Cabell, A. J. Dallas, Thomas Jefferson (1780-1826), La Fayette, Henry Lee (1783-1792), James Madison, sr., (1769-1797), James Monroe (1784-1831), Edmund Pendleton (1780-1796), Edmund Randolph (1782-1792), Richard Rush, Nicholas P. Trist and George Washington (1783-1796). Besides these, the chief of those who wrote to him were: Jaquelin Ambler, John Armstrong, James Barbour, Joel Barlow, Mathew Carey, Edward Carrington, Daniel Carroll, W. C. C. Claiborne, Thomas Cooper, Francis Corbin, Tench Coxe, William H. Crawford, B. W. Crowninshield, John Dawson, Henry Dearborn, William Duane, Andrew Ellicott, Albert Gallatin (1801-1831), David Gelston, Elbridge Gerry (1804-1814), George Graham, John Graham, William Grayson (1785-1787), Cyrus Griffin, Alexander Hamilton (1783-1793), Paul Hamilton, William H. Harrison, Charles J. Ingersoll, James Jackson, John G. Jackson, Joseph Jones, William Jones, George Joy, Rufus King, Henry Lee, William Lee, Robert R. Livingston, Rev. James Madison, James Maury, Philip Mazzei, Charles Pinckney, William Pinkney, Caesar A. Rodney, Hubbard Taylor, James Taylor, William Thornton, Jacob Wagner and Alexander White.

The State Department Calendar, a Bulletin of the Bureau of Rolls and Library, 1894, covers the State Department groups,—about two-thirds of the whole, and there is a MS. calendar of the remainder.

ALFRED T. MAHAN

Manuscript of an address delivered before the American Historical Association, December 1902; with an accompanying letter to the Librarian of Congress. Presented 1903, by the author.

MAINE

Historical sketch of Deer Isle, Hancock County, Maine, by Charles W. Bryant, July 4, 1876. Prepared and deposited in the Library of Congress in compliance with a resolution of Congress, of March 13, 1876.

MARIA R. MANN

Six letters written to her from the Freedmen's Camp at Helena, Arkansas, from February to April, 1863, concerning personal matters and descriptive of the Camp. Gift in 1916 of George C. Mann of Milton, Mass.

MARY MANN

Sixty-three letters written to Mary Mann (Mrs. Horace Mann) from Sarmiento, Mitre y Vedia, Manuel R. Garcia and others in South America, New York and Washington. The letters bear upon industrial and educational questions in South America and personal matters. Most of them are in Spanish. Gift in 1916 of George C. Mann, Milton, Mass.

MARCY

FRANÇOIS de BARBÉ, Marquis de MARBOIS

A small volume, of thirty-six pages, from the hand of the Marquis de Barbé-Marbois, entitled "Comparaison de l'État des Cultivateurs Allemands avec l'État des Cultivateurs Français."

Also, a number of letters by Marbois, notably six addressed to Thomas Bee, of Charleston, S. C., during the year 1783.

WILLIAM LEARNED MARCY

The papers of William Learned Marcy were deposited, without relinquishing title, by Mrs. Charles S. Sperry, through her son, Charles S. Sperry, of Boulder, Colorado, in 1915. They date from 1808 to 1857, the year of Marcy's death, and fill fifty-eight portfolios and four bound volumes. An unusual number of drafts and copies of letters from Marcy are in the collection.

The collection begins with Marcy's commonplace-book of his senior year at Brown University, 1808, and ends with sundry statements of individuals at Ballston Spa, respecting Marcy's death. There is an autograph draft of Marcy's "Remarks" on Judge Hammond's account of his removal from office as Recorder of Troy. Marcy's diary dates from 1831 to 1857.

Among the Marcy letters in the collection is a series of drafts—over five hundred in number—to General P. M. Wetmore, from 1839 to 1857, dealing with New York State politics; the letter book of private letters, written while Marcy was Secretary of War, 1845–1849 (one volume); a series of fifty or more political letters to James G. Berret, 1845 to 1857; autograph drafts of letters to Generals Taylor, Scott and Wool, during the Mexican War, 1846–1847, and instructions to Kearney for his guidance in conquering New Mexico and Upper California; a series of letters from Marcy to Samuel Beardsley, Lewis Cass, George W. Newell, P. M. Wetmore, Thomas Ritchie, F. G. Jewett and others, from April to December, 1849. A long autograph draft of a letter to Jabez D. Hammond, June 1, 1851, explains Marcy's entrance into Polk's Cabinet; and a volume of newspaper clippings, 1851-52, deals entirely with the efforts to nominate Marcy for the Presidency. Letters to Marcy deal with this and the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore, the selection of delegates, pledges, etc.—from Horatio Seymour, Thomas Osborne, John V. L. Pruyn, H. Gray, Cave Johnson, Duff Green, Archibald Campbell and others.

A letter-book of private letters, 1853-1855, to United States Ministers and others abroad (1 vol.), and drafts of diplomatic despatches to Central and South America, France, Great Britain, Spain, China and other countries, many of them in pencil; several drafts, in Marcy's handwriting, of Presidential messages to Congress, 1854-1856.

The letters to Marcy are letters from John L. Aspinwall, John Jacob Astor, August Belmont, William Cullen Bryant, James Buchanan, J. C. Calhoun, Lewis Cass, John M. Clayton, Howell Cobb, Peter Cooper, George M. Dallas, Charles A. Dana, Charles A. Davis, Jefferson Davis, John A. Dix, Edward Everett, James Gadsden, Duff Green, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Cave Johnson, Ambrose Dudley Mann, J. Y. Mason, Donn Piatt, Franklin Pierce, James K. Polk, John V. L. Pruyn, Roger A. Pryor, Richard Rush, William H. Seward, Horatio Seymour, J. C. Spencer, D. D. Tompkins, Isaac Toucey, Martin and John Van Buren, R. J. Walker, Thurlow Weed, J. R. Wheeler and Silas Wright.

MARIANA ISLANDS

The records of the Island of Guam were received by transfer from the Navy Department, in 1903. They begin with the year 1762, and continue, with many and serious gaps, to 1899.

The earlier records were in bad condition when received, due to damp and the ravages of insects, and in many instances, disintegration is complete. The more important records are as follows: 1762, Inquiry into the Spaniards, Mestizos and descendants, available for war with England, if the Island should be invaded. 1768, Court Decisions, one volume. 1771, Fees for Religious Offices, Baptisms, Marriages, Deaths, etc. 1787, General Index of Royal Decrees, received through the Governor

General of the Philippines for the government of the Marianas. 1797, Measures taken on declaration of War with England. 1797-1804, Military orders issued to Garrison. 1799, Tariff of Salaries, Wages and prices. 1799, Papers relating to the shipwreck of the English American Packet-ship, The Espermen. 1794-1800, Orders issued by the Governor of Guam, Don Manuel Muro, to the Commandants of the towns of the island. 1800, Two decrees of the Superior Government, published by order, in the Spanish and "Chamorro" languages . . . on the Spanish victory over the English in the Plaza of Zamboanga, P. I. 1801, Report on Fortifications. 1801, Notes on the passage of the English fleet from the village of Umata. 1802, Capture of the English Frigate La Paloma. 1802-1806, Orders and Dispatches during the government of Blanco. 1818-1822, Official documents during the Government of José Medinilla. 1822, Regulations of Church Titles. 1822 and 1826-1831, Instructions issued to Governors on assuming office. 1822-1823, Dispatches and memorials to the Governor General of the Philippines. 1824 and 1829, Decrees; two volumes. 1835, Instructions for the government of the Island. 1855-1859, Copies of Decrees on various subjects. 1858-1892, Volumes of orders issued to the Commandant of Guam by the Governor General of the Philippines; (fifteen volumes, some of them copies). 1860-1899, Many documents relating to the executive branch of government, comprising Budgets, Election Laws, Circulars on Finance, and volumes of Decrees on various subjects. 1843-1899, Reports on various subjects: the failure of the crops, prices of articles, copper money, the entrance of strangers, coast improvements, investigation of the Judges, lists of officers, land laws, and provincial agents. (A few of these are in print), 1861-1898, A series of documents on cock-fighting, giving instructions on rules of cock-pits, concessions of cock-fighting privileges, and the celebration of a festival by a Te Deum and cock-fight. 1860-1899, Judicial Decrees, depositions, petitions, and letters addressed to the Judge of First Instance. 1847-1886, A few documents on Medical Regulations. 1831-1858, A few documents on Military Matters. 1828-1895, Maritime Regulations. 1859-1892, Prison reports and Instructions. 1837-1885, Public Works. 1896 and 1897, Census and Vital Returns. 1836-1885, Education.

MARIANA

Items from other sources are: Five volumes, the gift, 1915, of William Edwin Safford, of Washington, D. C., four of which are copies of records in the archives at Agaña, made for Mr. Safford, in 1899-1900, while he acted as Assistant Governor of Guam.

The first volume contains copies of the proceedings of the Spanish authorities against Don Juan Antonio Pimantel, Governor of the Marianas in 1720-21, for giving aid and comfort to the English. (This was the expedition of Captain Woodes Rogers, which touched at Guam in 1710, and to which Pimantel, under compulsion, furnished supplies.)

The second volume consists of copies of the reports made during the years 1828-1835, by Don Francisco Ramon de Villalobos, Captain in the Royal Corps of Artillery, to Don Mariano Ricafort, the Captain-General of the Philippines. In December, 1828, new regulations were issued by the latter for the government of the Marianas, and Villalobos was sent to study the condition of affairs in the group, with a view of reporting and making suggestions for improvements. These reports are very full, and embrace the agricultural and commercial activities of the Islands, living conditions, the amount of sickness, etc.

The third volume consists of reports of Don Pablo Perez, Governor of the Islands, to the Captain-General of the Philippines, regarding internal affairs, between the years 1848-1855.

The fourth volume contains reports of Don Felipe de la Corte, similar to the above, but covering the years 1856-1858.

The fifth volume is typewritten, and bears the title "The Mariana Islands. Notes compiled by W. E. Safford from Documents in the Archives at Agaña, the Capital of Guam, and from early Voyages found in the Libraries of San Francisco, California": These notes were prepared by Mr. Safford in his book on "The Useful Plants of Guam," published by the Smithsonian Institution, 1905. The volume covers the history of the Island, from 1521 to the seizure of Guam by the United States in 1898.

MARINE

"Historia de las Islas Marianas desde la Llegada de los Espanoles hasta hoy 15 de Mayo de 1870," por Filipa Maria de la Corte y Ruano Calderon. Gift, 1916 of W. E. Safford, Washington, D. C. MARSHALL

FRANCIS MARKOE

The papers of Francis Markoe begin with the year 1837 and end with 1858. Twenty-one portfolios of papers are embraced within these years. There are two manuscript articles of Markoe on "Indian" and "Documentary History of the American Revolution," which were published in Walsh's Quarterly Review for September, 1835, and a Catalogue of the Mineralogical and Geological cabinet of George Wurtz Hughes; also a large number of autographs of prominent personages, among them a number of distinguished Greeks.

The correspondence deals with State Department matters, consular appointments, the affairs of the Columbian Institute, and, to some extent, with the political events of the time. Francis Markoe lived at Tulip Hill, the ancient estate of the Galloway family at West River, Maryland, and there are numerous letters from relatives and others regarding local affairs. George Wurtz Hughes, the engineer, and his wife also lived at West River, and many of their letters are included in the collection.

Other correspondents are: G. M. Dallas, Alexander Byrne, Peter Force, Edward Kavanagh, W. Tudor Tucker, Henry D. Gilpin, R. Biddle, Robert Walsh, J. R. Ingersoll, Franklin Peale, George A. McCall, Richard S. Cone, J. George Latimer, R. L. Higginbottom, T. S. Thrasher, W. B. Lawrence, Christopher Hughes and Thomas Swann. Purchased 1906, with the Galloway and Maxcy collections.

One volume, folio.

MASON

GEORGE MASON

With the papers of James Murray Mason came a small group of papers of George Mason of Gunston Hall.

In all there are twenty-four pieces, dating from 1763 to 1791, the most important being an early committee draft of the Virginia Bill of Rights. One of the earliest papers is a letter addressed "To the Committee of Merchants in London," signed "A Virginia Planter." It is dated June 6, 1766. Mason's marriage agreement with Sarah Brent is another document.

The letters for the most part are addressed to his sons, George and John. Several others are to Martin Cockburn, Roger West, and the Virginia Delegates in the Continental Congress. Two of the letters, both addressed to his son George, were written at Philadelphia, during the session of the Constitutional Convention of 1787.

JAMES MURRAY MASON

The papers of James Murray Mason, the diplomatic agent of the Confederacy at London consist of five portfolios and a bound despatch book.

The records of the other important Confederate agency abroad—that at Paris—were destroyed at the end of the war, by the Secretary of the Agency. The London Agency records were carefully preserved by Mason, and brought back to this country upon his return. At his death they passed into the hands of his daughter.

The papers extend from 1838 to 1864; the despatch book from February 2, 1862, to May 1, 1865. There are a hundred letters of John Slidell, representative of the Confederate Government at Paris, to Mason.

The other papers are correspondence with Ambrose Dudley Mann, agent of the Confederacy in Belgium, and L. Q. C. Lamar, agent in Russia; papers of Messrs. Spence, Williams, Lindsay, Clay and Holcombe; the correspondence with Charles O'Connor with reference to the defense of Jefferson Davis; the correspondence with Fraser, Trenholm & Co., and other fiscal agents of the Confederacy in London ; papers pertaining to cotton transactions ; correspondence with English sympathizers ; and miscellaneous letter to and from Mr. Mason. Also, the record book of his correspondence with the British Government and Secretary of State of the Confederacy. Purchased, 1912.

MASSACHUSETTS

Much of the material in this collection was included in the purchase of the Peter Force library, in 1867. The loose papers from this purchase have been mounted and bound, with others from a number of sources, into two folio volumes, dating from 1637 to 1809. Additional loose papers, still unbound, are contained in a large portfolio. They date from 1746 to 1864.

Bound volumes from the Force collection are as follows: (1) Copy of Gov. Thomas Dudley's letter to the Countess of Lincoln March, 1631, one volume. (2) Samuel Gorton's letter to Nathaniel Morton, Warwick, June 30, 1669, one volume. (3) Transcript of Captain Scottow's "Narrative of ye Voyage to Pemaquid," 1677, one small volume. (4) "Account of a voyage to Penobscot in Maine, by Samuel Penhallow and Theodore Atkinson, Esqrs., Who were sent with Supplies for the Indians by Lieutenant Governor Partridge," 1703. Transcript ; one volume. (5) Letter of Jeremiah Dummer to Timothy Lyndal, Esq., Speaker of the House of Representatives, April 12, 1721, one volume. (6) Martha's Vineyard, Dukes County. A portfolio of papers, chiefly legal, 1722-1800. Information relative to the towns of Tisbury, Edgartown and Chilmark, and the Indians of Martha's Vineyard. (7) "Reduction of Louisburg, 1745," History of, one volume. (8) "The State of the Government of Massachusetts Bay, as it stood in the year 1757." Copy, indorsed, "Copied from a paper in the handwriting of Governor Pownall. It relates to causes that might induce Massachusetts to act independent of the mother Country," one volume. (9) Minutes of the meeting to establish Hampshire County College, 1761. 1 small vol. (10) "Journal of the Proceedings of the Commissioners of New York, at a Congress with the Commissioners of Massachusetts Bay, relative to the Establishment of a Partition Line of Jurisdiction between said Provinces," 1767.

(11) A Catalogue of Letters, Resolves, Petitions, Council Papers, etc., 1774-1786, five volumes. (12) "Votes of Towns on Independence," 1776, one volume. (13) Journal of the Committee appointed by the States of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island to confer regarding further emissions of Paper Currency, etc." 1776, one volume. (14) "Doings of the Committee of States of New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Connecticut, assembled at Boston, August, 1780, to consider the Affairs relating to the War," one volume.

Two small, unbound packets of (15) Hazard copies of Massachusetts records, 1620-1774, were also obtained with the Force library.

From other sources have been acquired: (16) a volume of Massachusetts Miscellany, 1755-1766, including documents relating to the sugar trade; and papers in the Chancery suit of Barrell vs. Gerrish; also, a letter of Isaac Addington to Hon. William Blathwayt, October 4, 1692. Purchased, 1913. (17) A paper-bound volume, "Records of Soldiers and Officers, War of the Rebellion, 1861; Muster Rolls of Companies of the 59th Volunteers, 1864." Purchased, 1910. (18) Record of Construction and plans of the Mystic Water Works, Charlestown, Massachusetts, 1862-1865. Gift of Roberdeau Buchanan, 1909. (19) Historical sketch of the town of Eastham, Massachusetts, by Herman Doane, July 4, 1876. (20) Historical address delivered in Shirley, Massachusetts, July 4, 1876, by Seth Chandler. Deposited, as was No. 19, in compliance with a resolution of Congress, March 13, 1876. (21) Mounted photographs of the pages of Cotton's manuscript of "An Abstracte of the Lawes of Newe England."

Two large volumes contain miscellaneous letters and papers, mounted in a chronological arrangement, 1637-1809; and a large portfolio contains similar material, unmounted, 1746-1864. Included among these papers are: A copy of the Articles of Confederation between Massachusetts, Plymouth, Connecticut and

MATTHEW FONTAINE MAURY

The papers of Captain Matthew Fontaine Maury, presented, in 1912, with a collection of medals, by Mrs. Mary Maury Werth, the daughter of Captain Maury, and other of his descendents. The medals were deposited in the National Museum, and the books and papers in the Library.

The manuscript material consists of five volumes of letter books; nine journals, including a volume of "notes" for a physical survey of Virginia; two large packages of newspaper clippings, and addresses in pamphlet form; the proof of Maury's unpublished work on astronomy; an autobiographical sketch, 1864; and a testimonial of American shipowners, masters and merchants, containing over four hundred signatures.

The papers commence with the year 1825 and continue to 1874. They cover Maury's career from the age of nineteen, when he was appointed a midshipman in the Navy, to his death, at Lexington, Virginia, in 1873. His work as superintendent of the depots of charts and instruments at Washington, and afterwards as superintendent of the combined Hydrographic Office and National Observatory; his independent scientific activities and interests; his services in behalf of the Confederacy; and his later efforts to establish a colony of Americans in Mexico, are all developed in these letters and journals.

There are letters of the Grand Duke Constantine of Russia, Humboldt, Maximilian, Carlotta, and Pope Pius IX. The letter books, which, with one exception, are press copies, contain letters of Maury to William Blackford, Franklin Minor, Lucien Minor, Bishop Otey of Tennessee, F. W. Tremlett, Captain T. A. Dornin, William C. Hasbrouck, James Maury, Admiral Jensen, privy councilor to the King of Holland, Count Sartiges and Admiral Fitzroy, R. N.

VIRGIL MAXCY

Eight portfolios, covering a period from 1803 to 1836; and some twenty or more small volumes of notes on history, astronomy, geography and travel.

There are a large number of letters from public men, including a series of letters of John C. Calhoun, from 1820 to 1843, written in terms of full intimacy and political confidence. Maxcy prepared a biography of Calhoun, for which Calhoun furnished the material.

Legislative matters, affairs of the Consulate at Brussels, manufacturing interests at Walpole, Massachusetts, and a number of speeches are included.

Among the correspondents are James Monroe, Robert Walsh, Albert Gallatin, David Hoffman, B. Chew, J. E. Howard, Robert G. Harper, Edward Tilghman, William Appleton, A. C. Hanson, John C. Weems, William B. Magruder, John Ridgely, Henry W. De Saussure, Nathaniel Williams, Charles W. Goldsborough, William Sullivan, Joseph W. Story, Francis Scott Key, William Thornton, James Hamilton, Andrew Stevenson, Sir George Murray, Baring Brothers, Tristram Burges, Samuel Swartwout, Levi Woodbury, John H. B. Latrobe and Reverdy Johnson.

MEADE

The letters of Maxcy to his wife, during the years 1837 and 1838, are of his travels abroad, and descriptions of the places visited. Among the small volumes is a journal of his voyage from New York to Liverpool, 1837, in the packet ship Virginia. Purchased, with the Galloway and Markoe collection in 1906.

slave trade; and a letter to Jefferson Davis, Jan. 21, 1862. Purchased in 1907. Five letters, 1822-1823, from Bishop Richard Channing Moore; seven of Bishop N. H. Cobbs, 1835-1859; also Meade's autograph reasons for refusing to vote for the restoration of Bishop B. T. Onderdonk; undated. Purchased, 1912.

RETURN JONATHAN MEIGS

Commissions and letters of Col. Return Jonathan Meigs. These manuscripts, the gift in 1912 of Return Jonathan Meigs, 4th, through Miss Elizabeth M. Meigs, of Washington, D. C., have been mounted and bound in one folio volume. They date from 1772 to 1855, including seven of Col. Meigs's commissions, the resolve of Congress of 1777, presenting Col. Meigs with a sword, fifteen letters to him, among them two from Gen. Washington, and several from Gen. Jedidiah Huntington, William Eustis, and others. The sword which was presented to Col. Meigs by Congress was with this gift of papers and was transferred by the Library to the National Museum. There is a letter from Sir George Beckwith to Josiah Meigs in 1818, regarding the loss of Col. Meigs's Journal; also a number of personal and genealogical letters. A letter of Col. Meigs to Major David Chambers, April 10, 1813, was purchased in 1906 and added to the collection.

Col. Meigs's autograph Memorandum book of occurrences in the Cherokee and Choctaw country 1796-1807 is noted under the Indian material.

CHARLES GUSTAVUS MEMMINGER

Letter to R. B. Rhett, Jan. 28, 1860, regarding the attitude of the Virginia Legislature. Purchased, 1914.

ADAH ISAACS MENKEN

Autograph and playbill of a performance at the Howard Athenaeum, Boston, Mass., 3 July, 1862.

MERCANTILE ACCOUNTS, MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA

One hundred and eighty-one volumes of ledgers, journals, invoices, day books and cash books form the collection known as "Maryland and Virginia Mercantile Accounts."

They cover the period from 1753 to 1834, setting forth the transactions of several large firms, which, by a system of branch stores, supplied the sections on both banks of the Potomac River. The first of these firms was that of John Glassford & Co., of Glasgow, Scotland. Neil Jamieson was connected with it. They established branch stores at Quantico and Dumfries, in Prince William County, Virginia; at Colchester, in Fairfax County, Virginia; at Leonardtown, St. Mary's County, Maryland; at Newport, Charles County, and at Bladensburg, Prince George's County, Maryland. Near the beginning of the Revolution the firm name was changed to Glassford & Henderson, and additional stores were opened at Boyd's Hole and Alexandria, on the Virginia side, and Port Tobacco, Benedict, Piscataway and Nottingham, in Maryland. About 1790, Alexander Henderson, Robert Ferguson and John Gibson, trading under the firm name of Henderson, Ferguson & Gibson, had charge of most of these stores, and it was probably at this time that the trade passed out of the hands of the Scotch merchants and into the control of local owners. The store at Leonardtown, however, was, in 1793, still in the hands of Findlay, Hopkins & Co., of Glasgow.

From 1800 to 1816, approximately, Vincent & Ferguson carried on the bulk of the business. About the latter year, it passed to John Edelen and William Thompson, acting partners of William Vincent, John Ferguson, John W. Wills, John Edelen and William Thompson, trading under the name of Edelen, Thompson & Co. Under this name the business was continued to about 1834.

There are no books for the years 1777 to 1784, inclusive, and in other places the set is badly broken. The dates lettered on the backs of the volumes are often misleading, however, and accounts which at first appear to be missing may frequently be found entered in the books of the preceding year.

Col. Henry Lee, George William Fairfax, Edward Washington, Captain George Plater, Colonel Benjamin Young, Captain William Baylis and Hon. Richard Lee are names among the entries. Purchased, with the Neil Jamieson collection, in 1899.

MERCY-ARGENTEAU

(See Argenteau.)

JONATHAN MEREDITH

The papers of Jonathan Meredith, of Baltimore, extend from 1774 to 1854, and are comprised in 42 portfolios and several note and memorandum books. Jonathan Meredith was a Baltimore lawyer, and was associated with Reverdy Johnson and the local branch of the United States Bank. Four portfolios of the collection consist entirely of legal papers, many of them dealing with the management of the estate of Charles Carroll of Carrollton. Others pertain to the affairs of some of the South American republics. There are a number of papers of the Baltimore Assembly, and a long brief of Luther Martin. MORRIS autograph and contemporary record copies of Morris letters, dating from 1778 to 1781, together with a list of the property conveyed by Morris to James Biddle and William Bell in trust for the Pennsylvania Property Co. The drafts are letters to Benjamin Chew, President Henry Laurens, Timothy Matlack, de Chastellux, Matthew Ridley, Ridley & Pringle, Rochambeau, Le Caze & Mallet, Necker, La Luzerne, Benjamin Harrison, John Adams, and Morris's address to the public dated January 7, 1779. The matters discussed are charges against Morris, the education of his sons in Europe, his private financial business, and public affairs. The letters to Morris are from: William Carmichael, Silas Deane, William Duer, John Jay, Edmund Pendleton, Richard Bache, de Grasse, Paul Jones, Pickering, Joseph Reed, Tench Tilghman, Marquis de la Rouerie, John Bradford, Denis De Berdt, John Skey Eustace, Benjamin Harrison, Jonathan Hudson, Abraham Livingston, Edward Livingston, James Moylan, Samuel and Robert Purviance, James Rivington, Benjamin Rush, John D. Schweighauser, Joseph Shippen, Stephen Stewart, David Stewart, Robert Swanwick, Thomas Wharton, jr., and William White. These letters range in date from the beginning of the Revolutionary War down to 1820 and deal with subjects of both public and private nature, diplomatic and financial affairs, contract supplies for the Continental Army, prisoners of war, privateering, taxes, naval matters, general war news, family and personal affairs, and matters of Morris's personal finances.

MORRIS-CROXALL PAPERS

A collection of about sixty business and private papers of the Morris and Croxall families 1767-1895, containing, among others, two personal letters of Gouverneur Morris. Gift, 1908, of Morris LeGrand Croxall of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Edith Pye Weedon of Austin, Texas.

MORSESAMUEL F. B. MORSE

The collection dates from 1793 to 1872. Before 1805 there are seven juvenile letters of Samuel F. B. Morse and his brother Edward to their parents. Most of the letters up to 1814 are family correspondence. A large part of the entire collection consists of letters passing between the various members of the family, especially between Samuel F. B. Morse and his parents. The period spent in England studying painting contains a few letters from Washington Allston and many from Charles R. Leslie. The correspondence with the latter continues throughout the collection. An interesting document in 1821 is a list of the portraits painted by Morse and the amounts charged for each.

The telegraph comes in evidence in 1832. Previous to this the correspondence is with Washington Allston, Thos. S. Grinké, Joseph Story, Stephen Van Rensselaer, Robert Walsh, Henry C. Pratt, Horatio Greenough, John A. Dix, W. B. Sprague and others. There are several letters from Lafayette between 1832 and 1834 and an interesting series of typewritten copies of letters from Morse to J. Fenimore Cooper in 1832-3. Among the papers in 1823 is Morse's draft of his caveat which he filed in the Patent Office to protect his patent for a marble carving machine and letters and papers relating to painting and the affairs of the National Academy of the Arts of Design. Among the papers of 1837 are the articles of agreement between Morse and Alfred Vail for the construction of a demonstration telegraph line to be exhibited before a committee of Congress.

From 1840 the papers deal with the telegraph, though the family and art letters are still many. The original articles of agreement between Morse, F. O. J. Smith, Alfred Vail and Leonard D. Gale for securing foreign patent rights on the telegraph are among the papers, as is the correspondence concerning the struggle for recognition and protection in Europe with drawings of instruments submitted in connection with patent rights in France. There is a copy of the specifications and drawings of the U. S. patent of 1840 and a small group of papers of that year relating to the Daguerreotype controversy with F. Gouraud.

In the collection are diaries, diplomas and certificates of honors conferred on Morse, letter books, many newspaper clippings, some pamphlets and other printed material relating to the telegraph. There are a number of bills, vouchers, estimates and reports of the expenses of the early Electro-Magnetic Telegraph Company. The collection was a gift in 1916 of Edward Lind Morse, of Stockbridge, Mass.

JOHN PAUL MORTON

Letter, Feb. 16, 1872, to Hon. S. S. Cox, enclosing "A Bill to grant a Copyright to Foreign Authors."

LEVI P. MORTON

Financial correspondence with the law firm of Durant & Hornor, of New Orleans, 1863-1869, 17 pieces. Purchased, 1900.

JULIUS VIDAL MOUGENOT

Fourteen papers relating to the charge against Mougenot of killing a Federal soldier, 1862-1863; including letters of Durant & Hornor, attorneys to Maj. General Banks, and others; letters of the French consul, and of Richard B. Irwin. Purchased, 1900.

LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON COLLECTION

Shortly after Mrs. Moulton's death in 1908 her books and papers were classified by her friend, Prof. Arlo Bates. The books were sent to the Boston Public Library, the manuscripts and a large collection of autographed photographs to the Library of Congress as a gift from Mrs. Moulton's daughter, Mrs. Florence Moulton Schaeffer, of Boston, Mass.

Use of the collection was restricted until the biographical sketch of Mrs. Moulton by Miss Lilian Whiting should be published. This appeared in 1910, and the collection is now open to students and investigators under the rules of the Manuscript Division.

The collection has been mounted and bound in fifty volumes and arranged in alphabetical order. It extends over Mrs. Moulton's entire literary career,—a period of almost sixty years. During thirty of these years she was in personal contact with the principal literary figures on both sides of the Atlantic.

Robert Browning was a friend of Mrs. Moulton and there are three characteristic letters from him, the earliest dated February 24, 1878; there is one from George Eliot, also of that year; one from Tennyson; several from Whittier, Walt Whitman, and Horace Greeley; a number from George Meredith, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Edmund Clarence Stedman, Richard Watson Gilder, Paul H. Hayne, and many others.

Philip Bourke Marston, the English poet, was a devoted friend of Mrs. Moulton, and left his papers to her at his death in 1887. These constitute a part of the collection and are separately bound in two volumes. Marston carried on a constant correspondence with Dante Gabriel Rossetti, and there are in these two volumes letters of Swinburne, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, and others of similar note.

DANIEL MULFORD

Three small volumes of typewritten copies of miscellaneous letters from and to Daniel Mulford, during his student years at Yale University, and the period succeeding; 1801-1812. The letters are to members of his family in New Jersey, and to and from his friends, among them Thomas Fitch, P. Dickerson, H. P. Russell, D. K. Este, Henry Ford and Th. Edward Lloyd. Mulford's later letters are written from Milledgeville, Georgia. Also, a typewritten copy of the diary of Daniel Mulford, while a student at Yale and during the period succeeding, April 18, 1801, to September 7, 1808, from the original in the Yale University Library; and typewritten copies of "Notes of a Journey to Georgia," 1808, one volume, 36 pages. Received in exchange, from the Yale University Library, 1911 and 1912.

JAMES E. MURDOCH

A twenty-eight page letter written by E. H. Russell, dated March 24, 1905, addressed to the Librarian of Congress, being a sketch of James E. Murdoch the tragedian, with newspaper clippings, notices and programmes of his readings in the U. S. Senate Chamber and elsewhere, during the Civil War.

DAVID MURRAY

Dr. David Murray, in 1873, was commissioned by the Japanese Government to superintend the reformation of the educational system in that country. He remained in Japan for six years, and took voluminous notes upon political, social and ethnological affairs. These he combined in a series of papers and addresses, which in 1908 were donated to the Library by his widow, Mrs. David Murray, of New Brunswick, N. J.

The collection consists of twelve portfolios. The subjects are: 1. Papers and addresses upon Japanese education; 2. Government and National Affairs of Japan; 3. Social and Ethnological affairs of Japan; 4. Arts, Industries and Natural History of Japan; 5. Papers on Lotteries in the United States; 6. Indian Wampum; 7. Miscellaneous addresses. In addition to these, there are a few personal papers. The latter consist of addresses delivered at various schools within the United States. They deal entirely with educational subjects.

WILLIAM VANS MURRAY

Three volumes and a portfolio of loose papers of William Vans Murray, while he was Minister to the Netherlands and Envoy to France, 1797-1801.

Thirty letters, addressed to Sylvanus Bourne, of Baltimore, written from The Hague and Paris, December 31, 1797, to June 13, 1801, on consular and diplomatic affairs and politics, were purchased in 1904. The other items were acquired by the Library at a much earlier date. The volumes consist of diary notes, the first running from June 16, 1797, to April 9, 1799, kept at The Hague; one volume, quarto. The second volume is marked "Some Remarks on the Stages of Our Negotiation at Paris, 1800, by Mr. Murray at the Time. From 9 April to 7 Oct., 1800." One volume quarto. The third volume begins October 3, 1800, with a description of a fête given by Joseph Bonaparte at his chateau of Morfontaine. The "notes" continue to October 24, when he returned to The Hague. The notes of the second mission begin March 18, 1801, and continue to August 14. This volume is full of descriptions of places and people. One volume quarto. The correspondence comprises a number of press copies (now almost illegible) of Murray's letters to Talleyrand, Timothy Pickering, Oliver Ellsworth and many others; also original letters from Talleyrand, Lafayette, Francis Lewis Taney, Fulwar Skipwith, John Adams, Elbridge Gerry, Samuel Miller, Charles Cotesworth Pinckney, and others, 1797 to 1805.

SIR CHARLES NAPIER

"Narrative of the Operations in the Potowmac by the Squadron under the Orders of Capt. Sir James A. Gordon in 1814;" 34 pp. unbound. Purchased, 1902.

NAPOLEON

"Manuscrit venu de Saint Hélène attribué a Bounaparte." [1817] par Lullin de Châteaueux. 1 vol. 8°, 139 pp. Napoleon pamphlets, No. 28. "Pièces manuscrites sur Buonaparte, et copies de Brochures dont la vente publique a été prohibée."

NAVAL HISTORY SOCIETY

In 1912 an arrangement was made by which such manuscript records as may be collected by the Naval History Society may be deposited for safe keeping in the Manuscript Division, title to remain in the Society, or in the individuals who deposit the manuscripts through that Society, the material to be available for examination and consultation in the Library by students and investigators under the Library's regulations.

By this arrangement have been received the papers of John Ericsson, formerly in the hands of his biographer, Colonel William C. Church; the papers of Adm. Edward Yorke McCauley, comprising journals kept on the West Coast of Africa in 1847, and in Japanese waters with Com. Perry in 1853-4, a folio letter book kept on board the U. S. S. Lackawanna, 1873-1877, in the Orient, and later at the U. S. Navy Yard, Boston; a journal kept by Alexander Gallop, on board the U. S. Schr. Dolphin, 1827-1829; and two volumes of transcripts from the British Admiralty Office of letters, orders, instructions, and secret letters to Vice Admiral Graves, April 8, 1774-April 25, 1776, and to Admiral Shulldham, July 19, 1775-Sept. 6, 1776, on the North American station.

NEWCOMB

SIMON NEWCOMB

The papers of Prof. Simon Newcomb were deposited (legal title being retained), in 1909 by his daughter and literary executrix, Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee, of Washington, D. C. By the terms of the deposit the use of the papers by investigators is postponed until a proposed biography shall have been published. They will then be accessible to investigators under the rules of the Manuscript Division. Excepting papers set aside as biographical material, the correspondence has been alphabetically arranged and temporarily boxed in seventy-five portfolio boxes, thirteen of which are filled with the letters written by Prof. Newcomb himself. In addition there are fifteen letter-books,—including a number of letter press copy books,—and four volumes of registers of letters sent and received. These date from Sept., 1863, to within a short time before Prof. Newcomb's death in 1909. Prof. Newcomb's scientific papers and writings are grouped by general subjects as follows: Astronomy, General, six royal folio size boxes; Moon, two boxes; Uranus, Neptune, Jupiter, two boxes; Mars, one box; Planets, miscellany, one; Stars, Satellites, etc., Hansen's Tables, one; Eclipses, Sun, Venus, one; Electricity and Light, one; Mathematics, one; Economics, Philosophy, one; Scientific Notes, one; Naval Observatory, Nautical Almanac, Geographic papers and the Lick Trust, one; The International Congress of Arts and Sciences of the St. Louis Exposition 1904, one; Societies, Scientific Conferences, National Academy of Sciences, etc., Carnegie Institution, one; Encyclopedia Britannica, Encyclopedia Americana, Transits, two boxes; Miscellaneous printed pamphlets and newspaper clippings, three; Contracts, Statements, etc., with publishers, one box; Personal, biographical, one; Personal, checks and bills, two; Invitations, cards, etc., two boxes.

Thirty-six small note books and diaries, and a Journal, brief and irregularly kept, dating from March, 1881, to Sept., 1903, are included in the collection. Also two small books of astronomical calculations, and a package containing the manuscript of "Theory of Errors."

NOOTKA

Prof. Newcomb's correspondence contains letters from nearly every contemporaneous scientist of note.

EDMUND BAILEY O'CALLAGHAN

Ten volumes of letters received, and two volumes of historical material, form the collection of papers of Edmund Bailey O'Callaghan, historian and early collector of Americana.

The letters, estimated at about 1,700 in number, begin in 1830 and extend to 1860, covering that portion of his career in which he was a member of the Assembly of Lower Canada, and an editor of the State papers in the office of the Secretary of State at Albany. The correspondence deals largely with bibliographical matters, the rarities among early American books, editions of the Bible, and with the collection of historical material on America from the archives of Europe. Among his correspondents are George Bancroft, Francis Parkman, James Lenox, John Gilmary Shea, Samuel G. Drake, J. Carson Brevoort, Charles Deane, George Livermore, George H. Moore, Henry C. Murphy, Alpheus Todd, William Gowans, S. F. Haven and John Carter Brown. Numerous letters from William L. McKenzie, the Canadian journalist, are also included. Purchased, 1904.

ORIENTALIA

WEBER COLLECTION.—The library of the late Dr. Albrecht Friedrich Weber, academician and professor of Sanskrit at the University of Berlin was purchased in 1904. Included in it were 50 or more important Sanskrit manuscripts.

Accompanying these manuscript books are several hundred letters from correspondents of Dr. Weber in various parts of the world. Though restricted almost entirely to the years 1881–3, there are nevertheless letters from Prof. Dillmann at Berlin; the Rajah Comm: Sourindro Mohun Tagore at Calcutta; E. B. Cowell, Cecil Bendall, and William Wright at Cambridge; J. Burgess and Julius Eggeling at Edinburgh; Prof. Angelo De Gubernatis at Florence; Eduard Naville at Geneva; R. Pischel at Kiel; Robert Cust, J. F. Browne, J. Long, and S. W. Vaux at London; D. F. G. Ayuso at Madrid; A. Kuhn at München; W. D. Whitney at New Haven; Monier Williams and Shyāmaji Krishuavarmā at Oxford; Ernest Renan at Paris; J. Gibbs at Simla; Hermann Oldenberg, Th. Zachariae, Samuel Beal, H. Collitz, Ed. Sachsau, H. Reimer, Carl Kanzow, H. Zimmer, and a number of other well known Orientalists.

ROCKHILL COLLECTION.—In 1902 Hon. William Woodville Rockhill compiled and presented a manuscript catalogue of the Tibetan works in the Library of Congress. These works, all of which have been presented to the Library at various times by Mr. Rockhill, total sixty-two pieces. A full description of the first four of these as given by the catalogue will suffice to indicate both the character of these works and the extent of the information which this catalogue affords regarding them.

No. 1^a. Transcription: Choś skyong-vai rgyalpo Srong-btsan-rgampoī bkah-hbum-las blama brynd-pai grolhdebs lo-rgyus dkarchāg. Introduction and index to the Mani-kambum. (nos. 1^b and 1^c) 11 folios $22\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ inches unbleached Tibetan paper—printed from wooden blocks, folios loose, tied up in same bundle, wrapped in yellow silk, between wooden boards as No. 1^b–1^c. Upper board decorated with designs in gold and the eight signs of good luck. Bound round by broad silk strap. Bought in 1887 at Urga (North Mongolia). Printed probably at Lhasa. No. 1^b. Transcription: Ma-ni bkah-hbum glegs-bam dang-po Thugs-rje Ch'enpo Sangs-rgyas 'stongrtsai (sic) (lo-) rgyus chen-ma. First volume of the Mani-kambum, attributed to King Srong-tsan gampo (7th cent., A. D.) but probably of much later date. 377 folios $22\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$, paper same as No. 1^a, bound in same cover as No. 1^a. Fol. 1 verso has two vignettes, right King Srong-tsan gampo, left his consort Padma karmo, folio 306 is in duplicate. Chapters II, III, IV and XXXIV of this work have been translated by W. W. Rockhill in "Land of the lamas," pp. 327, 334, 355–361. Bought at same time and place as No. 1^a.

No. 1^c. Transcription: Ch'os-skyong-vai rgyal-po Srong-btsan-rgampoī Bkah-hbum-las smad-kyi xhā-dzal gdams-kyi bskor. 2d and last volume of the Mani-kambum of Srong-tsan gampo. 331 folios $22\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$, wrapped in yellow silk and bound between boards decorated like those holding Nos. 1^a–1^b, and tied together in same way. Three vignettes on folio 331 recto. Bought at same time and place as No. 1^a–1^b. See also the present collection No. 2 for another edition of this important work.

No. 2. The Mani-kambum of King Srong-tsan gampo (See Nos. 1^a, 1^b, 1^c) 230 folios $24\frac{1}{2} \times 5$ printed on Chinese paper from wooden blocks cut in Peking—outside the An-ting gate in A. First and last folios bound to covered cardboard. Printed at Peking at the Ta lung shan hu kuo ssu in 1676, as appears from colophon in Chinese on fol. 88^a. The Chinese name of this work is there said to be Shih-liu To Lo-han ching, "The Sutra of the 16 great Lohans (Arahats)."

No. 4. Transcription: Rmilam-gi don legs-par bshad-pai Shel-dkar mé-long. "The crystal mirror giving a perfect explanation of dreams." 8 folios, 23 x 4½. Rough Tibetan paper, printed probably in Tibet or at Urga (North Mongolia) where this book was bought in 1885. Fol. 1 verso, fol. 8 recto vignettes of deities.

Two Tibetan-Mongol dictionaries, several medical treatises, and a Tibetan musical score book are part of this collection.

CROSBY DEPOSIT.—In 1905 Mr. Oscar T. Crosby, of Warrenton, Va., deposited for safekeeping, manuscripts which were accompanied by the following list:

(1) A Tibetan manuscript, between boards. (2) A religious manual, in leather case, size 15 x 10½ cm. (3) A smaller manual, also in leather case, 10 x 8 cm. (4) Three handpainted banners. (5) A bundle of fragments of Tibetan manuscripts. (6) A stone inscribed with Tibetan characters. (7) Wood carving, showing two figures of the Buddha. (8) Three terra cotta pieces. (9) A three page list of books and pamphlets.

BURMESE AND PALI MSS.—In 1903 and 1904, through the efforts of the Rev. W. H. S. Hascall, of the missionary service in Lower Burma, a set of the more important sacred writings of that country was purchased for the Library.

It consists of old manuscripts (on palm leaves, inclosed in cloth wrappers with embroidered bands).

Of the Tipitaka, which embraces the three great groups of Buddhist canonical texts, the Vinaya, Sutta and Abhidhamma pitakas, ("baskets"),—the collections contains the following:

Vinaya Pitaka:

Parajika.

Pacittiya.

Mahavagga.

Chullavagga.

Pariyara.

Abhidhamma Pitaka:

Dhammasangani.

Vibhanga.

Kathavatthu.

Puggalapannatti.

Dhatukatha.

Yamaka.

Patthana.

Of the Sutta Pitaka there are but three of the books;—Vinaya and the Abhidhamma are complete.

In each of these series are to be found: A, the Pali text; B, the translation into Burmese; and C, the attakathās, or commentaries on the Pali text. In the Sutta series there is a fourth division, the tikās,—subcommentaries or glosses.

In addition to the Pitakas there is a selection of twelve of the 550 Jatakas, or tales of the former births of Buddha. These include the Mahajanaka, the Temiya, Nemi, Chandakumara, Narada, Vidhura, Bhuridatta, and Vessantara.

There are nineteen other books of doctrine or ritual, or of a miscellaneous character, among them an abridgment of the Vinaya; a book of instructions for monks; a dedication service; a book on divine duties; a history of the mother of Gautama; a discourse on the Law; a volume of Proverbs; a book of poetry; and several books of Pali grammar.

ORIENT

As part of the same collection were obtained three examples of the Kanīmavācā, containing the ordination services of the priests, one on wood and one on a composition metal which contains silver. The third is a very beautiful and old specimen of the service on strips of ivory, with the ancient Pali text in heavy lacquer.

Another manuscript obtained with the above is written on native paper in the Toungoo language.

In 1905 was purchased a manuscript of the Buddhist Law, consisting of nineteen double sheets of rice paper with text in Burmese characters. In 1908 Rev. O. Hanson presented a copy of the Sacred Law in the Kamhti dialect. It consists of nine leaves (eighteen pages) on a parchment paper and rolled in a cotton wrapper, with the usual tying cord attached. The characters are modern Burmese.

A Javanese manuscript on palm leaves was purchased in 1908 from the library of Wilberforce Eames, of New York City. An accompanying memorandum states that it was purchased from Maisonneuve, in whose catalogue it is described as follows:

A Singhalese manuscript, written on thirty-one gilt-edged palm leaves, was purchased in 1906.

A manuscript scroll containing a copy of the entire Koran in Arabic, 6.9 meters long by 6.5 cm. wide was purchased in 1898 from Z. D. Noorian, of New York. This is an example of Arabic handwriting of the 14th century.

A specimen of Arabic typewriter machine work with an explanatory manuscript was presented by Frank Abiel Flower in 1902.

Of Bugis and Malay books there are eight. These were received from the Smithsonian Institution, and several of them were copied by Mahomet Arif, teacher in the Raffles Institution, Singapore, 1837. A collection of Malay Tales; a Malay Book of Medicine; Matters relating to the forms of marriage; Selections from the Koran concerning the Day of Judgment; and the History of a War between two Bugis Rajas, are some of the titles.

Of Persian manuscripts the most important is, the folio volume of the Shâh Nâmeh of the poet Firdausi, dated 1725. A Persian letter book, Inshai Khalife, said to be 700 years old, was purchased in 1901. A volume of extracts from the Koran in Persian, purchased in 1910.

A Chinese manuscript, China fu Ching ko, "The Mirror of the army store-house, (or palace)," a song in sixteen sections by Tunghuai and offered (or dedicated) to the Prefect Chiin-hui. This manuscript, which was the gift of Hon. W. W. Rockhill in 1902, is on heavy pink paper 8 x 4½ with an ornamental border in gilt. The cover is of green brocaded satin, closing with two red ivory clasps. No date appears but it is not earlier than 1813. It was purchased by Mr. Rockhill in Peking in 1887.

A collection, as yet uncatalogued, consisting of books, manuscripts, paintings, etc., was obtained by Mr. Worthington C. Ford, the then Chief of the Manuscripts Division, while in India in 1903, some of which are bound volumes with ornamented covers and carefully wrought illuminations. Others are fragments of Coptic and Arabic Christian missals.

ROBERT ORME

Contemporary copies of two letters written at Fort Cumberland, July 18th, 1755, addressed to Major Gen. Shirley and Governor Dinwiddie, giving an account of Braddock's defeat. Probably from the Force purchase.

Tenner, [facsimile] undated; James Thacher, 1826; Peter Turner, 1791; J[ohn] Warren, 1790; H. Williamson, 1814.

PHYSICK FAMILY ACCOUNT BOOKS

Thirty-five volumes of account and receipt books, 1766-1843, purchased in 1914.

The earliest books are those of Edmund Physick, who, after the Revolution, was agent of the Penn family estates. A small volume contains receipts and memoranda made during a visit to London in 1789, in which are set forth his dealings with the Penns, and his payments for medical lectures attended by his son Philip Syng Physick, who later became a distinguished Philadelphia surgeon and has been called "The Father of American Surgery." Additional entries were made in the same books, in Philadelphia to 1795.

Many of the volumes were used in connection with the settlement of estates, that of James Bremner, which was in the hands of Edmund Physick, being the earliest. Other estates were those of Philip Syng, of Philadelphia, 1789-94; Edmund

PICKENS

Physick, 1804, settled by his sons Dr. Philip Syng and Henry White Physick; and the estate of the latter, in Cecil County, Maryland, about 1833.

A receipt book of John Penn, 1774, which was afterward used for the same purpose by Abigail Physick; a rent book of Abigail Physick, Phila., 1830-1843, a medical recipe book of Dr. Theodore Physick of Octorara, Md. [d. 1834], and a volume of accounts kept at "Ararat," a Cecil County, Maryland, farm in 1864, are included.

An Order Book of the U. S. Schr. Dolphin July, 1821-July, 1822, kept by David Conner, 1 vol. 8°, paper bound; and a "Fragment of the Log of the U. S. Ship Erie," Nov. 1829, with receipts, etc., entered at Philadelphia, 1844-5, 1 vol. 12°, Complete the collection.

FRANCIS W. PICKENS AND MILLEDGE L. BONHAM

Two portfolios of letters and administrative papers of these two Governors of South Carolina, chronologically arranged, 1860-1864.

Fully half of the papers are confined to the year 1861, and the papers and letters of Governor Pickens are more numerous than those of Governor Bonham. Applications for office, appointments of military officers, petitions to be relieved of military service, and reports on fortifications, form a large proportion of the collection. Among the important single items are: manuscript of Memminger's resolution requesting the Bank of the State of South Carolina to advance funds for coast defense, January 2, 1861; memorials of free negroes volunteering their services to the State, January, 1861; letter of James Redpath, of Boston, regarding transportation of negroes to Haiti, January 31, 1861; report upon vessels for coast police service, February, 1861; Extracts from Proceedings of the Executive Council, on accounts for enrolling, etc., March, 1862; Report of the Committee of the Georgetown district, for the removal of slaves and other property, December 11, 1862; Description and plan of a diving boat and torpedo, invented by Charles F.

PIERCE

Provost, of Louisiana; letter of W. S. Walker, regarding the depredations of negroes, January, 1863; letter of Andrew J. Creighton, asking authority to raise a company of youths under eighteen, February, 1863; Proclamation of General Beauregard, regarding a probable attack upon Charleston, February, 1863; correspondence and orders regarding free negroes captured in arms, 1863; and correspondence from the British consul at Charleston, 1863.

Letters are from the following: A. P. Aldrich, Chas. Alston, jr., J. H. Aulich, G. T. Beauregard, Henry C. Cabell, Langdon Cheves, Howell Cobb, Wilmot G. De Saussure, Fraser, Trenholm & Co., R. W. Gibbes, Robert N. Gourdin, Maxcy Gregg, Wade Hampton, J. W. Hayne, Alfred Huger, M. King, G. Manigault, A. G. McGrath, S. R. Mallory, C. D. Melton, J. Johnston Pettigrew, Benjamin Rhett, John T. Sloan, John M. Stribling, James D. Tradewell, S. Y. Tupper and D. L. Wardlow. Purchased, 1903.

"PICKETT PAPERS"

(See Confederate States of America.)

FRANKLIN PIERCE

The papers of Franklin Pierce, consisting of some eight hundred pieces, have been mounted and bound in ten volumes.

The collection begins in 1838, and extends to 1869. Three of the volumes consist of Messages, of the years 1854, 1855, and 1856; the remainder of the collection comprises mainly correspondence, though there are some drafts of state papers.

Of President Pierce's own letters there are few,—some military letters written from Mexico, some political letters and a small number of family letters, eighty in all.

Included in the correspondence are letters to or from Charles Gordon Atherton, Samuel H. Ayer, Samuel Dana Bell, Edmund Burke, James Campbell, Carlton Chase, James L. Curtis, Caleb Cushing, Jefferson Davis, Samuel Dinsmoor, Joseph Dixon, Millard Fillmore, James Guthrie, John Parker Hale, B. F. Hallett, Nathaniel Hawthorne, J. D. Hoover, Milton S. Latham, George B. Loring, Robert McClelland, Charles March, William L. Marcy, Charles O'Connor, Francis J. Parker, H. Peaslee, Jane M. Pierce, H. D. Pierce, James K. Polk, Thomas H. Seymour, Isaac I. Stevens, Jacob Thompson, Isaac Toucey, Nathan Towson, Martin Van Buren, Sidney Webster and Elisha Whitteley.

The collection has been calendared. Purchased, 1905.

CHARLES COTESWOTH PINCKNEY

Letter to the Hon. Ralph Izard, dated Columbia, Dec. 20, 1794, on the appointment of Charles Pinckney as Minister to Madrid, and on South Carolina political affairs. Purchased, 1907.

PINCKNEY FAMILY

A Memoir of the Pinckney Family of South Carolina, drawn from the Family Records and Communicated by William Gilmore Simms of South Carolina. One volume, 13 pages; incomplete.

EDWARD LEE PLUMB

A collection of books and papers of Edward Lee Plumb, who, after an extended residence in that country, was appointed, in 1866, Secretary of Legation in Mexico. Subsequently, he served as consul-general at Havana, and returned to Mexico to act as agent for the Mexican International Railroad.

The volumes in the collection consist of four letter-books, dating from November, 1866, to July 17, 1869, containing copies of official reports and dispatches to William H. Seward, Secretary of State, on diplomatic and political affairs in Mexico; and letters to William Hunter, Charles Dana, R. S. Chilton, R. S. Chew, Thomas C. Cox, Edgar Conkling and others. The second volume contains a copy of an official publication by the Mexican Government on Forced Loans in Mexico, 1838-9; and the fourth volume, May 18 to July 17, 1869, consists of letters from Havana to Hamilton Fish on Cuban affairs. A diary of a voyage from New York to Rio de Janeiro, and thence to San Francisco, by way of Cape Horn, March 3 to November 27, 1849; a commonplace book, with extracts from books and articles on such Mexican matters as "Considerations on the Establishment of Steam Communication on the West Coast" and "Notes on Cotton Manufactures in Mexico"; and a volume of newspaper clippings on the contract of the Mexican International Railroad with the Government, compose the remainder of the volumes.

The three portfolios of papers extend from 1825 to 1877. There are a few papers of the Mexican War period, among them copies of letters of Henry Clay, and a fourteen-page letter to A. H. Plumb on the Independence of the Pacific Territories, dated April 29, 1855. Comparatively few of the papers, however, are earlier than 1861. Beginning with that year, there are copies of many letters written by Plumb regarding Mexican affairs, and a few copies of financial statements and other papers. Letters of Robert Grant and C. Lennox Wyke, on the basis of the rupture between England, France and Mexico, are dated in 1861, as are letters of Edward E. Dunbar and E. W. Plumb to Thomas Corwin. A series of letters regarding the feeling of the people in the South, written by Plumb to Charles Sumner, from New Orleans, in 1867; letters to J. Sanford Barnes, D. P. Barhydt, and Thomas W. Pearsall, officers of the Mexican International Railroad, on the affairs of that Company and the Tehuantepec Canal and Railroad proposition; and letters to Hamilton Fish, in 1876 and 1877, on the political situation and events in Mexico, and the policy to be adopted by the United States toward Diaz and other insurrectionists, form the most important portions of the collection. Other letters are to Juarez, Senor M. Murillo, D. Matias Romero, Marshall Lefferts, Allan McLane, David Hoadley, N. P. Banks, Lewis D. Campbell, William P. Fessenden, Don Sebastian Lerdo de Tejada, D. L. Lane, H. S. Lansing, Baron Geralt, J. Edgar Thomson and Caleb Cushing. There are a number of copies of Diario Oficial in 1868, and El Sina-pismo in 1877.

The collection is the gift of Mrs. Ida Husted Harper, of Washington, D. C., in 1914. During the same year, the donor added four packages of papers dealing with the affairs of the Mexican International Railroad, and a 4° volume of "Notes in Mexico," 1856-7.

WILLIAM PLUMER

Letters, writings and essays of William Plumer, Senator from New Hampshire and twice Governor of that State. The earliest letter book is a bound volume of "A Collection of Letters written to and by William Plumer and transcribed for his Amusement and Instruction." It contains copies of 177 letters, from January 18, 1781, to January 14, 1804. Writers were: George W. Plumer, Daniel Tilton, John Sullivan and Jeremiah Smith. The remaining six letter books are loosely stitched together in paper covers. They are labeled Vols. III, IV, VI, VIII, 9 and 10. In spite of the apparent gaps and missing volumes, they completely cover the period from 1791 to 1833. In all, they contain about 1400 letters. Plumer's correspondence from Washington is voluminous. Much information relating to State legislation and to Dartmouth College also is in the letters. There are many letters by and to his son, William Plumer, Jr., when the latter was a Member of Congress, and to his brother, Major Daniel Plumer. Other correspondents were: William Page, Peleg Sprague, William Gordon, Oliver Wolcott, Abiel Foster, Oliver Peabody, Jeremiah Mason, Calvin Goddard, James Sheafe, John Langdon, Daniel Treadwell and Uriah Tracy. Two volumes labeled "The Repository" contain copies of letters and extracts from records, dating from 1774 to 1814. A folio volume marked "The Register" is a carefully kept journal, extending from May 1, 1807, to April 8, 1836, in which Plumer has entered his personal opinions upon current events, and notes and comments upon matters that came under his observation in his daily reading. Two additional volumes contain his collected essays and writings from 1782 to 1838. Many of these were published in the newspapers, signed "Cincinnatus." The proclamations he issued while Governor are also included. His uncompleted "History of North America from its Discovery by the Europeans to the Present Time" contains 264 pages of carefully prepared manuscript. He carried it as far as the year 1607, where, at chapter VIII, it ends abruptly with the note "The undertaking I have abandoned." A small bound volume, lettered "Secret Journals of Congress," contains "Extracts of all such parts of the current Journals of Congress as are not published, or memorandums of the substance thereof." It begins October 14, 1774, and continues to May 20, 1780. A quarto volume lettered "Plumer's Congress I" contains a "Memorandum of the Proceedings of Congress, particularly of the Senate, from October 17, 1803, to March 27, 1804," which is practically a record of the debates in the Senate for that period; another quarto volume lettered "Plumer's Register I" contains a similar record from May 2, 1805, to April 21, 1807. All of these manuscripts, with the exception of the "History of North America," are supplied with subject indexes. Purchased in 1906 and 1910.

ORLANDO METCALF POE

Eleven letters, the gift in 1910 and 1915 of Mrs. O. M. Poe of Washington, D. C. They include letters of General Orlando Metcalf Poe to his wife, several intimate letters of Gen. Wm. T. Sherman to Gen. Poe, and a letter of Grant to Sherman, endorsed by the latter to Poe. Several of the letters are of the Civil War period; others are later, 1881-1887.

POETRY

Items in their chronological order are as follows: (1) "The Paradise of Dayntie Devises, aptly furnished with sundry pithie and learned inventions. Devised and written for the most part by Ab. Edwards sometimes of Her Majesties Chappel, the rest by sundry learned gentlemen". This is a manuscript copy of W. T. Rodd, from an English edition, with imprint, London,

BARON FRIEDRICH ADOLPH RIEDESEL

A manuscript volume, in French, on the organization of the Prussian army in 1776; written by Riedesel while a prisoner of war in Cambridge, Massachusetts, 1778. One volume, 12mo, 119 pages. Probably from the Force library, purchased 1867.

RIGGS & COMPANY

The business and financial papers of Riggs & Co. and Corcoran & Riggs, of Washington, D. C., presented to the Library by E. Francis Riggs, Esquire, of Washington, D. C., in 1907.

The collection comprises twenty volumes of letter books, and many separate letters. Some of the letters date as early as 1816, but the bulk of the collection is within the years 1838-1854. There is correspondence with the firm's agents in foreign countries, notably Central and South America. Prices of commodities, details of shipments, and political and general news, form the subject matter of much of the correspondence.

On the banking side, the papers relate to the placing and management of State debts, subscriptions to the national loan for the Mexican War period, and the relations of the firm with George Peabody.

ISAAC ROBERDEAU

"Mathematics and Treatise on Canals," by Isaac Roberdeau, Chief, Bureau of Topographical Engineers, 1818-1829; one volume, with plans, diagrams, etc. Gift, 1909, by Roberdeau Buchanan, Washington, D. C.

ROBERTS

EDMUND ROBERTS

The first American diplomatist in the Orient was Edmund Roberts, whose letters and papers are preserved in this collection. They were given to the Library, in 1914, by the estate of Mrs. J. V. L. Pruyn, through Colonel William G. Rice, of Albany, N. Y.

There are five portfolios of papers, and five bound journals of sea voyages and similar items. The earliest of these journals is dated July, 1804, and contains notes and observations of a voyage taken by Roberts from Rio de la Plata to London in that year. The second journal is of a voyage taken during the following year, from London to Madeira, Tall Trees and Rio de la Plata. This journal contains only a few pages, and the entries are technical. A third journal was kept by Roberts on board the U. S. Ship of War Peacock, in 1832, 1833 and 1834. It relates to nautical matters.

Nearly all of the letters in the collection are for the years 1829-1836.

The papers directly pertaining to the treaties and the negotiations are copies of Roberts's instructions from the State Department; copies and drafts of the treaties; and letters and memoranda written during the actual negotiations. There are notes and memoranda made by Roberts for his book, "Embassy to the Eastern Courts," which was published after his death; also, numerous charts and pencil drawings.

Among papers relating to commerce and trade are several Prices current from Manila and Muscat; a Return of Exports from Ceylon, 1825 to 1834; a table showing the State of Commerce in Rio de Janeiro in 1833; and a number of letters regarding trade conditions.

The letter of William Rogers Taylor to Roberts regarding the disaster to the Peacock, stranded on the coast of Arabia, is separately bound.

The correspondence comprises letters to and from the Department of State; from consuls at various points; from acquaintances at Rio de Janeiro; and of Edmund Roberts to his children. These are long and full of descriptions of places and happenings. Among the writers are the following: Edward Livingston, John Forsyth, Amos Kendall, Levi Woodbury, Mahlon Dickerson, Eugene A. Vail, Amasa T. Parker, D. Geisinger, Edward P. Kennedy, George Lee, Robert Hunter, Edwin Howland, Henry Sturgis, Charles W. King, John Taylor Jones, Joseph Delafield, Rev. Robert Morrison, Rev. Dr. Burroughs, C. M. de Silveira, and David Oliver Allen.

The collection contains two portfolios of typewritten transcripts, the first being biographical material—a sketch of the life of Edmund Roberts, extracts from letters, journals, newspaper and magazine articles, and obituary and death notices; the second, transcripts of letters and memoranda, and chapters from “A Voyage Round the World.” There are also some genealogical notes, and many items regarding Portsmouth, N. H.

JEREMY ROBINSON

Six portfolios, 1808–1832, a letter-book, 1831–1832, and eight small journals, 1817–1823, the papers of Jeremy Robinson, who, in 1817, was appointed by the President as “Agent for Commerce and Seamen” at Lima, Callao, and other places in South America. Origin unknown.

The journals and diaries give accounts of his travels, with descriptions of Buenos Ayres, Concepcion, Valparaiso, Lima, and several of the islands in the Pacific, some scientific data, a short vocabulary of Nookaheevian, and a few letters and notes.

Robinson's letters to J. Q. Adams, then Secretary of State, give information regarding the Chilian expedition to invade Peru, and the plan of Chili to co-operate with General Bolivar, and the probabilities of a revolution in Mexico and California. There are letters also about the publication of a history of Chili, and correspondence with the Lyceum of Natural History of New York, regarding specimens for their collection. There is a list of vessels engaged in whale fishery in the Pacific, August, 1818; and a copy of Lord Cochrane's farewell address to the officers of the Navy and the inhabitants of Chili, January, 1823.

ROCHAMBEAU

Among others, Robinson corresponded with Henry Hall, of Valparaiso, John Jacob Astor, James Biddle, Samuel L. Mitchell, Captain Egbert Van Buren, David Findlay, Richard Rush, J. B. Prévost, Bernard O'Higgins, Richard Alsop, A. B. Woodward, Asbury Dickins, William Thornton, and Richard M. Johnson.

Silhouettes of Jeremy Robinson, John Pickering, jr., John Plummer, Thomas Tracy, and several others, are in the collection.

JOHN ROBINSON

Miscellaneous business and mercantile papers, 1740-1825, of John Robinson, merchant, of Middlesex County, Virginia. Eighteen pieces, purchased, 1914.

ROCHAMBEAU PAPERS

The collection of papers of the Count Rochambeau, marshal of France, and Commander-in-chief of the French Army in America, was purchased for the United States Government by Act of Congress, March 3, 1888, from the Marquis de Rochambeau.

The collection embraces, First: original letter-books, in nine volumes, 1780 to 1784, containing copies of letters to and from Rochambeau relating principally to the conduct of the war in America. Second: about 1400 letters and documents dating from August 28, 1777 to May 17, 1794; mounted and bound in five folio volumes, letters and military papers by French and American officers, besides numerous letters of instruction, etc. from the French Government to Rochambeau, concerning the details of outfit, payment of troops, rank, and military operations generally. Among these documents are a number of letters from General Washington, some of them in code, "Histoire de l' Origine et Progres de la Guerre, 1763-1780;" "Memoire pour l' Histoire de la Guerre en Amerique in 1780" with corrections in the hand of Rochambeau; "Memoire du Roi pour servir à l' instruction particulière à M. le Chevalier de Ternay, chef d' escadre des Armées navales ;" and a "Journal des Operations du Corps français." Separately bound is an "Inventaire des papiers du général Cte de Rochambeau. Letters, autographes, Registres, de Correspondence, Etat, Instructions, notes, plans et cartes manuscrits et gravés, etc., etc.," prepared by the Marquis de Rochambeau.

The series of military and topographical maps, which formed a part of the collection at the time of its purchase has been deposited in the Maps and Charts Division of the Library.

JOHN RODGERS

Report of Commander John Rodgers to the Secretary of the Navy on his explorations north of Bering's Straits, dated U. S. Ship Vincennes, San Francisco, October 19, 1855. A copy from the Force collection.

ALFRED ROMAN

A portfolio of miscellaneous letters and telegrams of Alfred Roman, of the Civil War period and the years succeeding, 1861-1890. The war letters are to and from General Beauregard, and those of the later years are mainly from him to Roman, regarding the latter's publication. Items of interest are the letter from William Porcher Miles to Beauregard, August 27, 1861, relative to the designs for the Confederate flag; Extracts from Jacob Thompson's report of the Battle of Shiloh, 6th and 7th of April, 1862; Inspection report of Wheeler's Cavalry Corps, January 22, 1865; and a letter from Mrs. Augusta Mason to General Beauregard, presenting a flag made in a Washington prison, and giving its history.

Among the other writers to Beauregard are Jefferson Davis, Judah P. Benjamin, James Chestnut, A. S. Johnston, J. E. Johnston, J. B. Hood, W. J. Hardee, James A. Seddon, E. B. Alexander, Thomas Jordan, S. D. Ferguson, R. B. Rhett and Alex. H. Stephens. Letters of Beauregard are to Roger A. Pryor,

SCHOOLCRAFT

JOHN LOYALL SAUNDERS.

A volume of about 400 letters and papers of Commander John Loyall Saunders, United States Navy, covering the period of his command of the U. S. S. St. Mary's, from November 1, 1844, to June 7, 1847, the most important part of which covers his services on the Mexican coast. It includes Commander Saunders's correspondence with the Navy Department and naval commanders, Commodore Robert F. Stockton, David Conner, and M. C. Perry, and with General Zachary Taylor and the captains of the other American vessels of the fleet, the British Admiralty agent at Tampico, the British and French consuls, the United States consul, and the captains of the British Royal Mail packets; all pertaining to marine movements in Mexican waters, the blockade of Mexican ports and the transportation of American agents and dispatches. Gift, 1917, of Mrs. Charles F. McIntosh, of Norfolk, Va.

JOHN GODFREY SAXE

Autograph poem, "A Poet's Constancy: A Madrigal." Signed "J. G. S." Two pages. Enclosed in a letter of Robert Bonner to Saxe, dated February 22, 1879. Also, a letter of Saxe to [Frederick] Locke, Sussex, England; dated at Brooklyn, July 5, 1875. Presented to the Library by Cora Linn Daniels.

HENRY ROWE SCHOOLCRAFT

The papers of Henry Rowe Schoolcraft were acquired in part by transfer from the Smithsonian Institution, and in part from Mrs. Henry R. Schoolcraft.

There are thirty-one portfolios and a number of bound and unbound volumes, extending from 1805 to 1878, including five volumes of "Letters Received," 1820-1852; a volume containing an Objibwa vocabulary, 1822; "Eoneguiski, or the Cherokee Chief," two volumes; a small volume containing Indian maxims, notes on Indian characteristics, etc.; and a quarto volume of accounts kept by John Johnston at St. Mary's Falls, 1814-1819. Unbound and paper-bound books, in their chronological order, are as follows: A journal of Indian affairs kept at the agency of Sault Ste. Marie, from July 6 to September 30, 1822; a small journal of Indian affairs, 1824; a "Memoir of the Life of John Johnston, Esq., late of Sault Ste. Marie," by H. R. Schoolcraft; Private journal of Indian affairs, commenced at Mackinaw, October 1, 1837, with memoranda, diary entries and newspaper clippings; Abstracts of accounts of the Indian Department, 1839; Scrapbook, 1847 to 1849, mainly Indian affairs; Scrapbook for the year 1854; a small book of original poetry, undated; a number of bank books of the Bank of Michigan, Riggs & Co., etc., in account with Schoolcraft, converted by a later hand into commonplace books.

The portfolios of loose papers contain official and private correspondence, scientific memoranda, copy for a history of the Indian Tribes, Indian tales and poetry, travel notes, personal business miscellany, papers relating to Lewis Cass, papers relating to Michigan, claims against Schoolcraft as Indian agent, and Schoolcraft's claim against the United States, notes on Indian languages, "Reminiscences of the Tawasentha Valley," 1862, miscellaneous writings, accounts, etc., and papers of Mrs. H. R. Schoolcraft (née Howard). The first portfolio (beginning 1805) contains a few genealogical notes; papers of Schoolcraft's father, Lawrence Schoolcraft; some early papers of the Territory of Michigan; letters and papers regarding the manufacture of glass; many letters of Lewis Cass to the various Departments regarding the military post at Detroit, 1818-1819; letters and verses of William H. Sankey; "Rambles in the Ozark Mountains, 1818-1819"; and a report to the Secretary of the Treasury about the Lead Mines in Missouri.

Single items are a portion of an undated letter of William Shirley, regarding an expedition into Canada, and Schoolcraft's commission as agent for the Ottawas and Chippewas, March 4, 1839.

SCHULLER

The correspondence includes letters from Lewis Cass, Daniel Livingston, G. M. Dallas, Reuben Haines, Charles C. Trowbridge, Benjamin Silliman, James D. Doty, Lucius Bull, De Witt Clinton, Nathaniel H. Carter, Edward Everett, Henry Whiting, Samuel S. Conant, John Johnston, B. F. Stickney, John Torrey, Theodore Dwight, Jr., Lyman M. Warren, Peter S. Du Ponceau, Henry Newcombe, John Bigelow, E. Croswell, W. Gilmore Simms, Elisha Whittlesey, Buckingham Smith, Brantz Meyer, Benjamin B. French, D. D. Mitchell, John M. McCalla, William Duane, George Gibbs, Henry T. Tuckerman, J. Logan Chipman, S. Eastman, Peter Force and Lyman C. Draper.

A letter of George Watterston, dated June 21, 1852, contains interesting information about John Howard Payne's observations among the Cherokees. A single letter from Washington Irving is also included.

The correspondence and papers of Mrs. Schoolcraft, five portfolios, 1836-1878, have to do, for the most part, with real estate transactions in the City of Washington.

SCHULLER COLLECTION

In 1913, the Library acquired by purchase the collection of manuscripts of Dr. Rudolph R. Schuller.

It embraces such results of Dr. Schuller's own researches as are still unpublished, and a body of transcripts and of photographic reproductions of originals, preserved in the Archivo General de Indias in Seville, the National Library in Rio de Janeiro, the British Museum, the Royal Library in Berlin, the Berendt collection in the Brinton Library, Philadelphia, Pa., in monasteries in Peru, and other depositories.

Included are historical, archaeological, ethnographic, linguistic and bibliographic manuscripts of the Central and South American countries. An itemized list, prepared by Dr. Schuller, is filed with the manuscripts. A partial list will be found in the Report of the Librarian of Congress for 1913, pages 32-34, where the main items are given in a subjective grouping.

SCIENCE

Additions were made to the collection in October, 1914, and September, 1915, of notes on the native languages of South America, and annotations, bibliographic lists, etc., relating to the cartography of South America, together with sundry reproductions of maps of that region. These additions to the papers are accompanied by itemized lists.

PHILIP JOHN SCHUYLER

Ten letters to Stephen Van Rensselaer, 1787-1798, on such subjects as taxation, state debts, the prospect of the adoption of the Federal Constitution, and the appointment of Philip Schuyler as Secretary of State; one letter to Philip Schuyler, Jun., 1801; and one to Thomas R. Gould, 1804. Purchased, 1914.

From other sources, (probably the Force purchase), came a letter of June 14, 1777, addressed to the President of the State of New Hampshire; and a letter of November 9, 1802, to Jonas Platt, signed by Philip Schuyler, P. S. Van Rensselaer and Ab. Van Vechten.

A ledger of accounts, January, 1775, to September, 1777, 1 volume folio, 87 pages; and an account book, April to August, 1777, 1 volume, 30 pages; both in the writing of John Lansing, Jr. Transferred, 1909, from the Pension Office.

Navy, to John S. Sherburne, of Portsmouth, N. H., September 7, 1812. From the Peter Force library, purchased in 1867.

JOHN SHERMAN

These papers form one of the most voluminous collections in the Library's possession. They were received in 1911, as a gift from Mr. Hoyt Sherman, of Washington, D. C., acting for the Sherman estate; with additions from another nephew, Mr. P. T. Sherman, of New York.

The collection comprises some fourteen volumes, mainly letter books, 1874-1893; and about five hundred packages of papers, 1859-1893, which are arranged alphabetically, by years, as received.

These papers are open to the investigator under restrictions.

ROGER SHERMAN

A collection of 26 land deeds and transfers, 1746-1761. Later papers bear signatures of Oliver Wolcott and John W. Northrop. Purchased, 1908.

A letter of Roger Sherman to Hon. William Williams, August 18, 1777, regarding the appointment of General Gates, and the movements of the New England militia.

Also, photostat prints of copies of five letters of John Adams to Sherman and Sherman to Adams, on the subject of the Constitution of the United States, July 17-27, 1789. Gift, 1915, of Dr. J. F. Jameson, Washington, D. C.

WILLIAM T. SHERMAN

The main portion of the collection of correspondence and papers of General William Tecumseh Sherman was presented to the Library in 1912 by his son P. T. Sherman, of New York

SHERMAN

City. Additions have since been made by the same donor. The collection has been repaired, mounted and bound in chronological order in 88 volumes, dating from 1837 to 1891. The original indexes of the letters received, covering the years 1848-91, form a separate volume of this series, four volumes of which are letter press-copies of Sherman's own letters, 1857-59, from San Francisco and Leavenworth, on banking matters. There are nine record volumes, in their original binding, of letters sent, 1866-91, two volumes of official endorsements and memoranda, 1876-1883, and a volume containing copies of letters and personal reminiscences of California, Louisiana and Missouri, 1846-61, written at a later date.

The letters received begin with Sherman's services in California, as Adjutant General to General Kearny, and the earlier dates contain some reminiscences of California and cover the periods of his residence at St. Louis and New Orleans, as an Army officer, in San Francisco as a banker, at Leavenworth as a practising attorney, and at Alexandria, Virginia, as Superintendent of the State Military Academy. They contain correspondence from S. W. Kearny, W. G. Marcy, R. B. Mason, William Nelson, J. D. Stevenson, Persifor F. Smith, A. E. Shiras, E. R. S. Canby, J. L. Folsom, W. H. Warner, George H. Thomas, E. A. Hitchcock, Thomas Ewing, D. G. Farragut, William C. Kibbe, G. B. McClellan, H. S. Turner, and a report of citizens interested in the Overland Wagon Road. The correspondence of the Civil War years runs through volumes 8 to 17 inclusive and numbers 600 or more letters. Writers are E. M. Stanton, S. P. Chase, George B. McClellan, F. P. Blair, John A. Dix, Thomas Ewing, Jr., H. W. Halleck, David Stuart, S. F. Miller, D. D. Porter, W. S. Pickett, M. L. Smith, Philip Speed, David Tod, W. W. Belknap, S. M. Bowman, T. E. Bramlette, T. J. Bell, C. B. Comstock, Montgomery Meigs, Schuyler Colfax and Carl Schurz. Some of the papers are: An address and presentation of a sword from New York Merchants, September 1, 1862; Petition for General Stuart's restoration to his command, written by Sherman, April 7, 1863; Agreement providing for the safety of Jackson, Mississippi, May 16, 1863; and a copy of the Petition to the Confederate House of Representatives to suspend the privilege of Writs of Habeas Corpus, February 3, 1864. There is also the military correspondence received while commander of the Military Division of the Mississippi, with headquarters at St. Louis, included in which are letters of Andrew Johnson, J. G. Blaine, Thomas Ewing, William M. Evarts, Charles E. Mix, E. G. Ross, Lyman Trumbull, P. H. Sheridan, Isaac Arnold, C. B. Comstock, James Pike and others and also some notes on the genealogy of the Sherman family. A packet of 50 or more field maps used during the Civil War, 1861-5, is in the collection. Later the volumes contain letters received during his residence at Washington, 1869-72, his travels abroad, 1871-2, and his residence at Washington, St. Louis and New York, until the year of his death, 1891. There are many letters regarding the publication of his Memoirs, with statements from various officers, to be used in this connection; the correspondence between General Sherman and Major General W. S. Hancock, in 1870; and extracts from Sherman's military record, submitted to the Retiring Board, May, 1870. Correspondents of these years are J. N. Arnold, J. G. Blaine, W. M. Evarts, Hamilton Fish, Fred D. Grant, Mrs. U. S. Grant, John Jay, Reverdy Johnson, P. H. Sheridan, Bishop H. B. Whipple, H. M. Stanley, (with Stanley's sketch of his march, given at Mr. E. B. Washburne's, in Paris, July 27, 1872), Henry and Florence Alcock, Hugh McCulloch, C. H. Turner, G. A. Custer, George W. Riggs, F. V. Greene, J. S. Morrill, S. B. Maxey, Carl Schurz, Robert C. Winthrop, J. C. Breckinridge, Lawrence Barrett, John Russell Young and James A. Garfield. The collection terminates with a mass of letters and telegrams of condolence upon the death of General Sherman.

To the papers have been added two volumes of the semi-official letters of General Sherman, 1866-1881, which were deposited with the Library by Lieut. Col. Samuel Reber, U. S. A., in 1916.

(See Journals and Diaries.)

EDWARD AND JOSEPH SHIPPEN

A portfolio of papers of Edward Shippen, Edward Shippen, Jr., and Joseph Shippen, Jr., of Pennsylvania, 1727-1785. The earliest document is a communication from the Lords Commissioners of Trade and Plantations to "Major" [Gov. Patrick] Gordon, announcing the death of King George I of England, and proclaiming George, Prince of Wales, King, dated 26 June, 1727. The second letter is from William Blair to Cozn [Joseph?] Shippen, dated Boston, August 17, 1735, about the purchase of a four wheel chaise. Other matters forming subjects of correspondence are: the cutting and laying of roads at Fort Cumberland, in letters from George Croghan and others, 1755; the intended expedition against Fort Duquesne, in a letter of Major T. Lloyd, 1758; medals to be presented to Colonial officers as a reward of merit, letter of Lieutenant James Grant (for General Forbes) to Colonel Bouquet, 1759; Indian affairs; rewards for Indian scalps; Mason and Dixon's line, with a letter from the surveyors, September 12, 1765; The Stamp Act; the Farmer's letters; astronomical observations by the Philosophical Society; George Whitefield; Penn's estate; New England settlers in the Wyoming Valley; affairs of the Continental Congress; Washington's appointment to the command of the army; account of the Battle of Bunker Hill; prospect that Independence will be declared; the attack of the row galleys upon the British ships of war Roebuck and Liverpool; etc. The correspondence between John Penn and Joseph Shippen, Jr., during the years when the latter was Secretary of the Province, and of Edward Shippen. Other correspondents are Timothy Matlack, Edward Burd, Israel Pemberton, John Pedrick, Thomas Penn, Samuel Postlethwait, Arthur St. Clair, John Vining, James Burd, Thomas Gage, James Tilghman, Rev. William White, William Blythe, John Ormsby, John Armstrong, James Logan, and Ann Penn.

A small, unbound memorandum book, dated 1756, containing accounts and a list of men in Captain John Burk's Company, Colonel Joseph Dwight's Regiment, probably belonged to Edward Shippen, paymaster of the British regular and provincial forces. A long list gives the rents received from the properties owned by James Hamilton, in 1756-8. The collection formed part of the Peter Force library, purchased in 1867. A letter from William Shippen, Jr., to Nathanael Greene, February 3, 1780, purchased in Philadelphia, 1911, is also included.

WILLIAM SHORT

In 1898, a small group of letters of William Short to Fulwar Skipwith, 1793-1808, was bought; and, in 1910, the Library purchased from his descendants the remaining papers of Short. The collection has been mounted and bound in fifty-two volumes, and extends from 1778 to 1849.

Confidential political letters from Short's friends in public life, both in America and abroad, comprise the largest part of the papers, among which is official correspondence with Alexander Hamilton on financial questions. Short preserved nearly all the letters he received, and made press copies or rough drafts of his replies.

Among his correspondents were: Brissot, Thomas Paine, John Paul Jones, James Madison, (including a letter written during the Constitutional Convention of 1787), Fulwar Skipwith, Gouverneur Morris, Lafayette, Alexander Hamilton and James Monroe.

RICHARD SHUCKBURGH

A packet of forty-eight typewritten copies of letters and parts of letters relating to Dr. Shuckburgh, 1745-1773. From Sir William Johnson manuscripts in the New York State Library, Albany, N. Y.

GEORGE SIBBALD

- Miscellaneous letters and papers, 1794-1803, on mercantile matters, including letters of Christopher Fisher and Richard Garner, of New Providence, Bahama Islands; W. S. Chandler, merchant, of Georgetown; Daniel Sturgis, of Augusta; John Randolph, of Regla, and others. Purchased, 1904.

SIMMS

FRANZ SIGEL

Certificate of Captain James M. Kennedy's service, dated March 21, 1863. Carbon copy of an A. L. S., entered in a blank letter press book. Acquired in 1903.

CHARLES SIMMS

The papers of Colonel Charles Simms, of Virginia, Major and Lieutenant Colonel in the Revolutionary Army, and, later an attorney at law and Mayor of Alexandria when it fell into the hands of the British, in 1814. He was also President of the Potomac and Shenandoah Company for a number of years.

The collection is in eight portfolios. The papers commence with the year 1765, though there is one paper—a grant of land in Prince William County, from Lord Fairfax to James Carter—dated 1731. The last papers are of 1820.

Before the Revolution he made a trip to the Ohio, and, in connection with John Nevill and John Harvie, took up land on one of the islands in that river. The litigation which followed furnished many of the papers which compose the collection.

In 1776, he was commissioned as Major in the 12th Virginia Regiment, and served until December, 1779, when he returned to Virginia, where he married Nancy, daughter of William Douglas. Many of his letters are to her, written from camp in 1777 and 1778, and contain descriptions of battles and camp life.

Legal papers form a large part of the collection, after the Revolution. There are many papers pertaining to the affairs of the Potomac Company, and regarding the establishment of the District of Columbia. There are also papers relating to bank transactions, from 1797 to 1816.

The letters of Simms to his wife during August and September, 1814, give full accounts of the capture of the town by the British troops, and of the movements of the armies around Alexandria and Washington.

There are fifty letters of Leven Powell, from Congress at Philadelphia, in 1800; and letters and articles of Thomas Law, regarding the Mint it was intended to establish in Washington; also letters from John Marshall, Edmund Randolph, John Witherspoon, Samuel Rogers, H. Ridgely, John Taliaferro, Christopher Greenup, Bryan Fairfax, Daniel Morgan, C. H. Harrison, John Peyton, John T. Mason, William Th. Alexander, William Smallwood, E. Brooke, J. Mandeville, Charles Fenton Mercer, Elisha C. Dick, Robert Goodloe Harper, Robert Lenox, Edward Carrington, William Rawle, Charles Lee, Edward Burd, William Heth, J. Mason, Randolph Harrison, St. Geo. Tucker, Thomas Swann, Joseph Hopkinson, Bushrod Washington, John B. Dabney, William Blount, Richard Peters and Luther Martin. Probably from the Force purchase in 1867.

WILLIAM GILMORE SIMMS

Twenty-five letters of William Gilmore Simms to George Fred Holmes, written between the years 1842 and 1860, mainly dealing with the subject of magazine contributions by Holmes, but with frequent references to politics, and one letter of Holmes to Simms, November 3, 1843. Also a memoir of the Pinckney family, of South Carolina, by Simms. Purchased, 1908.

AMÉDÉE H. SIMONIN

A portfolio of letters addressed to Simonin during the year 1855, regarding a brick-making machine which he had invented. Later letters have to do with the affairs of the "Société de colonization europeo-americaine au Texas." Many of them are from the Paris headquarters of the society. Simonin's diary, 1855-1856, is in the Journals and Diaries collection. Purchased, 1912.

SLAVE TRADE AND AFRICAN COLONIZATION

Received by transfer from the Interior Department, in 1909, eight volumes and thirty-eight packages, 1854-1872. The volumes are as follows: one volume Letters Received, August 11, 1858, to May 8, 1868; one volume Letters Sent, September 8, 1858, to February 1, 1872; three letter press copy books, May 9, 1861, to June 1, 1869; one volume steward's report, a weekly return of provisions expended, United States Steamer Atlanta, 1858-1859; two volumes of pay-rolls, 1858-1859, of the United States Steamer Memphis.

The packages, or cartons contain correspondence and papers relating to the endeavors of the Government to suppress the trade in slaves, and to the various schemes for the colonization of negroes. There are papers from the President, 1858-1864; the Secretary of State, 1860-1870; and from the various departments; copies of State laws relative to slavery; contracts, agreements, etc., 1860-1865, including an agreement with Denmark, 1862-1865; accounts, requisitions and letters of the American Colonization Society, 1861-1866; colonization schemes in British Honduras, 1862-63; and "Ile a Vache," Hayti, with the claims of Forbes & Tuckerman, of New York, under contract to colonize "Ile a Vache," 1863-68; and James De Long, United States Consul, Aux Cayes, Hayti, 1861-1869; also the reports of the special agent of the Interior Department to investigate the "Ile a Vache" colony, 1863-4. The correspondence consists of letters and reports from Truman Smith, Judge of the Mixed Court at New York, 1863-1879; George W. Palmer and Charles V. Dyer, Judges of the Mixed Court of Sierra Leone, 1861-1869; Benjamin Pringle, Judge of the Mixed Court at Cape Town, 1863-1870; W. L. Avery, United States Arbitrator, Cape Town, 1863-1869; T. R. Hibbard, United States Arbitrator, Sierra Leone, 1863-1867; Hon. S. C. Pomeroy, United States Colonization Agent, 1862-1872; Rev. J. Mitchell, Commissioner of Emigration of Free Negroes, 1862-1864; Rev. John Seys, United States Agent, Liberated Africans, Monrovia, Liberia, 1861-1865; Rev. William McLain, Financial Secretary of the American Colonization Society, 1860-1868; F. J. Moreno, United States Marshal, S. District, Florida, 1860-1862; E. Delafield Smith, United States Attorney, District New York, 1861-67; J. C. Van Dyke, United States Attorney, Philadelphia, Pa., 1854-1862; also miscellaneous letters, 1859-1871. Other papers relate to the Slave Bark, Augusta, 1861-2; and the claim of Lucien Peyton, special agent, 1860. There are accounts, also, of the United States Ships Atlanta and Memphis, 1859.

Two large portfolios of papers were acquired from other sources. They consist of twenty-six papers relating to the slave ship Wanderer, 1858-1860, consisting of such papers as were found on the ship, with crew list, and notes of the argument made by the United States attorney. Purchased in 1902; and seventy-seven pieces, consisting of deeds and advertisements of sales of slaves, 1794-1841; deeds of emancipation; circulars and lists relative to the efforts of the Anti-Slavery Society; letters of Gerrit Smith, Horace Mann and others; and papers in the case of Daniel Drayton, Edward Sayres and Chester English. Gift, 1907, of Francis J. Harrison, of Boston, Massachusetts.

Five letters from John W. Pittman to John B. Williamson, 1835-1837; and one invoice of slaves. Williamson was evidently a slave-dealer, and Pittman his traveling purchasing agent. The letters relate entirely to the purchase of slaves and the state of the slave market. Purchased, 1916.

JOHN SLIDELL

Papers relative to securing a life annuity to his sister, 1863. Seven documents. These are letters of Foster & Thomson, attorneys, of New York, to William H. Hunt, G. N. Lieber and Durant & Hornor, of New Orleans. Purchased, 1900.

SMITHBUCKINGHAM SMITH

A portfolio of letters on antiquarian, historical and political subjects, from Jared Sparks, Benjamin Silliman, K. B. Gibbs (December 1, 1849, with a map of Fort George Island and a description of the landing of Ribault), J. E. Williams, John Torrey (concerning a plant described by Cabeza de Vaca, used in Lower California for poisoning water and arrows), Henry C. Murphy, A. J. Pickett, John Beard, George Ticknor, J. Morton, Mariano Velasquez, Theodore Irving, A. D. Bache, M. F. Maury and Henry R. Schoolcraft. From the Peter Force collection, purchased 1867.

CALEB BLOOD SMITH

A collection of 1,154 pieces (seven portfolios), dating from 1841 to 1859, but consisting in the main of letters written in 1849, the last year of Smith's term as a Whig Representative in Congress from Indiana.

Indiana politics, Smith's chances for a Cabinet appointment, and the Taylor campaign and election of 1848, are the principal subjects dealt with. Upon the latter, there are letters from various points in Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky, from friends and associates in Washington, and from Whig leaders throughout the country. Few letters written by Smith appear. There are no letters from August, 1851, to June 11, 1859.

Some of the correspondents were: John McLean, Horace Greeley, Thomas Corwin, Schuyler Colfax, Thomas Dowling, Samuel Hannah, James Harlan, Morton McMichael, E. M. Huntington, S. W. Parker, E. Joy Morris, John D. Defrees, Daniel P. Holloway, J. Butterfield, C. Cushing, S. R. Lippincott, Thomas D. Walpole, and Smith's brothers, John L. and Thomas B. Smith. Purchased, 1898. A card calendar of the collection has been made.

HEZEKIAH SMITH

A group of sermons and diaries, or journals of travel of the Rev. Hezekiah Smith, who was chaplain of various Massachusetts regiments and the 4th Continental Infantry during the Revolution, 1762-1805—in all, eighteen small volumes. The journals, comprising eleven small volumes, begin with October 29, 1762, and continue to January 15, 1805. They therefore cover the period of his travels as an itinerant preacher, and his services as a chaplain in the Revolutionary army. The sermons are all of this latter period, among them "A sermon composed to deliver on Gallows Hill previous to the Execution of 11 Criminals, Aug. 17, 1778"; An Address on Swearing, July 31, 1779; and several other addresses, delivered to General Nixon's Brigade of the Army during that year. There are eleven letters written to his wife, Hephzibah Smith, during the years 1775-1780; one to Dean Tyler; and one to General Gates, regarding the movement of the British toward Peekskill, June 2, 1779. A contemporary copy of Lieutenant General Burgoyne's instructions to Lieutenant Colonel Baum, August 9, 1777, is also included. Purchased, 1910.

SMITH

JOHN SMITH

"A Life of Capt. John Smith, copied by E. D. Neill from a MS. in a British Library." Written in Latin, the original consisting of 172 folios. The first sheet bears the heading: Vita Johannis Fabricii Militis Angli. Scripta Anno 1685. Probably acquired with the Peter Force library, 1867.

JOHN R. SMITH

Four letters written to him while at Princeton, during the years 1781-1786, by his brother Samuel. Incidents occurring in Philadelphia, and matters of family interest, form the contents. Also, a letter from Philip Napier, Charleston, S. C., 1809. Acquired with the Peter Force collection, 1867.

JONATHAN BAYARD AND SAMUEL HARRISON SMITH

The manuscripts in this collection were bequeathed to the Library of Congress by the late J. Henley Smith, Esquire, of Washington, D. C., and were received in 1908.

SMITH

There are the Smith papers proper, which include the correspondence of Jonathan Bayard Smith, member of the Continental Congress from Pennsylvania, 1777-1778, and Samuel Harrison Smith, founder of the National Intelligencer, and his wife; many papers of Tobias Lear and his wife, who was a member of the Henley family; and some of William Thornton. The papers begin in 1686 with instructions by William Penn to his Commissioners, James Harrison, Thomas Holmes and others, and continue to 1903. Among the earlier manuscripts are letters of John Witherspoon, Benjamin Franklin, William Peters, Colonel Peter Bayard and Benjamin Rush. The Revolutionary period is represented by letters and papers of John Hancock, Caesar Rodney, George Washington, John Morris, Joseph Reed, David Rittenhouse, Thomas Mifflin and others. A certificate of Jonathan Bayard Smith's contribution to the Pennsylvania Hospital, 1768; his commission as captain of a company of Philadelphia Associators, 1775; and a memorial of William Smith to the Pennsylvania Assembly, respecting the University of Pennsylvania, 1781, are specimens of the interesting papers of this period.

The later years are covered by a series of letters of Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Madison, Lafayette, William Wirt, John Randolph, John Howard Payne, Joel Barlow and Henry Clay. There are a few letters of Millard Fillmore, Franklin Pierce, A. J. Dallas, John Slidell, P. G. T. Beauregard and John S. Mosby, and many single examples of other notable writers, among them Edward Everett, Andrew Jackson, and Henry W. Longfellow.

The papers of Washington relate to certain houses which were being constructed for him in the Capital City; those of Jefferson touch upon the sale of his library to the nation; those of Joel Barlow were written to his wife during his journey to Poland to interview Napoleon on American affairs.

The social life in the early years of the City of Washington is touched upon, and there are a few original verses of sentiment and doggerel of the day.

SMITH

There is a Saint Mémin portrait of John R. Smith, son of Jonathan Bayard Smith and father of Samuel Harrison Smith; also there are several silhouettes.

MRS. SAMUEL HARRISON SMITH

The papers of Margaret Bayard Smith, of Washington, D. C., the wife of Samuel Harrison Smith, founder of the National Intelligencer, presented to the Library, in 1910, by the heirs of her daughter, Miss Margaret Bayard Smith, Mrs. Harold Dillingham, of Honolulu, Mrs. Baldwin Wood, and the Misses Alice and Henrietta Smith, of San Francisco.

Mrs. Smith, the daughter of Colonel John Bayard, of Philadelphia, removed to Washington with her husband in 1800, and, until her death in 1844, she was active in the social life of the city. She carried on a prolific correspondence with her sisters, Mrs. Jane Bayard Kirkpatrick, wife of Judge Kirkpatrick of New Jersey, and Mrs. Anna Boyd of New York, and with a large circle of friends. The letters contain intimate descriptions of persons and events in the social and political life of Washington.

The letters to her are from her sister, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, from Miss Sedgwick, Maria Templeton, Amélie Pichon, Madame de Neuville, and others.

The collection comprises twenty octavo volumes, 1798 to 1845, and some three hundred loose papers. The volumes consist of albums, commonplace books, note books, diaries, and miscellaneous correspondence.

SONGS

Several thousand broadside songs or ballads, covering the period from the Revolution to the present day.

For the most part, they are printed without the music. The larger portion of the Civil War songs have been mounted and bound in four volumes alphabetically arranged; three of these volumes are Union songs and one Confederate songs. The songs of a miscellaneous nature are alphabetically arranged in three volumes, making seven bound volumes of song-ballads in all. A small number of miscellaneous songs were presented to the Library in 1904 by Mr. William Beer, of New Orleans, La., and songs issued by the Loyal National League and the American Anti-Slavery Society, have been presented by Mr. Joseph Plass, of Washington, D. C.

Nott, 34; Charles Eliot Norton, 36; Buckingham Smith, 29; and George Gibbs, 13.

STAMP ACT CONGRESS

One volume bound, acquired with the Peter Force purchase in 1867, the chief contents being one of the official printed copies of the Stamp Act, London, 1765, printed by Mark Baskett; Ebenezer Hazard's narrative of the events in New York, October, 1765 to June, 1770, and narrative of the proceedings of the Congress at New York, 1765; the original memorial of the Freeholders, etc., of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey, the Delaware counties and Maryland to the House of Lords; it bears the endorsement of Charles Thomson. Also Hazard copies of the Declaration of Rights and Petition to the King, the Petition to the Lords, the Petition to the Commons and the votes of the House of Commons relative to the Stamp Act in February, 1766. The original letters of James Otis, Nov. 8, 1765, Nov. 26, 1765; two Stamp Act broadsides; the resolves of the South Carolina House of Assembly, Nov. 29, 1765, and an Address to the Freemen and Freeholders of the City of New York. Two Stamp Act cartoons and one of the official printed copies of the Act of repeal, London, 1766.

RICHARD STANFORD

Letters of Richard Stanford, Member of Congress from North Carolina, to his wife, February 6, 1804, and February 27, 1808; also typewritten copy of letter, February 26, 1803, to James Patterson; and a typewritten sketch of Stanford's life, by Mr. Samuel L. Adams. Gift, 1914, of Samuel Lee Adams, South Boston, Virginia.

STANTON

EDWIN M. STANTON

The papers of Edwin McMasters Stanton, presented, in 1911, by his son, Lewis H. Stanton, Esquire, of New Orleans, being twenty-two portfolios and nine bound volumes. Of the bound volumes, five are of "letters sent" dating from March, 1863, to June, 1865. Two volumes, of the years 1864 and 1865, contain telegrams sent to and received from Charles A. Dana. Another volume consists of orders, letters, decisions and memoranda, January to October, 1862. Two smaller portfolios contain letters of congratulation and telegrams, December, 1869; and letters of condolence to Mrs. Stanton upon the death of her husband.

Among the earlier papers are several essays by Stanton, and letters to and from Chase, Tappan and others. For the Civil War period, the papers are chiefly correspondence. There are forty letters of Abraham Lincoln; there is the letter of dismissal from the cabinet, written by President Johnson, February 21, 1868; and there are letters from U. S. Grant, Charles Sumner, William H. Seward, O. P. Morton, George Bancroft, James Speed, Salmon P. Chase, E. D. Morgan, William T. Sherman, Robert Anderson, Samuel Merrill, John N. Palmer, Schuyler Colfax, Philip H. Sheridan, Roscoe Conkling, James G. Blaine, Edwards Pierrepont, Louis Agassiz, Henry Ward Beecher, Gideon Welles, Hugh McCulloch, Simon Cameron, Reverdy Johnson, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Thurlow Weed, Horatio Woodman, William Lloyd Garrison, Thaddeus Stevens, John Sherman, Benjamin F. Butler, Peter Cooper, E. Littell, Lord Lyons, A. W. Bradford, James Buchanan, Andrew Johnson, Winfield Scott, Robert Cooper Grier, John Hay, George B. McClellan, Thomas Ewing, John A. Dix, Charles A. Dana, George William Curtis, Hannibal Hamlin, A. G. Curtin, William Pitt Fessenden, Francis Lieber, Lyman Trumbull and Horace Binney. There are a number of letters addressed to Horace Binney.

STARK

ELIZABETH CADY STANTON

Four portfolios: (A) "Reminiscences", as published in the Woman's Tribune; forty chapters. (B) "The Woman's Bible"; eighteen chapters. (C) Miscellaneous letters and articles; thirty-five pieces, in great part autograph manuscripts. (D) A number of articles prepared for the press, and numerous letters to Mrs. Clara B. Colby.

These manuscripts were received in 1903, with the collection of books and periodicals presented by Miss Susan B. Anthony, of Rochester, N. Y.

JOHN STARK

A portfolio of transcripts from the Peter Force collection, and a smaller portfolio of additional copies of Stark papers. (A note on the outside of the packet says, "Probably made for or belonged to Henry B. Dawson of N. Y.")

The Force transcripts embrace the correspondence of General Stark from May 29, 1775, to December 25, 1781, with the Provincial Congress and the Committee of Safety of New Hampshire, Governor Chittenden, Governor Haldimand, Gates, Clinton, Schuyler, Heath, Warner, Safford, the Board of War and the President of Congress.

The smaller portfolio contains, in addition to letters of General John Stark to General Gates, General Bayley, Colonel Warner, Colonel Samuel Safford, Udney Hay, Shadrach Osborne, John Penhallow and Joseph Shurtleiff, a number of papers of Major Caleb Stark. There is among them a petition to the Continental Congress, 1785 or 1786, in behalf of Brigadier General Stark; "Minutes of the Battle of Bunker Hill. Answer to questions of General Wilkinson, 1815-6"; and Extracts from the History of Manchester. There is also an "Account of the British Army's losses from the evacuation of Philadelphia, 18 June to the 29th inst., probably furnished by Col. Joseph Cilley, who in the Battle of Monmouth commanded the Regiment formerly commanded by General Stark". The only original paper in the

STENOGRAPHY

Eleven small manuscript volumes, containing various systems of shorthand writing. Five of them are paper-bound, being "Stenography Improved, an enlargement of Mr. Byrom's Compleat and Universal Method"; undated. Two volumes in French are titled "Stenography. A Rational System of Phonography", by Bro. Francis and A. P. Fousti. These volumes were presented, in 1908, by the authors. Single volumes are, "The Allamode Shorthand, Contractus Breviatus, or Shorthand Shortened," by John Ogle, "Now written by Saml. Ogle"; "An Excellent Compendium of the Elaborate System intituled Stenography Compleated, or the Art of Shorthand brought to Perfection", by James Weston, London, 1727, 76 pp. 16mo, acquired by the Library in 1873; and "Brachigraphy, Post Writ or the Art of Short Writing," by W. Folkingham.

ADAM STEPHEN

One hundred and thirty letters and papers of Adam Stephen, of Virginia, who held a commission as Lieutenant Colonel during the Colonial wars, and later became a Major General in the Revolution. The papers begin with 1750. Among the earliest are a number of letters of Robert Dinwiddie, regarding the protection of the frontiers and the augmentation of the military forces. Several other papers are also of the Colonial period, among them a muster roll of Captain Lieutenant Edward Comberbach's Company of the 3rd Batt. of the 60th Regiment of Foot, October 24, 1757; and a similar roll of Captain George Adam Genelen's Company, of His Majesty's 3rd Batt. Royal American Regiment of Foot, commanded by Brigadier General Lawrance, Quebec, October 13, 1759. An address of Conockoto (Emperor of the Cherokee Nation) to Colonel Byrd, is dated September, 1761. Of the Revolutionary period there are few papers. Several letters to and from Washington, originally in this collection, have been transferred to the Washington collection. Papers for the years succeeding the Revolution consist, in the main, of correspondence and accounts relating to his private business affairs. The collection was purchased, in 1911.

ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS

A portfolio of the correspondence of Alexander Hamilton Stephens, 1844-1881; acquired by purchase, in small groups, at various times. The earliest letters are addressed to James Thomas and George W. Crawford, upon such subjects as the annexation of Texas, Tyler and Calhoun, the Oregon boundary, slavery agitation, and elections. In 1854 there are five letters to William M. Burwell of Baltimore, on political and general subjects. Of the Civil War period there are no letters. In 1865, a correspondence with J. Barrett Cohen, of Charleston, S. C., begins, and continues to 1881. There are sixteen of these letters. A letter, dated November 26, 1880, to James Madison Cutts, on James Madison's manuscript treatise on logic, three pages; and an undated paper, indorsed "Additional suggestions as to Rio" [his dog] complete the collection.

BENJAMIN STEVENS

(See Journals and Diaries.)

PHINEAS STEVENS

(See Journals and Diaries.)

SIMON STEVENS

Letters from D. F. Appleton, John Cochrane, Matt. H. Carpenter, Leslie Combs, Hinton R. Helper, John K. Hackett and Henry A. Wise, 1858-1885; in answer to invitations to make addresses, and in connection with a proposition to present a portrait of Admiral Farragut to the Emperor of Russia. Nine pieces; purchased, 1904.

STEVENS

THADDEUS STEVENS

With the papers of Edward McPherson, purchased in 1907, came a number of letters and papers of Thaddeus Stevens. They have been arranged chronologically, in twelve packages. They extend from 1829 to 1868.

There is one package of speeches, some drafts of resolutions and some memoranda. The greater part of the collection consists of correspondence. A number of the earlier letters are from members of his family. Those of later date deal with political affairs and the course of the war. There are letters on military subjects, the manuscript of his speech made at Cooper Institute, September 27, 1860; a threatening letter from the Ku Klux Klan, dated New Orleans, 14 April, 1868; the offer to the United States of Johanna, one of the Comoro Islands, by Abdallah, Sultan of the Island, in 1867; letters from the Southern states after 1864.

Some of the correspondents were: Winfield Scott, J. C. Fremont, Salmon P. Chase, Dudley Selden, William Nesbit, William B. Reed, Henry Goddard, W. M. Dent, Lewis Merrill, F. A. Dockray, Charles S. Spencer and Horace Greeley.

STEVENS FACSIMILES

B. F. Stevens's facsimiles of manuscripts in European archives relating to America, 1773-1783; with descriptions, editorial notes, collations, references and translations. 24 portfolios, containing facsimiles of 2,107 documents, and an index volume.

This is one of the two hundred sets of the limited edition, published by Mr. Stevens, between 1889 and 1898, and was purchased from him in the latter year.

Stevens states that the facsimiles are almost wholly of unpublished manuscripts. "None of the 10,928 pages of my Peace Transcripts * * * have been repeated here. Nor have I given here any of the letters printed in my Clinton-Cornwallis controversy. The papers that have been photographed are preserved in the various archives—The Public Record Office of England, the Royal Institution, the Tower of London, and the Bureau des Affaires Etrangères in Paris; or in private collections of manuscripts, as those of the Marquess of Abergavenny, the Earl of Carlisle (just calendared by the Historical Manuscripts Commission), the Earl of Dartmouth, Lord Auckland (since acquired by the British Museum), and a few in my own possession."

The documents facsimiled for 1773 are only 5;2 for 1774; very few for 1782 and 1783, and few for 1781; the great bulk being for 1777, 1778 and 1779.

The facsimiles are of the secret correspondence of the British Government with its political agents, relative to the colonies; of the Royal and Parliamentary Commission of 1778, and the Conciliatory bills; a series of Silas Deane's letters and memoirs to the French Government; letters of Dubourg, Beaumarchais, Gérard and Vergennes; private letters of the Loyalist Judge William Smith to William Eden; Sir Henry Clinton's letters to Eden; papers relative to the Capture and Imprisonment of Henry Laurens; correspondence of Lord Stormont; papers bearing on Arthur Lee and Stephen Sayre at Berlin; unofficial correspondence of Lafayette with Vergennes; papers relative to the siege of Savannah in 1779; and the correspondence of Ambrose Serle.

The documents are neither in chronological nor subjective order; but the index gives the numerical position of each document, with dates, an alphabetical arrangement by writers and receivers, and also subject entries.

STEVENS INDEX

In 1906, the Library obtained, by purchase, the Benjamin Franklin Stevens Catalogue Index of Manuscripts in the Archives of England, France, Holland and Spain, relating to America, 1763-1783, in 180 volumes with the titles of 101,000 documents. Each title is entered three times: first in the "Catalogue", which contains the titles in the order of their arrangement in the original archives; second, in the "Chronological Index", which contains the titles rearranged in one chronological order, with a brief abstract of the contents of each document; and third, in the "Alphabetical Index", in which the titles are arranged alphabetically, according to the names of writers and receivers, or according to the subject matter if no writer or receiver is named in the document.

In the Catalogue, which consists of 50 folio volumes, each document is entered by a short title with date, place of address, name of writer and addressee or other brief heading, description of document, approximate length, and the reference to its location by number of volume and folio. In the "Chronological Index", comprising 100 folio volumes, each title is followed by an abstract of its contents, together with the indorsements and a list of all enclosures or covering letters. The various duplicates, copies or extracts of the same letter or paper are also noted, and to a limited extent references to printed works where the document may be found, or to the "Peace Transcripts", the "French Alliance Transcripts", or the "Stevens Facsimiles", in case the document has been there reproduced. The "Alphabetical Index", 30 folio volumes, repeats, in alphabetical order, the information contained in the Catalogue.

The Index includes a number of important private collections in England, as well as the archives of Spain, France and Holland. The complete list of sources from which the papers listed were taken is as follows:

1. The Public Record Office: (a) Colonial Office Records; America and West Indies; Board of Trade; Colonial Correspondence. (b) Admiralty Records; Admirals' Despatches; Captains' Letters; Secretary of State's Letters; Orders and Instructions; Navy Lists. (c) Foreign Office Records; France, Holland, German States, Spain, Prussia. (d) Home Office Records; State Papers, Domestic; Admiralty, Home Office. (e) War Office Records; original correspondence.

2. Miscellaneous collections: (a) Royal Institution, American manuscripts. (b) Manuscripts of the Marquess of Abergavenny, of the Earl of Carlisle, of the Earl of Dartmouth, of the Marquess of Lansdowne, of Lord Auckland (now in the British Museum), Mrs. Sackville-West's manuscripts. (c) British Museum Manuscripts: Egerton Manuscripts, King's Manuscripts, Additional Manuscripts. (d) Tower of London Manuscripts (a few). (e) Mr. Stevens's private collection (a few).

STEVENSON

3. The Paris Archives: (a) Archives des Affaires Étrangères. (b) Archives de la Marine, B4 Campagnes. (c) Archives de la Guerre. (d) Archives Coloniales, Louisiane. (e) Archives Nationales.

4. Holland; The Hague: (a) Rijks Archief. (b) Huis Archief.

5. Spanish Archives: (a) Archivo General Central, Alcalá de Henares. (b) Archivo de Indias, Seville. (c) Archivo del Reino, Simancas.

STEVENS TRANSCRIPTS

(See under Transcripts.)

ANDREW AND JOHN WHITE STEVENSON

The papers of Andrew Stevenson and John White Stevenson were deposited in the Library, in 1910, by Mrs. Mary W. Stevenson Colston, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mrs. Colston is a daughter of John White Stevenson and a granddaughter of Andrew Stevenson. The papers have been mounted and bound in thirty-five volumes. The first twenty-six of them, covering the years 1810 to 1859, contain the papers of Andrew Stevenson, who was a Representative in Congress from Virginia from 1823 to 1834, and Speaker of the House from 1827 to 1834. From 1836 to 1841 he was Minister to England. The collection consists almost entirely of correspondence. The majority of the letters were addressed to him while he was a resident in London; the earlier correspondence refers to law suits in the Virginia courts, and the activities of Congress during and preceding the time he was Speaker. From 1826 to 1830 there is a gap in the papers.

STEVENSON

The correspondents are: Edmund Harrison, Phillip Norborne Nicholas, John Blair, Thomas Ritchie, J. D. Elliott, George Tucker, John Forsyth, Lewis Cass and Roger B. Taney.

The London correspondence deals with the affairs of the Mission, and social affairs. Benjamin Rush was his secretary.

There is an autograph poem of Wordsworth; an unpublished poem of Tom Moore; and a letter of Robert Southey to John Kenyon, 29 Jan., 1827, transmitting verses 27 to 46 as a conclusion to his poem, "The Devil's Visit".

There are letters from Sir Robert Chester, Lord Duncannon, the Duchess of Sutherland, the Earl of Minto, Lord Palmerston, the Earl of Durham, Thomas Sully, Allyne Otis, Martin Van Buren, C. C. Biddle, Theodore Sedgwick, Alexander Van Rensselaer, C. C. Cambreleng, W. C. Rives, James Buchanan, James K. Polk, J. C. Calhoun, Francis Scott Key, James Hamilton, John E. Wool and Charles Sumner.

The last nine volumes of the collection contain the papers of John White Stevenson. They date from 1849 to 1882. He was a Representative in Congress from Kentucky, 1857 to 1861, a delegate to the Philadelphia Union Convention of 1866, Governor of Kentucky from 1867 to 1871. He then entered the United States Senate, serving for one term.

Included in the correspondence are letters of John C. Rutherford, C. M. Ingersoll, Richard Vaux, John C. Breckinridge, John G. Carlisle, Leslie Combs and Thomas C. Stevenson.

Owing to the recent date of many of the letters, and the fact that some of the writers are still alive, this correspondence is not open to unrestricted examination.

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

Facsimile of verses printed at Samoa, in 1889, and presented to his fellow passengers on the schooner "Equator". Gift of A. S. W. Rosenbach, Philadelphia, Pa., 1914.

A folio volume of Force transcripts of "Miscellaneous Papers, 1758-1761", contains, among others, the following manuscripts: "A List of the Forts upon the River Alleginie now Belonging to the French"; a letter to Rev. Dr. Cummings, of Edinburgh, on the progress of the War in America, 8 Nov., 1758; a letter to Rev. Jno. Barnard, Marblehead, with statement regarding the number of inhabitants of various counties of Rhode Island; Lieutenant Moses Warren's letter to Major Richard Bailey, Crown Point, 9 Oct., 1760; Proclamation regarding land grants in East Florida, 31 Oct., 1764; and Notes from Stiles' Itinerary.

"Ezra Stiles' Diary, 1770-1790", called by him "Occurrences and Literary Diary", comprises three folio volumes. It was kept during those years at Newport, R. I., and contains not only local items, but accounts of battles, excerpts from intercepted letters, sketches of military movements, and notes and comments on public men and events.

LORD STIRLING

Two folio volumes of Force transcripts of the correspondence of William Alexander, Lord Stirling, 1774-1782. A note states that the "Originals, so far as they are known to exist, are in the New York Historical Society. Many of the originals have been lost and these copies alone remain—Made in 1847." The work of raising troops in New Jersey in 1775 and 1776; the efforts to secure supplies, ammunition, etc.; and similar military matters, furnish the subjects of most of the correspondence. Writers of the letters are Elias Boudinot, William Franklin, William Livingston, Lewis Ogden, Isaac Sears, Elias Dayton, Philip Schuyler, Alexander Carmichael, Jonathan Trumbull, Samuel Tucker, Henry Clinton, Tench Tilghman, Timothy Pickering, Peter Gansevoort, Washington, Franklin and others. A list of the Names and Rank of the Officers in the Massachusetts Line, 1781; and a similar list of the Officers in the Connecticut Line, February, 1782, are included. There are letters of Stirling in the Washington Papers and in the Revolutionary miscellany.

ROBERT STOBO

Photographs of his commission as captain, 1760; Memorial to the Earl of Hillsborough, 1769; and Distribution of Land to the Virginia Regiment, 1772-3. Gift of Sidney C. Richardson, Victoria, Australia, through Dr. J. F. Jameson.

THOMAS STOCKTON

Two portfolios of letters and papers, 1783-1845, of Major Thomas Stockton, of Delaware.

Major Stockton's military service commenced in September, 1812, when he was commissioned a captain in the artillery. He served until 1825, when he resigned and returned to his native State. From 1844 to the time of his death, in 1846, he was Governor of Delaware.

The papers mainly consist of military returns and orders of various kinds, from 1812 to about 1820. Of the Revolutionary period, there are a few discharges and paroles, but the collection proper begins with some records of enlistments from Delaware in 1812. In 1813 Captain Stockton was at Niagara, and his subsequent services, especially the cutting of the military road at Fort Miami in 1818 and 1819, are adequately traced in these papers. A muster roll of Captain Spotswood Henry's Company in the 2nd Regiment, 1813; a plan of the fort at Norfolk; and the certificate of Messrs. Sill, Thompson & Co., merchants, of Black Rock, N. Y., for the transportation of Stockton's company from Black Rock to Detroit, on board the steamer "Walk-in-the-Water," July 6, 1819, are among the more important papers. Numerous returns of the Delaware militia are dated in the year 1827. From 1829 to 1845, there are practically no papers.

A thin folio letter book, of the year 1814, contains general and detachment orders, monthly reports of Stockton's Company in the 3rd Regiment; and letters to Colonel W. N. Irvine, Lieut. Philip Mendenhall, Captain J. P. Robinson and others.

Letters to Stockton are from Joseph Nourse, Edmund Pendleton Gaines, John M. Clayton, James McIlvaine, Winfield Scott, Captain John Biddle, Colonel Alexander Macomb, with descriptions and drawings of uniforms, and Colonel Charles Gratoit, regarding piers and fortifications at various points along the Delaware River. Purchased, 1908.

BENJAMIN STODDERT

Letter to John Templeman, Boston, 18—(?) Eight pages. Georgetown, D. C., as a commercial centre. Purchased, 1909. Other letters of Stoddert are in the Jefferson collection and a few in the Washington Papers.

SULLIVAN

WALTER AND THOMAS STONE

Mainly letters to Walter Stone, of Port Tobacco, Maryland, dating from 1730 to 1863. Among them are ten from Thomas Stone, the Signer, 1782-1786; five from Robert Morris, 1790; three from Charles Carroll of Carrollton; and one or more from James Monroe, James McHenry, Richard Stockton, Benjamin Rush and Luther Martin. The Morris letters deal with business affairs almost entirely, the Rush letters are concerned with Stone's health and medical treatment, and the others deal with legal and business matters, touching here and there upon politics. There are numerous letters from members of the family, which have economic and social interest.

ALEXANDER HUGH HOLMES STUART

Miscellaneous letters, 23 pieces, 1790-1866. Purchased, 1907. The earlier letters, 1790-1807, are addressed to Archibald Stuart, Esq., at Richmond and Staunton. They are mainly on political subjects and land transactions, and are from Adam Stephen, W. L. Crawford, Robert Beverley and St. George Tucker. The later group, 1844-1866, contains letters on political and personal matters, addressed to Hon. A. H. H. Stuart, from Briscoe G. Baldwin, George W. Mitchell, Nathan Sargent, John J. Crittenden, W. C. Rives, John Letcher, James D. Armstrong, John B. Baldwin, W. C. Wickham, W. W. Seaton and John L. Taylor.

JOHN SULLIVAN

Three folio volumes of Force transcripts: Volume I, labeled "Sullivan Papers, 1775-1789," contains correspondence of General Sullivan with the New Hampshire Committee of Safety (regarding the Expedition into Canada, 1776), the Board of War, General Washington, Horatio Gates, Nathanael Greene, Philip Schuyler, Alexander Scammell, James Sullivan, R. H. Harrison, Thomas Hartley, Alexander Hamilton and others.

SUMTER

A number of General Orders are included, and also "Minutes of the Council of War", July 25, 1778. This volume was "Copied from the original manuscripts in the possession of Hon. Thomas C. Amory and other members of the family, for Henry B. Dawson, Morrisania, N. Y., 1860".

Volume II, "Sullivan at Staten Island, 1777", contains the Proceedings of a Court of Inquiry regarding the Expedition against Staten Island, with the testimony of Officers; General Sullivan's letter to Congress, October 6, 1777; Addresses from officers of various Regiments under Sullivan's command; and letters of Major John Taylor and Major Edward Sherburne.

Volume III, labeled "John Sullivan, 1777-1789", contains the following note: "Originals of the Sullivan papers are owned by Thos. C. Amory, and upon his death will be given to the New Hampshire Historical Society". Letters are from Joseph Reed, Moses Hazen, William Heath, Meshech Weare, J. M. Varnum and Robert Pigot. There are Returns of Major General Putnam's and Sullivan's Divisions, dated at Princeton, May and June, 1777. No letters of the years 1782 to 1787 are included, and there are but few of a later date. Among these are letters of John Langdon, Jeremy Belknap and Henry Knox, copies of originals "in the possession of the Portsmouth Atheneum, 1834". Other Sullivan letters are in the Washington and Continental Congress Papers and the Revolutionary miscellany.

THOMAS SUMTER

Two volumes, mainly letters to Sumter, dating from 1761 to 1832. The greatest number are in the year 1781, and relate to the campaign in South Carolina. There is an attested copy of Colonel William Hill's account of the campaign of 1780 in South Carolina, and the battle of Musgrove's Mill. Also, an account of the attack on Fort Granby, in February, 1781. There are a few letters from Francis Marion, William Smallwood, Isaac Huger and Charles Middleton, but the bulk of the correspondence in 1781 is from Nathanael Greene and John Rutledge, with occasional quartermaster and supply returns. Sumter's account against the State of South Carolina for military supplies is among the papers.

After the Revolution the papers are few. They contain several political broadsides issued by Sumter. Among the correspondents of this later period are Pierce and Anthony Butler, Alexander Gillon, John Marshall and Paul Hamilton. Purchased, 1916.

SWEDEN

Two broadside decrees, of the years 1636 and 1649, regarding monopolies in the copper trade and the tobacco trade in Sweden.

SWITZERLAND

(1) Proclamation of the Confederate Diet to the State authorities and people of the Secession States, October 20, 1847; and a Declaration of the Confederate Diet to the People of Switzerland, November 4, 1847. (2) "Notice descriptive sur les travaux publics du canton de Vaud en Suisse." 34 pages. Signed: Lausanne le 23 Decembre, 1875. L'ingenieur cantonal des ponts et chaussées, Louis Gouin. This manuscript was prepared for the International Exposition at Philadelphia, and was later acquired by the Library. (3) Seven letters of Heinrich Zschokke to Consul John Hitz, 1823-1847, relating mainly to politics in Switzerland. Written in German. (4) Facsimile of the "Pact of 1291," with a copy of an explanatory letter from John D. Washburn to James G. Blaine, Secretary of State, February 8, 1892. Procured by the Library in the same year.

WILLIAM TAYLOR

The correspondence and papers of William Taylor, of Baltimore, who was engaged in extensive foreign and domestic commercial enterprises in the latter years of the 18th century and the early part of the 19th century. There are sixty-six portfolios, forty-six of which are letters and the remainder accounts, the letters running from 1775 to 1858. The accounts consist of bills, receipts, invoices and accounts current. There are maritime items in the form of sailing lists, marine registers, port charges and the like. There are printed Prices Current from Baltimore, Hamburg, Havana, Leghorn, Liverpool and Rotterdam. A bi-weekly "Koophandel en Zeevaart Tydingen," printed in Amsterdam, gives the rates of exchange and prices current at various European ports, a list of the ships lying in lading, ship tidings, and notes on the wind and tides. There are more than two hundred in this series, embracing the years 1805, 1806 and 1807.

William Taylor carried on a large business through S. Bourne & Co., of Amsterdam, and the accounts of that firm make up a large part of this collection. A number of the papers of Sylvanus Bourne are also included in it. Purchased with the Bourne and Meredith papers in 1903.

ZACHARY TAYLOR

In 1906, Major John R. M. Taylor, U. S. A., presented eighteen letters, written by his ancestor, Zachary Taylor, to the latter's brother, Colonel Joseph P. Taylor, between 1840 and 1850. The two earliest letters are written, one from camp in middle Florida and the other from Fort Smith in Arkansas. The later letters are from Mexico, during the campaign there. A number of the letters are from eight to ten pages in length, and are written in full family confidence. A short autobiographical sketch, fifteen pages, in General Taylor's own autograph, and written probably in 1826 or 1827, is included in the gift; also several letters to Brig. Gen. Joseph P. Taylor, from Winfield Scott, Thurlow Weed, Thomas F. Meagher, W. S. Rosecrans and B. F. Butler.

Other items of General Zachary Taylor are: Letter to George Poindexter, December 26, 1829, regarding brevet nominations; letter on his candidacy for President, August 16, 1847, addressed "My Dear General," contemporary copy; printed announcement of the death of President Taylor, issued by the United States Legation, London, July 22, 1850, signed by Abbott Lawrence.

TEXAS

Two of these items were purchased in 1910. Taylor's commissions as Lieutenant Colonel and Colonel; and a "Tribute to Zachary Taylor from Fourteen Nations," consisting of illuminated folio sheets, Washington, 1850.

HENRY TAZEWELL

Twelve letters written to John Ambler by Henry Tazewell, during the years the latter represented the State of Virginia in the United States Senate. The earliest letter is dated January 24, 1796; the last, May 20, 1798. All of them are long, and deal fully with subjects before Congress during those years; the election of the President, the prospect of war with France, and kindred matters. They give the opposition view of the Washington and Adams administrations. Purchased, 1903.

TECUMSEH

Life and Times of Tecumseh by Henry Onderdonck, Jr., 1842. A bound manuscript volume, octavo, 33 pages, presented by the author in 1869. In addition to the text, it contains a number of manuscript maps and sketches of fortifications, battles, etc., among them the Battle of Tippecanoe, Battle of the Thames, Fort Meigs, Fort Stephenson, and the naval engagement on Lake Erie.

TENNESSEE

Letter of Thomas H. Fletcher to H. C. Williams, with a civil list of the State, Nov. 27, 1830. A letter of Governor Willie Blount to Col. Jno. Hamilton, 1811. History of Sevier Co., by J. M. Hammer, 1876; one small volume. Historical sketch of McNairy County, by A. W. Stovall, July 4, 1876; written and deposited, as was the History of Sevier County, under a resolution of Congress, of March 13, 1876.

TEXAS

Bound volumes are as follows: (1) Fr. Francisco Garcia Figueroa, "Documentos para la historia ecclesiastica y civil de Texas," 1689-1779, two volumes, parchment-bound. Copies, made 1792; acquired by the Library in 1892. In manuscript folio volumes XXVII and XXVIII of Mexico, Archivo General. (2) Padre Juan Augustin de Morfi, "Historia de Texas," 1780-1781, one volume, parchment-bound. Purchased, 1899. In manuscript folio volumes XXVII and XXVIII, Mexico, Archivo General. (3) "Documentos de Texas," 1779-1782, one volume, parchment-bound. (4) A small volume contains an Oath of Allegiance to the Republic of Texas, dated March 8, 1842, and purchased, 1904; and a letter of W. S. Murphy to Robert J. Walker, October 10, 1843, purchased, 1902.

THACHER

Among the unbound papers are: Mexico, Texas Province, Privateer's License, 1817, March 9; a Land Grant by the Rio Grande and Texas Land Co., 1834, gift of Mrs. Corra Bacon Foster, Washington, D. C., 1912. A fragment (pages 25-35) of a paper relating to the Boundary question and the Sabine River.

THACHER COLLECTION

This is a portion of the collection of the late John Boyd Thacher, of Albany. It was deposited with the Library, in 1914, by his widow, Mrs. John Boyd Thacher, without relinquishment of title.

The interest of the collection is mainly autographic. It is composed of about 1300 pieces,—autograph documents, signatures or portrait prints, etc., of crowned heads of Europe, and other foreign celebrities, from the 14th century. They have been arranged in 15 portfolios, in the following grouping: Royal Family of England, 2 portfolios. Royal Family of France, 2; Royal Family of Germany, 1; Royal Family of Germany; House of Orange, 1; Russian, Polish, Oriental, 1; Royal Family of Spain; Royal Family of Sweden, 1; Italian Nobility, 1; Italian Clerics, Literary personages, Patriots, Soldiers and Sailors, 1; Popes, 1; Napoleon, 1; French of the Napoleon period, 1; Miscellaneous and duplicates, 2.

The English group contains 97 manuscripts, 2 broadsides and 132 prints, photographs and drawings. It starts with an official document, signed by Henry V, King of England, in 1480. There is a letter of Richard, Duke of Gloucester, afterward Richard III, 1480; a document from Henry VIII, and letters from three of his wives, Catherine of Aragon, Jane Seymour and Katharine Parr. Other autographs in this group are of Mary, Queen of Scots, Queen Elizabeth, Charles II, Queen Anne and George III.

In the group of the Royal Family of France there are 198 pieces. The oldest royal signature in the collection is in this group, being that of Charles V, 1374.

The Napoleon papers, of which there are 107, are: Two signed by Napoleon Bonaparte himself; and there are letters from his father, Carlo Bonaparte, his mother, Letitia Bonaparte, from Josephine and Marie Louise, Napoleon II (L'Aiglon), and Napoleon III.

From the remaining groups, which contain from 9 to 181 items each, the lowest being the Oriental group and the highest that of the Royal Family of Germany, may be noted the autographs of Frederick the Great, of Prussia, 1785; William IV, Prince of Orange, 1751; William V, 1778; Hortense, Queen of Holland, 1814; Pope Paul III, 1534; Peter the Great, 1715; and Catherine of Russia, 1781.

WILLIAM THARPE

Four packages of papers, found among the Toner collection. William Tharpe was a native of New Jersey, who served in the army from 1797 to 1802. In 1806, he became a sutler to the troops stationed at Belle Fontaine, Fort Adams and New Orleans, and was so engaged till 1813. In 1836 he entered claim against the Government for the amounts due him from deceased and deserted non-commissioned officers and soldiers in the army, and a bill for his relief was presented to Congress. He was interested in land surveys along the Missouri River, and there are many papers relating to this subject and to Spanish land grants. The remainder of the collection is made up of letters to Congressmen, and to Peter Hagner, 3rd Auditor of the Treasury, regarding his claim, and their answers. Numerous personal letters and some accounts from hotels in Washington are included.

THEATRICAL

Tharpe had a deep-seated enmity towards Thomas Hart Benton, and issued several broadsides, addressed to "The People of Missouri", bitterly attacking him. Copies of these are in the collection.

THEATRICAL PLAYBILLS

(A) A large collection of Shakesporean Playbills of performances held in England, between 1786 and 1848; in all, 1,809 broadsides. Purchased, 1905. (B) Washington, D. C., playbills. A bound volume of playbills of performances held at Washington, D. C., beginning with a notice of the opening of the Washington Theatre, August 8, 1821, to November 23, 1822. These are mainly of Shakesporean productions. A number of unbound bills are of the National Theatre, Ford's Opera House, the Odeon Theatre, King's Amphitheatre, Odd Fellows Hall and the Washington Theatre, during 1861 and 1862. About one hundred bills are of productions at Ford's and the National Theatre in 1874-6, by Lester Wallack, Lotta, Maggie Mitchell, Mary Anderson, Clara Morris, John McCullough, Mrs. Lander and others. Presented by Max Lansburgh, of Washington, D. C., 1905. A playbill of Ford's Theatre, "Our American Cousin", for April 14, 1865, was presented to the Library by Mrs. Helen Fox Engle, of Washington, D. C., in 1915. (C) A collection of miscellaneous theatrical and amusement programs, 1878 to 18—; for performances in New York, Philadelphia and various cities in the United States, in Belgium, Canada, China, Japan, England, France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland. Gift, 1915, or Mrs. Julian James, Washington, D. C. (D) Playbills of Boston, St. Louis and elsewhere. A large collection of bills of productions at Tremont Temple, Allston's Hall, Boston Museum, Howard Athenaeum, the Academy of Music, and of lectures at Peck's Hall, some of 1858-9, but mainly of the year 1862. Numerous bills of theatres in St. Louis and other places, and of various dates.

THOMAS

JAMES THOMAS, JR.

"Field Notes on the Survey of the Northwest Fork of the Rapahannock. James Thomas, Jr., October, 1736." Copy, attested April 28, 1737, one volume, 32 pages, paper bound. Purchased, 1905. This survey was made for Lord Fairfax, in connection with James Wood.

JOSEPH C. THOMAS

Two portfolios of correspondence and papers relative to the libraries established in the Army during the Civil War by the United States Christian Commission. Rev. Joseph C. Thomas, Chaplain of the 88th Illinois Regiment, was appointed General Reading Agent of the Commission. He corresponded with editors and publishers throughout the country, and with the various officers and supporters of the Commission. The letters, posters and accounts of this service form practically the entire collection, but there are interesting reports on the Medical Departments of the Army, the special diet-kitchen service, and similar matters; a list of chaplains of the Army of the Potomac, and a number of interesting family letters.

Chief among the correspondents are George H. Stuart, Edward P. Smith, A. E. Chamberlain, E. C. Walker, John Irving Forbes, Nathan Bishop, W. E. Schenk, William D. Whipple and Lemuel Moss. The years embraced are 1863 to 1868.

This collection was the gift of Mrs. Delia Thomas Merkley, of New York, in 1910.

PHILIP FRANCIS THOMAS

Letters of Justin S. Morrill, Horatio King, John Sherman, H. L. Daves and George S. Coe, relating to the removal of Philip Francis Thomas from the Secretaryship of the Treasury, in 1861. Five pieces, all written in 1895. Gift, 1907, of Worthington C. Ford, Boston, Mass.

THOMSON

GILBERT THOMPSON*(See Journals and Diaries.)SMITH THOMPSON

Miscellaneous letters, documents and legal opinions. One portfolio, 1765-1829. Many of the legal papers are of the latter year. A fifty-page opinion on the case of The Cherokee Indians vs. State of Georgia is undated. Letters on legal, legislative and political topics are from the following: William Radcliffe, John A. Fort, Henry Davis, Edward P. Livingston, Ashley S. Cooper, John Adlum, Jonathan Little, John Brush, P. Codwise, H. V. L. Vandenburg and Samuel L. Southard. Purchased, 1913.

WADDY THOMPSON

Sixteen miscellaneous letters, upon political subjects, addressed to Thompson, 1826-1869, by William C. Preston, Pierce Mason Butler and Andrew Pickens Butler. One letter of Thompson, addressed to Don Emilio Ross, Mexico City, July 15, 1845, concerning the Mexican Indemnity. Purchased, 1914.

CHARLES THOMSON.

The papers of Charles Thomson, the Secretary of the Continental Congress, purchased in 1916. About 170 pieces, from 1765 to 1820, supplementing at many points the Papers of the Continental Congress. There are letters from and to Thomson of Elias Boudinot, George Clymer, Tench Cox, Dennys De Berdt, John De Brett, John Dickinson, William Henry Drayton, John Ettwein, Benjamin Franklin, William Franklin, Nathanael Greene, John Heckewelder, Robert Howe, John Jay, Thomas Jefferson, Henry Laurens, Robert R. Livingston, James Lovell, James Madison, Thomas Mifflin, James Monroe, Gouverneur Morris, Robert Morris, William Paca, Richard Peters, David Ramsay, Jacob Read, Joseph Reed and Arthur St. Clair, concerning the Revolution, the official business of the Continental Congress and the personal and private affairs of Thomson.

Among the miscellaneous papers are: Thomson's account, sent to William Henry Drayton, of John Dickinson's assistance in winning over Pennsylvania to the support of Boston in 1774; Henry Lauren's charges against Thomson, as Secretary of the Congress, in September, 1779, and Thomson's answer; a memorandum respecting the subsistence of the Convention troops and sundry financial memoranda respecting the credit of Robert Morris.

A manuscript translation of the Septuagint into English, 1 volume, octavo, A. D., 64 pages, unbound. Purchased, 1899.

JOHN LEWIS THOMSON

Notes of military events, kept by Thomson, who was a lieutenant in the 43d United States Infantry, January 14 to June 6, 1814. A. D. 18 pages, octavo. Purchased, 1912.

WILLIAM THORNTON

The papers and diaries of Dr. William Thornton, presented to the Library by Mr. J. Henley Smith, of Washington, D. C., in 1904, comprising seventeen bound volumes of correspondence and other papers, and twenty-five almanacs, journals, albums, memoranda and expense books. Many of these were kept by his wife.

Also, there are diaries of Dr. Thornton, from 1777 to 1782, and of Mrs. Thornton, 1793 to 1863 with omissions.

Some of the subjects of the papers are: the development of the steamboat; Thornton's disputes with Latrobe over the designs for the Capitol; his efforts for negro colonization and emigration; the revolt of the Spanish colonies in South America, and the efforts of Greece to obtain independence. There are many letters from scientists, Volney, Dr. Lettsom, Capt. Basil Hall, Joseph Banks, Dr. Wistar and others; the original manuscript of his essay on language, "Cadmus," and the correspondence it gave rise to; and a number of scientific papers.

TONER

The earliest of the small books are printed almanacs, with blank spaces for the diary entries. One is for 1747 to 1749, kept by James Birkett, of Antigua, an uncle of Dr. Thornton, in which is recorded the arrival and sailing of every vessel touching at the island during those years. The name of the ship and master, and port of clearance, are given.

Thornton's notebooks contain items on medicine, the slave trade, gold mining, sleep, religion, plans of the Capitol. His memorandum books while a practising physician in England are included. His expense books cover the years 1794 to 1804. An album of Mrs. Thornton contains poetry, autographs, and some silhouettes of Dr. Thornton Sir Edward Thornton, Baron Humboldt and a few others.

JOHN PAYNE TODD

Letter book and diary, June 4, 1844, to March 11, 1848. Copies of letters, notes on the management of his property, and legal matters. One volume, folio. Probably from the Peter Force library, purchased 1867.

JOSEPH MEREDITH TONER

The collection of Dr. Toner was presented to the library in 1882, and constantly added to by him until his death, in 1896. Only the manuscripts, originals and copies, are in the Manuscript Division. They comprise transcripts of Colonial and Revolutionary documents, journals and letter-books, most of them from the original papers of George Washington. From them he copied only manuscripts written by Washington. Among these is a transcript of the Washington diary, collected from every available source, and annotated by Dr. Toner, which begins in 1760, and continues down to the day before his death, December 14, 1799, with a few chronological gaps. The earliest diaries—the Journey over the Mountains in 1747, the Trip to Barbadoes, 1751-2, and the Journal of the Mission to the Ohio, 1753-4—are included in the transcript, the total number of volumes being 41.

Other Washingtoniana includes copies of the letters and papers of George Washington, from every available source, published and unpublished; (the Sparks edition of the Writings of Washington was clipped, and mounted on large sheets, with corrections of the text by comparison with the originals) and a quarto volume of transcripts of letters from Lund Washington to George Washington, relative to the management of Mount Vernon, 1767-1790, with a copy of his accounts while manager.

Of the bound volumes in the collection, the most important are the more than 150 manuscript volumes on medical matters, and biographical material on medical men. A set of 16 folio volumes of "American Medical Biography" contains biographical sketches and notices, mounted in an alphabetical arrangement. 13 folio volumes, lettered "Medical Men in the American Revolution", contain biographical sketches, similarly mounted. Another large set, 20 or more volumes, contains "Letters from or about Medical Men". 3 volumes, octavo, contain notes on "Surgeons and Surgeon's Mates in the Revolution", from the Toner manuscripts, the United States Pension Rolls, and Saffell's "Records of the Revolutionary War". Other biographical items are: A Sketch of Dr. James Craik, February 10, 1814, 1 volume, octavo; "Brief Memoirs of Dr. Anderson and other Physicians of Kent County, Maryland", by Peregrine Wroth, M. D., 1862, 1 volume, 12mo; a folio volume, 39 pages, "Medical Education and Men of Lexington, Kentucky", by Robert Peter, M. D.; and two packets of papers marked "Data Concerning American Physicians" and "Material on American Medical Biography".

TONER

Of essays, treatises and notes of lectures on medical subjects, there are the following: Copies of Articles on Medical Subjects in the Gentlemen's Magazine, London, contributed by Physicians of the United States, 1731-1800, 2 volumes, quarto. Extracts from Charleston, S. C., newspapers, regarding the medical and sanitary history of the Province and State of South Carolina, 1732-1800; 1 volume, quarto. Copy of an anonymous essay on inoculation, published in the Pennsylvania Gazette, July 3, 1760, 1 volume, quarto, paper-bound. "History of Midwifery" bears the name of Dr. James Davidson, 1769; the reverse contains record of cases in Talbot County, Maryland, 1782, 1 volume, octavo. Home's Clinical Observations, the lectures of Dr. Francis Home, February 23 to April 29, 1774, with notes from the reports given in the clinical ward of the Royal Infirmary; also an account of a case of dropsy, July, 1774, to March, 1775, with letters from Dr. Alex. Brodie, 1 volume, quarto. Controversy between John Morgan and William Shippen relating to the management of the Medical Department of the Revolutionary Army, published in the Pennsylvania Packet of October 3, 1778, and subsequent days, 1 volume, quarto; copy. Notes from lectures on the Practice of Physic, by William Cullen, M. D., Professor of the Practice of Physic, University of Edinburgh, kept by John McMorran, 1782, 1 volume, octavo. Dr. Johann David Schöpfung's American Materia Medica, pr. Erlangen, 1787; translated by A. Patze, 1880; 1 volume, quarto; copy. Notes from the Lectures on the cases in the Clinical Ward of the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, November, 1790, to February, 1791, delivered by Andrew Duncan, M. D., taken by John Pennington; 1 volume, octavo. Dr. Robert Dunbar's Common Place Book on Medicine, 1794; 1 volume, 12mo. Notes on the Practice of Physick, from the manuscript lectures of Benjamin Rush, M. D., Professor of the Institutes of Medical and Clinical Practice in the University of Pennsylvania, 1798, [taken by Alex. Clendinen], 1 volume, quarto. Notes of Dr. Benjamin Smith Barton's Lectures on Materia Medica at the University of Pennsylvania, taken by Robert Abbott, 1809-1811; 1 volume quarto.

TONER

Introduction from a treatise on Chemistry [1810?] 1 vol. 8°, paper-bound. Notes of Lectures on the Theory and Practice of Physic, by David Hosack, M. There are several fee and account books kept by physicians, among them a folio ledger for the years 1802 and 1803, probably kept jointly by Dr. James Craik and Dr. William Washington, of Alexandria, Virginia, showing services performed and fees charged, in the course of their extensive practice.

The volumes of transcripts of Washington Papers form an important part of the collection. In addition to the copies of the Washington diaries, are volumes of memoranda, personal account books and those of the Mount Vernon estate, from the year 1747, with lists of his slaves and servants, his memoranda of surveys, etc.; copies and abstracts of wills of various members of the Washington family, and appraisements and inventories of their estates; correspondence from relatives and others. As before stated, most of the material was copied from the collection in the Department of State [now in the Manuscript Division of the Library of Congress] but a portion came from other sources, among them the collection of Joseph Henry Dubbs, D. D., from which transcripts were made of the accounts of Colonel William A. Washington with Mrs. Martha Washington, and letters addressed to Colonel William A. Washington, Robert Beverley and others, by Bushrod Washington and Lawrence Washington, 1802-1834. Also a letter of George W. P. Custis to Anthony Kiswell, 1850, regarding Washington's compass. A copy of Washington's Orders at Valley Forge, May 18 to June 11, 1778, from the original orderly book of Gen. Knox in the handwriting of Major Samuel Shaw, in the Boston Athenaeum, is included. Many of these volumes of transcripts bear complete indexes.

There is much material of a miscellaneous nature in the collection. The more important bound volumes of this kind are here given in their chronological order: Orders of Council, Virginia, for granting lands west of the Alleghanies, 1745-1768, copy; 1 volume, octavo. A Registry of the Commissions in the

TRANSCRIPTS FROM FOREIGN ARCHIVESBritish Transcripts:

In 1905 the Library undertook to procure transcripts of records existing in European archives which relate to the early history of the United States. The work was begun in the British archives, by obtaining transcripts from records in the British Museum and the Public Record Office in London, and the Bodleian Library at Oxford. The papers were selected chiefly by Professor Charles M. Andrews, now of Yale University.

Since beginning the work a list of the transcripts received each year has been published in the annual report of the Librarian of Congress. The Andrews and Davenport "Guide to the Manuscript Materials for the History of the United States to 1783, in the British Museum, in Minor London Archives, and in the Libraries of Oxford and Cambridge," Washington, D. C., 1908, contains a list of the documents which, prior to that year, had been transcribed from those sources for the Library. The "Guide to the Materials for American History Prior to 1783, in the Public Record Office of Great Britain, by C. M. Andrews, in two volumes, Washington, D. C., 1912 and 1914, contains similar lists; but much material has since been added, and the selection has not been confined to the contents of these volumes.

The sources from which transcripts have been drawn are as follows:

I. Oxford, The Bodleian Library; Ashmolean, Clarendon, Rawlinson and Tanner collections.

II. British Museum; Cottonian, Egerton, Hargrave, Harleian, King's, Lansdowne, Sloane and Stowe collections; Additional Charters; and Additional Manuscripts, including Hardwicke, Hyde, Mitchell and Newcastle Papers.

TRANS. BRIT.

III. Public Record Office: Colonial Office Series, Class 5, Class 110, Class 323 and Class 324; Admiralty High Court; Admiralty Secretary, In Letters; State Papers, Domestic; Treasury, Blathwayt's Journal; Audit Office, Declared Accounts and Maryland Loyalist Claims; War Office, In-Letters.

IV. Fulham and Lambeth Palace Libraries.

The collection now totals about 185,000 folio pages, which are contained in 325 portfolio cases. The card catalogue now in course of preparation gives the name of the writer and receiver of each letter or document copied, and the source from which it was copied, with the number of the portfolio case in which the transcript is deposited.

Some of the more important subjects and writers of papers in the portion of the collection thus far catalogued, which represents about one-half of the whole, are here set down, in alphabetical order, and without reference to the sources from which they were transcribed. The numbers given in parenthesis include both letters to and from. Acadia and Acadians, 1667-1756. Drafts of Acts of Parliament relative to America, 1675-1780. The Admiralty Office, reports, orders, etc., and letters, 1689-1782, (over 900). Africa and the African Co., 1699-1704. Earl of Albemarle, (about 150). "Account of H. M. Cuban Transcripts:

By an arrangement with Miss Elizabeth H. West, late Archivist of the Texas State Library, and now Librarian of the Carnegie Library, San Antonio, the Library of Congress procured blue print copies of 1260 pages of typewritten transcripts of documents in the Archivo Nacional de Cuba, Havana. They comprise the following groups: Two letter books of Bernardo de Galvez, 1777-81; (a) To the Secretary of State, Nos. 1-462, 484 pages, including 20 pages of appended and related documents.

ments; (b) To the Captain General, Havana, 304 letters, 240 pages, including four pages of appended documents. Florida, Correspondence, Legajo 1, expedientes 5, 9, 12, 13, 17, 23, 31, and Legajo 9, expediente 1; 445 pages, 1785-1810, selected documents, each complete. Cédulas and orders, selected from volumes 284 and 286 of the Tribunal de Cuentas series; 81 pages, 1770-81.

All of these documents bear chiefly upon the Spanish Colonial trade and Indian policy; though the Galvez letter books deal with Spain's part in the American Revolution, the capture of the English posts on the Mississippi, of Mobile and of Pensacola. There are author cards for this material.

French Transcripts:

The work of systematically obtaining transcripts from official manuscripts in the archives of the French government, relating to the history of colonial America, was entered upon, in 1913, under the immediate supervision of Mr. Waldo G. Leland, of the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

The transcripts thus far received are chiefly from the Archives Nationales, Paris, Colonies Series C¹³ A; selections from volumes 1 to 46, inclusive, covering dates from 1686 to 1766.

This series consists mainly of letters, mémoires and reports on various matters, from the governors and other high officials in Louisiana, to the Compagnie des Indes, to Antoine Crozat, and to others in France in charge of colonial affairs, from the founding of the colony to its cession to England and Spain. The letters relate to all matters of administration, to settlement, boundaries and fortifications, to provisions and munitions, to Indian affairs and missions, to the natural products of the country and the exports and imports, to the character of the colonists sent from France and Canada, and to the disagreements and struggles for precedence among colonial officials.

Among the writers of the letters are Pierre Le Moyne, Sieur d'Iberville, and his brother, Jean-Baptiste Le Moyne, Sieur de Bienville II, better known as Iberville and Bienville; Nicholas de la Salle; Diron d'Artaguiette; Philippe de Marigny Antonio Margil; Atanasio de Mesieres; Angel Martos Navarrete; Diego Ortiz Parrilla; Phelipe Ravago; Ramon Rayon; Fr. Miguel Sevillano de Paredes; Fr. Francisco Ysidro. There are catalogue cards for these transcripts.

Photostat copies of four volumes of Notas Diplomaticas, Guerra de Independencia, 1809-1820, from Archivo General y Publico de la Nacion, were obtained, in 1915, through Professor Eugene C. Barker, of the University of Texas. These volumes contain chiefly correspondence with the Spanish agents in the United States (ministers and consuls) and with other officials concerning relations with the United States during the Mexican War of Independence. An itemized statement of the contents is given on pages 64-66 of the "Guide to the Materials for United States History in the Archives of Mexico," by Herbert E. Bolton, published by the Carnegie Institution of Washington, 1913.

Photostat copies have also been made of seventy-nine documents in the archives of the Secretaria de Relaciones Exteriores, relating to the United States and Cuba, 1821-33. These transcripts were made in 1913 by W. E. Dunn for the University of Texas and the University of California, and the permission to photostat them was obtained through the courtesy of Professor William R. Manning, of the University of Texas. These documents comprise 1,943 pages, and include, with much else, the following material: Letters of James Long to Yturbide, 1821; correspondence between the head of the Army of Independence and the Chief of the Lipanes, 1821; an appeal of American prisoners for liberty (Mexico City), 1821; political reports, 1824; mediation by England and France in negotiations between Mexico and Spain, 1824-6; correspondence on Mexico's proposals respecting Cuba, 1824-5; report on Anglo-American trade on the River Missouri, 1825; report on pirates in the island of Cuba, 1825; treaties between England and Mexico, 1825; correspondence from the Mexican Legation in the United States, 1825-30; paper of Joel R. Poinsett regarding the boundary commission, 1825; Indian depredations in Coahuila and Texas, 1826; damage suffered by United States merchants on account of taxes levied in Texas, 1827; report of Fr. P. J. M. Puelles on the Texas boundary, and extracts from a memorandum of Fr. Pichardo on the Louisiana and Texas boundary, 1827; request of Robert Owen to establish colonies in Texas, 1828; copies of documents on the Texas question and England's attitude thereon, 1822-30. There are numerous documents regarding the estates and affairs of the Yturbide family, and letters and papers of José Ignacio de Basadre, Caspar Lomez, and Pablo Obregon.

Russian Transcripts:

In 1914 photographic copies of a number of documents in the imperial archives at Petrograd were obtained through Dr. F. A. Golder. These papers relate to the early expeditions of the Rus-

A collection of photograph copies of early maps and sketches is included, among them a view of Okhotsk in 1737; route to Okhotsk followed by Bering [1734-5]; the harbor of St. Peter and St. Paul, from the journal of the St. Peter [1741-42]; a drawing of the Shumagin Group, from the same journal; two views of Sitka, from the log book of the Neva, Captain Lisianski, 1803-1806; drawings of Kadiak and Elowoi Islands as they were about 1819, made from memory, in 1866, by the Monk Janowski, and a map by the same, showing the positions of Elowoi, Kadiak, and Lesnoi Islands; also a series of fifteen maps and sketches of costumes, implements, etc., of the Aleutian Islands, made by Captain Levashev, in 1767, and by members of the Billings Expedition, 1791-92, from the archives of the Hydrographic Department.

Spanish Transcripts:

The work of copying documents relating to America in Spanish archives was begun in the Archivo General de Indias, at Seville, in 1914, under the direction of Mr. W. E. Dunn, of the University of Texas, who is still (1917) continuing the work. Meantime transcripts from the same archives have been obtained from Miss Irene Wright and from Mr. Charles H. Cunningham, of the University of California.

The documents selected by Mr. Dunn relate to the history of the Southwest—Texas, California, Arizona, and New Mexico—under the Spanish régime, with a few referring to Florida and Virginia. They date from 1580 to 1821 and are chiefly from the Audiencias of Mexico, of Santo Domingo, and of Guadalajara; from Papeles de Estado, Mexico; Papeles de Cuba; and from "General Miscellaneous" (Yndiferente general). They include Royal Cédulas, decrees of viceroys, minutes of council, diaries of exploration, reports on missions, and many letters from the viceroys and other civil and military officials in New Spain, from missionaries, and from explorers. The correspondence relates to routine matters of government; to exploration, fortifications, and plans for colonizing; to Indian missions and wars; to the encroachments of French and English from neighboring colonies; to the development of the natural resources of the country—timber, salt, and minerals; to smuggling and piracy.

TRANS. SPANISH

Among the transcripts are documents relating to the English in Virginia, 1612; search for alleged French settlements on the Bay of Espiritu Santo, 1685-1687, and a diary of Diego Peña of an expedition from San Augustine to the Bay of Espiritu Santo, 1699; exploration and fortification of Pensacola Bay, 1691-1694; French designs on America, 1695; English at San Jorge (Carolina), 1698; French activities in the Gulf of Mexico, 1699, and occupation of Mobile Bay, 1702; English in Florida, 1705-1708; diary of an expedition to Texas, by Fray Antonio San Buenaventura Olivares and Fray Isidro de Espinosa, 1709; inspection of frontier presidios, 1725; colonists from Canary Islands to Texas, 1727, and a royal decree of the King of Spain and report of Pedro de Rivera on the same subject, 1729-30; expense of transporting families from Canary Islands to Texas, 1732; conquest and development of California, 1744; documents illustrating the workings of the Spanish judicial system in Sonora and Pimeria Alta (Arizona), 1748; documents concerning the exploration and development of the mines of Los Almagres by Don Bernardo de Miranda, 1755-56, and a report of Manuel de Aldaco, 1757, on ores from Los Almagres mines; massacre at San Saba Mission, 1758, and decree of the viceroy, 1759, for the campaign of Diego Ortiz Parrilla against the Comanches, and many other papers relating to the campaign; documents relating to the exploration of the Malaguitas Islands on the Texas coast by Parrilla, 1766-67, with a view to ascertaining the truth of reports of English settlements there; report on the missions of New Spain, 1784; Bastrop colony in New Orleans, 1797, and judicial investigation of the life of Baron de Bastrop, 1810, for naturalization purposes; case of Francisco de la Rosa, who went from Louisiana to Texas, 1809, with his family, slaves, servants, and goods, carrying on illicit trade, under pretense of emigrating; various colonizing projects for Texas, 1812-1821; Du Pasquier's memorial concerning the introduction of Swiss industries into Spain and her colonies, 1821.

Miss Wright's transcripts date from 1515 to 1687 and relate chiefly to Florida, but include a few referring to Virginia and other parts of America. They are all from the Archivo General de Indias, many being from the documents brought to Seville from Simancas, and others from the Audiencia de Mexico, the Audiencia de Santo Domingo and Yndiferente General. Those from the Simancas papers are from the groups known as "Royal Armada," "Justicia," "Gobierno," "Descubrimientos," and "Isla Fernandina." The documents copied include Royal Cédulas on various subjects, memorials, reports, and correspondence. Among them are cédulas concerning Fernando de Soto, 1537-9; cédula referring to Pedro Menendez de Avilés, 1565, and a petition from him, and report on the Florida Indians, 1572; cédula relating to artillery and munitions for Florida, 1565, and to shipbuilders needed for the Florida armada; cédula ordering expulsion of Franciscans from Florida, 1589; documents concerning two vessels sent out by the King of England to explore and trade, 1528; customs duties, 1540; French settlements in Florida, 1564; memorial of Andres de Eguino against Pedro Menendez, 1570; report on Florida by Doctor Caceres, 1574; Francis Drake's visit to Florida, 1586; English settlement in Florida, 1588; instructions as to charting the coast of Florida, 1594; Captain Pedro de Ybarra's commission as governor of Florida, 1603, and other papers relating to him; arms and ammunition for Florida, 1607.

Mr. Cunningham's transcripts, also from the Archivo General de Indias, are chiefly from documents treating of the part played by Spain in the American Revolution and her relations with England and the colonies; of Spain's northward advance into Arizona and New Mexico, in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, and expeditions by sea northward on the Pacific coast; of Indian wars and the development of Spain's Indian policy in America; and of the relations between New Spain and the Philippines; with a few on Florida, Virginia, and miscellaneous subjects. They are from the Audiencias of Santo Domingo, of Guadalajara and of Mexico, and Papeles de Estado, Mexico, from the correspondence of the Viceroy, "Yndiferente General" and "America in General," and range in date from 1524 among these transcripts are those written to José de Galvez by Juan de Miralles and Francisco Rendon, the Spanish commissioners resident in the American colonies during the Revolution, with many inclosures, including ordinances and resolves of the Continental Congress, and letters of Washington, Sullivan, Greene, Lafayette, Robert Morris, and others. The Miralles-Rendon letters include two entire legajos from the Audiencia of Santo Domingo (mentioned in Shepherd's Guide, page 64), with many letters from other legajos. There are also letters of Rafael Maria de Aguilar, Marqués de Almodovar; Marqués de Branciforte; Juan Manuel Cagigal, Major General John Campbell, Martin Enriquez, José de Ezpeleta, Bernardo de Galvez, José de Galvez, Matias de Galvez, Marqués de Grimaldi, Manuel Bernal de Huidrobo, Alexander McGillivray, Martin de Mayorga, Estevan Miró, Conde de Monte Rey, Diego José Navarro, Marqués de la Torre, Francisco de Urdiñola, Luis de Velasco, and Marqués de Villamanrique. See also Louisiana.

Stevens Transcripts:

With the purchase of the Stevens Catalogue Index in 1906, the Library also obtained 37 portfolios of transcripts of unpublished documents in European archives relating to America, 1772-1784.

Of this series, 18 portfolios contain 10,928 pages of peace transcripts—transcripts made from the English and French archives (in all, about 1,100 documents) relating to the peace negotiations of 1783, between the United States and Great Britain, and dating from March 22, 1782, to May 25, 1784. This work was first undertaken in the centennial year of that event, by the direction of the then Secretary of State, William M. Evarts, and was carried on for a time by Mr. Theodore M. Dwight, who relinquished it in its early stages, before the actual work of copying was begun, to Mr. Benjamin Franklin Stevens, who carried it to completion.

The Transcripts are taken from the Shelburne Manuscripts; Public Record Office, foreign correspondence; Archives des Affaires Étrangères, Paris; Rijks Archief, Holland. The correspondence is between Franklin and Reyneval; Vergennes and Oswald; Vergennes and La Vauguyon, Montmorin, Grenville, and d'Aranda; Shelburne and Arthur Lee; Oswald and Carleton; Laurens and Franklin; Charles James Fox and Franklin; Grenville and Vergennes; Lerchenberg and Mlle. Ex; Grantham and Fitzherbert; Townsend and Oswald; Strachey, Nepean, and Townshend; Washington and the President of Congress; Manchester, Fox, and d'Aranda; Hartley, Fox, and Carmarthen. There are memoranda of the States General of Holland and of Peace Conferences; also drafts of treaties. The papers are chronologically arranged.

The remaining 19 portfolios contain transcripts of documents relating to the French alliance with the United States. They date from April 11, 1778, to May 17, 1784. The sources from which they were gathered are: Archives des Affaires Étrangères, Paris (chiefly); Public Record Office, foreign correspondence, America and West Indies, London. The correspondence is between Vergennes and Gérard; Vergennes and Luzerne; Vergennes and Marbois; Gérard and Sartine; Luzerne and Castries. There are about 820 documents, constituting about 4,680 folios. The arrangement is chronological.

A separate volume contains an "Incomplete index of the Peace Transcripts, 1782-1784, and of French Ministerial Correspondence, Vergennes, Gérard, Luzerne, 1778-1784."

NICHOLAS P. TRIST

The papers of Nicholas Philip Trist, 1818-1870, acquired from his descendants, in 1914.

There are personal descriptions of Jefferson, Madison and Jackson. A large number of letters from Trist's brother, H. B. Trist, who lived at Monticello, and members of the Monticello family, including Virginia Jefferson Randolph—Jefferson's granddaughter, whom Trist married—are from Monticello and neighboring places, and there is much about Jefferson's estate after his death. There is correspondence with Madison, relative to the Virginia Resolutions of 1799; and correspondence with Randall, Jefferson's biographer, about Jefferson. The correspondence with Joseph Coolidge, of Boston, who married another of Jefferson's grand-daughters has personal information concerning Jefferson. The letters up to 1830 relate also to the University of Virginia, changes in professors, etc. Correspondence concerning the University is with John A. G.

TROWBRIDGE

Davis, George Tucker, Robley Dunglison, J. P. Emmet, Madison and others. The personal information about Jackson includes letters to Andrew Jackson Donelson and others. Trist was Jackson's secretary.

There is much correspondence, largely of a routine official nature, with Trist when he was Consul at Havana, including his explanation of the charges then made against him. There are many letters to him, concerning State Department business.

The group of papers during his service in Mexico is the largest. The correspondence is with the State Department and Mexican authorities; newspapers of the period, Mexican and domestic; letters to and from the English legation in Mexico, chiefly Edward Thornton; with General Winfield Scott; letters from Mrs. Trist in Washington, showing the attitude of the administration; the drafts of all the articles of the treaty, and of reports intended for the State Department and for Congress; many original Mexican government papers; long statements concerning the history of Trist's mission, and motives of the administration and the Mexican authorities; all the expenses of the negotiation.

The papers after the Mexican treaty relate to Constitutional questions and political affairs in the United States.

A volume labeled "Miscellaneous Correspondence, 1776-1782" consists of copies of original manuscripts in the possession of Henry Stevens, Jr., and of John McClellan, Esq., of South Woodstock, Ct., 1845. A volume of earlier papers, labeled "Jonathan Trumbull, 1710-1785," contains a "Sketch of the Life and Character of Governor Trumbull, by William T. Williams, Esq., six pages; a memorandum relating to the Connecticut Indians; Speeches before the General Assembly; proclamations; and a series of letters written by the younger Jonathan Trumbull, while in Congress, to Hon. William Williams, in Connecticut, 1790-1796.

LYMAN TRUMBULL

The papers of Senator Lyman Trumbull, of Illinois, purchased in 1906, number approximately 3700 papers, and are bound in seventy-seven volumes.

The collection begins in 1855, when Trumbull took his seat as Senator, and continues to 1872. The greatest number of manuscripts for any one year are found in 1861, but the political campaign of 1872 also contributed a large proportion. There are few papers for the years 1863 and 1870.

Private correspondence comprises almost the entire collection. It relates for the most part to his service as United States Senator. The Lincoln campaign of 1860, the events of the Civil War and the subsequent legislation for the Southern States, are subjects of letters from Charles Sumner, Stephen A. Douglas, William Herndon, S. P. Chase, John G. Nicolay, Zachariah Chandler, Lydia M. Child, Preston King, Simon Cameron, Joseph Medill, J. W. Grimes, Horace Greeley, John G. Palmer and John Pope.

SAMUEL TUCKER

UNITED STATES CUSTOM HOUSE RECORDS

Transferred by order of the Treasury Department in 1908 from the various Custom Houses: 155 volumes and many miscellaneous papers, manifests, payrolls, drawback records, bills of sale and correspondence with the Treasury Department; also, a number of slave manifests.

U. S. FINANCE

The volumes and papers are from the following offices: Alexandria, Va.; Edenton and Elizabeth City, N. C.; Georgetown, D. C.; New Bedford, Mass.; New Orleans, La.; New York, N. Y.; Perth Amboy, N. J.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Portland, Me.; Rockland, Me.; Savannah, Ga.; Tappahannock, Va.; Waldoboro District, Me.; Yorktown, Va.

The New Orleans records give the returns of the coastwise trade in slaves at this port, from 1821 to 1843; the lists of flat boats on which was floated the produce of the middle west; the circulars issued by the Treasury on customs procedure; and the correspondence between the Treasury and the Collector. The papers of the Custom House, while under the Confederacy, and a long series of papers relating to trade, blockade running, and fiscal and commercial regulation are also in this collection. The bulk is large; a conservative estimate would be about 50,000 papers.

There are also two volumes of records from the office at Kennebunk, Me., 1801-1802, received in 1905; and some miscellaneous customs papers of the Confederate States.

UNITED STATES EXECUTIVE

Eight volumes of United States Executive Proclamations, October, 1900, to March, 1913.

Five volumes of United States Executive Orders, October, 1905, to March, 1913. This collection dates from the time these matters were first systematically printed in broadside form. New volumes will be bound up as the material accumulates.

UNITED STATES FINANCE

A collection of miscellaneous volumes and unbound papers, bills of exchange, currency notes, etc. In chronological order they are: (1) Journal of cash for the Commission at the Court of France from Dec. 7, 1776 to Apr. 19, 1779; 1 vol. fo. 145 pp. From the Force purchase. but interesting collection of Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee bills, the gift of Robert J. Lowery, of Atlanta, Ga., in 1915. There is also a volume of miscellaneous Continental currency, which contains some Confederate States bills and United States fractional currency ("shinplasters"); a Chinese bank note for 50,000 brass cash ($50. gold), a 5 tael note on the Shanghai branch of the Comptoir d'Escompte de Paris and various unused European post cards and a few Confederate bonds. This volume was a gift from Mrs. Allan McLane, of Washington, D. C., in 1915.

The above miscellany was acquired from various sources at various times, by purchase, by exchange, by transfer from the United States Treasury Department and by gifts from 1904 to 1915, the donors being: Miss S. E. Buttolph, New York; Citizens' Bank of Louisiana, New Orleans; First National Bank, Harrisonburg, Va.; the late Richard D. Fisher, Baltimore; Worthington C. Ford, Boston; Mrs. Susan E. Johnson Hudson and other members of the Johnson family, Stratford, Conn.; Capt. S. C. Jones, West Point, N. Y.; Robert J. Lowery, Atlanta, Ga.; T. F. Nelson, Washington, D. C.; New Orleans Canal & Banking Co., New Orleans; Miss Victoria L. Nourse, Washington, D. C.; John P. Purcell, Richmond, Va.; Dunbar Rowland, Jackson, Miss.; Samuel S. Shaw, Boston; Mrs. B. Tobias, New York, and Albert T. Witbeck, Brookhaven, Miss.

In the Finance group has been placed a series of emigrant statistic tables from records kept at the various Customs Houses, of immigrants, their nationality and occupations or trades, who entered the United States in 1823[?] Printed tables, filled out in manuscript. Probably from the Force purchase.

UNITED STATES POST OFFICE

Nine volumes, transferred, in 1905, by the Auditor of the Post Office Department,—account books, ledgers, etc., 1784-1811. They contain records of letters sent, accounts of the General Post Office, accounts with Postmasters, etc.

Twelve packages of miscellaneous papers, 1825-1875, were transferred, in 1909, from the Post Office Department. They consist of applications for office, drafts of Postmaster General's letters, opinions of Attorneys General, Bank letters received (resumption of specie payments, 1836-1842), Postmaster General's orders relative to lottery schemes, etc.

U. S. REV.

In January, 1914, this collection was further added to by the transfer of a package of miscellaneous letters, broadsides, commissions, etc., 1840-1860.

UNITED STATES REVOLUTION

"American Manuscripts. Revolution. 1779." One volume of transcripts. It was probably acquired from a sale of the papers of Thomas Aspinwall, at Boston, in 1879. It consists of:

Instructions from the War Office to Sir Henry Clinton re military affairs; correspondence of Sir Henry Clinton with Lord Amherst, Lord George Germain, and Charles Jenkinson, His Majesty's Secretary at War; also with General Washington, concerning flags and exchange of prisoners, of Sir Guy Carleton and Lord Robert Bertie, and of Sir Henry Clinton and General Haldimand—all in 1779.

Miscellany: Nine bound volumes of papers, of a highly miscellaneous character, but all relating to the Revolution, 1775-1783. They were acquired from many different sources—chiefly, however, from the Peter Force purchase in 1867—and were in the Library when the Manuscript Division was organized. The first seven volumes comprise private and official letters, reports, returns, pay rolls, enlistment sheets and papers relating to claims. Volumes 8 and 9 are chiefly composed of returns and lists of Hessian prisoners confined at Lancaster, Pa., many of the lists being prepared by the German officers. With them are complaints of ill-treatment, letters of protest, and others pertaining to the management of prisoners of war. Some of the papers are Continental Congress papers; some are transcripts made by Peter Force.

Examples: Letter of Franklin, Bollen and Lee, February 5, 1775, relative to the petition to the King; list of the troops in Boston, 1775; Gage's answer to Trumbull, May 2, 1775 (copy); Ethan Allen to Montgomery, September 20, 1775; Dunmore to Gage, November 30, 1775; several other Dunmore letters; a number of pay rolls—of Captain Boardman's men, January 15, 1776, for instance; a provision book, Kittanning, September 18,

MARTIN VAN BUREN

The papers of President Martin Van Buren, given, in 1904 and 1905, by Mrs. Smith Thompson Van Buren, of Fishkill, N. Y., and Dr. Stuyvesant Fish Morris, of New York City, in behalf of his wife, Ellen James (Van Buren) Morris, who had inherited them from Smith Thompson Van Buren, the son and literary executor of the President.

Seventy-two bound volumes, eight portfolios, twenty packages of transcripts, and one package of newspaper clippings and broadsides, between 1787 and 1868. The collection is composed of State papers, correspondence, autobiographical material, and the transcripts and newspaper clippings mentioned above.

The correspondence with Andrew Jackson consists of more than 260 letters, of which at least 150 are from Jackson. There are also memoranda on the Texas question.

The autobiography, which Van Buren wrote in his 70th year, is a fragment, in seven volumes, and extends almost to the date of his election to the Presidency.

There is a copy of Alexander Hamilton's speech, delivered in the Convention of 1787, made by Madison for Doctor Mason; a series of letters of Francis P. Blair, including copies of his business controversy with Amos Kendall; ten letters of Rufus Fourteen letters, 1870-1873, from William A. Wheeler, Charles G. Cutter and J. Sabin, upon matters pertaining to library work; also, letters from various members of his family.

VIRGINIA

The collection consists of thirty-nine bound volumes, six portfolios and eleven jackets of unbound papers.

The more important of the bound volumes are included in the group known as the "Jefferson Manuscripts," originally a part of the library of Thomas Jefferson, acquired with the purchase of that library in 1815, and the additional purchase of 1829. They embrace the years 1606-1737, and are as follows: (1) "Instructions, Commisions, Letters of Advice and Admonition and publique Speeches, Proclamations, etc. Collected, Transcribed & diligently examined by the Originall Records now extant, belonging to the Assemble," 1606-1680. One volume, parchment bound. (2) Miscellaneous Records,

(3) "The Records of the Virginia Company of London," 1619-1624, two folio volumes, (published by the Library of Congress, in 1906, under the editorship of Susan M. Kingsbury, 2 volumes), and two large portfolios of unbound "Papers and Records," 1621-1625. The latter consist mainly of correspondence of the Company in Virginia and the authorities in England. (4) The Virginia Court Book, one volume quarto, bound, 1622-1626, and two portfolios of unbound sheets, 1626-1629. (5) Legislative Council; Orders from February, 1622, to November, 1627; one unbound volume. (6) Legislative Provincial Assembly, "Laws and Orders concluded on by the General Assembly, March the 5th, 1623"; one volume. (7) Journal of Council and Assembly, 1626-1634,—the so-called "Edmund Randolph manuscript." (8) "The Laws of Virginia," 1642-1662, one volume. (9) Minutes of the "Grand Assembly," 1652-1660. Copied from Mercer's manuscript by Thomas Jefferson. This is the so-called "Jefferson manuscript." (10) Acts of the Assembly, 1660-1697, 1662-1702, 1705, 1705-1711; four volumes in all. (11) "Foreign Business and Inquisitions," 1665-1676, one volume. A portion of this volume relates to escheats in Virginia. (12) A small volume of Legal Opinions on Will Cases, 1681-1721. (13) "A Complete Collection of all Laws now in Force in Virginia, 1682. One volume. (14) Executive Council Minutes, 1698-1700; one volume. (15) "Abridgement of the Public Acts, etc.," John Mercer, 1737; one volume. (16) A large Common-place Book, containing Modern Practice of the Court of Chancery and a Treatise on Evidence; undated. (17) A volume of early Law Notes, unsigned and undated. (18) Miscellaneous unbound papers dating from 1606.

By purchase in 1903, were obtained (19) the Jamestown or Ambler manuscripts. These consist of 125 manuscripts, from 1638 to 1809, relating to the region about Jamestown. They comprise grants and deeds to land, surveys, bonds and similar papers, in the handwriting or bearing the signatures and seals of William Berkeley, Colonel Edward Chilton, Nathaniel Bacon,

VIRGINIA

Proceedings of the Convention which ratified the Constitution of the United States, with the Declaration of Rights and the amendments acted upon by the Convention, June 25-27, 1788, with the autograph signature of Edmund Pendleton. 1 vol. fo.

In 1917 about 500 miscellaneous colonial Virginia documents were acquired by purchase. They have been grouped as follows: Miscellaneous papers relating to Virginia dating from 1688 to 1813; among these is a contemporary copy of Lord Culpeper's patent to the "Northern Neck" and "A state of the Small Pox," 1747-48; a list of county surveyors and the dates of their bonds [1757] and an account against Lewis Burwell, Benjamin Harrison, William Byrd and others for books, [175-?].

A group of papers relating to the College of William and Mary, 1721-1818 (about 40 pieces). There are various accounts against the college; instructions of the President and Masters to John Randolph, bound for England, [17-?] and correspondence, principally of President Thomas Dawson, proceedings of meetings, 1758, Feb.-June, of the President and Masters and sundry classical exercises, poetry, etc.

A group of about 60 documents relates to religious affairs in Virginia, the established Church, records of vestry meetings in various parishes, bonds, difficulties with dissenting clergymen, trials for misconduct and correspondence which is mainly that of Rev. Thomas Dawson, who was Commissary of Virginia.

Another group is the Bassett Papers, 1695-1837 (about 70 pieces), being the business, legal and social correspondence, accounts, agreements, bonds, etc. of various members of the Bassett family.

The Dawson Papers form the largest group of this purchase, 1728-1775 (about 170 pieces). It is the correspondence of the Reverends William and Thomas Dawson, who were Commissaries of Virginia and Presidents of William and Mary College. The papers deal with the ecclesiastical affairs of Virginia and the personal, business and social relations of the two clergy-

There is a manuscript index to the collection the maker of which has made a notation that there are more than 13,054 letters, written by 5,326 individuals.

Noteworthy items among the papers are: Anderson's "Reminiscences of the Black Hawk War," and "Recollections of Antoine Pierre Berryer," by John Bigelow.

WASHINGTON

BUSHROD WASHINGTON

Three letters to Bushrod Washington, dating 1816, 1824 and 1826 from Lafayette, Richard Peters, jr., and Smith Thompson. Purchased, 1916. See under Marshall, John, for other letters to Bushrod Washington.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

The Washington papers were purchased from the Washington family in two separate lots, by the Acts of June 30, 1834, and March 3, 1849, and deposited in the Department of State. They were transferred to the Library from the State Department by Executive Order of March 9, 1903, under authority of the Act of February 23, 1903, and combined with the Washington papers already in the Library, acquired with the Force purchase. The papers have been carefully repaired and when bound will fill 302 royal folio volumes, besides about 100 volumes of letter copy-books, diaries and account books in their original bindings.

The papers were first arranged in 1780, by Richard Varick, Washington's Recording Secretary. He caused to be copied the letters written by Washington, the proceedings of the councils of war and the general orders of the Commander in Chief, from July 3, 1775, to December 31, 1782. These copies, in 44 folio volumes, are known as the "Varick Transcripts." The original drafts from which the copies were made were tied up with the unarranged letters received by Washington, packed in chests, and, with the volumes of transcripts, carted to Mt. Vernon at the close of the war. They were added to, at the close of Washington's administration as President, by various letter-book records and miscellaneous loose files of political business, and a mass of documents growing out of the military activities in raising and officering the provisional army in 1798 and 1799. A portion of them, which in later years was stored in a warehouse in Alexandria, was destroyed by fire.

After the papers came into possession of the Government, the drafts of Washington's letters were bound up, as classified by

WASHINGTON

Varick, under the direction of Jared Sparks. He made an alphabetical index, which furnishes a working basis of consultation of the larger part of the letters received. In the general series of letters to Washington were grouped the army returns and muster rolls of the Continental forces, forming Nos. 99-108 inclusive of the collection, and amounting to 37 volumes as arranged by Peter Force in 1834. These were transferred by the State Department to the Adjutant General of the Army in the War Department, and are still in the custody of that department.

Although arranged in strict chronological order the papers naturally group themselves under three heads,—the military, political, and (the largest) the personal and private papers. The personal papers begin with the earliest writings of Washington, at the age of twelve, and end with the diary entry of December 13, 1799. The early papers are school exercises, copies of business forms, rules of etiquette, mathematical problems, survey notes, etc. The financial and personal business papers begin about 1750, and are full as to accounts, expenditures, credits, invoices of goods ordered from England, tobacco and weaving accounts of the Mt. Vernon estate, cash memorandum books, the poll list of Frederick County and the vestry lists of Fairfax and Truro, lists of tithables, etc.

The diaries begin with the journey across the western mountains in 1747, and, with some gaps, come down to the date of his appointment as Commander in Chief in 1775. It appears that no diary was kept during the war and an attempt commenced in May, 1781, was abandoned in November of that year. The diary record is resumed again in 1784. The total number of original Washington diaries in the possession of the Government is 36 and the last one ends with the entry, which is presumed to be his last writing, of Dec. 13, 1799.

The letter books, drafts of letters and miscellany of a personal character were discontinued in June, 1775, resumed in 1784, and continue, with some gaps, through the year 1799. From 1789 to 1797 the personal correspondence is less than for other periods.

WASHINGTON

From 1794 to the end the letter book record is supplemented and often duplicated by the press copies, of which there are many. There is much correspondence, during his administration as President, with managers and overseers, relative to the Mt. Vernon estate; but a part of the official correspondence of this period is still in the Department of State by virtue of its character of an official administrative record.

The military group begins with the French and Indian War, the Braddock expedition, orders, letters, instructions, muster rolls, returns, financial accounts of the Virginia militia forces, etc., down to and through the year 1758.

The Revolutionary group begins with the speech to Congress, June 16, 1775, accepting command of the army, and ends with the speech at Annapolis, December 23, 1783, when he resigned his commission. There are lists of discharged officers, proceedings of boards of officers, negotiations for the exchange of prisoners, accounts and vouchers of headquarters expenses, etc.

The last distinct sub-group under the military papers are the papers relative to the Provisional Army of 1798-9, which is, in the main, lists of names from which to appoint officers; lists which contains many names of former officers of the Continental army, with interesting notes of personal qualifications and Revolutionary services.

The third main group of the Washington papers is the political. Colonial politics, pre-Revolutionary activities in Virginia, and papers relative to Washington's short service in the Continental Congress, are closely allied to the personal group. The prominent political affairs properly begin with Washington's inauguration as President in 1789. The major portion of the papers from 1789 to 1797 are in the form of folio record copy and letter books, being letters to the War Department, letters to and from the Treasury Department, messages and communications between the President and the two houses of Congress, the miscellaneous or general correspondence. These record books are supplemented by press copies and drafts, which are not, however, numerous until after the year 1794, and in some instances duplicate the copies entered in the record books. There are complimentary and political addresses or documents, sometimes partaking of the nature of protests or memorials, the observations, extracts, summaries, memoranda, etc., in Washington's autograph, of various of the political problems of his administration, and copious summaries of conditions, together with opinions from members of his cabinet upon certain matters submitted to their consideration; and a journal of the proceedings of the President 1793-1797, which is a sort of diary of official action taken upon the documents and letters submitted to his consideration.

This is the collection known as the Washington Papers. Other Washington manuscripts are in the Papers of the Continental Congress, the Alexander Hamilton papers, the Jefferson, Madison and Monroe collections, the Theodorick Bland papers, the Rochambeau papers, and a few in the Benjamin Franklin and John Paul Jones papers.

The Library of Congress has issued calendars of the miscellaneous Washington manuscripts (from the Peter Force purchase) that were in its custody prior to the transfer of the Washington papers from the State Department (Washington, G. P. O., 1901), 1 volume, and of the latter papers, a calendar of the Washington correspondence with the Continental Congress (Washington, G. P. O., 1906), 1 volume, and a calendar of the Washington correspondence with the military officers of every rank and in every service during the Revolutionary War, 1775-1783 (Washington, G. P. O., 1915), 4 volumes.

ports of engineers, plans for the Monument, and miscellaneous papers of various kinds, relating to the work of construction and the efforts of the Society to raise funds. Gift, 1901, of the Washington National Monument Society, Washington, D. C. There is also a small quantity of miscellaneous papers of the Society in the Thornton collection.

DAVID WATROUS

"Heads of Lectures on Natural Philosophy by Bishop Madison, President of William and Mary College. Commenced Oct. 28th, 1796. David Watrous." Paper bound; 27 pages. Probably from the Force purchase.

DAVID WATSON

(See Garrett Minor and David Watson.)

WILLIAM WATSON

The original manuscript of the poem "COLUMBUS" written for the occasion of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America and printed in the "London Illustrated News." With an autograph letter of the author presenting it to John Lane of New York. At the suggestion of Mr. John Hay, the manuscript was presented to the Library of Congress in 1905 by Mr. Lane.

GEORGE WATTERSTON

The papers of George Watterston, the first Librarian of Congress who was not also Clerk of the House of Representatives, presented to the Library of Congress, in 1901, by David Watterston, of Washington, D. C., consisting of ninety-four pieces, extending from 1815 to 1866, which have been bound into three volumes; and two small manuscript books,—one containing memoranda, 1809-1822, the other, "Notes on U. S. History," 1825-1849.

Among the papers are a number of miscellaneous press contributions, 1820-1850; six interesting memoranda of Mr. Wat-terston's work in connection with the National Monument Society; certificates of his election to the National Monument and the Columbia Horticultural Societies; and invoices of shipments of books imported for the Library.

The correspondence is addressed to Watterston or to his successor, John Silva Meehan. Many of the later letters, especially those of John Howard Payne, are addressed to Eliza Watterston, the Librarian's daughter. Drafts of many letters written by both Watterston and Meehan are in the collection. Their correspondence with Edward Everett is important.

Other correspondents are: Thomas Jefferson, John Quincy Adams, Clement Biddle, Daniel Brent, Henry Clay, John M. Clayton, Albert Gallatin, Peter Force, Josiah Meigs, Edgar Allan Poe, Richard Rush, Daniel Webster and William Wirt.

ANTHONY WAYNE

Letter to William R. Atlee on personal and family matters, Dec. 12, 1792, and to Col. Return Jonathan Meigs, concerning goods to be supplied to the Indians, July 28, 1796. The latter transferred, 1909, from the Interior Department.

MESHECH WEARE

A portfolio of family, personal and official papers, dating from 1683 to 1786, in all ninety-five pieces. Purchased in 1910. Early items consist of land claims and indentures, and the papers connected with the office of Justice of Peace. A few papers appear of the period of the Colonial wars, including a "Roll of Capt. Sanborn's Co.," 1758, and a "Roll of Capt. Gove's Co.," 1768. Later, 1773, is a "List of all the Polls in the Province." There are a number of Revolutionary papers, such as copies of Resolves of Congress; a draft of a letter of Weare to Rufus King, with a copy of the instructions given to the New Hampshire Delegates to the Continental Congress; "Proceedings of the Field Officers at Hampton," etc., May, 1777, for the defense of Exposed Towns; Petitions to the Committee of Safety, etc. Letters are from William Parker, Jr., Eliphalet Merrill, Anthony Emery, Nathaniel Peabody and others.

A large folio volume, being a "Copy of a volume in the Massachusetts Historical Society's Cabinet Marked 'Letters and Papers, 1777-1780.'" (Force Transcripts.) Letters are from Washington, John Jay, Michael Hillegas, Nathaniel Peabody, Alexander Scammell, Jeremy Powell, Jeremy Wadsworth and others. Many were written from camp, and relate solely to military activities. Numerous others issue from the Quartermaster's Department, while others pertain to the affairs of New Hampshire and to the United States Lottery of 1779.

NOAH WEBSTER

Letter to Thomas Bradford, relating the news from Europe, Aug. 25, 1797; to Samuel Bayard on political matters, Mar. 2, 1801 and to Jonas Platt on the study of philology, Sep. 27, 1807. Purchased at sundry times.

DANIEL WEBSTER

The greater part of the Webster Papers was left to the New Hampshire Historical Society by Peter Harvey; a portion, however, had been given to George Ticknor Curtis as material for the preparation of his life of Webster. The latter were afterwards kept in Mr. Curtis's house in New York City. He allowed Charles P. Greenough of Boston to make selections from them and the latter examined about two-thirds of the collection when the balance was removed to Morrell's warehouse where it was destroyed by fire. Mr. Greenough sold nearly all the remaining papers to the Library of Congress in 1903 and since then he has, from time to time added letters to the collection by gift. In its present form the collection comprises some 2500 pieces mounted in four volumes, dating from 1804 to 1853, and two portfolios of unbound papers, dating from 1826 to 1852. There are letters relating to Webster's early life, correspondence with his brother

WEBSTER

Ezekiel Webster, with John Davis, Isaac Parker, Jeremiah Mason and Josiah Quincy. Later the field broadens with letters passing between Webster, Cass, Clay (15 letters between, 1826-7), Frelinghuysen, Rush, Stephens, Sumner and Wirt. They show the feeling throughout the country towards the administrations of John Quincy Adams and Andrew Jackson, the development of the anti-Masonic movement and Webster's attitude thereon. Many letters show the feeling aroused by Webster's remaining in President Tyler's cabinet in 1841. In the diplomatic correspondence may be noted five letters of Lord Ashburton in July, 1842, and 18 of Sir Henry Bulwer, Jan-July, 1851. There are many letters on legal matters especially from William Wirt, B. F. Perry, George E. Badger and by Webster himself. There are about 80 letters of Webster in the entire collection, and a number of letters each from the following: Lord Ashburton, D. D. Barnard, Nicholas Biddle, Henry Bulwer, Calderon de la Barca, Lewis Cass, Henry Clay, John Davis, Edward Everett, Millard Fillmore, Joseph Hopkinson, James Kent, Abbott Lawrence, Josiah Quincy, Jared Sparks, Charles Sumner, Waddy Thompson, John Tyler, Baron Wollenstein, Fletcher Webster and Noah Webster; and one or two letters from each of the following: John Barney, D. M. Barringer, Rufus Choate, DeWitt Clinton, Charles P. Curtis, Nathan Dane, Joseph Fagnani, Duff Green, William Henry Harrison, Christopher Hughes, Washington Irving, John Jay, Reverdy Johnson, Francis Lieber, John McLean, Benjamin Rush, Richard Rush, Lord Selkirk, John Sergeant, John C. Spencer, Peleg Sprague, W. B. Sprague, Alexander H. Stephens, George C. Washington, J. W. Webb, Thurlow Weed, Lord Wharncliffe, C. A. Wickliffe, Elisha Whittlesey and William Wirt. The earliest letter, dated March 18, 1804, is from Webster's brother, Ezekiel Webster. Included also are numerous invitations to banquets, political meetings, to deliver addresses, etc. In addition to this collection of original manuscripts there are two portfolios of typewritten copies of the Webster Papers in the New Hampshire Historical Society. These were the gift, 1914, of C. H. Van

WELLES

Tyne of Philadelphia. There are also contemporary copies of 15 letters, 92 pp. in all, of Charles Archer to the "New York Courier and Enquirer", 1849, Oct. 7, and later dates, regarding the birthplace and early boyhood of Webster. The original manuscripts have been card calendared, but not cross referenced and the typewritten transcripts have been card catalogued.

THURLOW WEED

Letter to the editors of "The National Journal", Nov. 15, 1824. Letters from Henry Dana Ward, Richard H. Woods, L. A. Ward, J. Washburn, jr., J. H. Walker and Blanton Duncan all on political matters, 1831-59. Purchased, 1912.

THEODORE DWIGHT WELD

Letters from Beriah Green, Gerrit Smith, Joshua R. Giddings, William Lloyd Garrison, Henry Wilson, Wendell Phillips, Anne Warren Weston, John Farmer, Joshua Leavitt and Parker Pillsbury, on anti-slavery matters, 1836-1888. Seventeen pieces.

Also, six letters of Angelina Emily Grimké Weld, 1836-1845; three of them written by her and addressed to S. L. Dodge, and to her sisters, Sarah M. Grimké and Anna R. Frost. These last were purchased in 1910.

GIDEON WELLES

In 1911, the late Edgar T. Welles, Esquire, of New York City, deposited with the Library the main portion of the papers of his father, Gideon Welles. At various times since, he has added material to this original deposit. The Welles diary is among the papers.

The collection now consists of fifty-two portfolios of letters and papers, 1777-1911, seven of which contain articles prepared for the press; nine volumes of official letter books, covering the period when Welles was Secretary of the Navy, 1862-1869; twelve portfolios of diaries, 1827-1855, and 1861-1869; six volumes of scrapbooks, containing newspaper clippings, 1861-1898; one volume of obituary notices; and one volume of Historical Notes.

Among the articles which were prepared for the press are: An unfinished political history of the period of Polk's election; The Charleston Convention of 1857; A Defence of the Missouri Compromise; Personal Retrospection; Denunciation of Know-nothingism; The Whig Party; Opposition to Fugitive Slave Law; Territorial History of the Extension of Slavery; Mormonism; monograph on Presidential elections and policies from Jackson to Polk; Selection of a candidate in 1848; Election of 1854; State Rights; Censure of Fillmore's Administration; Sketch of Benton; Recollections of Administrations of Monroe and Jackson; Reflections on Jefferson and Hamilton; Paragraph on Wendell Phillips; Fragment on John Brown; Kosuth; Sketch of Buchanan's Career; Memories of old Hartford; Admiral Farragut and New Orleans; Fort Sumter; Lincoln and Johnson; Capture and release of Mason and Slidell; The First Iron-Clad Monitor; History of Emancipation; and a series of four articles on the Administration of Abraham Lincoln.

The correspondence comprises much the largest part of the collection. Though the earliest date is 1787, there are few papers prior to 1820, when the letters to Welles begin. Among the correspondents are the following: W. H. Aspinwall, J. F. Babcock, Montgomery Blair, C. C. Cambreleng, S. Church, N. M. Dyer, H. W. Faxon, J. W. Forney, J. A. Hamilton, Sam Houston, William Hungerford, Sylvester Judd, Preston King, E. D. Morgan, John M. Niles, J. R. R. Pease, Silas Totten and Asa Whitney.

Twenty volumes and a number of loose manuscripts of Major Edward Willis, chief quartermaster of General Beauregard's Division of the Confederate Army.

The volumes are as follows: five letter press copy books, 1861-1864, containing letters and dispatches to various officers and deputy quartermasters; four volumes lettered "Confederate Pamphlets," containing reports of the various departments of the Confederate Government, biographical sketches, a series of the New York Tribune War Tracts, Engravings of various Confederate Generals, battles, battle flags, etc., 1860-1865, (a few of a later date); four dispatch and memorandum books, 1864-1865; four volumes of ledgers, 1861-1864, showing the supplies furnished on requisition to the officers of the various brigades; one receipt book, 1861-1863; two volumes of miscellaneous matters, among them numerous articles on blockade running, with lists of vessels that ran the blockade, masters and pilots of blockade runners in prison during the War, photographs of noted blockade runners, etc. There is also a list of quartermasters serving under Major Willis, with their rank, State of Commission, etc., 1862-1864, and a number of newspaper clippings, 1861-1865. A twenty-one page manuscript on torpedoes and torpedo boats is supplemented by a package of newspaper clippings on the same subject, 1897-1905. Purchased, 1914.

LORD WILMINGTON

A portion of the papers of Spencer Compton, Lord Wilmington, purchased at the sale of the Townshend manuscripts, in London, 1912.

In all there are ninety-six documents, consisting of letters and petitions, addressed for the most part to Lord Wilmington when he was President of the Privy Council, 1731-1743, and of memoranda of business brought before the Council. Among the latter there is much material relating to the North American colonies and the West Indies. There are notes on the case of Henry Le Mesurier against Thomas Le Cocq, for usurping the military government of the Island of Minorca, and a rough memorandum of cases appealed in the year 1739.

These papers were partly calendared by the British Historical Manuscripts Commission, in its eleventh report, Appendix, Part IV, describing the manuscripts of Marquis Townshend.

HENRY WILSON

WILLIAM WIRT

Three volumes of letter books, the gift, in 1913, of Dr. Alexander Randall, of Philadelphia, the great-grandson of William Wirt.

In 1817, Wirt was appointed Attorney General of the United States, serving for twelve years. Two of these books cover the period of his occupancy of this office, and are in the nature of an official record. They begin in 1816. The third book begins with Wirt's nomination for the Presidency by the Anti-masonic party, in September, 1831, and extends to November 29, 1832, thus embracing the period of his candidacy and defeat.

WOOLSEY

The letters relate to infractions of the slave laws; the work of the revenue collectors at various points; banking affairs; legal matters; anti-masonic activities; the politics of 1831-2, and personal affairs. They are addressed to John Adams, James Madison, James Monroe, John Q. Adams, Smith Thompson, Nicholas Biddle, John Tayloe, Thomas Laut, Joseph C. Cabell, Joseph Anderson, Charles Burrell, Thomas B. Ellis, Return Jonathan Meigs, Benjamin W. Crowninshield, Richard Rush, Charles J. Ingersoll, John Donnell, William J. Duane, John Rogers, Josiah Meigs, Samuel L. Southard, William H. Cabell, Thomas Swann, Dabney Carr, Louis McLane, Joseph Delaplaine, Henry Thompson, John C. Calhoun, John Marshall, Robert G. Harper, St. George Tucker, Langdon Cheves and others. Six letters written to James Wallace in 1825-6, on personal matters. Purchased, 1915. Five letters to Lawrence Washington, 1845, Aug.-Nov. Purchased, 1916.

JOHN WITHERSPOON

Two small groups of papers. The first consists of miscellaneous Revolutionary papers, drafts of Committee reports of the Continental Congress, recommendations submitted, etc., in all seven documents. The second group comprises twenty-four ecclesiastical papers, and two small volumes of sermons, undated. Among the papers are: "An Introduction to the American Presbyterian Discipline"; a "Treatise on the Plantation and Settlement of the Island of Infidelis"; several sheets, indorsed "Gray on the claim of Humanity as the Characteristic of the English Nation"; an "Address to the Minister of France by the Synod of New York and Philadelphia"; copies of two letters to the Earl of Marchmont; and "Caspipina's Catechism," a satire directed against the Rev. Jacob Duché. Purchased 1906 and 1912.

YTURBIDE

Young to Thomas Clayton is dated in 1849. Correspondents are J. B. Van Schaick; Kenneth Cameron, E. D. Keyes, Winfield Scott, Major General Macomb, Colonel James Kerby, Colonel H. D. Townshend, Colonel Henry Stanton and Allan Macdonald. The collection was acquired in 1908, from Miss A. Young and Miss Elizabeth S. Moore, of New Castle, Delaware.

AGUSTIN DE YTURBIDE

The papers of Agustin de Yturbide, Emperor of Mexico under the title of Agustin I.

When Yturbide abdicated, March 7, 1823, and was banished from Mexico he carried all his important papers with him to Italy, and then to London, where he left them when he made his last voyage to Mexico. He was captured and executed there, July 19, 1824. Since his death, the papers have been in the hands of his descendants. They were classified and arranged, some years ago, by David Fergusson, Esq., who at one time represented the estate in the litigation in which it was involved against the Mexican Government and private parties.

The collection, which is in good state of preservation, comprises twenty-one portfolios, and extends from 1799 to 1876. Included in it are Yturbide's military diary, official and personal correspondence, orders, proclamations, accounts, evidence of an historical character gathered after the Emperor's death, and papers pertaining to the complexity of litigation in which the Yturbide estate became involved; also, papers of Vicente Guerrero, Nicolas Bravo, Anastasio Bustamante, Anne Marie Huarte de Yturbide, and Agustin Cosme de Yturbide.

Additional items, in detail, are as follows: two packages of documents and letters of Attorney Gomez Navarrete; twelve packages of documents relative to funds and expenses, November, 1821, to December, 1822, inclusive; two packages of accounts of Don Jorge Rodriguez, January and February, 1823; one package of accounts of Pedro Antonio Sustaeta, December, 1822, to January, 1823; one package, question of the rights of strangers to indemnification for loss in the civil wars; one package of correspondence with the military commanders of Celaya and Irapuato, the Viceroy, Colonel Joseph Castro, Lieutenant Colonel Juakin Villalva, and the Governor of Guanajuato, 1813 and 1814. Also, official correspondence of prelates, curates, subdelegates, mayors, freeholders and proprietors of ranches, and collectors of rent; one package correspondence of the Military Commanders of Celaya, Salvatierra and Salamanca, papers pertaining to Lieutenant Colonel Juakin Villalva, May, 1814; correspondence to Colonel Conde de Perezgalvez, to Llano, to Colonel Joseph Castro, to the Military Commander of Silao, and to the commander of the town of Leon, all commencing May, 1814; one package of confidential correspondence to the different chiefs, and orders and correspondence to the various Military Commanders, Governors, Mayors, sub-delegates, etc., for the year 1815; one package, containing an index of the letters sent to the Commanding General of the North, in 1816, and correspondence with the Chiefs and Military Commanders for that year; one package papers referring to the Memorial of the Curate Lavarrieta of Guanajuato against Colonel Yturbide, and a summary of the trial against Sergeant Miguel Roxas y Espino, Valladolid, 1816; one package, containing the military diary of Agustin Yturbide, and orders, proclamations and lists of troops. Purchased in 1911 and 1912.

HEINRICH ZSCHOKKE

Seven autographic letters, to Landamann Hans (John) Hitz, 1828-1847. These letters, written in German, are largely devoted to political affairs in Switzerland.

NICHOLAS BIDDLE

The financial papers of Nicholas Biddle, president of the Second Bank of the United States, were deposited with the Library, in 1913, by his grandsons, Edward Biddle and Charles Biddle, Esqs., of Philadelphia. As the status of the papers was not clearly defined when the copy for this handbook was prepared, the description of them was not inserted in its proper place.

As arranged and bound by the Library the collection fills 113 volumes, dating from 1775 to 1846, exclusive of 7 folio volumes of Biddle's private letter book while president of the bank. The papers between the years 1822, the beginning of his presidency, and 1840, when he finally retired from the United States Bank, which succeeded the Second Bank of the United States in 1834, fill over 70 volumes of the collection. They deal with every phase of the bank's business and include minute and continuous reports from Washington on the attitude of Congress and the Executive toward the bank. The fiscal operations are developed by the correspondence with subordinate and affiliating institutions, and the attitude of public opinion is brought out by the intimate letters from Biddle's acquaintances. Daniel Webster was the counsel for the bank and Mr. Biddle's intimate personal friend. There are upward of 100 letters from him, nearly all dealing with the bank's position before Congress and the Executive, written in the original and often humorous vein which characterized Mr. Webster's intimate correspondence. There are a number of letters from Dr. Thomas Cooper, then president of South Carolina College, one of the first of Biddle's correspondents to propose that he prepare for a Presidential nomination; from James Hamilton, jr., of South Carolina, who became interested in financial affairs in the new republic of Texas; from John Goddard Watmough, a Representative from Pennsylvania, 1831 to 1835, who reported almost daily all remarks and expressions of opinion affecting the bank in Congress; from Charles J. Ingersoll, who came to Washington in 1831 in the bank's behalf and made minute reports of the progress of the conflict with the administration; from Horace Binney, George McDuffie, John C. Calhoun, John Tyler, Edward Everett, Asbury Dickins, John McLean, A. J. Dallas, Maj. Charles J. Lewis, Abbott Lawrence, Francis Lieber, Edward Livingston, and many others. In addition to the private letter book there are many drafts of Biddle's letters in the collection.

J. C. BANCROFT DAVIS

The diplomatic papers of J. C. Bancroft Davis, a gift to the Library from Mrs. Davis in 1916, were added to and completed as a collection, in 1917, by the deposit, by the legatees under the will of Mrs. Davis, through Andrew McFarland Davis, Esq., of Cambridge, Mass., of all the remaining papers of Judge J. C. Bancroft Davis from the time he was a secretary of legation in London, in 1851, to the end of his life, in 1893, when he was reporter for the Supreme Court of the United States. The papers deal with political and diplomatic affairs, the Civil War, and social and religious affairs in Washington. A diary, 1870-71, kept while Mr. Davis was Assistant Secretary of State, is among the papers. Among his correspondents were George Bancroft, Henry Bergh, John L. Cadwallader, Guy C. Chipman, D. B. Eaton, Hamilton Fish (this series of letters being especially interesting and valuable), Nicholas Fish, John Forsyth, L. B. Halsey, William H. Hunt, E. D. Morgan, Mowbray Morris, W. H. ("Bull Run") Russell, Eugene Schuyler, Rufus S. Skeel, William S. Thayer, and Andrew D. White.

ANDREW JACKSON DONELSON

The papers of Andrew Jackson Donelson, nephew of Andrew Jackson and private secretary to his uncle during the whole of Jackson's term as President, date from 1813 to 1859 and fill 17 portfolio boxes.

Donelson was United States chargé d'affaires in Texas when that Republic was annexed to the United States in 1845, editor of The Union, a newspaper in Washington, D. C., in 1851, and vice presidential candidate of the American Party in 1856.

Among the papers are a large number of drafts of Jackson's messages, including what is evidently the printer's copy, signed by Jackson, of the nullification proclamation; also many drafts, by Jackson, of his letters to various individuals. The Jackson letters to Donelson are numerous and confidential, the greater portion of these, of course, bearing dates prior to Jackson's first inauguration. There is a folio volume of copies of letters received and sent during the years 1846-1848, while Donelson was United States minister to Prussia and Germany, supplemented by a quantity of unbound letters and dispatches of the same period.

Among the correspondents are: T. P. Andrews, Henry Banks, J. S. Barbour, Thomas H. Benton, John C. Boyd, John Branch, Robert Butler, John C. Calhoun, Richard K. Call, Lewis Cass, A. J. Crawford, Warren K. Davis, John H. Eaton, James Gadsden, William B. Giles, Samuel L. Gouverneur, Joseph Grinnell, B. H. Henderson, Sam. Houston, Amos Kendall, Thos. Ketcham, Edward Livingston, Robert Lytle, Louis McLane, James K. Polk, John Ragan, Thomas Ritchie, James Ronaldson, Samuel Swartwout, Roger B. Taney, N. P. Trist, and Martin Van Buren.

The collection was acquired in 1917.

ISRAEL WASHBURN

The papers of Israel Washburn were a gift to the Library, in 1917, from his daughter, Miss Maud Washburn, of Portland, Me. Israel Washburn was United States Representative in Congress from Maine from 1851 to 1860 and governor of that State during the early part of the Civil War, after which he was collector of the port of Portland. The papers date from 1854 to 1885 and relate to the politics of the day and the position of Maine during the Civil War. Among the correspondents were: John Bigelow, Gerrit Smith, Parke Godwin, Thaddeus Stevens, William H. Seward, Edward Everett, James G. Blaine, H. L. Dawes, E. D. Morgan, and Edwin M. Stanton.
